
Miss Harriet Gregory, a teacher in the local public school, has returned home after spending her Easter vacation with relatives in New York City.

The regular meeting of the New Market Building and Loan will be held tomorrow night.

Walter Elwood of the New Market Public School has returned to town after spending his Easter holiday at his home in Amsterdam.

Members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Seventh Day Baptist church of New Market conducted a successful "Dime Social" last night in the church parlors. Ice cream, cake, candy, etc., were sold.

The Ladies' Society of the First Baptist church of New Market at their all-day meeting to be held Wednesday, will serve a luncheon at noon for a nominal sum.

Friendship Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will hold its regular meeting tonight in Friendship Hall.

Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Bonnell, 86 years old, who died Friday of the infirmities of age, were held yesterday afternoon from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alvah Gray, of Washington avenue, with whom she has resided for many years. Rev. Ernest R. Brown, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiated. Interment will be made today in Grandan, (N. J.)

'Plains & Fanwood.

Special Easter music featured the services in all the local churches yesterday, which were unusually well attended. At the Methodist church, the pastor, Dr. H. K. Carroll, who returned from Newark, where he was attending the Methodist conference, delivered an inspiring sermon on "The Significance of the Resurrection of Christ." The subject of his discourse at the evening service was "The Story of the Resurrection." A delightful program of vocal and instrumental music and recitations was rendered by the pupils of the Sunday school at the regular services held in the afternoon.

Two games of basketball were the attractions at the Parish House Saturday night. The first team, which presented a new lineup, took a Plainfield aggregation into camp by the score of 25 to 17. The locals made their appearance on the court with James MacNamee, the star forward of the Ajax five, in his favorite position, having Marsten, the local star at the pivot station, playing the other forward. Wright, a former college crack, played centre and the guard positions were taken care of by Moulton and Lee. The second team also came out victorious sending the Y. M. C. A. Juniors, of Plainfield, down to defeat by the score of 20 to 17, in a fast contest.

Miss Helen George, of Plainfield has been placed in charge of the girls' afternoon gymnasium classes which meet every Wednesday and Friday. Miss George is very adept at the instruction of folk dancing.

Members of the All Saints' Episcopal church enjoyed the excellent services arranged and conducted by the pastor, Rev. Edward Gabler, for Holy Week, as well as Easter day.

A call for candidates for the Parish House baseball team has been issued by Instructor Batterson for Thursday night, when he will give the enthusiasts a black-board lecture on the national game and tentative organization will be effected.

S. Dana Townsend, superintendent of the township public schools, spent his Easter vacation at the home of his parents, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Fred Hunter, of Newark, spent Easter Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hunter, of Willow Grove.

Mrs. E. J. Reeder, of Fanwood, has been spending a few days in Mt. Horeb, the guest of friends.

The Fanwood A. C. will meet in its club rooms tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Pollock, of Newark, were visitors in town yesterday.

Several clergymen attending the Newark conference were visitors yesterday at the local Methodist church. They came here with Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, who came from the conference to conduct the Easter services.

The new gymnasium schedule as arranged by Instructor Batterson and which goes into effect today, is as follows: Afternoon, 2:30 to 3, free play; 3 to 4, calisthenics and apparatus; 4 to 5, games and relay races. In the evening, 8 to 9, drill and apparatus; 9 to 10, field events, jump, etc.; 10 to 10:30, basketball. This program will be followed out each day, with possible changes as the occasion demands.

Horace Hoffman has returned from a business trip through the Middle West.

Miss Gertrude Smalley entertained friends from Plainfield over the week-end.

George Gifford has returned, after a week's visit with John MacNamee, of Rahway.

Dr. Fellsburg spent Easter with Dr. Sargent, of New York.

Services appropriate to Easter were held at the All Saints' Episcopal church yesterday. Holy communion was celebrated in the morning at 11 o'clock. The Easter exercises for the Sunday-school were held in the afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. John Ripley, of New York, spent Easter with her son, Robert Ripley.

DUTCH WOMEN TO HAVE CELEBRATION IN MAY.

Their Progress From 1813 to 1913 to Be Shown at Amsterdam.

When the statesmen and the captains of industry in Holland were devising ways of celebrating this year the one hundredth anniversary of Holland's casting off the French yoke and regaining her independence it occurred to some of the other sex that they ought to have a show in both senses of the word.

So there was organized an exhibition to be held at Amsterdam. It was labeled "Woman—1813-1913."

This exhibition, to be open from May to October, will present a comparison of the Dutch women of a century ago with those of the present day and portray the progress made. There will be an old time middle class house, with its enormous kitchen and all the domestic accessories. Elsewhere will be a presentation of the accomplishments of the women of that day in art, music, sports and literature, their special work among the poor and the sick and as guardians of almshouses, orphanages and similar institutions.

To give an idea of the women of the working classes in the country as well as in the towns the home industries will be displayed, and it will be shown how women were overworked as seamstresses and as diamond workers and how some trudged in a treadmill like horses.

MISS BENNETT TO WED.

Miss Sue Bennett, daughter of Eben Bennett, of West Sixth street, and Russell Vail, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Vail, of Elmwood place, will be married Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the Church of the Holy Cross. Rev. William S. McCoy, the rector, will perform the ceremony.

WOMEN AND SCHOOLS

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

During my work in Plainfield in behalf of the equal suffrage amendment I have encountered from two persons the statement that women did not exercise the right to vote for members of the Board of Education, which they already possessed:

On pages 200 of the Legislative Manual for the State of New Jersey for 1913, in a synopsis of the school law, occurs the following sentence:

"Women may vote at district meetings on all questions, except the election of members of the board of education, which is prohibited by the constitution."

This restricts the voting of women to such questions as the levying of the school tax. They have no part in school elections. The somewhat ridiculous situation exists in New Jersey that a woman is eligible to serve on boards of education, and several of them are so serving over the state, while they are not eligible to vote for this office.

In Plainfield, I understand, more than half the pupils in the public schools are girls, and 48 out of the 53 teachers are women, yet women are not permitted any direct voice in the management of the system. The inadequacy of the indirect method in this connection is illustrated by the fact that the Women's Political Union, a Newark organization of a thousand members, formally requested Mayor Haussling of that city to appoint a woman on the board of education last fall, but the request has not been granted.

DOVER ELKS' MINSTRELS.

The annual minstrel show under the auspices of the Dover Lodge of Elks will be held Tuesday and Wednesday night, April 1 and 2, and a large number of members of Plainfield Lodge are planning to witness the performance one night. The Dover Elks will return the compliment by attending the local lodge's minstrels Thursday or Friday night, March 27-28, having engaged fifty tickets. Petey Woodhull has charge of the Dover show and W. H. Hosings is the secretary and treasurer.

The Monday Club will hold a social and business meeting at Hope chapel tonight.

The March meeting of the Sunday-school Association of Hope chapel will be held at the chapel Friday night at 8 o'clock. An attractive program has been prepared.

The annual meeting of Hope chapel will be held Wednesday night, April 2, when reports will be presented and officers will be elected.

RELIABILITY.

Squaring the Rule of Gold

The Public's mind is like a slate.

Old impressions are being wiped off every day, and new ones put on.

But there are some impressions that are indelible—the impressions we receive from pleasurable transactions.

I like to believe that no one has ever suffered thru a transaction at my store.

I like to believe that a customer's attitude toward my store is kindly.

And I DO believe that no person can point an instance where some fancied grievance was not liberally "righted."

PLAINFIELD LIBRARY NOTES

Some of the books much in demand at the library are:

Buckrose, Mrs. J. E.—The Browns. A little English town furnishes the characters for a pretty story of domestic joys and trials and the development of a love affair.

Burton, Margaret E.—Notable Women of Modern China. Miss Burton's book, with its half a dozen sketches of the lives of Chinese women, gives some idea of the workings of a few little giants of the yeast which made the revolution possible. Most of the women of whom she writes are physicians and were educated in America.

Conrad, Joseph—'Twixt Land and Sea. Three tales of human adjustment and conflict on the coasts of the Malay Archipelago. They have a literary finish that will delight educated readers.

Crockett, Samuel Rutherford. Patsy. Tale of the Scottish smugglers during George's III.'s time. The vivacious daughter of a Scotch Highlander is the heroine, who, wooed by noblemen and even royalty, finally chooses her gallant Scotch lover.

Crothers, Samuel McChord—Humanely Speaking. The happy blending of keen insight and the wit which is neither caustic nor destructive, but a kind of high light on the mind, gives Dr. Crothers' essays a substance of serious thought and a manner of quiet and unaffected gayety.

Daviss, Maria Thompson—Andrew, the Glad. A southern story in which two heroines share the honors. There are two heroes in the tale, too; and in addition to these there is a devoted pair of middle-aged lovers, "The Major" and "Mrs. Matilda," who lend a guiding hand in the affairs of the young people.

Earnol, Jeffery—The Amateur Gentleman. "The Amateur Gentleman" is modeled on the same lines as "The Broad Highway." In the former book the hero takes the road because of a fortune denied in the latter because of one inherited. Both meet perils and adventures uncounted, fortunes good and bad in rapid succession, an uncompromising villain or two, some faithful friends and a dream-lady like a star to be worshipped "by years of noble deeds."

Fox, John, Jr.—Heart of the Hills. Another masterpiece depicting the Kentucky mountaineers.

Gosse, Edmund William—Portraits and Sketches. The distinctly personal note of the reminiscent and critical studies is perhaps their chief charm. Two of these are, a first sight of Tennyson, and the author of "John Inglesant."

Greene, Mrs. Sarah P. McLeon—Everbreeze. A down east love story, delightfully funny, with humorous, patient, lovable characters.

Harris, John H.—Dawn in Darkest Africa. We can think of no other work in which the whole African problem is so clearly and comprehensively exposed. There is no doubt that Mr. Harris shows Africa about as she is today.

Howells, William Dean—New Leaf Mills. A high-minded and benevolent but impractical bookseller, who has failed in business, attempts to found a communistic mill setlement in the backwoods of the Middle West in the late 40s. The country life of the Middle West in the period following the Mexican war is depicted so graphically as to give the story the effect of a transcript from actual experience, which it no doubt in part is.

Huntchinson, Arthur Stuart-Menteth. The Happy Warrior. An absorbingly interesting, complex story, involving the interplay of many characters, secret marriage, sudden death, over-reaching revenge, strong ambitions, thwarted love, gypsy philosophy and the "warrior's" noble sacrifice to crown it all.

Key, Ellen—Woman Movement. Miss Key is of opinion that the woman movement will make progress less by an increased desire to claim rights than by an increased power of self-development; that it is not by what they can seize, but by what they are, that women, or for the matter of that, men, finaly count, and she believes that whatever gives greater strength and freedom to one sex equally fortifies and liberates the other sex.

Macaulay, Rose—The Lea Shore. A simple-minded young Englishman whose loyalty to his unscrupulous brother and dog-like fealty to a wholly self-centered friend have forfeited him him career and domestic happiness. An exceptionally interesting study of a group of well drawn characters.

Maeterlinck, Maurice—On Emerson, and Other Essays. These essays on Emerson, Novalis and Ruysbroeck are pleasingly disinterested, leisurely but never loitering, thrifty but never niggardly in thought, admiring, almost devotional in tone.

Masefield, John—Story of a Roundhouse, and Other Poems. For sheer naked power of description it would be hard to find the equal of the storm scenes of "Dauber," the long narrative poem that opens this collection.

Repplier, Agnes—Americans and Others. The essay on "The Mission of Humor" is so clever that it alone is worth the price of admission. And the volume is full of the witty, pointed sayings with which Miss Repplier has really spoiled us.

Sedgwick, Henry Dwight, Jr.—Italy in the 13th Century. In his comprehensive story of Italy's greatest century Henry D. Sedgwick lives well up to his reputation as a biographer and essayist.

Tarkington, Booth—The Flirt. It is an American romance, and who knows better than Booth Tarkington how to write one?

Wilson, Woodrow—New Freedom. Sections of his campaign speeches woven into a whole.

WILL INSTALL NEW PASTOR.

Basking Ridge, March 24.—A reception will be given to Rev. and Mrs. Lauren G. Bennett by the congregation of the Presbyterian church tomorrow evening. Mr. Bennett is to be installed as pastor of the church next Thursday afternoon. The program for the installation will be as follows: Hymn, congregation; prayer of invocation, Rev. H. K. England; Scripture reading, Rev. R. S. Dickson, of New Providence; anthem, congregation; sermon, Rev. Louis B. Crane, of Westminster Presbyterian church, of Elizabeth; questions, Rev. H. K. England; charge to the pastor, Rev. John T. Reeve, of the Fourth Presbyterian church, Philadelphia; charge to the people, Rev. W. C. Brommell, of Elizabeth; prayer of installation, Rev. John Patterson, of East Orange; hymn, congregation; benediction, Rev. L. G. Bennett.

FANNY CROSBY NOW 93

Bridgeport, Conn., March 24.—Fanny Crosby, the blind hymn writer, celebrated her 93d birthday aniversary today. She is in good health and continues to take an active interest in her work. During the past year she has made several trips to points in New York and New England to speak at public gatherings. Miss Crosby is the author of more than 6,000 hymns, many of which are known throughout the English-speaking world. The writer has been blind almost from birth. In her youth she was a pupil in the New York Institute for the Blind, one of her teachers being Grover Cleveland. She was afterward a teacher in the institution. Miss Crosby was married in 1858 to Alexander Van Alstyne, who died in 1902. Of late years she has made her home with a niece in this city.

LEHIGH TO GET AFTER TRAMPS.

Jersey City, March 24.—The special police force of the Lehigh Valley Railroad is preparing to make a concerted effort to do away with the annual spring irruption of tramps. It has been instructed to arrest all trespassers on the railroad's property and have them prosecuted before the local magistrates. In addition to this reports will be received from all those interested in the Lehigh Valley safety committees, which include practically every employe on the road. Whenever there is a gathering of these "hoboes" in any freight yard or terminal, it will be reported and there will be a "roundup" of tramps.

HEIR'S FIRST LUXURY A COLLAR

Paulsboro, March 24.—Upon receiving word that he had fallen heir to a farm of 500 acres and $10,000 in cash from an uncle in Germany, John Lewis Toner anounced that his first step would be to buy a linen collar and then get a wife. Toner, who is 47 years old, has never worn a collar of any sort in his life. He immediately made arrangements to leave for Germany, where he will seek a wife. He will put on a collar for the first time when he boards ship.

KEPT MARRIAGE A SECRET.

Long Branch, March 24.—Announcement was made Saturday of the marriage of Miss Florence Tilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Tilton, of Oakhurst, to Henry A. Muhlenbrink. The ceremony was performed at the Little Church Around the Corner, New York, February 21, 1912. They decided to keep the marriage a secret and succeeded until a few days ago, when some of the bridegroom's friends heard about it.

$300 FOR ALLEGED ASSAULT.

Franklin Furnace, March 24.—Declaring that Joseph E. Edsall, of Hardyston Township, assaulted him with his fists and knocked him down January 21, 1913, disabling him for a month, Louis Singer, of this place, Friday brought suit in the Sussex Circuit Court to recover $300 from Edsall. Singer said that he was a butcher at the time Edsall assaulted him and was earning $5 a day.

FIGHTING HARD TO SAVE CLAUDE ALLEN

CLAUDE ALLEN.

Appeal after appeal has been made, unsuccessfully, to various members of the Supreme Court of the United States at Washington by attorneys for Claude Swanson Allen for a writ of error to review his conviction for participating in the Hillsville Court house shooting in Virginia.

OLYMPIC READY FOR SERVICE

Belfast, March 24.—The 45,000-ton Olympic, which still has the distinction of being the largest steamship afloat, left today for Soutnampton to get ready to sail for New York a week from Wednesday. For nearly four months the giant vessel has been in drydock at Harlan & Wolf's shipyard, undergoing alterations designed to make her the "safest" ship in the world. At an expense of more than $1,500,000 the vessel has been fitted with an inner hull to make her, as far as engineering skill can, unsinkable. The original double bottom of the ship has been extended upward, to a point well above the water line, thus furnishing an interior skin of solid steel and forming a hull within a hull, so that the Olympic is now described as "two ships in one." In the opinion of the engineering experts the Olympic could now pass safely through such an accident as befell her sister ship, the ill-fated Tietanic, since the effect of running on a sunken reef or submerged iceberg would be merely to rip the outer hull.

MURDER TRIAL BEGINS

Dallas, Tex., March 24.—The case of J. A. Clopton, under indictment for the murder of Capt. J. L. White, was called for trial in the criminal district court today. Clopton is alleged to have shot and fatally wounded Capt. White in the offices of the Republic Trust Co. on Feb. 20. The victim was treasurer of the trust company and one of the best known citizens of Dallas. One of the principal witnesses at the trial will be Andrey Silvers, vice-president of the trust company, who was shot and seriously wounded at the same time that Capt. White was killed.

SUES FOR $337.50 FOR SERVICES.

Newton, March 24.—Alleging that Mrs. Ida M. Martin, of Wantage Township, owes him $337.50 for services he performed on her farm in Wantage Township, Gilbert D. Sprague has brought a suit to recover that sum in the Sussex Circuit Court. Sprague alleges that he was engaged by Mrs. Martin as a farmhand on December 1, 1907, and worked until July 1, 1910. He says his wages were worth $12.50 per month. They would amount to $537.50 at that rate. Mrs. Martin, he admits, has paid $200 on account.

DOLL GIVEN BY MRS. WILSON

Princeton, March 24.—The doll presented by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson before she left Princeton to Court General Mercier, No. 128, Foresters of America, of Princeton, for its fair next week, has been placed on display in one of the store windows. The doll, which is 18 inches tall, was given a name by Mrs. Wilson when she donated it, but it is unknown to all but Col. David M. Flynn.

HEARING ON UNIFORM MILEAGE

New Orleans, March 24.—The Railroad Commission of Louisiana today began a hearing in this city in the case of Shreveport Chamber of Commerce and others against the railroads doing business in Louisiana. The purpose of the suit against the roads to bring about the establishment of a uniform mileage rate to all points in the state.

NEWARKER TO BE LIFEGUARD.

Asbury Park, March 24.—George C. Smith, a pupil of Central High of Newark, has been engaged as an Ocean Grove bathing lifeguard for the coming season because of the proficiency he has displayed in the water the past few days. Smith, with Joseph Meyer, another Central High School athlete, has been taking a dip daily in the ocean.

ST. LOUIS TO HONOR NAGEL

St. Louis, March 24.—St. Louis business men have completed arrangements for a big banquet tomorrow night to welcome Charles Nagel, former Secretary of Commerce and Labor, who has returned to this city to resume his law practice. The banquet will be a non-partisan affair.

Plainfield, N. J., March 24, 1913.

IT IS SPREADING.

Four New Jersey municipalities will hold special elections on April 15 for a decision of the people as to the adoption of the commission form of government. They are Jersey City, the second largest community in the State; Hoboken, Union Hill and Bayonne. In Burlington, Camden, Paterson and other places an aggressive campaign is being waged, and in New Brunswick, Mayor Morrison has sounded the clarion call. The plan is in operation in Trenton, Passaic, Atlantic City, Long Branch, Ocean City, Ridgewood, Ridgefield Park and other places. The experimental stage has been passed. The people as a rule in the municipalities where the form is in force are extremely well satisfied so far as can be learned, and their happy experiences have prompted many other municipalities to begin movements for the adoption of the Walsh act.

In explaining his action in appealing to the citizens irrespective of party to enlist under the commission government banner, Mayor Morrison, of New Brunswick, declares: "I deem it my duty, as the executive of the municipality at this time, to state publicly it is my opinion that we, the citizens and taxpayers of this city, should at once consider seriously whether we should continue a system that has long since proven its adequacy. I do this after having made a careful study of the progress and benefits derived from commission government where adopted in certain municipalities in New Jersey."

Undoubtedly New Brunswick's mayor has by experience found the shortcomings and handicaps of the old form of municipal government, the same as did Mayors Fisk and Moy, when they were in office, each then advocating that the scheme of government be adopted here.

FOR BONNIE BURN.

Musical instruments are sorely needed at Bonnie Burn Sanitorium for the entertainment of the guests, the nature of whose disease causes them to brood over their condition. To keep their minds from thoughts of their physical condition, music is considered better than anything else. In order to obtain the necessary money for the purpose, Nathan R. Leavitt, of Elizabeth, started a fund in Union county. Subscriptions have been coming in slowly and it seems to us that there may be some charitably inclined people in our city disposed to help the cause. Morris Abrams sends the first contribution. Any subscriptions will be promptly acknowledged in these columns and will be immediately transmitted to Mr. Leavitt.

Howard G. Lapsley is the author of "A General Sketch of the History of Plainfield, New Jersey," which will first appear in serial form in the Daily Press. His work shows a great amount of careful and painstaking research and is written in a most interesting style. The first instalment will appear in tomorrow's issue.

For next Saturday's issue the contributing editor will be an educator of prominence who will discuss a matter of particularly general interest.

All over the land the Progressives are reforming their lines for the next battle and it seems that the report of the party's demise contained in the Republican machine press after the last election was a trifle premature.

This is the centenary of the tall hat. Suffice it to say, judging by his recent criticism of the silk top, President Wilson will not issue a proclamation for an observance of the occasion.

IMPRESSIVE SERMON ON CHRIST'S RESURRECTION

"However beautiful the flowers and the music might be, they are only secondary and contributory to the transcendent theme the risen, triumphant, glorified Christ," declared Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong in his morning sermon at the First Baptist church yesterday. "If Christ be not raised from the dead, then flowers are only a mockery and we shall die, even as they die.

"Christ was on earth about six weeks after His resurrection, and told us most of the things we might naturally ask about concerning the life beyond. A body not subject to any physical limitations, a personality with its own peculiar idiosyncrasies, a mental and spiritual acumen infinietly surpassing what we had on earth, these shall be ours who have attained eternal life, through the risen Christ."

LABORER'S WIFE FOR MAYOR

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Topeka, Kas., March 24.—The municipal campaign that ended today has been the most exciting that Topeka has experienced in many years. Tomorrow the voters will engage in a primary to determine the candidates to be voted for at the coming city election. The interest of the public is confined almost wholly to the mayoralty race, in which a woman is striving to win the nomination against four candidates of the sterner sex. The woman is Mrs. May Taylor. She is the wife of a laboring man, and before her candidacy for mayor was unknown to Topeka people. At the beginning of the campaign the politicians were inclined to treat Mrs. Taylor's candidacy as a joke. But they soon awakened to the fact that she was putting up a very serious fight and that the joke might be on them when the primary ballots were counted. Mrs. Taylor is making a strong bid for the vote of the working c lasses. She stands for a uniform wage and minimum work hours for all city employes. She promises to refund to the city all her salary above the minimum wage fixed for all employes. Her supporters believe she has a good chance to win.

LAND OPENED TO SETTLEMENT

Spokane, Wash., March 24.—The first parcel of land in a total of nearly 50,000 acres of government land which will be opened to settlement during the next six weeks in eastern Washington was opened to public entry today. Rich farming, grazing and timber lands are included in the area. T he largest parcel, comprising 22,194 acres of timber land in Pend Oreille county, will be opened to entry May 1. The area thrown open today consists of 1,413 acres of grazing and farming land in Douglas county.

PLAY BY MRS. WEST.

London, March 24.—A large party of critics, politicians and society folk are going up to Glasgow tomorrow to attend the initial performance of "The Bill." Interest in the play arises chiefly from the fact that it was written by Mrs. George Cornwallis West, formerly Lady Randolph Churchill, who recently secured a legal separation from her husband. The piece is a four-act political comedy dealing with a universal suffrage bill.

ELIOT DECLINES.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, March 24.—Official announcement was made at the White House today that former President Eliot, of Harvard, had declined President Wilson's offer to be Ambassador to Great Britain. It is understood that before the end of the week the President will make a choice as to the London post and some other important European embassies.

FUNERAL OF H. P. BUNDY

The funeral of Henry P. Bundy of Elizabeth street was held at the late home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and at the Park Avenue Baptist church at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, pastor of the latter church, officiated. The burial was in Hillside cemetery.

SAYS ARSON GANG IS NATION WIDE

Chicago Prosecutor Explains Its Crimes.

INCENDIARIES GET MILLIONS

Startling Evidence at Hand of How Conspirators Operate on Great Scale In Many Cities, Sending Agents Back and Forth, Setting Fires and Collecting Insurance Money.

The workings of a so called national arson syndicate were explained recently by Charles Furthman, deputy state's attorney of Cook county, Ill., while in New York with extradition papers for John Danies, a roadhouse keeper in the Bronx, against whom six indictments for arson are standing in Chicago.

Danies was arrested Feb. 28 by Detective Flood of District Attorney Whitman's staff upon representations from Chicago.

Mr. Furthman said he had evidence that Danies was one of the leaders of a gang of incendiaries who have been operating throughout the country. It is asserted Danies is known in other cities as John Kabizak, "the chief" and "the captain." He has been arrested three times in New York, but succeeded every time in convincing a jury he was innocent.

Furthman said he could prove that every time Danies left New York on a trip a trail of fires followed him. Big blazes in Seattle, Chicago, St. Louis, Buffalo, San Francisco and Minneapolis were coincident with Danies' presence in those cities, the prosecutor said.

New York "Bugs" Look Cheap.

As described by Furthman the methods of the nation wide ring of firebugs and the amount of their earnings make Isidor Stein and the other members of the arson ring in New York look cheap. Where Stein set a fire in a closet for a few hundred dollars' insurance it is said the so called Danies crowd would fire a store or factory and enable the owner to collect thousands.

"In every town where the gang operated," said Mr. Furthman, "a representative looked out for likely cases. He would go to a manufacturer or large storekeeper who was losing money. A fire would be suggested as an easy method of escaping bankruptcy. If the storekeeper followed the suggestion he would lay in a big stock of almost worthless goods.

"Then he would give the key to the local agent of the fire gang. The 'worker' who might live in a city a thousand miles away, would be notified. He would slip into the town, get the key to the store or factory, do the job in an hour and get out on the next train."

Millions Have Been Reaped.

Furthman said that if the testimony of the informers could be believed, the arson syndicate had got millions of dollars from the insurance companies. Mr. Furthman and Detective Sheehan started with Danies for Chicago.

Henry C. Freeman, known as "Wireless" Freeman because of the rapidity with which he learned of fires of which he later became the adjuster, was placed on trial before Judge Swann in general sessions charged with arson in the second degree.

Assistant District Attorney Weller said he would prove that Freeman had entered into a conspiracy with Isidore Stein and a broker named Goldman, now a fugitive from justice, to go into the business of incendiarism. Goldman was to sell the policies, Stein was to build the fires and Freeman was to adjust the losses.

Stein testified that on Dec. 7, 1911, at the suggestion of Freeman he built a fire in the flat of a man named Abraham Schlicten in New York.

BOY INJURED BY AUTO.

Herbert Avery, aged about 12 years, while riding a new bicycle at Watchung and North avenues, this afternoon, fell on the brick pavement and collided with an automobile which was coming up Watchung avenue, toward Front street. The lad was assisted to Walsh' drug store, where "first aid" treatment was given. He was afterward taken home. The lad received a severe bump on the head.

BAPTISMS.

These were baptized by Rev. C. H. Mallery, rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, on Saturday: Leon Holmes Kerr, John Wesley Harlow, Virginia Mildred Deremer, Abram Voorhees Randolph, Annie Amelia Buss, Elizabeth Margaret Buss, Flora Dora Buss, William John Buss, Henry Lewis Buss, Bertha Marguerite Buss.

Cold Ham Made a Cold Heart.

"Your honor, all I'd get to eat were delicatessen stuff, ham and beans, pickles, potato salad and sauerkraut. But instead of eating this stuff herself she would go to her mother's to eat and leave the cold food for me," said William Brown in the Brooklyn court of domestic relations recently. His wife, Mary, charged him with nonsupport. The case was adjourned.

RESCUES PASSENGERS FROM DRIFTING VESSEL

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

New York, March 24.—Captain A. G. Thomsen, of the Scandinavian American line steamship C. F. Tietgen, in a wireless message to the office of the company in New York reports that when 1,820 miles east of Ambrose Channel at noon on Saturday last he had taken forty-three passengers off the Swedish steamship Texas of the Norway, Mexican and Gulf Line in 47.41 north and 33.27 west. The Texas was en route from Norway to Newport News, Va., with cargo and passengers. Word was also received that the S. S. Francisco was expected. A wireless message stated that she expected and would probably tow her into Fayal. A report from the Texas which had a wireless apparatus aboard stated that the vessel on Saturday was drifting in latitude 34 west, having lost all propeller blades and the captain of the Tietgen had taken all passengers off reporting all well and safe. A further wireless message stating that the Texas expected the steamer Francisco Saturday night to tow the disabled vessel into Fayal and that the captain of the Texas had reported having had severe weather. The C. F. Tietgen is bound for this city.

EGG ROLLING AT WHITE HOUSE

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, D. C., March 24.—An army of infantry today invaded the White House grounds and remained in possession while President Wilson, his family and friends stood upn the portico of the executive mansion and made no effort to conceal their admiration and enjoyment of the spectacle. The "army" consisted of the whole juvenile population of Washington, or as much of it as could be crowded on the White House lawns, and still leave room for the egg rolling festival which for years has been a fixture on Easter Monday. From 9 o'clock in the morning until late in the afternoon the youngsters frolicked around the grounds, rolling their colored eggs and playing games. They were given the absolute run of the place. No grown folk were admitted to the grounds, unless accompanied by children, and there were the usual amusing incidents of small boys hiring themselves out in relays to inquisitive adults who desired to get a close view of the quaint and time-honored custom of Easter Monday in the national capital.

BALTIMORE FIRE.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Baltimore, March 24.—Sixteen men were seriously injured and damage estimated at $300,000 was caused by fire which swept through the plant of the Union Abbatoirs Company, of South West Baltimore, early today. Crossed electrical wires is believed to have started the fire. The buildings destroyed were Oleo building, the Earl building and the engine house. A general alarm was sounded before the fire was brought under control.

TROUBLES OF FISH GROW WORSE NOW

Tangle in Which Roselle's Mayor Is Involved Becoming More Complicated.

Elizabeth, March 24.—The latest development in the tempestuous circumstances that are surrounding the administration of Mayor Harwood Edward Orderly Fish, of Roselle Park, who claims the distinction of being the only Bull Moose executive in the United States, is a libel suit that has been filed in his behalf by Charles A. Trimble against Emil Lams, of Roselle Park. The action is slated in the District Court and the damages asked are $500.

The suit is the outcome of Mr. Lam's action in bringing suit through M. Caswell Heine, a New York lawyer, to recover money alleged to have been paid for stock in the Gem Dredging Company, of which Mr. Fish is general manager.

The Gem company was organized for the purpose of exploiting the rich diamond fields that are supposed to exist in Brazil, and the action was filed a few days previous to the school election in Roselle Park last Tuesday. When Mayor Fish made his appointments, the council refused to confirm them. J. Wallace Higgins, who was the borough engineer, consequently has been holding over in the position ever since.

According to Fish, Mr. Heine himself came to Roselle Park and waded through several unpaved streets to reach the home of Mr. Lams and induce him to bring suit to recover on the Gem stock. In connection with this, he points out the fact that Mr. Heine and Mr. Higgins are officers of the Tennessee Mining Company, the stock of which, according to Mr. Fish, is far less desirable than that of the Gem company. These facts according to the papers filed in the suit, point to conspiracy, with Mr. Fish as the object.

C. F. A. Salter, another stockholder in the Gem company, brought suit against Mr. Fish before election, but on the following day took an affidavit setting forth the statement that he had done so under a misunderstanding, that he did not wish to continue the action, and further declaring that he had the utmost confidence in the honesty and integrity of Mr. Heine. Mr. Salter declared that he had been induced by Mr. Heine to bring the action. He directed that the suit be discontinued, and on the following day the Lams action cropped up.

The trial, which is slated to be before Judge McAdams some day this week, promises to be one of unusual interest.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

SOME FISH CAKES.

LENT, with fish taking an important place on the bill of fare, brings new problems to the housewife. What shall she do with the fish that is left over from one meal to another? Left over fish may be used with other foods in compounding new and delicious dishes. Cold fish is indispensable in making fish cakes.

Baked or Fried.

Codfish Cakes.—Take a package of codfish, two cupfuls of mashed potatoes, a half cupful of milk, one egg, a tablespoonful of grated onion, a teaspoonful of bacon drippings, a quarter of a teaspoonful of white pepper. Wash the codfish and let it soak in cold water for twenty minutes. Then press out the water and add the mashed potatoes, onion, drippings, pepper and milk. Mix well and form into flat cakes. Then put into breadcrumbs and dip in an egg beaten with a tablespoonful cold milk, then in breadcrumbs. Bake or fry in deep hot fat.

These Are Appetizing.

Salmon Croquettes.—Take equal quantities of cold or hot boiled rice and canned salmon. Add a little melted butter and salt and pepper to taste. Mold into small ovals and roll first in finely powdered crackers, then into beaten egg yolk and again in cracker crumbs. Fry in hot fat like doughnuts.

Picked Up Fish Cakes.—Take a cupful of picked up salt fish and cream sauce, with two or three baked potatoes. Remove the skins from the potatoes while they are still warm, mash the fish or chop it if not tender enough to separate with the fork. Mash and work the fish and potato together until very fine and smooth. If you have so much sauce that the mixture is too soft mix in some soft breadcrumbs to absorb the moisture, and if you lack sauce use cream or a beaten egg. Add more salt and pepper and shape into small flat cakes nearly an inch thick and brown on each side in a little hot butter or salt pork fat.

The Young Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church will meet tomorrow afternoon to consider the subject, "Mormonism and False Prophets."

The women of the local churches have been invited to attend a conference upon "Community Church Efficiency," to be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Clubhouse at East Orange.

The annual meeting of the First Baptist church will be held Wednesday night when all of the societies will present reports. There will be special music, in which Miss Violet Jewell, cornetist, will take part, and during a social hour refreshments will be served.

There will be a union service of all the Women's Missionary Societies of the First Baptist church Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A social hour will follow.

What was considered by the oldest communicant to be the most largely attended service ever held at St. Stephen's church, was that of the main celebration yesterday morning. The rector, Rev. W. E. L. Ward, preached an eloquent and thoughtful sermon on Easter and the music was particularly fine. The offertory was the largest for any single services in the parish history.

VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN FOR EQUAL SUFFRAGE

Mrs. Reynolds Has a Busy Time Ahead For "Votes For Women."

Mrs. M. J. Reynolds, of Newark, who is campaigning in Union county for a month in the interest of woman's suffrage, has an extensive program for the coming week. She will speak at the home of Mrs. R. B. Halley, 456 St. George avenue, Rahway, at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon; at the home of Mrs. Augustus V. Heeley, 321 West Eighth street, this city, at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, to which all interested are invited; at the Plainfield Elks' Lodge, Wednesday night; at the Watchung Silk Skirt factory, Thursday noon; at Firemen's Hall, Scotch Plain, Thursday night, when Champlain L. Riley, of this city, will also speak; at the home of Mrs. Herbert Welch in Westfield, at 3 p. m., Friday; at Proctor's theatre in Newark, Sunday afternoon, March 30; at Cranford April 1, Garwood, April 3 and before the Woman's Club, of Flemington, April 9.

The executive board of the Plainfield Equal Suffrage League at a meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Champlain L. Riley, voted to adopt the district plan of organization, and the president was instructed to appoint chairmen of the election districts in Plainfield and North Plainfield. Should the pending equal suffrage amendment eventually come to a vote in New Jersey, it is intended to canvass the districts house to house.

Mrs. Reynolds in winding up her campaign last week, addressed the large force of men at the Walter Scott Printing Press Works on Friday noon, her audience being very attentive.

CHURCH BIBLE SCHOOL GIVES YEARLY REPORT

The annual report of the Bible school of the First Baptist church, prepared by the secretary, C. Ernest Conover and read at the Easter exercises of the school yesterday afternoon, showed the total membership to be 812, a net increase for the year of 34. The school recently inaugurated a campaign the object of which is to bring the membership up to 1,000 by Christmas. During the past year twenty-five members of the school have joined the church by baptism. Four have died, Mrs. M. K. Randolph, J. D. Macnab, Miss Clarissa Denton and Harold Serrell.

The cradle roll has a membership of 82, a net increase of 7; the beginners' department has a membership of 32, a net gain of 3; the primary department has a membership of 32, the decrease being due to promotions; the junior department has a membership of 72, a net gain of 10, the intermediate department has a membership of 70, a net gain of 11; the adult department has a membership of 394, a net gain of 12; the Home department has a membership of 130.

A year ago the balance in the treasury was $275.41. The receipts from all sources during the year were $1,547.91 an increase of $301 over last year. The disbursements were $1,570.17, making the present balance $235.15.

Ben Butler's Retort.

An old lawyer in speaking about General Ben Butler said: "Ben Butler was a terror and a torment to the judges. On one occasion Judge Sanger, having been bullied and badgered out of all patience, petulantly asked, 'What does the counsel suppose I am on this bench for?' Scratching his head a minute, Butler replied, 'Well, I confess your honor's got me there.'"

Hahne & Co.'s Opening of Springtime Draperies

The Most Elaborate Showing This Store Has Ever Made

We invite you and your friends to spend a pleasant hour or two in our Upholstery Section this week.

We invite you particularly because we are in full dress for the Spring season. It is really our opening and reception days in the beautiful section devoted to draperies and upholstering stuffs—things that go so far to beautify the home.

No home owner, no one interested in beautifying homes, can pass by such a display in justice to themselves, and no one will view it that will not admire it.

The Upholstery Store is prettily garbed in a multitude of colors. Everywhere one looks will be seen beautiful decorative effects accomplished with cretonne, marquisettes, chintz, scrims and Summer curtains of various sorts.

Here you will see the corner of a room—the wall, the windows—and in it a suite of wicker furniture with all the charm of Summertime pervading it, upholstered as it is in dainty cretonnes, effecting beautiful color harmonies.

A whole avenue is dressed in blue toned cretonnes, combined with dainty muslin and swiss curtains, for which we have bed sets to match.

An avenue is also decked in yellow and gold cretonnes, with curtains in superb harmony.

Still another avenue is made beautiful with all the various tints that run from the most delicate pink to the deepest red—cretonnes in an immense variety of patterns lending themselves to the decoration.

Another lane is beautified with the wonderful forest and verdure effects in cretonnes—those deep rich tints of which one never tires.

In one of the corners is a black wicker suite, upholstered in cretonnes with a black striped ground, on which are laid beautiful huge pink roses— suite that we sell, as it is, for $145.

A suite of black wicker is upholstered with Sunfast mercerized repp; the cushions are made in our own workrooms, and the little spindles in the black wicker are painted red to match the upholstery.

Still another wicker suite is in white, upholstered in pink flowered cretonne, and the curtains on the window and the wall coverings and even the lamp shades are beautifully matched in pink.

One window treatment shows a panel of Tambour lace and balance of mercerized marquisette with colored borders.

Another window treatment is accomplished with Egyptian novelty net, prettily panneled on a French window, and has over-drapery or prettily bordered marquisette.

In our collection there are over 100 patterns of domestic Cretonnes and Chintzes.

There are 50 patterns of English and French Cretonnes in all the rich floral and verdure, colonial and period effects, and many of them are exclusive with us in New Jersey.

Colored Muslins and Swiss Curtains in no less than seventy-five different styles are here at prices ranging from 75c to $6.75.

Bed Sets to match these curtains are here in at least twenty-five different styles, at prices ranging from $1.75 to $12.50.

Our stock of Scrims, Marquisettes and Etamines, both plain and hemstitched and with the pretty colored borders, is most varied and complete.

The light weight Sunfast Portieres and Repp Portieres, all nice for summer use, will take away that bare effect from your doors or windows; here in unusually large variety.

Silkoline and China Silks with all styles of edgings to match the silks and cretonnes are shown in wide variety.

WOMAN FAILS TO FIND GOLD ON COCOS ISLAND.

Treasure Hunting Expedition Comes Back After Fine Time.

The treasure hunting expedition led by Miss Genevieve Davis, an English woman, which had been looking for buried gold on Cocos island for many months, got back to the city of Panama recently. A good time was had by all. No treasure was recovered.

Benito Bonito was a regular pirate, who in the early part of the nineteenth century settled down to "singeing the beard of the king of Spain" along the coast of Mexico. When he got any money together he buried it on Cocos island after the manner of pirates and made a map with the skull and crossbones marking the spot where the treasure was hid. His heirs have made a substantial living selling these maps to those whom romance and the works of R. L. Stevenson have touched.

Miss Davis' expedition started out from Plymouth with one of the maps and a vessel armed with a six pounder to fight the natives of Cocos island, which lies 550 miles southwest of Panama, on Sept. 10 last. The only woman besides Miss Davis aboard the ship was her friend Mrs. Barry Till.

Two other expeditions left respectively from France and Victoria, B. C., with maps similar to that of Miss Davis. Nothing has been heard of them recently.

FIND GREAT IRON ORE TRACT.

Fabulous Wealth Located in Earth of Wisconsin.

What promises to be the greatest iron ore discovery in the world's history became known in Milwaukee recently with the arrival in that city of Frank R. Henzel of Prairie Du Chien to close arrangements for the transfer of leases on an enormous tract of land to a local representative of some of the biggest iron mining operators in the United States.

The great tract is in the southwestern part of Wisconsin, extends over parts of three counties, and the discoverers believe that an area sixty miles long and forty miles wide is largely underlaid with ore of rich percentage in metallic iron.

Assays range from 54 per cent to over 60 per cent metallic iron, most of it non-Bessemer, but with possibilities of developing Bessemer quality at a lower depth.

The ore is near the surface, being in places only twenty feet beneath, while in the best explored tract the mineral is eighty feet below the surface and has been tested through a depth of forty feet. One area tested out contains approximately 2,000,000 tons of ore, valued at about $8,000,000.

FALLS 17 STORIES—LIVES.

Workman Smokes Two Cigarettes After Plunge From Dizzy Height.

John Brunnen, a marble worker, twenty-six years old, fell down an elevator shaft in the new Municipal building of New York from the seventeenth story to the basement recently. He sustained fractures of both legs.

It was a few minutes after 5 o'clock that Brunnen and some fellow workmen were waiting for an elevator. Brunnen looked down the temporary shaft, became dizzy and plunged down. Workmen hurried to the basement expecting to find Brunnen dead, but instead the young man was lying on a pile of empty cement bags. He was conscious, and his first request was for a cigarette.

Brunnen smoked two cigarettes and was about to light a third when Father Evers of St. Andrew's church arrived and put a stop to the smoking while he administered the rites of the church.

"WILCOX GLIDE" HAS ARRIVED

New Dance to Supplant Turkey Trot is Invented.

A new dance, the Ella Wheeler Wilcox glide, was introduced recently in Earl hall, Columbia university, New York, at a reception given by the Western club of the college, under the auspices of the university forum.

Mrs. Wilcox herself consented to dance the newly invented steps, with Louis F. Chalif, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera company, as her partner. The dance is a sort of combination of the varsovienne and the minuet and is intended to supplant dances such as the turkey trot, which have come under ban.

Miss Jane Beers is the inventor of the Wilcox glide.

CANAL A PART OF THE U. S.

Judge Holds Residence There Entitles One to Naturalization.

Judge Thompson in the naturalization court at Philadelphia recently decided that the canal zone is a portion of the United States and that residence in the canal zone permits a person to seek naturalization in this country.

The decision was given in the case of Louisa Kurath. The government sought to bar the woman from naturalization, although she had been employed as a government nurse in the canal zone for the last six years.

Cannon Sells Farm For $100,000.

Ex-Congressman Cannon recently sold his farm, a 400 acre plot, at Fithian, west of Danville, Ill., to Edward Stephens and Frederick Endicott, both of Fithian, for $100,000. The land was bought by Mr. Cannon in 1880 at $25 an acre.

"MAC" SAYS

Martin's Dream.

My sand lot days are a thing of the past,
Aroun' me I behold,
Where'er my casual eyes are cast;
The mighty leaguers bold,
My chums in work and play are they
With whom I scamper day by day.

With them I clout the horsehide,
And share in rooter's joy;
I know how first I plainly shied
When I was Farrell's toy.
But he has shaped by methods crude,
And now does share by gratitude.

I often think of bushers; with them
I lived in long past years,
Their virtues love, their faults condemn,
In gone but not forgotten years.
But from their lessons I seek and find
Instruction with my humble mind.

My hopes are with the big leagues, anon
My place with them will be
And I with them shall travel on Through all Futurity.
Yet in Plainfield left a name, I trust
That will not perish in the dust.
(Wake up!)

Another sure sign of spring—No basketball at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday night.

Scotch Plains enthusiasts still attend the games staged at the Parish House and these contests will probably continue for some time to come or as long as they prove drawing cards.

Although the P. H. S. athletes are enjoying their Easter vacation this week Captain Good, of the baseball team, evidently does not intend to give his candidates a rest. He has a stiff program of training outlined for the week.

School reopens at N. P. H. S. tomorrow and diamond practice will be ushered in in earnest by Captain Dunning. A few loosening up sessions have been held during the recess but the real tryouts will be held this week.

"THIRTEEN CLUB'S" BASEBALL PLAYERS

An All Star Aggregation Could Be Picked From the Unlucky "13" Circle.

Lucky would be the magnate who could secure for his team those players who happen to have been born on the alleged unlucky date of the thirteenth. Said magnate probably would by the middle of the season be making preparations to enlarge the seating capacity for his park, for from the players whose birthdays fall on the hoodoo date a world's championship combination could almost be picked.

The manager of this Thirteen club would be J. Garland Stahl, of the Red Fox. He was born on April 13 1880. Presuming that Stahl might prefer to remain where he now is, a person named Fielder Jones, who was born on August 13,1874, might be induced to take charge.

For scouts Billy Murray, of the Pirates, who was born on April 13, 1864, and Gene McCann, formerly with the Highlanders, who was born on June 13 1876, would be available.

The catchers for the Thirteen club would be Jimmy Archer, of the Cubs and Mike Simon, of the Pirates. These two athletes reached this sphere on May 13, 1883, and April 13, 1883, respectively. Johnny Kling, who says he will not pastime this year, was born on November 13, 1885.

Only one real high grade major league pitcher was born on the thirteenth. He is Vean Gregg, of the Naps, who will celebrate his twenty-eighth birthday next month. Bill Donovan, who pitched the Tigers to two pennants and "Rube" Waddell who was responsible for the winning of a pair of flags by the Athletics, were both born on the thirteenth. "Wild Bill" will be thirty-seven years old next October and so will the Rube.

Noted infielders who celebrate their natal days on the thirteenth are besides Jake Stahl, Hal Chase, of the Highlanders. Ed Konetchy, of the Cardinals; Larry Gardner, of the Red Sox; Eddie Foster, of the Nationals, and J. Franklin Baker, of the Athletics, who ran Tris Speaker a close race for the Chalmers American League trophy car last season.

The outfielders born on the thirteenth are not numerous. Josh Devore, of the Giants, was born on November 13, 1887, and Harl Maggert formerly with the Athletics, was born on February 13, 1883. "Bucky" Freeman, who holds the major league record for the greatest number of home runs in a season, first saw the light of day on October 13, 1871.

Mal Eason, National League umpire, is one of the thirteen chaps, he having reached this earth on March 13, 1879. Here is the Thirteen club:

Manager and center fielder—Jake Stahl, of Red Sox, born April 13 1880.

Pitcher—Vean Gregg, of Naps, born April 13, 1885.

Catcher—Jimmy Archer, of Cubs, born May 13, 1883.

First baseman—Hal Chase, of Highlanders, February 13, 1883.

Second baseman—Larry Gardner, of Red Sox, born May 13 1886.

Third baseman—J. Franklin Baker, of White Elephants, born March 13, 1886.

Shortstop—Eddie Foster, of Senators, born February 13, 1888.

Left fielder—Konetchy, of Cardinals, born September 13, 1885.

Right fielder—John Devore, of Giants, born November 13, 1887.

Scout—Billy Murray of Pirates, born April 13, 1864.

Umpire—Mal Eason, of National League, born March 13, 1879.

RALLY COMES LATE BUT WINS CONTEST

Scotch Plains Parish House Basketball Team Scores Victory Over All Plainfields.

Playing the part of a runner up for half the game, the Scotch Plains Parish House basketball team sneaked into the van in the final period Saturday night and came out ahead over the All Plainfield aggregation by a score of 25 to 17. The finish of the first half found the visitors holding the lead by a count of 15 to 11, and it looked like a sure victory for them as the "Plains" five was playing loosely, several substitutes in the lineup making teamwork pretty nigh impossible. In this period the score was never separated by more than two goals and the Plainfield team always maintained the lead by virtue of Doig's and Heron's scoring abilities.

The contest tightened up in the final session, however, and the visitors were held to a single field goal, this one by Doig, while the Scotch Plains team's forwards were totaling up five field goals. Moulton also contributed a goodly share of points by caging seven shots from the penalty mark. Both teams had an unusual number of fouls levied on them, and the kicks registered against the referee's rulings were many and frequent. Neither team turned a quarter of its attempts from the 15-foot mark into scores, however, Heron and Moulton being the only ones to count on these throws.

TOOK FOUR PERIODS TO REVERSE SCORE

Extra Periods Prove Disastrous to Y. M. C. A. Junior Quintet at Scotch Plains.

In a game that took four periods to decide on the Scotch Plains Parish House court Saturday night, the "Plains" second team nosed out the Y. M. C. A. juniors by a count of 20 to 17. At the end of the second half when time was called the Y. M. C. A. led by a score of 17 to 12, but it was found that the timer had called for a halt at the end of fifteen minutes instead of waiting for twenty to roll off and another playing period was ordered.

In the third spasm the home five tied the visitors and a fourth period was necessitated in which to 'Plains boys scored a foul goal and Hooker dropped the winning field tally, giving the Plains quintet a victory.

Berse and Hooker starred for their respective aggregations, doing a large portion of the field goal shooting and being the central figures in the team work.

DRISCOLL MAY OPEN SEASON THIS WEEK

Not Yet Known Whether Or Not Brunswick Mgr. Will Play Here Saturdays.

Weather permitting, Dave Driscoll, captain of the Plainfield baseball team, will give his team their initial tryout at the New Brunswick Amusement Park, opening the season at that place. While it is practically settled as far as playing in New Brunswick on Sundays is concerned, it is still unsettled as to whether or not Driscoll's tribe will perform in New Brunswick on Saturday afternoons. Since the Central New Jersey League has been reorganized, Plainfield fans have been hopeful of seeing Dave and his herd in action here on Saturday afternoons, but it is understood that New Brunswick magnates are also making a strong bid for his services, and which way he will turn is yet a matter of speculation.

Though no definite assurance has been given by Manager Driscoll that he and his team will represent New Brunswick again this season, it is apparent from his early season plans that he will. The Utica, N. Y., State League team is to begin training in April and this will interfere somewhat in the Brunswick baseball opening so early in the season.

Because of their Porto Rico trip, Driscoll and Eddie Craig, the New Brunswick second baseman, are in the best of shape to play at once. Craig by the way has been removed from the blacklist of the Tri-State League, and is now eligible to play on the Brunswicks against league teams. Craig's refusal to report to Johnstown, after sending a telegram to the management accepting terms, got him in wrong.

There is still some doubt whether Eddie Stallings, Driscoll's left fielder, will be able to play this season, because of the injury he received to his knee in a game last season. After his injury, his place was filled by Wehrill last year.

TIPS FOR YOUNG PITCHERS

Pitcher Hank Robinson of the Pirates is a philosopher. Here are some of his musings: "A pitcher must have a head as well as an arm. Some have neither.

"I'll never ask for a boost in salary until I think I'm worth it.

"It's bad business for a pitcher to antagonize his fellow-players. They can make him look like a selling-plater, no mater how good he is.

"Never underestimate the other fellow; he is human just as you are.

"Do the best you can and don't worry. Worry never got a fellow anything."

DORFLINGER WILL CONDUCT TRYOUTS

Every Plainfield Ball Player Will Be Given An Opportunity to Shine This Season.

Such weather as we are now being treated to inspires baseball managers with the idea of getting their men out on the field to see what is available for the make-up of a base ball nine for the summer which is now being ushered in. Manager Ernest Dorflinger, of the Plainfield baseball team, is no exception along this line, and if the present warm spell continues it will probably find an aggregation of players on the field sporting Plainfield woolens next Saturday afternoon or the one immediately following. It is Dorflinger's desire to give local talent a chance to break into semi-professional circles this season, and if his plans materialize the local team will be made up, to a large extent, of Plainfield sandlot products this season.

Dorflinger will have one grand practice afternoon in which every aspirant for a position on the Plainfield team will be accorded a tryout. An invitation will be sent broadcast and it is expected that the answer will be generally accepted by all ball players. The squad will be divided up and a good old-fashioned game of sides started so that Dorflinger can get a line on just what he has to select from. It may take several Saturday afternoons to weed out the material, but the manager is willing to sacrifice his time to gather together the best nine available. Listen for the call, you ball players, and when you hear it, respond

HOPE CHAPEL BALL TEAM MEETS TOMORROW NIGHT

The initial call for baseball will be sounded at Hope chapel tomorrow night and although this is an indoor meeting a large array of talent is expected to attend the meeting which has been called to elect a temporary captain for this year's Sunday-school League team. The Hope team, through a representative, has already obtained a franchise in the Sunday-school organization, and will be right on deck to capture the trophy once more. Hope chapel was one of the most formidable contenders in the race last season, defeating Monroe Avenue in a tight race for the cup.

Present indications point to an even better nine this year, but all of the other teams have been strengthened likewise and the chapelites will have no cinch in coping the bunting. At tomorrow night's meeting the presence of all of last year's members is desired and as many new ones as are contemplating trying for the 1913 combination.

LEAL GRADUATE ON CREW

Russell Lawrence Beatty, a graduate of Leal School in this city, and holder of several records for having the shot, is a candidate for the Columbia Universtiy's crew this spring. Coach Rice has spoken of Beatty, or Lawrence, as he is beter known in Plainfield, in the highest terms, and while he is at present using him at No. 5 in the second squad, he thinks with a little drill the husky shot putter will be able to give the best of them a race for a position in the first boat. Beatty has been popular in Coluumbia athletics ever since he entered that institution, not only taking an active part in track work, but going out for every other branch of athletic endeavor promoted and fostered by Columbia.

M'LOUGHLIN A HOLDOUT

Warry McLaughlin, a former Pittsburg National League heaver, who has been adorning local mounds for many years, has not definitely decided where he will anchor his articles this summer. McLaughlin twirled for Dunellen last summer, and it is a well known fact that Manager Bogardus is angling for him once more, but Warry will make no definite statement concerning his plans for the baseball season.

MANY GOLF EVENTS CARDED FOR WOMEN

Metropolitan Clubs Arrange One Day Tournaments For Coming Season.

In view of the popularity of the one-day tournaments for women golfers last season, plans are under way for an elaborate schedule of such competitions this year. Already several of these meetings have been arranged, the first being scheduled at the Englewood Country Club on May 8. The Women's Metropolitan Golf Association has offered the gross prize, while Mrs. Myra D. Paterson, president of that organization, has donated the net score award.

The second tournament of this kind will be held over the links of the Apawamis Club at Rye, which did not entertain the fair golfers last season. On May 22, the Century Country Club will do the entertaining. After the Century meeting there will be a lull until tfter the women's metropolitan championship tournament of the Women's Eastern Golf Association with the tri-city matches at Brea Burn the week beginning June 9. The lull, however, will only be temporary, for on June 18 Hackensack will be visited, and on June 26 the women will play at Forest Hill. Several other dates probably will be arranged.

In addition to the one-day meetings, the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association will hold a series of team matches, Miss Georgianna M. Bishop, former national and metropolitan champion, being the captain of the New York combination, and Mrs. Frank Enos of Englewood leading the New Jersey forces. The first clash is scheduled for Montclair on May 13, and the second at Knollwood a week later. The object of these contests is to obtain match play practice so as to make a better showing in the tri-city competition than the last two years.

STALLINGS NOT TO PLAY.

From present indications it seems as though Eddie Stallings, the left fielder and heavy hitter on the Plainfield baseball team, would not be able to get back into harness this season, at least during the early part. Eddie had his ankle broken in a Sunday game at New Brunswick the latter part of last season and that member has not mended sufficiently to warrant his playing. Stallings was one of the speediest men in this section on the bases last season and the fans are anxious to see whether or not the accident will show him up to any noticeable extent when he starts playing once more.

LEAGUERS AT BRUNSWICK.

The Utica baseball team of the New York State League will establish its spring training quarters at New Brunswick during the coming week The Utica team has been accorded the use of the New Brunswick Amusement Park's baseball diamond and several exhibition games will probably be arranged with the New Brunswick home team. Utica was the champion nine of the league last year finishing the season with a percentage of .590 and the games played at Brunswick as exhibition contests should be good ones.

NEW DIRECTOR AT THE PARISH HOUSE

Burnett Brodziak Succeeded By W. A. Batterson, Former Ball Player.

W. A. Batterson of New York has been appointed by the Scotch Plains Parish House Board of Directors to succeed Burnett Brodziak, recently resigned, and the new director took up his duties at that place today. He has been a visitor at the Parish House for the past week, where he has made many friends, but his active duties start today, and he has planned a busy schedule for the spring and summer months. Mr. Batterson is an ardent follower of every branch of sport, being an ex-leaguer, having played in the New York State League, and also takes an actice interest in track work.

He proposes organizing a track team among the Parish House athletes and also a baseball team, the latter sport already being started. Several promising track candidates have been unearthed and with Mr. Batterson fostering thes port ought to become a popular one at Scotch Plains.

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT IN QUAKER CITY TONIGHT

Philadelphia, March 24.—Billiard admirers will follow with keen interest the national amateur Class A championship at 18.2 balkline, which opens tonight at the Union League Club in this city. The tournament is held under the auspices of the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players. It is expected that three weeks will be required to settle the championship honors. Eight of the most prominent amateur players, classed as "shortstops," have entered. The Pacific Coast is represented in the list by Wilkie C. Dunaway, of the Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland. Chicago has sent C. F. Conklin and Percy Collins, while the eastern participants includes such well-known amateurs as Edward W. Gardner, Dr. Walter E. Uffenheimer, Joseph Mayer, Dr. Walter G. Douglas and J. Ferdinand Poggenburg, the present international champion.

'PLAINS BALL TEAM.

Those interested in Scotch Plains' baseball prospects are getting ready for the reorganization of a team that will be able to cope with any in this section. All of last year's candidates are still on the job and together with the big array of new material ought to make up a cracker jack aggregation. Practice will be called in a few days and officials elected for the coming season.

ST. MARY'S BASEBALL

A team of fast junior baseball players has been rounded together by the St. Mary's Cadets and the manager is now anxiously awaiting communications from all managers of local juvenile aggregations desiring games. The team has been fitted out with suits and their equipment is most complete.

EASY FOR Y. M. A.

Fourteen members of the Bound Brook Young Men's Association accompanied the basketball team of that association to South Branch Saturday evening, where it defeated the strong team of that place by a score of 37 to 13. Dancing was indulged in after the contest.

THE FAILURE TO MAKE A WILL

is often the cause of much unnecessary trouble and expense. This important duty is sometimes deferred because of the difficulty in selecting the right man to act as executor but even if the "right man" be found he may die before the estate is settled and its administration will then pass into the hands of someone appointed by the Court who may or may not be competent and who, of course, will be unfamiliar with the wishes of the deceased.

CHARMING DANCE FOR DEBUTANTE

Brilliant Social Event Given By Mr. and Mrs. Howard McWilliams.

UNUSUAL DECORATIONS

Society Greets Miss Marjorie Waldbridge Brown, a Favorite Among the Younger Set—Function One of the Most Elaborate.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard McWilliams of Hillside avenue gave a reception and dance at the Hartridge Auditorium last night, in honor of their debutante daughter, Miss Marjorie Walbridge Brown. This first event following Lent, was by far the most brilliant social function of the past season, if not for many seasons, all the details being carried out on a lavish scale. About 500 guests from this city and out-of-town were present to greet Miss Brown and enjoy the elaborate entertainment provided by Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams.

Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams and Miss Brown were Mrs. Charles C. Walbridge of New York, Mrs. Charles Alling of Montclair, Mrs. James W. DeGraff and Mrs. Richard Henry Depew of Plainfield. Others assisting were Mrs. William A. Conner, Mrs. James R. Joy, Mrs. Howard Hunter Williams, Mrs. R. S. Gernon, Mrs. William H. Murray and Mrs. Malcolm McKenzie.

The young women assisting Miss Brown were Miss Beatrice Hedges, Miss Eleanor DeGraff, Miss Frances Zelie, Miss Audrey Gernon, Miss Barbara Fleming, Miss Marion Snyder, Miss Mary Rushmore of this city, and Miss Elizabeth Oliphant of Trenton.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Frances Walbridge, C. C. Walbridge, Mrs. W. H. Torrey, Miss Grace Peck from Brooklyn, Mrs. William J. Batty, Earl Batty of New Rochelle, Daton Oliphant of Trenton, Charles Alling of Montclair, Miss Sarah Washburn of Chicago, and Miss Helen McWilliams of New York.

The decorations, the chief color scheme of which was pink and white, were perhaps the most artistic and elaborate seen here in a long time. They were by Stanley, and the arrangement was under the personal supervision of J. D. Taylor. As a basis for the general decorative scheme, thousands of yards of pink and white bunting were used for festooning about the ceiling of the large auditorium, as well as for drapery about the sides of the auditorium.

A feature that was especially effective was the hanging moss balls filled with spring flowers, including dogwood and jonquils. Inverted Japanese parasols covered the chandeliers, giving a soft light. The stage, where Muller's Orchestra was seated, was particularly attracive in its arrangement of palms, ferns, boxwood trees, with numerous Japanese lanterns. During the reception there were harp, 'cello and violin music, and then for the dancing music was furnished by an orchestra of 16 pieces.

The several recesses of the hall were ornamented with boxwood trees and spring flowers. On either side of the long hall extending the length of the auditorium, was a profusion of southern smilax, which afforded a delightful promenade for the guests. The entrance room, as well as those adjoining, where supper was served, were also attractively decorated with the pink and white bunting and spring flowers, while the large room on the second floor, overlooking the auditorium, which was devoted to cards, was made attractive with Japanese decorations.

Dogwood trees and other spring flowers were effectively used to the right of the auditorium, where the receiving party was stationed. Miss Brown received a wealth of floral gifts from her many friends which were the admiration of all present. The debutante has been a favorite in the younger set and society joined in making last night's reception a notable one.

SUFFRAGE "QUESTIONAIRE"

Mrs. Augustus V. Heely of 321 West Eighth street will conduct a "suffrage questionaire" at her home tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. All those interested in the subject of suffrage are invited to be present at the meeting, which will be attended by Mrs. M. J. Reynolds, who will answer any question.

—Neuman Bros. will offer for tomorrow's trade a large display of fresh vegetables, including asparagus, artichokes, cauliflower, lima beans, stringless beans, cucumbers, tomatoes. ***

FANCY DRESS DANCE FOR LITTLE FOLKS

Mrs. P. H. Stewart and Mrs. F. W. Wallace Entertain Over 70 Youngsters.

One of the delightful social functions of the post-Lenten season was the fancy dress dance given at the Park Club, last night, by Mrs. Percy H. Stewart, of West Eighth street, and Mrs. F. W. Wallace, of Hillside avenue, for their children. There were between seventy and eighty young folks present, all attired in a fancy costume, presenting an attractive picture. There were no special decorations, but there were many other pleasing features that marked the affair.

During the evening there was a distribution of favors, paper parasols being given to the girls and paper caps to the boys. The dancing began about 8 o'clock and continued until 11 o'clock. Music was furnished by VanEps Brothers, and they gave an unusually popular program of dance music. During an intermission refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Henry Johnson, of the club.

COMEDY CLUB CAST FOR ANNUAL SHOW

First Rehearsal For "Her Lord and Master" Is Held.

"Her Lord and Master," the play which has been selected by the members of the Park Comedy Club for presentation this season, had its first reading last night at the home of Alston M. Abbott, on Myrtle avenue, with practically all of the members of the cast present. Active rehearsals will begin on Thursday night, and those selected expect to become thoroughly acquainted with their lines by April 10, when Eugene E. Sanger of New York, who will coach the players this year, will take them in charge.

The play will be presented at the Plainfield theater some time during the first week in May. It is a comedy in four acts and contains many laugh provoking lines. The cast which has been selected for the performance follows: Right Hon. Thurston Ralph Canning, Brown Rolston; Lord Nelson Stafford, A. M. Abbott; Mr. "Fred" Stillwater, William T. Pelletier; "Glen" Masters, Roy Cox; Flash, John Valiant; Jennings, Henry C. White; Flunkey, Leslie R. Fort; Lady Helena Canning, Miss Edna Hopkins; Grandma Chazy Bunker, Mrs. A. M. Abbott; Mrs. Stillwater, Miss Blanche Buttfield; Kitty, Miss Elizabeth Goddard; Indiana Stillwater, Mrs. Maxwell E. Perkins. Stage director, Eugene E. Sanger of New York.

FREE DANCES CONTINUE AT WASHINGTON SCHOOL

The series of dances in the social center which has been established at the Washington School will continue indefinitely, and those having the matter in charge are anxious that all who have participated in these dances during the winter will continue to do so. The night school has closed and with that closing a number of the people who have attended the dances have gotten the idea that they have been discontinued also. As a result the attendance has fallen off materially. It is also the desire of the committee to emphasize the fact that the dances are not only for members of the night school, but for the general public, above the age of eighteen years.

On Friday night of this week a new class will be started for the especial benefit of the colored residents of the city. Mrs. W. H. P. Veysey, Mrs. William M. Sandford, Mrs. Champlain L. Riley and Mrs. G. Stuart Simons will act as chaperones and the music will be furnished by a committee of young women of which Miss Edith Mellick is chairman. There is also a co-operation committee of colored women, under the leadership of Mrs. James Lawson, who are working with the social centre committee to make the affair a success.

On Saturday night J. R. Joy will deliver a lecture at the Washington School, following which there will be social dancing, under the chaperonage of Mrs. Percy H. Stewart and Mrs. Joy. Music will be furnished by the same committee of young women.

THE TEMPERATURE.

HEBREW CHARITY BALL NETS $1000

Second Annual Function Held At Sebring's Auditorium a Huge Success.

MOST REPRESENTATIVE

The Hall Tastefully Decorated—Many New Features Introduced—Hyman Adelberg Chairman of Committee.

The second annual Hebrew Charity Ball held in Sebring's Auditorium, last night, was largely attended by a representative gathering. The affair was a success financially as well as socially, and the committee believes that the net proceeds will reach $1,000. This will be divided among the various Hebrew charities of the city for the relief of the needy.

The large hall was attractively decorated with flags, yellow and white bunting, to which was added spring flowers. A feature was the electric light effects, the varied colored incandescents casting a soft glow about the hall. The committee introduced another feature, that of serving refreshments between the dance numbers. At midnight supper was served and the dancing continued until the early morning hours.

The success of the affair was largely due to the efforts of the committee comprising Hyman Adelberg, Jacob Sachar, Harry Dreier, Benjamin Cline, Morris Abrams, Kalmen Rothberg, Jacob A. Fass, Kasper Sachar and Samuel Rothberg. Jacob Abrams and A. H. Richards were the efficient floor managers.

The music for dancing was furnished by Charles Suhr's Imperial Orchestra, which gave a popular program.

PHILLIPS IS CHOSEN 1ST LIEUT. OF CO. K

J. B. Conklin Made 2nd Lieut. and J. A. Thompson Q. M. Serg.

A first lieutenant, a quartermaster-sergeant and three corporals were elected by Company K last night. Second Lieut. Arthur R. Phillips was chosen first lieutenant. Quartermaster-Sergt. J. Arthur Dow and Sergt. James B. Conkling were nominated for second lieutenant. Conklin received 20 votes, while Dow polled 14. Maj. William B. Martin of Elizabeth, who presided, stated that the examination would be held either the second or third Monday in April.

Following the election for commissioned officers, Maj. Martin, before retiring from the chair, stated that he would conduct the first session of the school of musketry immediately after the company had been dismissed.

Capt. Charles A. Peterson conducted the election of a sergeant, who will be appointed quartermaster-sergeant, and three corporals. As a result Corp. James A. Thompson was elected and accepted quartermaster-sergeant.

On the second ballot for the first corporal, Private Phillip H. Millwater was elected by a majority of three votes. Private Myrton E. Glover on the third ballot at the election of the second corporal, while Private Harry R. Owens won out on the second ballot for third corporal by a majority of four votes.

Capt. Peterson announced that the examination would take place in about two weeks. Maj. Martin conducted the first lesson in the school of musketry.

LOSING AGGREGATION TO ENTERTAIN CONQUERORS

Several weeks ago a fast quintet of feminine basketball players banded together to play the fast Nonpareil girls' team in Saengerbund Hall. A dinner for the winners to be paid for by the losers, was the stake. The Nonpareils won by the score of 20 to 6.

Thursday night the Nonpareil aggregation, composed of the Misses Ida and Helen Hummel, Lucy Douglas, Clara Smith and Elsie Debele, will be the guests of the losing five at the home of Miss Helen Southard of Cook avenue, Scotch Plains. The hostesses will include the Misses Marian Tice, Helen George, Reba Kline, Marion Lightfoot, Sadie Lee and Miss Southard.

AUTO STOLEN.

The authorities in Newark have asked the local police to keep a close watch-out for a black Hudson runabout type of automobile, license No. 14,051 N. J., which was stolen yesterday in that city.

GOVERNOR SIGNS THE AUTO BILLS

Measures Introduced By Fielder Himself Will Strengthen Dept.

TO INCREASE REVENUE

A Brief Summary of the Senate and House Bills Which Form Additions to the Auto Laws of New Jersey.

Trenton, March 25.—The series of automobile bills introduced by Senator Fielder, of Hudson county, for State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Job H. Lippincott, were signed by the senator as Acting Governor yesterday afternoon, and are now laws. The measures strengthen the State Automobile Department in several ways. After they had been signed Commissioner Lippincott said they would not only strengthen his department but would also materially increase the State's revenue from automobile sources.

One of the bills is Senate 25, increasing the automobile inspectors from 10 to 16. Discussing this new law, Commissioner Lippincott said:

"This law will be a great help to the Automobile Department. The automobile reciprocity law passed last year very largely increased the inspection work necessary to enforce the statute. With the increased number of inspectors we cannot only better enforce the law, but will also be enabled to keep closer watch upon the non-residents who come into the State under the reciprocity act and thereby collect much more revenue for the State."

Referring to the other automobile laws, Mr. Lippincott said they were introduced to strengthen the State Automobile Department in its weakest parts, and, therefore, the laws would be a big help to the department. The other bills signed by Acting Governor Fielder was as follows:

Senate 22, by Mr. Fielder, requiring a red light to be placed on the rear of each vehicle in such a manner as to render the same visible at least fifty feet distant.

Senate 26, by Mr. Fielder, authorizing Motor Vehicle Commissioner to suspend the fifteen day touring privilege when cause is presented. Punishable by a fine not exceeding $200.

Senate 27, by Mr. Fielder, providing a fine of $500 or imprisonment for 60 days for manufacturing any imitation of official automobile identification markers.

Senate 30, by Mr. Fielder, authorizing Motor Vehicle Commissioner to destroy applications for licenses on file in his office for more than three years.

Senate 89, by Mr. Fielder, amending motor vehicle act by requiring costs of prosecution to be paid for registration fees where complaints are made by police officers.

Senate 87, by Mr. Fielder, apthorizing police officers as well as motor vehicle inspectors to make complaint and prosecute violations of the automobile laws.

House 429, by Mr. McGrath, apthorizing officers arresting any person for violation of the motor vehicle law if satisfied that such person is a resident of New Jersey may serve him with a summons to appear in court without perfecting such arrest.

FIELD MARSHAL WOOLSEY SUCCUMBS IN FRANCE

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

London, England, March 25.—Field Marshal Viscount Woolsey, noe of the most famous of modern British soldiers, died today at Mentone, France.

TAX INSTALMENTS

Trenton, March 25.—The payment of taxes in semi-annual instalments is provided in a bill introduced in the senate last evenng by Senator Davs of Salem. The bill fixed Dec. 20 as the date for the payment of the first instalment and June 20 as the date of the second payment. It provided that at least one-half shall be paid on the first paymnet, and that if the first instalment is not made, the entire amount shall then become due and shall be at interest not exceeding 12 per cent.

NEW COUNTY DISCUSSED.

Members of the Dunellen Board of Trade held a meeting last night and discussed in detail the proposed new Washington county which is being actively advocated by former Mayor Newton B. Smalley, of North Plainfield. It is probable that Mr. Smalley may be invited to deliver an address on the subject at a public meeting if the enthusiasm of the Dunellenites warrants.

LAKE HOPATCONG SAVED TO PUBLIC

Gov. Signs Bill Permitting Townships to Acquire Lake and Adjoining Lands.

PROPERTY OWNERS WIN

Robert D. Foote and Hudson Maxim Speak In Favor of Measure and Fielder Affixes His Signature Without Delay.

Trenton, March 25.—Assembly bill No. 94, by Mr. Lyons, of Morris county, permitting the townships bordering on Lake Hopatcong to acquire the lake and land surrounding it as a public park, was signed by Acting Governor Fielder last evening not long after the conclusion of the public hearing on the measure.

Property owners claiming to hold $1,000,00 worth of real estate along Lake Hopatcong appeared before Acting Governor Fielder yesterday afternoon.

The measure is a general one permitting two or more townships, boroughs or municipalities lying within adjacent counties to acquire lands, lakes, ponds and streams for public parks. It provides further that the governing bodies of the municipalities affected may, by resolution, appoint one person for each one thousand of population and fraction thereof over five hundred as a park commission, to carry out the provision of the bill.

R. D. Foote, of Morristown, argued in favor of the Governor's signing the bill, and was followed by Hudson Maxim, of Lake Hopatcong.

EQUAL SUFFRAGISTS GATHER AT DINNER

Many Speakers At Feast Given By Mrs. Francis de Lacy Hyde.

Covers were laid for 20 last nigt at the Suffrage Dinner, given by Mrs. Francis de Lacey Hyde, in her home in Hyde Park, North Plainfield township, which was featured by an inspiring and enthusiastic addresses by some actively connected with the movement. Last night's event was one of many which have been planned by the hostess for a campaign throughout Union County in the interest of "the cause." She is being ably assisted in her efforts by Mrs. M. J. Reynolds of Newark, a former resident of Colorado, and who has been interested in the women's suffrage affairs in New Jersey since coming East.

Former Mayor William L. Saunders of North Plainfield, previous to the latter's resignation from the governorship, made a short address, following a few introductory remarks made by Champlain L. Riley, who presided. The other speakers included Mrs. Reynolds, William Pritchard of England, Miss Louise Connelly and Miss May White, both of Summit, and Mrs. Frank Patterson of Colonia, former president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mr. Pritchard told many interesting incidents of the lively campaign for "votes for women" being carried on in England, and also touched upon the conditions in California and New Zealand, Australia, where the right of the ballot is enjoyed by the women. Miss Louis Connelly stirred considerable enthusiasm by her discourse, "What Can Be Done in Union County."

Among others present were Mrs. George A. LaMonte, wife of State Commissioner of Banking George A. LaMonte of Bound Brook, Mrs. Edwin F. Feickert of Dunellen, president of the State Association of New Jersey, could not be present, owing to an appointment in Orange.

A FALSE ALARM.

William Craig, an employe of the Adam Blair livery and boarding stables, reported to the police yesterday that an attempt had been made to enter the home of Mr. Blair, at 519 Park avenue. An investigation by the police led to the discovery that the front door was open. The family valuables were untouched, however, nor was any evidence of intruders to be found. Mr. and Mrs. Blair are out of town.

MISSING ONE IS FOUND.

Conrad Grisman, 26 years old, an inmate of the Groszmann School, at Watchung Crest, who was reported to the police yesterday as missing, was found last night in the vicinity of New Providence and returned to the school. Grisman, whose home is in New York, is suffering from nervous troubles and it was while suffering from a more severe attack that he wandered away.

SHARP GIVES $1,500 ON FRAUD CHARGE

Plainfielder Among Those Indicted For Port-au-Peck Realty Transactions.

Jersey City, March 25.—Ernest Sharpe, of Plainfield; George W. Young, banker and husband of Mme. Nordica; Charles J. Van Slyke and W. H. Cooper, of New York, and John Alvin Young, have been indicted by the Hudson County Grand Jury o na charge of conspiracy to defraud purchasers of property sold by the Port-au-Peck Realty Company, of which the defendants are alleged to have been directors.

Messrs. Sharpe, Cooper, VanSlyke, George W. Young appeared before Judge Robert Carey, in the Court of Common Pleas, yesterday, and pleaded not guilty. Bail was fixed at $1,500 in the cases of Messrs. Sharpe, Cooper and VanSlyke and at $1,000 in the case of Mr. Young.

Mr. Young has made application for a separate trial, saying that he had no connection with the realty company since 1909.

Mr. Sharpe denies any guilt, according to his friends. He could not be reached today by the Daily Press.

SOME WHO RESIDE IN STORM'S ZONE

Several Former Plainfielders Live In District Visited By the Tornado.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Rogers, of West Fifth street, whose daughter, Mrs. Edmund R. Gavitt and her husband reside in Omaha, were greatly relieved last night when they received a telegram informing them that she and Mr. Gavitt were safe and that they would write soon. Mr. and Mrs. Gavitt reside on 27th street south, Omaha, and as near as Mr. and Mrs. Rogers can ascertain their home was about two blocks from the path of the tornado which swept through the city causing so much destruction to life and property.

Mr. and Mrs. Gavitt have lived in Omaha for the past year and a half, having left for that city immediately after their marriage. Mr. Gavitt is employed as a foreman in a large garage in the western city. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers received a letter from their daughter on Saturday, but in speaking of the devastating wind that has been hovering about Nebraska she made no reference to any damage in or near Omaha.

Another Plainfielder in the storm zone is Rev. Lawrence R. Howard, former pastor of Hope chapel, who went west for his health some time ago. He is living in Lincoln, Neb. However, Mr. Howard is not as near the storm centre as the Gavitts, but Lincoln lays in the track of the storm which hit Omaha, where the death toll is reported to be very heavy.

PLAINFIELD B. AND L. ASSOCIATION PROSPERS

Reports submitted by Secretary B. Frank Coriell at the annual meeting of the Plainfield Building and Loan Association last night were most encouraging to the board, as they showed the association to be in flourishing circumstances. The auditors, A. D. Edgar, Clarence Goss and William McD. Coriell, examined the reports and found them to be correct.

All of the former officers of the organization were re-elected as follows: Henry Liefke, president; W. A. Woodruff, vice-president; W. R. Coddington, treasurer; B. F. Coriell, secretary. George Finger was chosen to serve on the Board of Directors in the place of the late Louis Barkalew, and the other directors, Henry Liefke, James P. Homan, W. R. Coddington, W. A. Woodruff, Herman Schwed, Joseph C. Blimm, Louis Klein, Peter J. McDonough, Charles M. Dolliver, B. Frank Coriell and E. M. Laing, were re-elected for another term.

GETS SIX MONTHS.

C. B. Lyons, of this city, who was arrested several weeks ago by the local police charged with assaulting a conductor on the Main Line car, was arraigned this morning before Judge Connolly, in the County Court, and sentenced to serve six months in jail.

HE FELL 30 FEET, SLIGHTLY BRUISED

Three-Year-Old Italian Child Has Remarkable Escape From Death.

HAS A LUCKY STAR

This Was But One of a Series of Accidents—Saturday He Fell Headlong Downstairs and Was Unhurt.

Tony Donato, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jule Donato, of 952 West Third street, had a remarkable escape from being killed yesterday afternoon, when he fell from the second-story window of the Donato home, a distance of thirty feet. With the exception of a few bruises the child is none the worse for its perilous fall. Dr. P. B. Cregar was summoned and after examining the child decided that its injuries were not of a serious nature.

Yesterday's accident was one of a series that have befallen the Donato boy during his short life.

Within the last few years Mr. and Mrs. Donato have lost two children, one being burned to death when its clothes caught from a bon-fire and the other choked to death when attacked with a sudden coughing spell while suffering from croup. Saturday, while his mother was engaged in house duties, Tony fell headlong down the stairs, striking his head. Yesterday he experienced a similar fall, both times sustaining bruises. In the afternoon he fell out of the second-story window.

SUFFRAGISTS PLAN FOR JOINT MEETING

Mrs. Feickert To Preside at Unique Mass Meeting at Newark On Sunday.

Prominent suffrage speakers as well as those widely-known in the four leading political parties are announced to address a mass meeting to be held in Proctor's theatre, Broad street, Newark, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, under the auspices of the New Jersey Woman's Suffrage Association, of which Mrs. Edward F. Feickert, of this city, is the president, who will preside.

It is expected that all of the presidents of the suffrage leagues of the State, and legislators and others interested in the movement of "votes for women" will occupy seats on the platform. Among those from this city will be Mr. and Mrs. Champlain L. Riley, William L. Saunders and others.

"The Spirit of the Pioneers," will be represented by Rev. Antoinette Brown Blackwell and Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, who will tell of the work of the early days. The meeting and movement is non-partisan, for representatives from the four leading parties have been invited to speak as follows: Progressive, Edmund B. Osborn, of Montclair; Democratic, George M. LaMonte, of Bound Brook; Socialist, Dr. Maud Thompson, of East Orange; Republican, former Sheriff Frank H. Sommer, of Newark.

Mrs. M. J. Reynolds, of Newark, who is at present campaigning in Union county, will speak, but the address of the afternoon will be made by John Sherwin Crosby, of New York. My Husband Says I've Made Our Home

And really when I come to think of it, I guess I have, because it's the odds and ends and little fixings that go to make up the attractiveness of a home. So far, I have contributed an entire new dining-room set, a handsome bookcase, and one of the handiest kitchen cabinets you ever saw. And the beauty of it is that I have gotten all these things without increasing our regular living expenses one cent!

How do I do it? It's just the easiest thing in the world. I buy my teas, soaps, spices, foodstuffs, notions and other household supplies from Larkin Co. and get these things as Premiums. The Larkin Products are fine, the best I have ever used. I have been buying them now for two or three years, and would want nothing better. Larkin Co. give you their Products and a Premium for the same price that the store will give you such Products alone. That's how I got all these things without increasing our living expenses.

Why don't you save money this very same way and at the same time get some fine piece of furniture or other cherished article for your home without extra cost? There are seventeen hundred Premiums described in the Larkin Catalog D 24. Write to Larkin Co., Buffalo, N. Y., for a copy of their Catalog today. They send it free to anyone who requests it.

RELIABILITY.

Squaring the Rule of Gold

The Public's mind is like a slate.

Old impressions are being wiped off every day, and new ones put on.

But there are some impressions that are indelible—the impressions we receive from pleasurable transactions.

I like to believe that no one has ever suffered thru a transaction at my store.

I like to believe that a customer's attitude toward my store is kindly.

And I DO believe that no person can point an instance where some fancied grievance was not liberally "righted."

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

President Wilson will be the guest of honor at the Gridiron Club dinner April 12.

Col. Roosevelt is to attend a Progressive conference in Albany, N. Y., March 28.

Three of the last seven Presidents of the United States were sons of ministers—Arthur, Cleveland and Wilson.

Henry F. Hollis is the first Democrat New Hampshire has sent to the United States senate in more than 60 years.

John I. Martin of Missouri, sergeant-at-arms of many national Democratic conventions, is slated to be sergeant-at-arms of the United States senate.

For the second time within six months the voters of Michigan are to be given an opportunity on April 7 to pass a proposed woman suffrage amendment.

Congressman Richmond P. Hobson is about ready to begin his active campaign for the seat of United States Senator Joseph F. Johnston of Alabama, whose term will expire March 4, 1915.

Secretary of State Bryan has accepted an invitation to be the guest of honor at the second annual banquet in New York next month of the Pan-American Society of the United States.

John Skelton Williams of Richmond, Va., who has been appointed Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, is one of the leading financiers of the south. For a number of years he was president of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad.

Among the politicians in New York City the opinion is gaining ground that if Dist.-Atty. Whitman meets with continued success in his prosecution of the police "graft" cases he is pretty sure to be nominated for mayor next fall.

"Lew" Shank, the Indianapolis mayor who gained fame through his efforts to reduce the high cost of living by buying carloads of potatoes and selling them in the city markets at cost price, announces that he will go on the vaudeville stage when his mayoralty term expires.

Henry F. Hollis, the new United States senator from New Hampshire, was born in Concord, N. H., 42 years ago. He was graduated from Harvard in 1892, and has since been engaged in the practice of law in his native place. He was the Democratic candidate for governor and for congress on several occasions, but the only elective office that he has held was a single term as representative in the New Hampshire legislature.

The influence of the Wilson administration is expected to be opposed to the regular Democratic state organization in the Maryland primary campaign next fall, when two United States senators are to be named. Senator John Walter Smith is a candidate for re-election and has the support of the organization. His opponent is William L. Marbury, a Baltimore lawyer, who is said to be President Wilson's choice for the senatorship. The same alignment has been formed with regard to the short-term senatorship, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Rayner. Blair Lee, a former state senator, is said to be the Wilson choice for the short term, while Mayor Preston of Baltimore will have the support of the "regulars."

FINE FOR DEFAULTER

New Brunswick, March 25.—Jason Mortimer, former bookkeeper at the State Home for BBoys, whose conscience so troubled him that he surrendered to the police in Detroit, was fined $200 here yesterday by Judge Peter F. SUMBERGED PILING RAISED

Old Bridge, March 25.—More than 300 piles had been extracted from the river under the railroad bridge at this place when the last was pulled out Saturday by contractors employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

Most of the piles previously had been sawed off level with the bed of the river. The work, which cost the company more than $3,000 in excess of the calculated cost of the bridge, was demanded by the War Department.

Another petition is pending to require the freeholders to remove debris thrown into the river that is said to form a menace to navigation.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

When, in 1870, Victorien Sardou wrote "Divorcons," in a revival of which Miss Grace George will be seen at the Plainfield theatre, Saturday afternoon and evening, March 29, he sought to footlight a topic of the day, in the shape of a divorce law, which was then under discussion by the Chamber of Deputies. His idea was to take a shot at Folly as she flew; and he himself, writing to Miss George on the occasion of her London success in the play, six years ago, said: "I did not, when the play was originally acted in the Plais Royal, believe that it would outlive a twelve month. I am glad for your sake that I was wrong!" As a matter of fact it has outlived every other comic play of Sardou's, including even his famous "Scrap of Paper," long regarded as a model of his skill in construction; while no other comic play of 1870 survives to this day. Yet, Miss George did not revive it after any protracted period in disuse. "Divorcons" has been in Mrs. Fiske's repertoire ever since 1897; Rejane acted it when she was in this country, a few years ago, and it was the play in which Arthur Boutchier and his wife, Violet Vanburgh, came here as stars in 1896. Miss George was asked when in London, if she did not think that a play ought to have a higher mission than "Divorcons." The questioner was a celebrated English novelist, who believes that all his writings carry an ethical lesson. Miss George pressed him to be explicit. He explained that he regarded the stage as an educational force, and that he thought every play acted ought to make the world better by sheer force of illustration. "But, my dear sir," she protested, "can you ask for any peachment more nearly direct than that of "Divorcons?" "Why," he retorted, "I had never supposed that it or any farce ought to teach a lesson! May I ask just what—" "Certainly!" she responded, anticipating the question. "It teaches us that a husband ought occasionally to take his wife out to dinner." In her support will be seen a notable company, including such well known players as William Courtleigh, Howard Estabrook, Frank Peters, Garl Kane, Mario Marjeoni and others.

BARN ON NEIGHBOR'S LAND

Mt. Tabor, March 25.—Elmer Dickerson of this place has discovered that a part of his new barn occupies about a foot of Edwin Dickerson's land. Edwin Dickerson objects and has ordered the removal of the barn. When Elmer Dickerson put up his new barn he made it a substantial structure, with the intention that it shouldn't be moved, even by a hurricane. He faces the expensive alternative of either having the structure take a trip of one foot in one direction over the rural landscape to which he claims title, or of acquiring a deed to one foot of the other Mr. Dickerson's land at a price fixed by the later. The men are not relatives.

REID'S ESTATE $2,821,576

Passaic, March 25.—An inventory of the estate of Peter Reid, the manufacturer, who died Dec. 7 last, places its net value at $2,821,576.80. He held $1,583,962.34 in stocks and $975,480 in bonds of at least 100 different companies. Mr. Reid left $340,000 to the charities of Passaic and $909,000 to his relatives. His heirs will now receive their pro rata share of $1,575,000 more.

JURY COMMISSIONS.

Jury reform in this State is greatly demanded. In some counties of the State the need for a change is not so great as in others. This is probably more true of the County of Union than of any other county in New Jersey. So far as we recall, we have never had any scandals, or at least very few, in the matter of the selection of grand jurors. The Constitution makes the sheriff elective. For centuries the sheriff has been the executive officer of the courts. It is a serious problem to take from him the powers which have always inhered in his office, and for the sheriff who has always performed his duty such action seems harsh, but in the enactment of laws the general welfare must be considered. When you contemplate the fact that in Essex, Hudson and Atlantic counties no person can be brought to justice for any offence, when the boss of each of those counties determines that he shall not be punished, a serious condition is presented. Such a condition amounts to a crime against the State.

While we do not, and have not, approved of the course of the judges in appointing elisors, yet their action was made necessary by the unfortunate, not to say criminal, condition which existed in Hudson and Atlantic counties. If the sheriff would always do his duty and act in an impartial manner, as his sworn obligation requires, there would be no need for a jury commission, but this has not been the case in places where it has not pleased a boss to permit the sheriff to so act. A jury commission appointed by the court can do no harm. It should assist in holding the scales of justice even. We do not, however, believe that any appointing power should be given to judges, nor do we believe that the judges desire such power to be conferred upon them. In the present state of public sentiment the judge should be relieved from every duty which is not strictly judicial. If the judge be given the power to appoint a jury commission he will not abuse it, but it will furnish a pretext for certain people to charge him with having abused it.

Governor Fort in his inaugural and in his first message advocated jury reform, and Governor Wilson has done so in both his first and second messages. Governor Fort said, in his inaugural, "It is not wise to take all power from the sheriff in the matter of selecting jurors, saying nothing of the question of the constitutional right to do so. But the drawing of grand and petit juries should be regulated by strict law under a system of drawing, either by the sheriff alone or in connection with other persons as commissioners, so that impartial results may be obtained and citizens indifferent between the State and offenders may be selected for all classes of jury duty." In his first message he suggested that the sheriff and two commissioners appointed by the court should draw the grand and petit jurors. These practical and reasonable suggestions were not enacted into law, but disregarded by the Legislature. Now the demand is for an absolute elimination of the sheriff in connection with the drawing of jurors.

It has been proposed to place the power in the hands of the Governor to name the commissioners. This is dangerous. It is even dangerous to put it in the hands of the judges, but it is more sure to be free from political control in the hands of the judges than in the Governor. If men would only perform their sworn duty as sheriffs there would be no need of this legislation. They would do so if it were not for the accursed boss system that exists in so many counties in our State. The people do not fear that the sheriff would fail to do his duty if he were let alone. If they would only rise up in their might and smite the bosses, big and little, there would be no necessity even for the discussion of this class of legislation. One thing is clear, the Legislature should pass some act which will insure impartial juries.

STILL ANOTHER FEATURE.

The first instalment of a brief History of Plainfield, of which Howard G. Lapsley is the author, appears in this issue and will be continued as a serial for the remainder of the week.

Following this, beginning on Monday, the Daily Press will publish also in serial form a story pertaining to one phase of Plainfield's history, of which Oliver B. Leonard is the author.

Both of these are from the original manuscripts and are obtained exclusively by this paper for first presentation. Later both Mr. Lapsley and Mr. Leonard will publish their works in pamphlet form.

It has been the custom, unfortunately for most of us, to delay ordering the oil for street dust-laying purposes until after the inhabitants of Plainfield have suffered for weeks from gusts of dust. If the Councilmanic street committee will not consider it impertinent, we venture to suggest that the oil be purchased now and that within the very shortest possible time the work be begun. With the first touch of spring comes the first touch of dust. Do it now!

We venture to say that none among our readers would not be interested in the contributed editorial to appear in Saturday's issue. These weekly popular editorials have proven a marked feature of Plainfield's Progressive Paper and we bank our reputation on our assertion that all will find food for thought in what our next contributing editor will have to say.

According to all reports "human nature is the same over" as our friend, former Mayor James E. Buckle, would opine, for the list of hungry office seekers among the Democrats these days is fully as large as that which is characteristic of the Republican party when victory alights upon its banner.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Cettinge, March 25.—The Montenegrin government, in replying to the Austra-Hungarian note, agrees to take steps to permit the civilian population of the fortress of Scutari to leave the city. At the same time Montenegro has informed Austria, that the Montenegrin government has addresed a note to the European powers protesting against Austro-Hungary's action, which she calls a breach of neutrality.

NO PREFERENTIAL CHOICE.

Trenton, March 25.—By the vote of 27 to 21, the Assembly last night defeated the preferential second choice primary bill, introduced by J. A. Matthews, of Essex county, and which was advocated by Woodrow Wilson when Governor. The measure permitted the voter to express his second choice for each candidate on his ticket, according to the so-called Wisconsin method, the purpose being to prevent the nomination of candidates by a small minority of the voters, as now happens when there are several candidates for the same office, thus splitting the vote. Mr. Matthews changed his vote from aye to no, so as to move for reconsideration later in a hope to get the measure through.

HISTORY OF PLAINFIELD
—BY—
Howard G. Lapsley

(First Instalment)

It is claimed, and with good reason, that New Jersey was inhabited about 150,000 years ago. Biblical history covers a period of only some 6,000 years. The sands of time have effaced the records of man as effectively as age vanquishes memory. The history of the world antedating the Biblical period forms one of the enormous speculative gaps in this world's story wherein the historian has not even threads of legend to guide him.

Prehistoric New Jersey.

In the valley of the Delaware near Trenton, human skulls, mastodon tusks and many thousand implements have been unearthed. It is the circumstances governing the finding of these things which warrants the statement that New Jersey was inhabited many thousands of years before man began to leave any permanent record of his existence.

Proof of this prehistoric population is that these discoveries were made in banks of gravel at various depths showing no human agency. These banks of gravel are conclusively attributed to the action of glaciers which covered the greater part of eastern United States. It is geologically certain that these skulls and tools were deposited as and where they were by the southerly drift of these glaciers.

The approximate date of these glacial drifts is established by astronomical calculation, which shows that at least 150,000 years has elapsed since this unknown people whose remains were eventually buried by glacial action, lived here. It is safe to assume the correctness of these calculations as other astronomical forecasts, covering periods of 75 years, foretelling the reappearances of comets are correct to the minute. Such success in forecasting the future surely engenders faith in statements covering the past. Especially is this true where the heavenly course of a comet may show an eccentricity of one per cent, whereas the course of this terrestial globe shows an eccentricity of only .05 of one per cent.

However, we can have a pleasanter time imagining the types of these prehistoric Plainfielders than we can by taking up the mathematical cudgels with scientists.

Plainfield is situated on what was once the terminal of a glacier as all land about shows evidence of having been deposited by the action of the melting ice.

From prehistoric speculation covering an extinct and unknown people, we must jump over wide intervals of time to the documentary evidence of the first white men who set foot in America. The degree of civilization reached by the American Indian was too low to allow of any historical or even legendary record. What is known of the Jersey Indian we know from written observation of the white men who first entered the country.

Indians of New Jersey.

The story of the aboriginal Indian is lost behind the mists of legend The Indians of New Jersey belonged to the Algonquin family and their tribe division was the Delaware or Lenni-Lenape, meaning when translated freely "original people." However, these "original people" had been so thoroughly whipped by their bloodthirsty and ferocious neighbors, the Iroquois, that they were also known as women. It is said that when it came to devising methods and means of torture and cruelty the Iroquois made all other races that ever inhabited this earth appear like novices.

The Delaware Indians inhabiting this State on the coming of the white men were a subject race, divided up into some score of small tribes known as Raritans, Hackensacks, Neversinks, etc.

New Jersey in 1648.

The earliest important account and description we have of this territory is the report of a pilgrimage made here in 1648 by one writing anonamously as Beauchamp Plantagent. This report made to Lord Edmund, (Andros), Governor and Captain General of the Province of New Albion, gives a "Direction for adventurers, with small stock, to get two for one and good land freely."

This first prospectus of the State goes on to describe, "That part of America or North Virginia lying about 39 degrees at Delaware Bay called the Province of New Albion, is scituate in the best and same temper, between too cold Germany and too hot Barbary."

Also from a personal account of one Robert Evelin, we read as follows: "I doe account all the Indians to be 800 and are in several factions, and all are extream fearful of a gun, neither do I conceive any great need of a fort or charge where there is no enemy. If my Lord Palatine will bring with him 300 men or more there is no doubt that he may do very well and grow rich for it is a most pure healthful air and such pure wholesome springs."

An addition to this same account goes on to say: "We find besides the Indian Kings by him (Robert Evelin) known and printed, in this province there is in all twenty-three kings or Chief Commanders and besides the eight hundred by him named there is at least twelve hundred under the two Raritan Kings on the north side next to Hudson's River, 'therefore fair and far off is best with Heathen Indians.'" Also this observer adds, "He that is lazy and will not work needs not fear starving but may live as an Indian."

Indian Exodus.

It is assumed from this our first Indian census that the number of Indians in the State was not over two thousand. Due to the smallness of their number and the fact of their defeat by the Iroquois, the Indians never gave the white settlers any serious trouble. By 1758 the exodus of the Indians to the west of the Alleghenies was practically complete, here being scarcely 150 Indians left in the colony.

Indians at Plainfield.

Due to their migratory habits it is impossible to tell which particular tribes inhabited the present site of Plainfield. Remains of several Indian encampments have been found along Greenbrook and also marks of a camping place and burying ground to the West of Cedar Brook on the land now bounded by Park, Crescent and Watchung avenues. Our actual knowledge of the Indian in this vicinity is very limited so to avoid the path of fiction we will continue to the story of the early settlers.

THE FORUM.

THE BUILDING CODE.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

I noticed in the Daily Press of March 22 that the Common Council declined to amend the building code in regard to the street entrance to theatres and other public places of amusement. To my mind paragraphs 1 and 2 of section 116 of the building code is too rigid in regards to the entrance to such places. In part it says as follows: Every theatre or opera house accommodating over three hundred people shall have a street entrance of not less than twenty-five feet in width. Regardless of the number of people the building accommodates if over three hundred. No matter how many people the building will seat the entrance according to the building code has to be twenty-five feet, be it four hundred or four thousand. The Common Council cannot be blamed for going slow in the matter.

It seems to me a former Council has been wrongly advised in regard to such matters and this Council should be sure and get the part in question adjusted so there will be no need of any further action at any time. The entrance to a public building should be regulated according to the seating capacity of the building. The public should be amply protected. One human life is worth more to the person who loses it than any or all the theatres are to the owners. The ones who build the theatres should also be protected and not made to build an entrance unnecessarily wide. Just a little more than would be necessary to get the people out safely in case of fire. Land is very valuable in the business section. A rigid enforcement of the theatre entrance part of the code regardless of the size of the building would make an unnecessary hardship for the property-holder.

FRED W. BIRD.

TO END POLL TAX.

Trenton, March 25.—The bill by Assemblyman Moore, of Mercer county, abolishing the poll tax, was passed in the Assembly last night. The bill was amended and as passed it contains a referendum. It takes effect immediately, but cannot go into operation in any city or taxing district until it shall have been adopted by a majority of the voters at a general election. The election is to be obtained by filing a petition signed by at least five per cent. of the total number of votes cast in the district for Governor at the last preceding gubernatorial election.

FLOODS FOLLOWING THE GREAT TORNADO

Rivers In Ohio and Illinois Are Rising Abnormally.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Cincinnati, March 25.—An unconfirmed report says that many persons lost their lives in the flood at Dayton today, when a levee around the banks of the Miami river went out and the water inundated the town.

Akron, O., March 25.—The state reservoir here has let go. The entire lower section of the city is inundated and hundreds are fleeing for their lives.

New York, March 25.—Advices received today by officials of the Union Pacific Railroad state that very little damage was done to the company's property in Omaha by the tornado. The company's station and building in Omaha were not damaged.

Washington, March 25.—All rivers throughout Ohio and Illinois will probably rise abnormally within the next 48 hours. This rise, which is due to the recent impending storms in the middle west, will doubtless be highly dangerous to persons residing near these rivers. Warnings have been sent from St. Louis and Columbus to farmers to beware of the flood. This was the statement today of Prof. Henry of the United States weather bureau.

Columbus, Ohio, March 25.—The Scioto River continues to rise rapidly. The bridge on Mound and Rich streets has been torn from its foundations and the big Broad street threatens to go out any minute.

MARYLAND PROGRESSIVES MEET

Baltimore, Md., March 25.—Leaders of the Progressive party in Maryland are rounding up in Baltimore for their State convention tomorrow. Ever since the November election the Roosevelt followers have been busily at work on their district and county organizations. Tomorrow's convention will perfect a permanent State organization and in addition it will map out a program for the future.

The party leaders have already decided definitely against any amalgamation with the Republicans. This decision of the Progressives to reject all fusion plans and stand as a separate political organization has disappointed the "harmony workers" on the Republican side. Maryland will soon be called upon to select two United States senators and with the Democrats divided into two bitterly hostile factions it was believed in some quarters that a united Republican party might have a show of success. But these hope have gone a-glimmering with the decision of the Progressives to go it alone.

But the most of the Republican leaders take the situation philosophically, and content themselves with the thought that the Progressives without the Republicans are just as helpless as the Republicans without the Progressives. Meanwhile the organization and anti-organization wings of the Democratic party are preparing for the battle of the September primaries. The faction which wins in the primaries will have the naming of the two United States senators.

SUYDAM WEDS AGAIN

New York, March 25.—Walter Suydam, Jr., whose former wife, Mrs. Louise Suydam, daughter of John Jay White of Philadelphia, committed suicide on Feb. 4, 1912, in a fashionable apartment house in this city with Fred Noble, son of a Brooklyn plumber, with whom she had eloped, was married today to Miss Elizabeth Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wood of Sayville, L. I. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride by the Rev. J. F. Prescott of St. Ann's Episcopal church of Sayville.

PHILADELPHIA'S APPEAL

Harrisburg, Pa., March 25.—The largest delegation of its kind that ever visited the Pennsylvania capital appeared before the legislature today to urge the passage of enabling legislation to permit the realization of great utiliarian measures that have been planned for the upbuilding of the city of Philadelphia. The delegation arrived on several special trains and included hundreds of representatives of the business organizations of Philadelphia and its immediate vicinity, headed by Mayor Blankenburg.

HARTIGAN SENTENCED

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

New York, March 25.—John J. Hartigan, the former policeman, who was convicted of perjury, was sentenced today by Judge Seabury to not less than two years and six years and six months at hard labor in states prison. Upon the application of his atorney the commitment will be held up until next Monday.

CEASE BOMBARDMENT.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Belgrade, Servia, March 25.—The bombardment of the Turkish fortress of Scutari by the Montenegrin and Servian besiegers is understood to have been stopped upon orders from the Servian government.

ENGLISH FOOD PRICES UP, AND TAX PROBLEMS OCCUR.

Britishers Suffering Great Hardship From High Cost of Living.

The rising cost of living in England is a question fast gaining a seriousness of aspect which is bound some day to assume nation wide importance. Although it is by no means the burning topic that it is in America, the man in the cars is beginning to discover that his wages do not go so far, even under skillful household management, as they used to do.

Out and out tariff reformers, of whom Austen Chamberlain is the chief, have retorted upon free traders by reminding them of the food taxes which already exist. Liberal free traders who in times past raised the cry of the "free breakfast table" have been reminded of the duties on tea, sugar, cocoa, coffee, chicory and dried fruits. Over $50,000,000 in duty was paid on these commodities during the last year on record. A campaign for the repeal of these food taxes is likely to assume important dimensions in the near future.

The advance in food prices since 1900 is 14.9 per cent, and, as wages have not increased in like proportion, one needs little imagination to understand the significance of such a state of things.

DANA WORKS AS CONDUCTOR.

Grandson of Longfellow and Hero of "Ethical" Marriage Has Humble Job.

Edmund Trowbridge Dana, grandson of the poet Longfellow and a graduate of Harvard, with the degree of master of arts and bachelor of arts, is working as a conductor for the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway company at 21 cents an hour. The former Harvard athlete and instructor, whose "ethical" marriage last June to Jessie Holliday, an English portrait painter, aroused discussion here and abroad because the bride wrote the ritual, denies the reports of an estrangement between him and his wife. He says that while his wife has been in England since last October, she is planning to rejoin him the first week in April.

Dana, who is a member of the Institute of 1770, the D. K. E., the Hasty Pudding club and the Round Table, is officially known as No. 1,043 at the Waltham car barn. He got his job through the state free employment bureau. Despite the fact that his father, Richard H. Dana, is one of the wealthiest residents of Cambridge, young Dana is contented with a furnished room at 49 Vernon street, Waltham, for which he pays $1.50 a week.

STRETCHES HEIGHT 4 INCHES

Prisoner Has Ability to Increase or Decrease His Measurements.

William J. Reed, in prison at Folsom, Cal., and described by the police of Washington as a dangerous swindler, has been identified, it is asserted, through photographs, as a man who has been sought by detectives for a year, during which time, it is alleged, he has swindled a number of business men in various parts of the country out of many thousands of dollars.

A photograph of the prisoner in California has been identified by a local complainant, although the measurements of the prisoner show him to be six feet one inch tall, while the man wanted here is described as about five feet nine inches. The detectives say the prisoner is able to stretch his height and that this accounts for the discrepancy in his measurements.

He is said to have the knack of decreasing or increasing his stature at will, with a range of four inches.

ANGLO-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

Englishman Announces Plans For Great Peace Celebration.

Imre Kiralfy announces that an Anglo-American exposition will be held at Shepherd's Bush, London, in 1914, to celebrate the centenary of peace between the two English speaking nations.

He has formed a powerful committee, which is headed by the Duke of Beaufort and others whose names occupy several pages of Debrett, together with members of the American embassy and leaders of American society in London. He says an equally powerful committee is being formed in the United States.

The scope of the exposition will embrace everything which will go to show the progress of the arts and sciences in the two countries in the last 100 years. There will also be strong historical sections.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Andrew Billings and son, Warren, of the borough, spent Easter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Thompson, of Brooklyn.

Miss Barbara Schlick of West Third street, and Miss Florence Wilson of East Sixth street have returned home after spending the week-end in New York.

DISASTROUS WRECK.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Urbana, Ohio, March 25.—A wrecking train on the Pennsylvania Railroad crashed through a bridge here today and thirteen members of the crew are missing.

PONTIFF IMPROVES.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Rome, Italy, March 25.—The condition of Pope Pius X is slowly improving, although the weakness resulting from his recent indisposition still persists.

Notice to Customers

State of New Jersey Senate Bill No. 44, which has become a law, reads as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation or association, engaged in the production, manufacture, distribution or sale of any commodity of general use, or rendering any service to the public, to discriminate between different persons, firms, associations or corporations, or different sections, communities or cities of the State, by selling such commodity or rendering such service at a lower rate in one section, community or city than another, or at the same rate or price at a point away from that of production or manufacture as at the place of production or manufacture, after making due allowance for the difference, if any, in the grade, quality or quantity and in the actual cost of transportation from the point of production or manufacture, if the effect or intent thereof is to establish or maintain a virtual monopoly, hindering competition, or restriction of trade."

In order to comply exactly with the above law, it has been found necessary to make new selling prices on all our various products.

For example the price of tank wagon Water White Kerosene Oil at Bayonne, our manufacturing point, is 8½c per gallon. The freight rate to Plainfield is .165 per barrel of 50 gallons, or 33-100 of a cent per gallon. Our Plainfield price for this product is, therefore, 8 83-100 per gallon.

The selling prices on kerosene, gasoline, lubricating oils--in fact, on all of our products, are now being made on this basis.

We are publishing this explanation in order that our customers may understand the necessity of prices involving decimal fractions of a cent.

DAUGHTER OF FORMER PRESIDENT WHO IS SOON TO BE MARRIED

[Copyright by Pach Bros., N. Y.]

MISS ETHEL CAROW ROOSEVELT.

Society in America and abroad will be equally interested in the marriage of Miss Ethel Carow Roosevelt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt to Dr. Richard Derby in the Protestant Episcopal church at Oyster Bay, L. I. The guests will number about three hundred, and all at the church service will attend the reception at Sagamore Hill, Mr. Roosevelt's home. In the centre of the bride's table will be a huge two storied wedding cake.

Miss Roosevelt will have five attendants, Miss Helen Coster, daughter of Mrs. Charles H. Coster; Miss Josephine Osborn, daughter of Professor and Mrs. H. Fairfield Osborn; Miss Margaret A. Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Auchmuty Tucker; Miss Derby, a relative of Dr. Derby, and Miss Cornelia Landon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hutton Landon.

Dr. Derby and his bride have arranged to start for Europe on the day following their marriage. They will be absent two months.

CONFERENCE ON FARM PROBLEMS

Education In South Subject of Meeting,

TO UPBUILD RURAL LIFE.

Farmers, Business Men and Educators to Gather at Richmond, Va., In Unusual Meeting to Improve Conditions of Country Life—Many Delegations Appointed—How to Market.

Farmers, business men and school workers will meet to discuss rural schools, agricultural credits, marketing methods and other pressing problems of country life at the conference for education in the south, to be held at Richmond, Va., April 16-18. Each group will have special conferences on its own particular work, and then all will come together in a general session to discuss fundamental points in the upbuilding of rural life.

In response to the invitation of Governor Mann of Virginia the governors of nearly all the southern states have appointed delegations of farmers and business men to attend the Richmond meeting and take part in the discussion of such important topics as lack of capital in farming, and how it may be remedied; the tenant evil, its extent and influence; why business men are concerned with the rural problem; how to organize and conduct co-operative market associations; how to make the rural school educate more effectively for the demands of country life, and how to make the country a better place to live in.

To Form Associations.

At the farmers' conference it is expected that a definite plan for organizing and managing co-operative marketing associations will be worked out. Before the business conference the facts about the farming situation in the south will be presented by men who have made a special study of its possibilities and needs, and bankers, merchants and manufacturers will discuss how they may aid in the development of agricultural resources.

One of the features of the conference will be an interstate meeting of state and county superintendents, teachers of agriculture and other educaters at which the subject for discussion will be "The Most Effective Means For Developing the Rural School." A. C. Monahan, rural school specialist in the United States bureau of education, will urge the necessity for a well defined, constructive county plan in rural education.

County Supervisors to Take Part.

Typical rural school problems will be discussed by county supervisors and others who are keenly interested in improving the country school, such as Albert S. Cook of Baltimore county, Md.; Zebulon Judd, Wake county, N. C.; Miss Rhea C. Scott and L. J. Hanifan, supervisors in Virginia and West Virginia respectively; Miss Jessie Yancy, Mason county, Ky.; A. R. Jones, Equality, Ala.; J. S. Stewart, Athens, Ga., and many others.

Arrangements for the Richmond meeting are in charge of A. P. Bourland of Washington, D. C., who is the executive secretary of the conference.

BURNED CHILDREN TO DEATH.

Miner-Minister Is Sentenced to Be Hanged For Fiendish Crime.

Marion Capps, miner and minister, living near Fort Smith, Ark., was found guilty recently of burning three of his five children to death and was sentenced to be hanged.

Capps, it was charged, bound his children to an oil soaked bed in their home in the village of Bonanza and set the building afire. Bertha Capps, fifteen years old, and her brother Ellis, a year younger, testified at the trial that when they were awakened by their father locking the door to their room they were tied to the bed and efforts to free themselves were without result until the fire burned the ropes with which they were bound.

Nothing Dull About It.

"It's funny the way poets speak of 'dull care,' isn't it?"

"Why, what's funny about that?"

"Well, every care I ever had was most awfully sharp."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

WAYS OF BAKING BANANAS.

BANANAS sold in the markets have been picked when green and ripened off the tree. Thus they contain a good deal of starch, and cooking is needed to bring out the food value and flavor.

Banana Pie.—Take a deep plate and line it with a rich paste and bake. When cold fill with thin slices of baked banana, sprinkle with powdered sugar and then cover with well whipped cream.

Baked in Pudding.

Banana Pudding.—Take enough bananas to make a half cupful of the fruit when it is reduced to a pulp, a pint of milk, a cupful of stale cakecrumbs, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, three eggs, a teaspoonful of vanilla and a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. Scald the milk, then pour it over the cakecrumbs and let them stand until they are soft enough to rub through a sieve. Slightly beat the eggs and then stir these with cake and fruit. Then add the sugar, salt and vanilla. Mix well, then place in buttered molds. Cook by placing in a pan of hot water and baking until firm. Take from the oven and serve at once with the following sauce:

Cream Sauce.—Stir together a half cupful of sugar, a half tablespoonful of cornstarch, the grated rind of half a lemon and the juice of the half lemon, the yolks of two eggs, slightly beaten, and a dash of salt. Place this mixture on the fire in a saucepan and stir until it boils. Then take from the fire and add the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs.

With Lemon Sauce.

Baked Bananas and Lemon Sauce.—Remove the skin and inside pith, place the bananas side by side in a granite baking dish, dust with sugar, and a little lemon juice, put in a little water and bake quickly. Serve with lemon sauce.

Banana Custard.—Take three good sized bananas, place in a dish and squeeze the juice of one lemon over them. Put one quart of milk and one teacupful of sugar in a double boiler. When they come to a boil add the yolks of two eggs and two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, also a pinch of salt and a small piece of butter. When thick pour over the bananas, stir a few minutes until the bananas are well mixed with the custard. Put the whites, beaten into a stiff froth, on top. Set in the oven to brown.

FASHION HINT

By JUDIC CHOLLET

Vests and peplums are among the smartest features of the spring. Here is a blouse that includes both, the model consisting of a one piece sleeve and a one piece peplum. The sleeves are joined to the blouse in "set in" style. The peplum can be fitted by means of darts or it can be gathered at the upper edge. In the illustration broche crape is trimmed with white and dark satin, and the effect is extremely smart.

For medium size the blouse requires two and seven-eighths yards of material twenty-seven inches wide, seven-eighths of a yard for the vest, three-eighths for the collar and cuffs and one half yard, eighteen inches, for the chemisette.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes from 34 to 42 inches bust measure. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7773, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

NEW BULLET SEALS THE DOOM OF BIG BALLOONS.

Missile Invented In Germany Explodes Gas Bag by Contact.

New light on the comparatively military efficiency of balloons and aeroplanes derived from the latest experiments is furnished by a leading expert in the Tageszeitung in Berlin, which has close relations with the German navy department.

His statements justify the United States and Great Britain in refusing to build huge balloons like those of Count Zeppelin.

"I doubt," says this authority, "whether our airships will ever be so unfortunate as to have to measure their strength with that of the French air craft. In a very few years all army aeroplanes must be armored. Even now, unarmored, they are practically safe when over 3,000 feet away, and at 1,500 feet altitude they are safe when their vital parts are armored.

"The theory that a balloon can be repeatedly hit without being seriously damaged is upset by the discovery of an infantry explosive bullet which sets the hydrogen gas in a balloon afire by contact, thus destroying any balloon the bullet hits. Owing to the precision of automatic sighting rapid fire guns which leave a smoke marked track, failure to hit a target in the air is practically eliminated except at very great heights; hence it follows that balloons should not show themselves above an enemy's troops."

OCEAN TO OCEAN FUND BIG.

$100,000 Donation For Highway Puts Total Above $2,000,000.

With the donation of $100,000 by an Indianapolis auto manufacturing company the ocean to ocean highway fund recently was brought to a total of much over $2,000,000.

The interest in the manufacturers' project was never greater than it is at present, and the fact that subscriptions to the fund are coming from the biggest companies in the automobile industry is proof that the idea is considered to be practical and entirely possible of execution.

Since the idea of an ocean to ocean highway was broached last autumn nearly every automobile manufacturer in America has given it close attention. The best financial and business experts have examined it from every stand point, and no sooner had it received their indorsements than subscriptions began pouring in at a rapid rate.

The fund is in charge of the Ocean to Ocean association, with offices at Indianapolis, Ind.

INVENTS SPEED LIMIT DEVICE

Motorist Has Sign to Flash on Reckless Automists.

An anti-speed device has been invented by an indignant motorist, of London who is annoyed by the clouds of dust raised by cars passing him at a speed beyond the legal limit. He described his invention with considerable pride in the current issue of the Car.

He finds that when his speedometer tells him that his car is traveling at the legal twenty miles an hour other cars come up behind him, blow their horns imperiously and dash by at totally illegal speeds.

To overcome this annoyance he is constructing an ingenious apparatus at the back of his car which consists of a roller bearing the printed notice, "Speed Limit," which unrolls and displays itself automatically when a button is pressed by the driver of the car.

BIRD FARM FOR CONNECTICUT.

State Imports Three Hundred Breeding Pheasants and Other Game.

The Connecticut fish and game commission has leased fifty acres of land for the establishment of a state game bird farm. The commission has imported 300 breeding birds from England and Germany. An Englishman will be head gamekeeper.

Among the birds whose functions will be to replenish the game preserves of the state are Mongolian, Chinese English and golden pheasants, Hungarian partridge, quail, guinea fowl, reeves and ringnecks. Common domestic hens will be used for hatching the eggs of the imported birds. Connecticut is the fourth state to establish a bird farm, the other states being New York, Massachusetts and Kansas.

COFFIN SENT BY PARCEL POST

Undertaker Receives Child's Casket Through the Mail.

C. C. Donnelly, an undertaker of Pittston, Pa., sat in his office recently, when the mail man walked in with a package almost as big as himself and which showed parcel post stamps.

Donnelly was much surprised to discover that a company in Brooklyn had sent him a child's coffin through the mail. Despite the size of the coffin, it weighed just a trifle less than eleven pounds without the finishings and was accepted by the parcel post authorities.

Paris Studies Happiness.

"Happiness classes" are the fashion of the moment in Paris, not only in society circles, but also among many Americans and English residents. The promoter is Henry Marx, a well known poet, who, under the special auspices and encouragement of Maeterlinck, is giving a series of eloquent lectures on how to rise superior to all the ills of life.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE LEAGUE.

Elizabeth, March 25.—The Elizabeth People's Equal Suffrage League the first organization of the kind in this city, was formed yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Esther G. Ogden, on South Broad street, who was afterward elected president. Mrs. Scott, of Montclair, addressed the meeting. Rev. Antoinette Brown Blackwell was elected honorary president. It was announced that Dr. Anna Shaw would address a public meeting to be held here on Tuesday, April 15, in the interest of woman's suffrage.

CHURCH MEETING.

The annual business meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist church will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock when reports from the various departments, societies, committees and treasurers will be received. The election of officers for the ensuing year will also take place. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Gabriel Reid Maguire, will preside.

FAIR EQUESTRIENNE, NOTED FOR HER RIDING, GOES ON THE STAGE

MISS ELEANOR RASMUSSEN IN THE SADDLE.

MISS ELEANOR RASMUSSEN OF THE THEATRE

To the great surprise of many, it has just been discovered that the Miss Eleanor Rasmussen, who is playing in "The Sunshine Girl" at the Knickerbocker Theatre, in New York, and Miss Eleanor Rasmussen, of the saddle and box seat, are one and the same. Her role in Miss Julia Sanderson's company is Alice. This is her first season on the stage.

As a professional rider and driver Miss Rasmussen has won blue ribbons in Madison Square Garden, Newport, Washington, the Long Island shows, Chicago and Olympia, London. By way of additional distinction the official records show that she won the four mile relay race four years ago at the Twin City track, near St. Paul, Minn., when she rode four of her own mounts over the distance in eight minutes and five seconds.

Miss Rasmussen's home is in Chicago, and when a little girl she became interested in horses. Her father was a well known trainer. After appearing in some of the horse shows of the Middle West, her success attracted the attention of Mr. Edward B. McLean, of Washington. He engaged her to show his string of horses for an entire season. Since then she has ridden some of Mr. Alfred G. Vanderbilt's horses in London, and handled some of the ribbon winners owned by Mr. Bryce Wing and other owners in this country.

JERSEY CLUB MAY PURCHASE MARTIN

Now Looks As Though Youngster's League Aspirations Would Receive Jolt.

If Jack Martin of this city does not make good with the New York club he will be sold to the Jersey City club of the International League. This information comes from Hamilton, Bermuda, where the Yankees are now training. Martin is fighting hard for a berth, but it looks as though either "Pep" Young or Claude Derrick will win out for the position.

President Lillis of the Jersey City club has been watching the work of Martin during the past week when the New York club played his team a series of games. Lillis is after two more pitchers and two infielders. He also has his eye on Paddy Green as well as Martin. Before Manager Chance lets Martin go it is said that he wants to give the local player a fair chance with the New York club. He likes the work of Martin, but it is the belief of many that Martin has not got the speed the other candidates for the position of shortstop have.

ENGLISH ATHLETES COMING FOR MEET

Oxford and Cambridge Will Accept Yale and Harvard Invitation.

The practical assurance of another Oxford-Cambridge and Yale-Harvard track and field contest this year has given great satisfaction in varsity athletic circles. The Oxford and Cambridge committees will almost immediately consider the Americans' invitation, and its acceptance is taken as being almost certain.

It is understood that Alec Nelson, Cambridge Athletic Club trainer, will be selected to accompany the combined team.

English athletes believe that while the Americans are able to put exceptionally strong men on the field, Oxford and Cambridge have rarely, if ever, had the chance of sending such good representatives for all 10 events on the program, and the fifth meeting of the four universities will consequently be specially interesting. Among the probable English representatives will be W. O. Ziegler, an American Rhodes scholar, who hails from Grinnell College, Iowa, now at Oxford.

CHAMPION WING SHOT DEAD

Springfield, March 25.—Capt. A. N. Bogardus, for 17 years the champion wing shot of the world, died Sunday night at his home in Lincoln, Ill.

Capt. Bogardus won the championship of America in 1871 and went to England in 1875. There he met all comers, successfully defending the championship until 1878, when he returned to America.

Capt. Bogardus holds the distinction of being the only person in the world who ever killed 100 live birds with 100 consecutive shots. This feat was accomplished in July, 1869, at Dexter Park, Chicago. In 1872, at Madison Square Garden, New York, he broke 5,500 glass balls in seven hours 19 minutes and two seconds.

In 1883 and 1884, Capt. Bogardus was a one-third owner in the Buffalo Bill Wild West Show. It was at this time that the Bogardus family, father and four sons, gained a world-wide reputation as shooters.

Capt. Bogardus was born at Dern, Albany County, N. Y., Sept. 17, 1883.

B. B. H. S. PREPARES FOR A BUSY SEASON

Many Veterans Return and New Material Plentiful.

Bound Brook High Schol's baseball team is preparing for a busy season on the diamond this year. The first game will be played the first Saturday in April on the High School grounds with the Y. M. A. team of the South Bound Brook Reformed church.

Many of last year's players are back, with the exception of Mathews and Van Zandt, the star battery. Bound Brook lost but one game last year out of 14 played. The successful team was Bernardsville High.

Mahlon, the manager, has arranged a hard schedule, and the squad, under the direction of Capt. Heagney and Coach George M. Green, is hard at work. The first outdoor practice was held last Wednesday afternoon. The pitching department is weak for the present, as the only twirler on hand Friday is Frezza, Maier having left school. Capt. Heagney says that the freshman class contains good material, which will be in good form after the first game is played.

KIRCH WON THE TWENTY-THREE YARD SWIM EVENT

Kirch was the winner of the twenty-three yard swim conducted for members of the Y. M. C. A. employed boys' class at the association last night, finishing the distance in the creditable time of seventeen and two-fifths seconds. Dawe came in for second honors and Randolph for third. The summaries:

Kirch	17 2-5
Dawe, J.	18
Randolph, L.	18 2-5
Day, H.	19 1-5
Bach, H.	21
Velard, C.	21 2-5
Debele	23 2-5
Beekman, B.	23 3-5
Coon, M.	24
Dilts, O.	27
Heffner, R.	28

COMMERCIALS WANT GAMES

Games with strong amateur teams in nearby cities are wanted by the fast Commercial baseball team, of this city, and the manager is desirous of getting into communication with the game bookers of these aggregations as soon as possible, as he is now making up his list and it will be completed before long. The Commercials are planning out-of-town tours this season, playing Saturday and Sunday afternoons, and can promise a good exhibition to any team looking for attractions on its home diamond. Communications can be adressed to the Daily Press office or to members of the team, or Ray Guinn at 717 Richmond street.

A FEW OF THE MANY BASEBALL TEAMS THAT HAVE STARTED PRELIMINARY REORGANIZATION OPERATIONS IN THIS CITY

Present indications point to an even greater season for baseball this summer than the big one of last year, many of the old teams reorganizing and numerous new ones springing into existence. As was the case last year, teams of various calibres start the process of herding players together early in the season but after a few weeks of playing drop off and the players drift to other nines, but there are plenty of aggregations to allow for this decrease and baseball in Plainfield will no doubt be a rushing proposition once more this summer. Last season the Manufacturers' and Sunday-school Leagues kept the interest from waning, especially Saturday afternoons when no less than twenty different games of amateur and semi-professional ranking were being decided here. One of these organizations will probably not exist this summer, however, as the Manufacturers' League teams are, to a large extent, in favor of playing independent ball and are arranging schedules in this way. While it is almost certain that all of the league contestants of last year will put baseball aggregations in the field, it is equally as certain that there will be no oragnized league.

The Sunday-school teams have already started the process of reorganization and it looks as though that association for the promotion of amateur baseball would be even more flourishing than heretofore. All of the last year's combinations have been called back into the fold and some new ones have already applied for franchises. The Sunday-school organization will be conducted on an altogether different basis than was the case last year and this will probably eliminate all of the petty quarrels so prominent in the old league.

Another league, not altogether unknown to Plainfield fans, has come back for another trial and the early season enthusiasm already displayed assures it of a most successful season on the diamond. The Central New Jersey League which proved so popular here two years ago has once again come into existence and promises to be an even stronger organization than it was in the initial season of its existence. Plainfield will have a strong combination in the league and hopes are entertained for a repetition of the pennant snatching. As for the individual teams they are many and varied in playing ability the most likely of which follow:

Plainfield Baseball Team.

With Manager Ernest Dorflinger again at the helm Plainfield fans are sure of having an aggregation to represent them in the Central New Jersey League that will put up a creditable showing against any of the other league contenders. It was Dorflinger's nine that won the pennant in the old league and the wiley Plainfield manager says that his team will repeat its previous performance although the teams in the new league are faster and a closer race will therefore be the issue. A number of last year's regulars will be back in the fold, but Manager Dorflinger wants to get a line on local material this year and has devised a plan whereby he can choose from everything available. He will call a practice some Saturday afternoon in the near future when every Plainfield ball player having hopes of one day breaking into the semi-professional ranks, will be invited to come out to the oval and show what he can do both in fielding and at the bat. In this way Dorflinger hopes to see just what Plainfield has to offer and possibly draft some of the local talent for his aggregation.

Hope Chapel.

Hope chapel, winner of the Sunday-school league pennant and cup last year, will be back in the same race with renewed energy. A reorganization meeting has been called for tonight and at that time a captain and manager for this year's baseball team will be elected. Application for admission into the league has already been filed and the chapelites are assured of a place in the organization once more. All of last year's material is within easy reach and numerous new candidates have signified their intention of donning Hope chapel woolens.

Public Service.

As a contender in the Manufacturers' league race last season the Public Service nine established a place for itself in local baseball circles. The team of last summer with many new candidates will soon hold its initial practice and those interested are full of hopes for a strong independent aggregation that will be able to put up a good fight against any of the surrounding semi-professional combinations.

Commercials.

It will be remembered that the Commercial baseball team was the one that gave the R. G. E. combination such a run for the Plainfield Daily Press cup in the Manufacturers' League last season and this aggregation will once more be back in the game, although it will not play many games in this city. Practice was held last Saturday afternoon and another one will be held next Saturday afternoon at which Captain Banks wants to see all candidates. Banks was greatly encouraged over the wealth of material that turned out for the first call and hopes to see even more there next Saturday. The team will play traveling ball on Saturday and Sunday afternoons and the manager is now making up his schedule.

Scotch Plains.

The Alberts family, as usual, have started things going in Scotch Plains baseball circles and that town will be represented by its usual sturdy aggregation. No team will be put in the Central New Jersey League race, but independent ball will be played.

Company K.

Following in the wake of a successful basketball season, the Company K athletes are planning for a diamond session that will be equally as creditable. A wealth of material has budded out in the soldier boy ranks and a good nine can be organized with the proper supervision.

Y. M. C. A.

Present prospects for a representative baseball nine at the Y. M. C. A. look exceedingly dubious but the material is there if any one starts the organization going. It is likely that there will be several junior nines connected with the association but from good authority it has been learned that no first team will be picked.

Holy Cross Boys' Club.

A fast junior nine of which Ronald Conroy is captain, has been picked at the Holy Cross Boys' Club and the practices already held show that the team will be able to put up a good fight against any of the local junior aggregations.

Marathon A. C.

Several North Plainfield junior athletes are looking out for the welfare of the Marathon Athletic Club, an organization that first became known in the basketball season. A meeting was held recently at which a captain and manager for this year's baseball team was elected and practices have probably been held already. This, like Holy Cross, will be a junior team and the manager is now arranging a schedule of baseball contests to take place on Saturdays or week day afternoons.

St. Mary's Cadets.

Through the efforts of some of its charitably inclined friends, this team, the St. Mary's Cadets, has been fitted out with suits and other material necessary to a baseball team and are preparing for a busy season. This will also be a junior nine and will play such teams as Holy Cross, St. Joseph and the Marathon A. C.

St. Joseph's.

Junior athletes in St. Joseph's church, North Plainfield, have started a movement to gather together some choice junior baseball artists and another junior aggregation is being oragnized at this place.

Grace Church Boys.

The Grace Church Boys' Club, an organization that has been represented by a sturdy group of youngsters on the basketball court during the past season, have taken advantage of the spring vacation from school life and are holding practices in preparation for a season on the diamond such as they had last year.

RUN IN SPRING AIR.

Gymnasium work was too confining to members of the Y. M. C. A. employed boys' class last night and Supervisor Welle took his twelve youngsters out for an open air sprint. The course lay between Front street and Mountain avenue on Watchung avenue and when the mile and a half circuit was completed both Welle and the junior marathoners were pretty well fagged out. This has become a popular branch of exercise at the Y. M. C. A. and these runs will probably be continued throughout the spring.

MEET TO TALK BASEBALL.

A meeting for the election of captain for this year's Hope chapel baseball team will be held in the chapel rooms tonight. All members of last year's team and those who are contemplating trying for the aggregation this season should be on hand at this gathering. Hope chapel has been entered in the Sunday-school Baseball League and practice will be started at once in order to get the team into condition for the opening contest which is not far away.

BASKETBALL FOR HOPE.

Manager George Leighs, of the Hope chapel basketball team, has arranged a game to be played at Perth Amboy Saturday night, with the Bayviews of that place. Hope has finished its home schedule but is now running off the promised dates with rival teams on the latter's home courts. The regular lineup will make the trip, together with a delegation of rooters and the Plainfield five is looking forward to a victory as usual.

The shad fishing season in the Hudson river opened yesterday. This is the earliest in 15 years. Poles for the weirs have been set from Yonkers to Croton and the fishermen are reporting good catches.

COMEDY AT PROCTOR'S.

"The Little Shaver," a Western musical comedy with twelve people, special scenery and effects, original music, funny comedians, cowboys and cowgirls, everything to afford an enjoyable twenty-five minute entertainment was provided by Minerva Courtney & Co., last night at Proctor's. Miss Courtney is a clever comedienne and her supporting company is excellent. The musical comedy is novel in plot. It deals with a woman going into a western town and opening a shaving shop. Clifford Hipple & Co., in a dramatic sketch, "As a Man Sows," is an intense playlet dealing with an incident in the lives of a husband and wife. Mr. Hipple is a good actor, playing the part of the husband splendidly. His company are exceptionally good. Jean Baldwin, a charming and capable performer on the violin, presents a program of classical and popular selections. Eli Dawson, comedian, in new songs and bright stories, caused hearty laughter. The Les Maladons are wire artists of great ability and daring on the tight and slack wire. Their little girl was good in the contortion rings. The five reels of photo plays were excellent. The Kinemacolor pictures have been discontinued.

Miss Sue Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elden B. Bennett, of 1224 West Sixth street, and Russell Vail, of 120 Elmwood place, who will be married tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock by the Rev. William S. McCoy, at the Holy Cross Episcopal church, were tendered a shower last night by Mrs. Edward Mosher at the later's home, 112 Elmwood place. Friends from this city, Westfield and Roselle were present. Miss Mildred Spicer, attired in a costume representing a fairy, appeared before the couple and in a talented manner recited a poem, entitled "The Fairy Tale." Guided by a silver thread which lead to the reception hall on the second floor the couple were ushered by Miss Spicer as she recited to that room where the gifts presented to them by the guests were displayed. Games and dancing were enjoyed, after which a dainty supper was served. The gifts included cut glass, silverware and linen.

HACKNEY, FROM SOUTH AMERICA CHAMPION OF THE LONDON SHOW.

HOPWOOD VICEROY

For the first time on record, it is said, a foreign exhibitor won the coveted championship prize for stallions at the recent London Hackney Show. The winner was Hopwood Viceroy, a nine-year-old chestnut horse, by Royal Danegelt, out of the famous Ophelia, by Denmark or Danegelt. He is owned by M. A. Martinez de Hoz, of the Argentine Republic, who shipped him from South America to exhibit at the show.

MRS. LE BUS ARRANGES PRIVATE RACE MEETING.

Nearly all the best known race horses that remain in this country, it is announced, will be entered in the track events that are to be held at the country place of Mrs. Clarence Le Bus, near Lexington, Ky. Official sanction for the meet has been granted by the Jockey Club, and all the owners of well known running horses have been invited to enter their racers. Gold and silver cups that are now being designed will be awarded the winners, and the horses which finish with the first, second and third honors. Mrs. Le Bus is the wife of the president of the Burley Tobacco Company. As yet it has not been announced at just what distances the horses are to run, but Mrs. Le Bus will probably decide on this after she has consulted with racing authorities.

MRS. CLARENCE W. LE BUS, HER CHILDREN AND PONY

The races which Mrs. Le Bus has arranged will be known as the Hinata meet. This, in Japanese, means sunshine. The events are incidental to a reception which she is to hold in April. The other features will include all the regulation gymkhana contests, with many new features added. Mr. Le Bus has announced that all the competitions will be in charge of his wife.

Mr. Louis Haggin, it is expected, will be clerk of the course for the races, while the judges will be Mr. Nicholas Longworth, Governor McCreary, Mr. Thurston Ballard, Mr. Thomas McDowell and Mr. Percy M. Chandler. Mr. John Madden will be timekeeper, and the stewards will be General John B. Castleman and Mr. W. B. Haldeman. Mr. Mars Cassidy will be the official starter.

PARDONED TO DIE OUT OF PRISON, C. W. MORSE REFUSES TO DIE

Ex-Convict Who Had Only Year to Live Returns For Pot of Gold.

Wizard of Finance Has Capital to Float Great Coastwise Shipping Line.

CHARLES W. MORSE, with his financial citizenship boasting the cover of two flags while he has no citizenship himself, arrived in New York recently on a fast ocean liner to resume his gigantic operations just one year and two months after the doctors at the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., solemnly felt his pulse and said he would die in one year. It was Jan. 19, 1912, that the board of physicians, headed by Dr. A. L. Fowler, consulted that medical horoscope Morse then possessed and decided that the stars had doomed him within a twelve-month.

Upon the veracious word of Dr. Marchiafava, physician to his holiness Pope Pius X., the little wizard of ice, ships and banks is just as sound as a dollar and had no evidence of willingness to accept the sentence of the doctors whose reports led President Taft to parole Morse that he might die out of prison.

While the doctors are feeling his pulse today to see just how much of a laugh the financier can enjoy at the expense of forecast and medical prediction, aged one year, Morse is feeling of the ticker with the free hand and preparing to give a demonstration of the art of coming back.

Finance Interested.

There is intense interest in the financial district over the return of Morse. The interest not only extends to financial circles, but it has a keen angle in the direction of international politics which shoots off from the question of the number of pulse beats Mr. Morse enjoys to the minute to a discussion of the nice points of treaty law and international agreements relating to the most important subject known to world powers—the traffic of the sea.

While this man is under a sentence of death, which he politely but none the less firmly declines to accept as conclusive, he has been industriously harnessing up British capital to American shipping, especially in relation to the coastwise trade of the United States, and with an eye ahead to the opening of the Panama canal, with its vast possibilities for the coastwise ships.

Just at the very time when, according to the doctors, Morse ought to have been making his last will and testament, arranging for the small lawn with the marble marker and the sort of flowers that look best in a subdued light, to say nothing of the names of the pallbearers, active and honorary, he got as busy as a bird dog in a new sagefield over in London and pointed out to John Bull the desirability of getting "in with a live one" in the shipping game.

And England, marveling at the view of the American doctors, decided that Morse was a "live one" and "got in."

Backed by British Capital.

They "got in" to the extent of providing the financial sinews of war for a good part of the Morse operations that are yet to come and came back with the absolute assurance that when he opened his rolltop desk at No. 43 Exchange place, New York, he would have the chips and the cards for a new game with the big forces that, in 1907, put him so severely out of business. The remarkable part of his feat is that he got the foreign support at a time when wars and rumors of war had made folk in Europe stick tighter to their coin than Dr. Friedmann at first did to the secret of his tuberculosis germ culture.

Evidently the London bankers did not expect that Morse would drop by the wayside. Nor does a term in an American penal institution have any bad effect upon the English financial mind. The late Charles T. Yerkes had no trouble in getting big English interests behind him in his London tube and other enterprises in spite of the handicap of being a "ticket of leave man." Morse found that his post-graduate course in Wall street finance, taken in the Atlanta penitentiary, did not hurt his business chances in the slightest.

The situation is brilliantly illuminating to the men who for days have been discussing the case of the prisoner who went back to jail for life because he could not get a chance as an ex-convict. It shows how it all depends on the man, after all, and that stone walls do not a prison make nor iron bars a cage if the fellow inside doesn't see it that way and can consequently impress the fact on others.

But one month ago Dr. A. L. Fowler, who recommended the Morse pardon, said of him: "He is a doomed man. He is no nearer complete recovery than he was a year ago, when he was pardoned."

Smiled at "Doom."

Said doomed man, looking over his agreements with the men of English money as the liner hurried along across the ocean, must have smiled. Just what Morse has up his sleeve is not entirely understood by Wall street. Careful perusal of the financial district's pet organs shows that during the last six months he has been credited with being the moving factor in every change of ownership in shipping lines of the coastwise order that has been made in this country.

The plans he holds are said to include a line of ships that will operate from New York to the north, taking in Boston and Maine ports and placing them in communication with Canada. To the south he has in mind the establishment of a line from New York to Panama, taking advantage of the canal's opening to bring his ships into play as competitors with the Pacific roads. A division that takes in the rapidly advancing and generally underestimated South American trade is also charged to be in his scheme. Now the South American traffic is directed to Europe, and passengers coming from South American ports commonly arrive in New York via England and France.

But it is the coastwise trade, with New York at one end and Panama at the other end, that chiefly interests the big folk of commerce.

It is impossible to get the average man and woman to stand hitched to any statement that has a technical ring. They shy from "differentials" and the "long and short haul clause," as though both contained some possible evil. But Morse, with his cunning for trade, knows that under the technique of transportation there lies a pot of gold greater than that supposed to be at the foot of the rainbow and a "blawsted sight" more tangible and possible of development.

But a few months ago the interstate commerce commission put out a beautifully illustrated document on freight rates, with pictures that looked like the weather map in a stormy period or a flock of typhoid germs having a holiday. The statements and the maps showed how much the roads could add to the cost of carrying freight from New York to various zones on out to the coast.

With active water competition through the canal and Morse at the busy end of the marine wire, there is no telling what will happen to the pictures with the isothermal lines and to the operating revenue that is based upon the zigzag aft of the commission.

That is why Morse, the condemned man, is of such vital interest as he comes back to live where he had been scheduled to be occupying a short and narrow residence by this time.

In spite of all this, Morse is not a citizen. He has not the privilege of the corner bootblack of running around to the voting stand in the barber shop and voting for the candidate of his choice.

TO WED, MUST BE HEALTHY.

Minister Demands Proof of Fitness From All He Unites.

The Rev. Hugh Dempsey Wilson, rector of St. George's Episcopal church, Passaic, N. J., announced recently that he would refuse to marry persons who could not show medical certificates attesting their mental and physical fitness for wedlock.

"The world's trouble is a vast pyramid whose base is the number of misfit matches and consequent miserable homes," said Dr. Wilson. "Clergymen have frequently debased their function by a willingness or eagerness to marry any one to any one else, whether known to them or not. If society unhappily cannot regulate the quantity of births it can at least make an honest attempt to improve the quality.

"I believe that the church of which I am a clergyman will very soon enact a law requiring medical certificates for marriage and prohibiting the clergyman from marrying people in the absence of such certificates."

BRYAN DEFENDS HIS HORSE.

Incidentally Says He's Twenty Pounds Short of "Gentleman."

William J. Bryan's news announcement recently was that his riding horse would in due time be sent to Washington.

He said he hoped Washington would judge the animal compassionately as what might seem a good horse in Nebraska might not aspire to the first rank at the capital.

To give some idea of the size of his horse Mr. Bryan said he did not like to say what his own weight was; but, quoting Tom Reed's remark "that no gentleman ever weighs over 200," he would say that he was about twenty pounds short of being a gentleman.

An Appendixless Family.

Gerald Mandell, the three-year-old son of Matthew Mandell of Fountain Springs, Pa., had his appendix removed recently, making the sixth member of the Mandell family, including the mother, to submit to operations for appendicitis in two months.

WIDOW OF REAR ADMIRAL EATON, WHO IS ACCUSED OF MURDERING HUSBAND, PICTURED AFTER ARREST

ARREST OF MRS. EATON BY JOHN H SCOTT, STATE OFFICER

Mrs. Joseph Giles Eaton, wife of Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, who died suddenly in Massachusetts a few weeks ago, has been charged with the Admiral's murder. Arsenic poison, according to the authorities, was the method of destruction used. Mrs. Eaton, who is now in the county jail at Plymouth, Mass., has pleaded not guilty.

"Mrs. Eaton is indignant that she should be charged with such an offence. She will make no statement at the present time." This is the statement of Francis Geogan, the Eaton family attorney.

The Classified Advertisements

in the Plainfield Daily Press are result-producers and the best investment for the price paid. They cost one cent a word undisplayed and cover the entire field—Wants, to let, for sale, board, furnished rooms, real estate exchanges, automobiles, etc. Strict supervision is given to admit only those that are unobjectionable. A ten-cent advertisement has often closed a transaction that has amounted to hundreds of dollars. Property-owners who are seeking the best paying tenants or those who have money to buy real estate; business men who want help above the average; manufacturers who are looking for skilled labor; housewives who want to reach competent help for their homes—these and others will find the logical medium. Experience aplenty has proven that the Daily Press supplies the best help, secures the best tenants and makes the best sales of real estate and other needs. It goes among its readers in the evening when there is time to consider the subject properly; it is read by a class of people who want and seek the best.

There are vacant rooms and desirable real estate that would bring owners quick returns if advertised in the Daily Press and hundreds of small businesses could be economically and resultfully advertised at one cent a word.

is often the cause of much unnecessary trouble and expense. This important duty is sometimes deferred because of the difficulty in selecting the right man to act as executor but even if the "right man" be found he may die before the estate is settled and its administration will then pass into the hands of someone appointed by the Court who may or may not be competent and who, of course, will be unfamiliar with the wishes of the deceased.

ACQUIT M'RORIE OF WRONG DOING

Newark M. E. Conference Jury Returns Verdict of "Not Guilty."

BUT SUSPEND HIM

Signed Confession Testified to by Assistant Prosecutor—Police Chief and City Judge Other Witnesses Against McRorie.

Rev. Willis S. MacRorie, former pastor of the M. E. churches at Mt. Horeb, Martinsville and Springdale, who was given a trial before a special committee of fifteen members of the Newark conference, on charges involving alleged misconduct, preferred by Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First M. E. church, and Rev. Frederick J. Hubach, of the Monroe Avenue church, was found not guilty, according to the report presented before the conference closed yesterday, but MacRorie was suspended from the ministry until September 1, 1913. The decision was one of the greatest surprises of the conference.

"Count" Van Nest, of this city, appeared as counsel for MacRorie at the trial, while the counsel for the prosecution comprised Rev. J. O. Sparnon, of Bayonne, and Rev. J. F. Maschman, of Newark. Rev. J. C. Palmer was the judge in the trial and the Rev. Berryman H. McCoy was secretary.

At the end of the sessions neither would discuss the matter. The verdict of the committee was that the first charge and specification and the second charge and the first, second and third specifications had not been sustained by the evidence and that therefore the charges as a whole were not sustained. The last paragraph of the finding of the committee was:

"However, on the evidence pre-

SHOE REPAIR SHOP GUTTED BY BLAZE

Fire, Discovered Late Last Evening, Does $600 Damage to Pittis' Store.

Fire, supposed to have been started by a defective flue passing through a wooden partition in the New York Shoe Repairing Company's shop on East Front street, completely gutted the interior of the place last night, and occupied the attention of the firemen for nearly an hour. The blaze was discovered about 10:30 o'clock last evening and when Chief Doane and his men arrived, having been summoned by telephone, the fire had gained good headway.

Several lines of hose were run into the burning store, which contained a large quantity of shoes and materials for repairing, all of which were destroyed by fire or water. The burned structure is owned by Dr. Albert Pittis and the damage to the store is estimated at $600, fully covered by insurance. The damage incurred by the occupants of the store could not be determined this morning.

J. GEORGE ALBERT.

J. George Albert, son of the late Michael Albert, died at his home in Mount Bethel, last night, in the fiftieth year of his age. Mr. Albert was a familiar figure in the village in which he lived and was an active member of the Queen City Lodge, I. O. O. F., and of Mt. Bethel Jr. O. U. A. M. The funeral services will be held from his late home Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

BURIAL OF WM. H. BANNARD.

The burial of William H. CO'S TAX BOARD MAKES REPORT

Against Abolishing Poll Tax and Unfairness in Assessing Personalty.

AS TO BANK STOCK

Increase in Valuations $459,058.74 in Year—Some Requests Are Made by the Board—More Room Wanted at Courthouse.

Elizabeth, March 26.—In the first report ever submitted by members of the Union County Tax Board, that body today made several recommendations as to tax matters in Union county.

The Board declared unequivocally against the abolition of the poll tax, and said that bank stock in the county is in many instances unfairly taxed, adding that a number of people are also unfairly taxed in so far as their personal property is concerned.

The report shows that the increase in valuations in the whole county for 1912 over 1911 amounts to $453,058.74, and that there were 103 less appeals in 1912 than in the preceding year. As a result of the smaller number of appeals the difference in allowances of the preceding years was $314,502.93.

The Board asks for more authority to make assessors file duplicates promptly, and also to compel each district to file a map with the county Board of its territory. The standardization of tax books is recommended, with greater publicity for assessment rolls, and more equitable taxes for factories and public utilities. Reference is made to the work of the firm of Runyon & Carey, of Newark, who were employed by the Board last summer to examine some properties to see whether they were assessed properly or not, and the firm was commended for having made it possible to add to the factory valuations of the county.

The Board also asks for more room at the Court House.

AT DROP OF THE FLAG THIS HORSE WAS OFF

A red flag was the cause of an exciting runaway this afternoon when a horse attached to a transfer wagon broke loose from the vehicle and darted down Park avenue at full speed. The horse is a veteran of the race tracks but is now doing service between the shafts of a delivery wagon.

He was jogging along Front street this noon when a laborer guarding a manhole half a block ahead picked up his red flag and waved it over the hole. The old race horse took it for a starting signal and shot past the flag. Several attempts were made to stop the fleeing beast on his trip down Park avenue, but he shook off one man after another with comparative ease, finally being captured on Fourth street.

CHOIR BOYS ENTERTAINED.

The choir boys of the Church of the Heavenly Rest enjoyed a social at the parish house, last night, the affair being in the nature of an Easter celebration. Games were played and an attractive program of vocal and instrumental music given, after which refreshments were served. The music was in charge of Wendell Glover, organist and choirmaster of the church. Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Mallery assisted largely in making the affair a success.

ASCENSION DAY SERVICE.

Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., has accepted the invitation to attend divine service at the Church of the Heavenly Rest on Thursday night, May 1, Ascension Day, for which a special program has been arranged by the rector. As this will also be the annual service for the Men's Association of the church, the members of that organization will attend the service in a body.

HE ASKS $5,000 OF A MINISTER

Rev. F. K. Mathiews Defendant in Suit for Alleged Defamation of Character.

IN SUPREME COURT

Burnett Brodziak, Former Parish House Supervisor at Scotch Plains, Complainant—He Demands Vindication.

Burnett Brodziak, formerly instructor and supervisor of the Scotch Plains Parish House, has instituted suit in the Supreme Court against Rev. Franklin K. Mathiews, pastor of the Scotch Plains Baptist church, and who is also a trustee of the Parish House, to recover $5,000 damages he claims as a balm for alleged false statements made against his character.

The complaint says that on or about February 7, Rev. Mr. Mathiews, said in the presence of William I. Guest, that "A gentleman came to my house the other evening in the greatest indignation and said that you (Mr. Brodziak) had caught hold of a little girl's arm," Mr. Brodziak claims in the complaint that because of this statement, and rumors that were circulated in consequence, that his reputation had suffered and that he was discharged from his position. Mr. Brodziak says he is not seeking material damages but demands that the alleged charges made against him by the minister be proven or retracted. He demands a vindication he asserts.

Mr. Brodziak said to a Daily Press reporter that he has seen the man referred to in Rev. Mr. Mathiews' alleged statement and that the person emphatically denied that he made any such statement as the Baptist clergyman claims.

Robert Newton Crane, of this city, is Mr. Brodziak's lawyer.

SOCIETY TO DANCE FRIDAY NIGHT, APR. 11

Second in Series of Subscription Events at Auditorium.

Arrangements are complete for the second subscription dance, which corresponds to the Christmas dance, which will be held at the Hartridge Auditorium, Friday night, April 11. The function will be under the patronage of well known society folks and promises to be a success as a large number of people have sent in their subscriptions.

Brooks & Denton will furnish the music, and as at the Christmas dance the affair will be enlivened by a number of colored musicians. The committee in charge comprises W. L. Righter, Daniel Runkle, Lewis E. Waring, J. Hartley Mellick and Thos. M. Day.

The patronesses are Mrs. W. L. Righter, Mrs. Daniel Runkle, Mrs. Harry Runkle, Mrs. Lewis E. Waring, Mrs. J. Hartley Mellick, Mrs. George P. Mellick, Mrs. Charles W. McCutchen, Mrs. Percy H. Stewart, Mrs. George Megrew, Mrs. Elliot T. Barrows, Mrs. Thomas M. Day and Mrs. Edward M. VanBuren.

DAYTON, OHIO.

Dayton, which figures so largely in the flood dispatches this afternoon, is a city of 116,577 inhabitants, according to the census of 1910. It is the county seat of Montgomery county, at the confluence of the Mad and Great Miami Rivers, and lies about 52 miles northeast of Cincinnati. It is, or was before the flood, a place of great industrial activity, an important railroad center, and in the variety and extent of its manufactures it stands in the front rank of middle western towns of its size. Among other institutions there is located in the city a national home for disabled soldiers and sailors.

LOCAL CLERICS RETURNED HERE

No Changes Made in Pastorates of Methodist Episcopal Pulpits.

TRANSFERS ELSEWHERE

No Appointment for Westfield—Rev. Morris D. Church for Somerville—Others Put in Change in Towns Nearby This City.

There will be no changes in the pastorates of the three local Methodist churches for the coming year, Bishop Wilson presiding at the Newark Conference, which closed yesterday, returning Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson to the First M. E. church, where he begins his sixth year; Rev. F. J. Hubach to the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, where he begins his second year, and Rev. C. C. Cain to Grace M. E. church, the borough, to begin his third year. This action meets with the hearty approval of all three congregations.

Rev. W. A. Knox is returned to the Methodist church at Dunellen, and Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll is continued another year as a supply at the Scotch Plains church. Rev. C. S. Kemble is returned to the Rahway church, as is also Rev. Morris D. Church at the Somerville church.

The pulpit of the Westfield church, formerly occupied by Rev. Addis W. Hayes, as well as that of the Central M. E. church, Newark, is left open to be supplied. This action has aroused considerable feeling among the ministers in the conference. It is taken to mean that there are no ministers in the conference strong enough for either church, and that appointments are likely to be made outside. As one member expressed it: "There is little incentive for a man to work hard, do his best with the idea of bettering his condition, if when a good pastorate opens, someone outside of the conference is chosen; someone who does not know half as much about conditions as the members of the conference."

Rev. Henry J. Johnson, formerly of Grace M. E. church, who has been in Hoboken, was sent to Park Avenue church, East Orange, where an unusual condition was reported. It was stated in the conference that applications for 200 transfers from that church to others had been made, the reason given being that families had moved away. Last year the membership was reported as being 502.

Rev. W. C. Kinsey, who has been connected with the Anti-Saloon League movement, has given up that work to take the pastorate of the East Millstone church.

Rev. George Mooney, formerly of the Monroe Avenue church, who was at Madison last year, has been sent to Grace church, Paterson, and Rev. A. W. Hayes, who was at Westfield, succeeds Mr. Mooney at Madison. It is understood that he will probably retire in a year or two.

Rev. Dr. Jacob A. Cole was made district superintendent of the Paterson district, succeeding Rev. Dr. L. C. Mueller, who goes to the DeGroot church, Newark. Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, formerly of the First church, this city, was returned to the Market Street church, Paterson. Rev. F. C. Mooney, formerly of Union Street church, Newark, goes to Elizabeth Epworth church, Elizabeth. Rev. J. L. Peck is sent from New Providence to Cranford. Rev. Dr. A. C. McCrea, who was formerly at the First M. E. church, but who has been in Jersey City Heights, is returned to his church for another year. Rev. Dr. D. B. F. Randolph, of this city, is continued as district superintendent of the Elizabeth district.

Ohio Valley Devastated—$40,000,000 Worth of Property Destroyed—Thousands Are Homeless—Indiana Suffers Awfully—President Makes Appeal—No Let Up for 48 Hours.

Several thousand lives lost; 250,000 or more people homeless in the State of Ohio alone, and property loss of from $25,000,000 to $40,000,000. That briefly summarizes today's news from the Ohio valley which has been devastated by a flood.

That Dayton is the worst sufferer the meagre reports thus far received would indicate. Five hundred are reported dead there, and 30,000 homeless. The reign of terror from the flood beggars description.

The situation is serious at Toledo, Cincinnati and Columbus as the water is rising rapidly.

The Ohio militia are aiding in rescue work.

The flood situation in Western Pennsylvania is becoming grave.

The President of the United States appeals to the country to help the stricken peoples. The Secretary of War wired Gov. Cox offering any assistance.

Weather bureau at Washington issued a bulletin today stating that no let-up in the flood conditions in the Ohio valley is expected in the next forty-eight hours.

Railroad service is badly crippled and in many cases entirely suspended.

The cities and towns in Ohio which are affected by the floods include the following: Dayton, Delaware, Sidney, Hamilton, Lima, Springfield, West Liberty, Youngstown, Piqua, Troy, Columbus, Middletown, Cincinnati, Cleveland. Those in Indiana which are affected include the following: Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, Marion, Elwood, Broad Ripple, LaFayette, West LaFayette, Richmond, Rushville, Kokomo, Muncie, Tipton, Noblesville, Shelbyville, Logansport, Peru and Terre Haute.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

New York, March 26.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon conditions in the flood regions of Ohio and Indiana began to appear more hopeful, although the weather was still unsettled. The waters are beginning to fall slightly in a number of inundated places.

Grafton, W. Va., March 26.—A towerman on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad this afternoon, received a report that a commuters' train from London, Ohio, to Cincinnati, has gone through a bridge. The report says that there were 200 passengers on the train.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 26.—The news from the flood stricken districts today indicated that the situation was most serious. Many thousands of refugees in Ohio and Indiana are facing fire, famine and pestilence. The death list is estimated in the thousands.

According to Gov. Cox 250,000 people are homeless in Ohio. The State militia is aiding in the rescue work. A report from Dayton says that St. Elizabeth's hospital with 600 patients has been washed away. At Columbus 150 persons are reported dead.

Wire service is demoralized and railroad travel is practically impossible making it most difficult to confirm the various reports that come in from Ohio and Indiana points. Estimates of the property damage run from $25,000,000 to $40,000,000.

Dayton, Ohio, March 26.—Five hundred or more are dead and thirty thousand are homeless in this city as a result of the terrible flood which inundated this city yesterday afternoon and this morning. The scenes being witnessed throughout the city are heart rending in the extreme, as the people realize that there is no escape. It was reported that during the morning it was no uncommon sight to see men shoot their families and then commit suicide when they saw that escape from the rising waters was hopeless.

To add to the other horrors, there was a shift in the wind from south to north early this morning, and the fires in Vine street, the heart of the business district, sprung up anew. Because of the depth of water in the streets it was impossible to move the fire apparatus, and the few people who were in the upper floors of buildings had boats to move about in were compelled to stay by, helpless, and watch the buildings burn to the water's edge.

The mayor sent out an appeal for help early this morning, in which he told of the 500 lives lost, and of the many who are homeless, and said that the water was fifteen feet deep at the Union Station.

Edgemont, North Dayton and Daytonview, all suburbs, are inundated and the water is from 30 to 40 feet deep in certain sections of them.

A long distance telephone message was delivered to Governor Cox at Columbus, this afternoon, in which it was said that the number of dead will reach several hundred and that earlier reports of fatalities have been exaggerated. The Governor was told that the severe damage was confined to the territory along the banks of the Miami River, west of the main business section of the city.

Washington, March 26.—President Wilson today issued an appeal to the country for assistance for the western flood survivors.

Secretary of War Garrison wired to Governor Cox, of Ohio, asking what assistance is needed from the Federal government.

In the proclamation the President declared the flood situation in Ohio and Indiana to be a national calamity and called upon the people of the country at large to send contributions to the Red Cross at Washington. He also asked Governor Cox, of Ohio, what help is needed.

Washington, March 26.—Reports received at the Weather Bureau today as to the flood situation in the upper Ohio valley were of the gravest and most menacing character. Danger appeared also to be threatening the lower Ohio valley and later the lowes Mississippi. Flood conditions were not expected to improve for the next forty-eight hours in the Ohio valley. The fact that at Cairo, Ill., the Ohio River is only one and a half feet below the flood stage is the great element of danger.

At Pittsburgh the Allegheny this morning was two feet below the flood stage and is expected to be four feet above flood stage by tomorrow morning. At Zanesville, Ohio, the Muskingum River is fifteen feet above flood stage. Rains are continuing throughout all the territory mentioned and the Weather Bureau does not conceal its apprehension.

New York, March 26.—Serious flood conditions are feared at Toledo, Ohio, before the day is over. The water was rising all of the morning at an alarming rate, and according to dispatches received in this city by the Western Union Telegraph Company the situation is grave.

Word has also been received that the Vandalia Railway Bridge over

WIFE AND CHILD IN FLOOD REGION

Mrs. Frederic Harrington at Dayton and Miss Harrington at Indianapolis.

HUSBAND IS ANXIOUS

Miss Marie Kenney Visiting Here Worried About Parents at Dayton—C. A. Price Tries to Communicate With Parents in Indiana.

Frederic Harrington, leather manufacturer, of 1060 Central avenue, is greatly alarmed over the reports that Ohio and Indiana are today swept by one of the worst floods in their history, for the reason that his wife is visiting in Dayton, which is reported to be inundated and his daughter, Miss Helen Harrington, is visiting in Indianapolis, which city is also affected.

Mr. Harrington sought the latest news of the terrible disaster at the Daily Press office, this afternoon. Thus far he has received no word from either his wife or daughter and he is anxiously awaiting some news concerning his family. He explained that Mrs. Harrington is visiting her sister, Miss Grace Stivers, whose home is located at what is known as Daytonview, one of the highest points in Dayton. He is hoping that the home is outside of the flooded district.

Clark A. Price, of Sandford avenue, attempted in vain this morning to get in communication with his parents and other relatives who reside at Indianapolis.

Another very anxious person is Miss Marie Kenney, of Dayton, who is visiting her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Gesswein, of The Bristol. She has been making every effort to get in touch with her people at Dayton, but failed. Today she was trying to get word from them by the way of Hamilton, where she also has relatives.

ADRIANOPLE FALLS, COMMANDER SUICIDE

Bulgarians and Servians Enter City—End of the War is Near.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Berlin, March 26.—Adrianople has fallen, the allies are in possession of the Turkish city and the end of the Balkan war is in sight. The Sofia correspondent of the "Presse Centrale" first wired definite information of the capture of the Turkish city. A Schipka regiment entered Adrianople early today, blowing up the food and ammunition depots.

Shukri Pacha, the Turkish commander, is reported to have killed himself. The Adrianople garrison was captured. The capture of the city followed the most terrific bombardment of the Balkan war. For seventy-two hours shells rained upon the Turkish forts and in a final grand assault the outer lines were taken by the Bulgarians and Servians.

London, March 26.—Dispatches today confirmed the capture of Adrianople by the Bulgarians and Servians. A dispatch from Sofia announced that the Bulgars were entering Adrianople and that the populace was fleeing, and another from Berlin said that Adrianople had been captured after a general assault by the combined Bulgarian and Servian forces. According to the dispatch the Turks blew up the magazines and the third Bulgarian division entered the city.

VILLAGE BLACKSMITH DEAD.

Whitehouse, March 26.—Peter S. Allegar, eighty-one years old, died Monday at his home at Dreahook, near Whitehouse Station, after a long illness from bronchitis and heart disease. While he had been a sufferer for a long time he had only been confined to his bed for a few days. Mr. Allegar was one of the oldest residents of this section and had a wide acquaintance. He had for a great many years conducted the blacksmith business at Dreahook and worked steadily at this trade until his health became too poor for him to continue. He was a veteran of the Civil War, being a member of Company G, Third New Jersey Volunteers, General Kearny's regiment, and served from 1861 to 1864. Besides his widow Mr. Allegar leaves two children, who are Mrs. John Franz, of Brooklyn, and Mrs. Oliver Alpaugh, of Lebanon, and also the following brothers and sisters: Alexander, of Califon; George, of New Germantown; Aaron, of Cherryville, and Mrs. Catherine Swarer, of Trenton. The funeral services will be held in the Reformed church at Whitehouse Station this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Henry T. Jones, the pastor, will officiate and burial will be in Rural Hill cemetery.

ITALIAN IS CONVICTED ON A PERJURY CHARGE

Somerville, March 26.—In the Somerset County Courts, at Somerville, yesterday, before Judge Daniel H. Beekman, Nichalino Gallici, an Italian, was convicted of perjury, the jury bringing in a verdict, with a recommendation to mercy. Gallici was one of the witnesses in the trial of Salvatore Pannette for the stabbing of Jacob Lavine, which was tried at the September term of courts last year. Pannette was convicted, but in their efforts to shield him when on trial, Gallici perjured himself and at the conclusion of the trial was placed under arrest, and at the December term of court was indicted. The trial of Gallici began on Monday, and the case went to the jury about noon yesterday, and about two hours later the jury rendered its verdict. Sentence will be pronounced on Friday.

ASTONISHING VERDICT.

It must astonish most people to learn that the Newark M. E. Conference trial jury has acquitted Rev. Willis S. McRorie, the deposed pastor, of the charges preferred against him, inasmuch as he voluntarily signed a damning confession of his wrongdoing and that fact was testified to by the assistant prosecutor appearing at the trial. The strangest part of the decision is that while he is held "not guilty," he should be suspended from the ministry until next September. The jury found that his actions as a minister were simply "unbecoming." If the defendant was not guilty why should the Conference punish him? He admitted his wrongdoing to the assistant prosecutor after he owned to the authorship of an incriminating letter, written to the young woman in the case. Then he voluntarily signed a confession.

It cannot be denied that the verdict will have a very bad effect. It will give the scoffers, those who deride the Christian ministry and the church itself, an opportunity to jeer. It places Rev. Dr. Anderson and Rev. Mr. Hubach, two God fearing men, who had the courage to act as McRorie's accusers, in a most undeserved light. The case is not ended, at least it should not be, for the public, we do not believe, will be satisfied until McRorie is brought into a court of law to vindicate himself. He should be anxious to be brought to trial, and there is but one way to have that come to pass. It is for the prosecutor to lay the papers in the case before the next grand jury.

DOLLARS AND DIPLOMACY.

Washington hears that President Wilson, after two unsuccessful attempts to induce men of brains to accept the billet to the Court of St. James, will now be compelled to resort to the men of millions' class for a selection. The salary is $17,500 and should the ambassador be of the Thomas Jefferson simplicity and live the life that Benjamin Franklin did when ambassador to France, he could become illustrious as our representative to Great Britain. But McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft, each in their turn, named men of great wealth for the post, and particularly Whitelaw Reid, appointed by Taft, spent more than ten times his annual salary in dining and wining nobility, and in lavish living.

Wilson in succession offered the preferment to Richard Olney, Secretary of State in Cleveland's cabinet, and Charles Eliot, president-emeritus of Harvard University and one of the foremost scholars of the times. Each gave as his reason for refusal his advanced ago but it is fairly well established that the tremendous cost of the acceptance prompted the declination. Either, however, could obtain great respect for himself and great credit to his country by accepting the post and living within the salary provided. England, snobbish and haughty England, might first turn up its nose but it would learn to respect and esteem a man who considered his place that of a statesman and a diplomat rather than that of a plutocrat.

But wealth and not brains, it seems, must be the first consideration in selecting one for the finest position, aside from the Cabinet and the Supreme Court, and this presents another phase of Dollar-Diplomacy.

Contributions for the fund being raised in Union county to provide musical instruments for the entertainment of the guests at Bonnie Burn sanitorium will be received by the Daily Press. Any donations will be promptly acknowledged and transmitted to Nathan R. Leavitt, general chairman for the fund. We have $8 at hand. What will you do towards this worthy cause?

The only public appearance of President Wilson at a banquet during the present year will be on April 12, when he will be the guest of the Gridiron Club at Washington. Evidently, as Governor he enjoyed the fun at the Legislative Correspondents' Club annual dinners so much that he cannot resist the invitation of the Capitol newspaper correspondents.

The second issue of the Plainfield Daily Press Literary Magazine will appear on Saturday, April 5, and will be given free to ever subscriber to this paper. It will be even better and bigger than the first issue. Our magazine is distributed on the first Saturday of each month. If you fail to see it you do not appreciate what you are missing.

Shame on any body of ministers who would accept the word of that man McRorie in preference to that of such splendid Christian Soldiers as Rev. Dr. Charles M. Anderson, Rev. Frederick Hubach and Rev. Dr. D. B. F. Randolph. This is not a long distance view. We know them all for they live amongst us.

MRS. KATHERINE MAIER DEAD.

Mrs. Katherine Maier, 75 years old, who has been a resident of Dunellen for nearly half a century, died yesterday afternoon at her home in Front street. She had been ill for nearly a year. Mrs. Maier was a native of Germany, but came to this county at an early age, settling in Bound Brook. She has made her home in Dunellen for about forty-eight years. Her husband died in 1892. Besides her son, Joseph M Maier, the hotel proprietor of 174 North avenue, two daughters, survive. They are Mrs. Anna Ronayne and Mrs. Lena Holph. Funeral services will be held Friday morning at 8 o'clock from her late home, and thence to St. John's church, where at 9 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem will be celebrated.

HISTORY OF PLAINFIELD

—BY—

Howard G. Lapsley

(Second Instalment)

Discovery of New Jersey 1609.

Henry Hudson when he sailed into New York Bay on Aug. 28, 1609, was the first white man to give us an account of New Jersey. Hudson sent John Coleman ashore on a scouting expedition. Coleman landed on Sandy Hook, was shot by the Indians and later buried near where he fell.

By 1651 a few Dutch settlers had drifted over from New Amsterdam and established themselves on the Achter Koll or what we now call Newark Bay. The Dutch settlements in Jersey however, were few and straggling and scarcely left any permanent impression on the State with the possible exception of Bergen county.

Cause of Colonization.

During the middle of the 17th century the times in Great Britain were very troublous. Civil wars, lack of religious freedom, confiscation of property, and a general carelessness in the matter of beheadings turned the thoughts of many to the new country across the sea. Cromwell in England and MacKenzie and Claverhouse in Scotland, especially aided the settlement of New Jersey.

Dutch Lose Their Holdings.

Charles II. was restored to the throne May 29, 1660. There had been peace between the Dutch and the English for ten years in which time the Dutch had been building up New Amsterdam. King Charles gave to his brother the Duke of York, the land lying between the Connecticut and Delaware Rivers, and as far west as the Pacific ocean. A secret expedition was fitted still without any declaration of war New Amsterdam was captured without bloodshed on September 8th, 1664.

Thus by an absolutely unjustifiable garb England secured to herself the very heart of the Atlantic seaboard, which act subsequently gave her control of the continent.

New Amsterdam was renamed New York and Nicholls, commander of the Duke of York's fleet, became Governor Nicholls, made several grants of land, along Newark Bay, to families from Jamaica on Long Island. In all some eighty settlers profited by these first British grants.

Carteret and Berkeley.

The Duke of York gave to Sir George Carteret and Lord Berkeley of Stratton, all the land between the North and South Rivers, or as now called, the Hudson and Delaware Rivers. East Jersey went to Carteret, and West Jersey to Berkeley. A line drawn from Atlantic City straight up thrqugh the State by way of Somerville will show approximately the respective portions. Carteret belonged to a prominent royalist family on the island of Jersey.

Elizabethtown.

In August, 1665, Philip Carteret, a cousin of the proprietor, arrived here with several families and settled at Elizabethtown, the village being so named after Elizabeth, the wife of Sir George Carteret.

The maps were at this time always published in Latin. The island of Jersey being called Caesarea, consequently the colony was called Nova Caesaria, or in the vernacular, New Jersey. The proprietor offered settlers the most liberal concessions. The Governor was limited by a council and also by an assembly elected by the people. Land was sold very cheap and religious freedom promised.

Gabriel Thomas in an address (1698) setting forth the advantages and attractions of West Jersey, winds up by saiyng, "I have endeavored (by setting forth the great encouragements there are) to persuade the Poor, the Idle, the Lazy and the Vagebonds of these Kingdoms and of Wales to hasten thither that they may live plentifully and happily."

The promise of religious freedom brought settlers from Haverhill, Newbury, New Haven and other New England colonies of narrower views. Many of these settled in Union county.

William Penn.

Lord Berkeley, owner of the western half of the State, sold out his interests to two Quakers, John Fenwick and Edward Byllinge. John Fiske calls this transaction a pivotal point in American History as it brought William Penn to the New World. Penn took a deep interest in the settlement of West Jersey before he became more actively associated with is own colony of Pennsylvania.

Dutch Capture New Jersey.

In 1672 the Dutch and English became embroiled and a Dutch fleet of twenty-three ships which had been cruising about the West Indies sailed up the American coast and on August 9, 1673, captured New York much as the English had taken it from them scarce ten years before.

By the treaty of Westminster, signed the next year, the Dutch ceded back to the British the New Netherlands.

New Jersey was once again officially given back to Berkeley and Carteret and later West Jersey reverted to the Quakers.

All those holding proprietary rights in New Jersey agreed in 1702 to surrender their rights to Queen Anne. Their landed estates were not affected by this surrender. East and West Jersey were united as one and thenceforth until 1738 New Jersey was governed by the same governor as New York but with its own distinct and independent assembly.

These events took place before Plainfield was on the map but it is necessary to understand them in order to appreciate the local history.

By an act of the year 1682, East Jersey was divided into four counties, Bergen, Essex, Middlesex and Monmouth. We will now interest ourselves exclusively with the growth and development of Plainfield, Essex County.

Scotch Settlers.

By 1685 there were seven farms established along Cedar Brook by Fullerton, Johnstone, Forbes, Barclay, John and Thomas Gordon and Andrew Alexander. As their names betoken, these men with their families had emigrated from Scotland, which country was made unpleasant by the persecution of Presbyterians by MacKenzie and Claverhouse. Scotch Plains was also settled by a little group from the same good country.

Some of these Scotchmen being men of means, brought over some six or seven servants and established good sized farms. A few letters have been found written by these settlers which show how pleased they were with the country, especially with the abundance of game. Some curious statements appear in these letters, one writes of hunting wild horses another says "There is a Flee by the salt marshes most troublesome in summer."

Plainfield was for many years nothing but farmland. Scotch Plains was a village marked on the maps published about the time of the Revolution. A Baptist church was started in Scotch Plains in 1747. This was the parent church later of those started in New York.

PARK GOLF CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Charles W. McCutchen Again President—Season Begins Next Month.

Officers were elected and reports presented at the annual meeting of the Park Golf Club, held at the Park Club, last night. The reports showed the club to be in the best condition in its history, with a growing membership and a balance in the treasury. During the past year many new members have been elected and the prospects for a successful season are unusually bright. Weather permitting the course will be opened for play early in April. Not only has there been an increasing interest in golf, but tennis as well. The schedule for the coming season will be announced soon.

These officers were elected: President, Charles W. McCutchen; vice Corporation Notice.

Notice is hereby given that an ordinance entitled "An Ordinance for the Permanent Improvement of Certain Streets and Portions of Streets of the City of Plainfield, with Permanent and Durable Macadam Pavement, and to provide the Necessary Funds in Advance of the Collection of Assessments for Benefits," a copy of which is subjoined to this notice, has been introduced before the Common Council, read the second time, and ordered engrossed preparatory to its third reading, and that it is the intention of the Common Council to adopt such ordinance at the regular meeting of the Common Council, to be held in the Council Chamber, No. 149 North Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, N. J., at 8 o'clock p. m., on Monday, the seventh day of April, A. D., Nineteen hundred and thirteen, at which time and place prior to the adoption of said ordinance said ordinance will be considered by the Common Council, and all persons interested may be heard before the Common Council with reference to the proposed ordinance.

By order of the Common Council.
J. T. MacMURRAY, City Clerk.
Plainfield, N. J., March 17th, 1913.

AN ORDINANCE

For the Permanent Improvement of Certain Streets and Portions of Streets of the City of Plainfield, with Permanent and Durable Macadam Pavement, and to provide the Necessary Funds in Advance of the Collection of Assessments for Benefits.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the following streets and parts of streets of the City of Plainfield, shall be permanently improved with durable macadam pavement to be completely laid and constructed on or before the thirty-first day of October, 1913, said macadam pavement to be of the depth and width hereinafter specified, and to be in every respect (except depth) equal to the madacamizing on Arlington Avenue between West Third and West Fourth Streets. All work to be given out upon contract to the lowest responsible bidder, and only after bids therefor shall have been solicited and received according to law, all bids to specify prices for each of said streets or parts of streets separately:

Woodland Avenue, from the macadam on Prospect Avenue to the macadam on Randolph Road;

Hillside Avenue, from the macadam on Hillside Avenue south of Martine Avenue to the macadam on Randolph Road;

George Street, from the northeasterly curb line of Geneva Place to the macadam on Terrill Road;

Spooner Avenue, from the macadam on South Second Street to the macadam on West Third Street;

Wallace Place, from the macadam on Spooner Avenue to the southwesterly end of Wallace Place;

Manson Place, from the macadam on South Second Street to the macadam on West Fourth Street;

McDowell Street, from the macadam on West Third Street to the macadam on West Fourth Street;

South Second Street, from the macadam on Clinton Avenue to the macadam on Rock Avenue

Pond Place, from the macadam on South Second Street to the macadam on West Third Street.

Sec. 2. That said streets and portions of streets described in Section 1 shall be macadamized for the depth, of seven inches in the center and five inches at the sides of the macadam and for the width shown in the following schedule, and the macadamizing preparation shall be laid down to the grades already established by ordinance for said streets or portions of streets, respectively.

Woodland Avenue, 20 feet wide.
Hillside Avenue, 28 and 36 feet wide.
George Street, 16 feet wide
Spooner Avenue, 22 feet wide;
Wallace Place, 30 feet wide.
Manson Place, 30 feet wide.
McDowell Street, 30 feet wide.
South Second Street, 16 feet wide.
Pond Place, 30 feet wide.

On Hillside Avenue for a distance of about 400 feet, and on Spooner Avenue, the gutters shall be paved with rough stone for a width of four feet on each side of said streets.

Sec. 3. That for the purpose of obtaining money by the sale of bonds herein after specified for the permanent improvement of said streets and parts of streets as aforesaid, in advance of the collection of assessments for benefits, to an amount not exceeding fifteen dollars per capita for each of the inhabitants of said city according to the last official census, but not for more than the amount limited by law, the Common Council of said City do hereby, pursuant to the Act of the Legislature of said State entitled "An Act to authorize the improvement of streets and highways in cities of this State, and to provide for the payment of the expense of the same, and for the assessment of the benefits of such improvements upon the land and real estate benefited thereby," and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, authorize the issuing of twenty-seven coupon municipal bonds of the City of Plainfield of One Thousand Dollars each ($1,000), and amounting in all to Twenty-seven Thousand Dollars ($27,000,) which bonds shall be dated July first, 1913, and shall bear interest at the rate of five per centum (5 per. cent) per annum, payable semi-annually and be payable three years from the date thereof, with the option to the City to redeem or pay off the said bonds, or any one or more of them, at any time after one year from the date thereof and before three years from the date thereof, on giving personal notice to said holders of said bonds or thirty (30) days notice by advertisement in the official newspapers of the City of the intention to make such redemption or payment, which bonds shall be signed by the Mayor and bear the corporate seal of the City and be attested by the City Clerk, and may severally or collectively when ordered by resolution of the Common Council be sold for an amount not less than par value; and there shall be raised by tax in each year hereafter such sum of money as may be necessary to pay the interest on all outstanding bonds and the principal of such bonds as may mature during that year and the money derived from the assessments upon the property benefited shall, when collected, be held as a fund toward the payment of said bonds.

Sec. 4. That after said improvements shall have been completed, the Common Council shall, pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, apply to the Court of Common Pleas of the County of Union for the appointment of Commissioners to estimate and assess benefits upon the owners of the lots or parcels of land and real estate peculiarly benefited by such improvements, in proportion, as near as may be, to an amount equal to the amount of benefits actually acquired by the lands and real estate bordering on said streets or portions thereof respectively, by reason of such improvements respectively; and in case the costs and expenses aforesaid shall exceed the amount of said benefits, the excess thereof shall be paid by the City at large and raised by general tax; no property or owner thereof to be in any case assessed beyond the amount of benefit actually derived from said improvements.

CONTRACTS AWARDED FOR WORK ON BRIDGES

Somerville, March 26.—The Somerset County Board of Freeholders, at Somerville, yesterday, gave out a number of contracts for bridge work.

Philhower & Kinkle were awarded the contract to repair the Sutphen bridge at Greater Crossroads. There is to be one new abutment on the south side, and new wingwall on the east side. Their bid was $7 per cubic yard for concrete and $5.65 for stone.

Gano & Sutton were awarded the contract for the new bridge at North Branch, known as the Ten Eyck bridge. Wingwalls are to be of concrete, and the contract is for $766.-80.

Mobus Brothers were awarded the contract to erect four new wingwalls on the West End avenue bridge at North Plainfield, at their bid of $980. Each wingwall is to be 25 feet long, and to be of concrete.

M. W. King received the contract to repair the wingwalls on the George C. Owens bridge, on road from Liberty Corner to Martinsville, at his bid of $172.50.

On account of irregularities in the plans, all bids on the Andrew Cole bridge, near Peapack, were rejected, and the county engineer was directed to draw up new plans and to again advertise for bids. The bridge is to be repaired and the bids ranged from $498 to $725.

ACQUIT M'RORIE OF CHARGE

sented we find the said Willis S. MacRorie guilty of high imprudence and of unministerial conduct, and we do therefore suspend him from the ministry until September 1, 1913."

It was said, unofficially, that this was done to give the clergyman an opportunity to leave New Jersey and rehabilitate himself in some other part of the country.

The question some ministers of the conference are now asking is: "If the charges were not sustained on what ground is MacRorie guilty of ministerial misconduct and why suspend him if he is not guilty."

Among the witnesses who appeared before the trial body were Police Chief P. S. Kiely, former Assistant County Prosecutor Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., before whom MacRorie made and signed a confession; Mrs. Herr, wife of Principal A. S. Herr, of the Plainfield Business College, where Miss Gertrude Nelson, the young woman in the case, was a student; City Judge W. G. DeMeza, as well as the mother of Miss Nelson. There was in addition a number of witnesses called by the defense.

It is said that not the slightest reference was made in the summing up to the alleged confession of MacRorie, and it was the general opinion, when the decision became known, that there had been a miscarriage of justice in view of the facts known by those vitally interested in the case. Reference was made, it is said, to the fact that the Union County Grand Jury, did not indict MacRorie, after considering the case, but it is within the province of the grand jury to return an indictment against the former minister at any time within a certain period.

The local officials and all those connected with the MacRorie case are surprised and disappointed at the verdict and it is said that they will cause the evidence against the minister to be presented to the next grand jury.

Former Assistant County Prosecutor Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., speaking of the decision to a Daily Press reporter, made the following statement:

"It clearly shows that the trial jury of the Methodist conference accepted MacRorie's word in preference to the statements made by City Judge DeMeza, Rev. C. M. Anderson, Rev. Frederick J. Hubach, Chief Patrick Kiely, Hugh Sweeney,, Mrs. A. S. Herr and myself."

City Judge DeMeza is likewise indignant at the result of the trial and said:

"I am completely surprised at the verdict of the jury at the Methodist conference in view of his previous confession of guilt."

The attitude of the authorities who have had any connection with the case since the original charge was made, seem to be that of indignation. They appear to be greatly incensed because their word was doubted by the Methodist ministers.

Rev. C. M. Anderson, asked for his opinion of the decision, said: "Of course you can realize my position in the matter, so at present I do not wish to make any comment. I would prefer that you see the District Superintendent, Rev. Dr. Randolph."

A BIT ROUGH BUT—

When the cave man wanted help or a wife he strode forth, tapped one on the head, and dragged he or she to the tribal habitat.

Civilization has placed certain restrictions and limitations about us which prevent this beautifully simple method.

But it has given us the Press want ad, which costs but a few cents, and no physical effort.

INDUSTRIAL PICTURE FILMS ATTRACTED MANY TO Y. M. C. A.

Two well attended motion picture performances under the auspices of the Ladies' Current Event Circle of the First M. E. church were held in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last night, five reels of unusually interesting pictures being thrown on the screen showing how some of the biggest industries in the United States are being operated today. "Pottery Making" was the subject of one of the films showing the process of making earthen ware products from the time the raw material comes into use until it is turned out as a finished product. Among the other films shown were the following: "Across the Isthmus of Panama in 1913," "The Art of Printing," "The Cotton Industry" and "Doll Making." Two comedy films were also presented at each show.

The committee in charge of the affair was composed of the following: Mrs. Herbert E. Parker, chairman; Mrs. J. M. Lewis, Mrs. Edgar, Sr., Mrs. George Rittenhouse, Miss Clayton, Mrs. Utzinger, Miss M. Angleman, Mrs. Sick, Mrs. George Hicks, Mrs. D. S. Dunavan, Mrs. A. Rose, Miss Ella Harris.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

OYSTERS ON TOAST.

SERVED in this way oysters make a very attractive appearance on the table and are very pleasing to the palate.

Sandwich bread should be used and the slices toasted only until golden brown. Fresh, firm oysters should be used for this purpose.

Culinary Tidbits.

Boiled Oysters on Toast.—Toast and butter slices of bread and lay them in a shallow dish. Heat the liquor from the oysters, add salt and pepper and thicken with a little flour. Just before this boils add the oysters. Let it all boil at once and pour over the toast.

Appetizing Fare.

Broiled Oysters on Toast.—Wash your oysters and then drain on a towel. Strain the oyster liquor and scald and skim it, adding an equal quantity of hot milk with salt and pepper to taste. Toast thin slices of bread a delicate brown and place it where it will keep hot while the oysters are being cooked. Cream two tablespoonfuls of butter, add one-half of a teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of white pepper and one tablespoonful of chopped parsley. Then rub in one tablespoonful of lemon juice. Rub the broiler, which should be a special one with the wires set close together, with a bit of suet. Dip each oyster into melted butter or olive oil, arrange in the broiler and broil them quickly over a bright fire, turning several times until the gills curl. Put a spoonful of the prepared oyster juice on each piece of toast, place on it three or four of the oysters, drop on them a small bit of the prepared butter and send at once to the table.

Combined With Celery.

Oysters and Celery on Toast.—Take a bunch of table celery and cut the white stalks into fine pieces enough to make a pint. Then place in a saucepan on the fire, cover with boiling water in which is a teaspoonful of salt and boil it until tender. Take a dozen oysters and put into a saucepan with their liquor, a half teaspoonful of salt and a little white pepper and boil for a couple of minutes. Mix a half tablespoonful of cornstarch with a half tablespoonful of melted butter and add this to the oysters. Now drain the celery, mix it with the oysters and boil for two minutes. Two tablespoonfuls of cream should be added to the oysters and celery. Have a half dozen slices of buttered toast ready and pour the celery and oysters over these. Serve hot.

Aunt Thompson.

FASHION HINT

By JUDIC CHOLLET

No suit that the little boy wears is prettier or more becoming than this one, made in Russian style. It is adapted to worsted materials and to washable fabrics, so that it can be made to suit all occasions.

It is childish and attractive and at the same time essentially masculine.

BOY'S RUSSIAN SUIT.

In the illustration striped galatea is trimmed with plain color, and the neck is finished with a round collar, but a standing collar can be substituted if liked, and in place of the belt made from the material one of leather can be worn.

The knickerbockers are separate and joined to waistbands.

For the four year size will be required three and a quarter yards of material twenty-seven inches wide, with three-quarters for belt and trimming.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes for boys of two, four and six years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7412, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

The Women of California.

A letter was published in The Evening Post which makes one want to "answer back" and "call names" too. There is a rhyme from "Mother Goose as a Suffragette," which is most appropriate:

"Mistress Mary, quite contrary,
How do your arguments grow?
A few facts perverted, old notions asserted,
And little fibs all in a row."

Certainly the "facts" in this letter are perverted and the fibs are not absent.

The writer says in part:

"It is an encouraging fact that suffrage (in California) is not gaining in popularity. All of the enthusiasm of victory has oozed out of suffrage headquarters long ago. In fact the newly enfranchised citizen is a very subdued woman, and is hedging wherever she can. Our women are rather ashamed of the situation and glad to escape comment.

"And so the balloon is collapsed already, and the women of California who protested against the voters placing this burden upon them are compelled to carry it, a large majority who do vote necessarily being of the protestants."

Poor overburdened women of California! Has the writer no sense of humor, or is she ignorant that the Californians have the power of the recall?

A little over a year ago the element in San Francisco opposed to woman suffrage set out to secure the required number of names to a petition to initiate a law to deprive the women of their newly won right. So slight was the response that canvassers were offered a small sum of money for each name, and even then the movement came to naught. That "large majority" of protestants, so eager to rid themselves of the burden, why did they not sign this petition?

Think it over, Mrs. Anti, for here is surely food for thought.

"And so all the enthusiasm of victory has oozed out of the suffrage headquarters long ago." Good! Our California women had no time to gloat over the suffrage victory. No sooner had they won than "forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forth unto those things which are before," they pressed on.

No one doubted their earnestness. Immediately they began asking, "How soon can we register?" "Where can I find such and such law?" Schools for voters were started everywhere, newspapers printed lessons in great variety, librarians were beseiged for books on government and law. Thus the women were preparing themselves for the next step, and when election day came they marked their ballots more expeditiously than the men did and, contrary to all tradition, asked fewer questions.

Twelve hundred of these "subdued" women were employed as clerks at the polls. Others flooded the streets, giving out dodgers, chalking information on the sidewalks, explaining to the doubtful the meaning of certain bills. Women who voted for Wilson, women who were conservative Republicans, and those who belonged to the new party worked side by side for three issues—the defeat of the race-track amendment, the election of Judge Lawlor, against whom the corrupt forces were working, and the defeat of Edward I. Wolfe, Republican candidate for State Senate.

It is a little difficult to see wherein these women "hedged," and certainly they chose an odd way of showing that they were "ashamed." As for escaping "comment" they have not done this for periodicals everywhere are telling of the women's victories for true it is that "they won out on every issue in which they were unitedly and deeply interested."

Doubtless the women consider their greatest achievement, the curbing of the traffic in women. Their first step was to secure the passage of a law raising the age of consent. Nor did they stop there.

Mable Deering says:

"Since the granting of suffrage to women in California the prosecutions of white slavers have increased one hundred per cent. and in almost every case convictions have been secured. Formerly the judges used to 'sidestep' these cases because the white slaver was so intimately connected with the saloon and the saloon with politics; now the judges wish to have the cases assigned to them, especially just before election time. All California men feel that white slavery is the slogan to which every woman responds.

"When a white slaver was convicted in the old days he received the lightest penalty possible but now he receives the limit in sentence.

"There's a big difference between influence and power. The result is that where our morning papers formerly chronicled almost daily disappearances of girls from fourteen years old up, these 'disappearances' are now rare."

Alice Park says in the Woman Voter:

"The stream of tourists passing through California will spread the news that California women 'want to vote,' that they vote intelligently, that they promote public improvements, and that men and women rejoice together in a free State."

Be sure to read "What California's Women Did With Their Ballots," in the Pictorial Review for March and don't miss the editorial declation in that same issue, beginning "The Editor of Pictorial Review believes in Equal Suffrage." If you enjoy this read "Chief Chadsey of Cleveland."

In the April Pictorial Review are two more articles of interest to suffragists: "How the Women of California Are Preparing For Citizenship" and "Julia Tutwiler, First Citizen of Alabama."

The Forum for March contains: "The Scarlet Woman," by Anna Garlin Spencer.

If you are interested in the English militants read "Woman's War," by Elizabeth Robins, in McClure's Magazine for March.

In each number of McClure's will be found an article by Inez Milholland.

ANOTHER PASSING CASE.

It Proves That There's a Way Out for Many Suffering Plainfield Folks.

Just another report of a case in Plainfield. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Plainfield with Doan's Kidney Pills.

A. C. Lazzi, 44 Elm Place, Plainfield, N. J., says: "For several years I was annoyed by a distressing backache, together with pains through my kidneys. My head also ached severely and the kidney secretions were in bad shape. I went to several physicians and also took so-called kidney cures, but it did not seem as though I could get relief. As time passed and I did not improve, I became discouraged. When suffering intensely, I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and I got a supply at Randolph's Drug Store. As if by magic, the pains and aches left and I improved in every way. Doan's Kidney Pills deserve the entire credit for restoring me to good health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.—Advertisement.

Lingerie Blouses at $1.25, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.95

These Blouses are as fine and dainty and just as style-ful as those of Paris—but these Gimbel prices are less than Occasion prices in Paris.

While these Blouses are machine-made, they are in more exclusive styles than you will find in the great shops of Paris at anything near like these prices. And in New York they are absolutely unrivaled, for we have had

Reproductions and Adaptations Made of Fine French Models to Sell at These Exceptional Prices Tomorrow

In fine French voiles, batistes and lawns—exquisitely tucked, inset with laces, embroidered in white and rich colors—many also trimmed with flutings of lace or Brussels net.

Russian Blouses De Medici Collar Blouses
Trotteur Blouses Empire Sash Blouses

The "Gaby Deslys" Blouse at $2.50 is the only exception, but this was suggested by one of Robert's new models. It has the long, loose panel back of shadow lace, which gives the idea of a drapery. Illustrated in the centre, $2.50. This is our second presentation—we did not have sufficient last Saturday. Third Floor

Black-and-White and Gray
Are the Newest Favorites in Dress Fabrics
These and Many Other New Shades and Weaves In the GIMBEL Display of Spring Dress Goods

Dashing effects in black-and-white are perennial favorites for smart costumes, and this season are held in higher regard than ever, along with gray—the blending of two.

The new Dress Fabrics at GIMBELS show an amazing variety in black-and-white—stripes of every imaginable width, checks and plaids of every size—regular, broken, diagonal—and chiefly in the splendid English and German Suitings.

But along with these there are the brilliant colorings that have turned the world of fashion into a vividly tinted flower garden—in exquisite clinging brocades, crepe de chines, and other fabrics that are combinations of silk-and-wool in various proportions.

The last of the fabrics in this Exhibit, which, without doubt, is the most complete and the most exclusive in New York, arrived but two days ago—a glorious velvet-like weave, which the maker, Rodier, of Paris, calls "Duvetyn," from duvet, which means "down." This wonderful material, almost all silk, is 44 inches wide—in charming tints—pink, American Beauty, Saxe blue and other colors—and at GIMBELS ONLY. $6 a yard.

Other beautiful new dress fabrics include:

From FRANCE—
Brocaded Poplin, 43 in., $2 Yard
Brocaded Crepe de Chine, 42 in., $2.50 Yard
Miniche Velour, 42 in., $6 yard
Two-toned checked effect is given by tufts of chenille.
Silk-and-Wool Poplins, 46-inch, $3 to $6 Yard
Including Reps, Bengalines, Tringalines and others of the poplin family. Some in crepy effects, some two-toned.
Faille de Laine, 54-inch, $4.50 Yard
Covert Suitings, 50-inch, $3.50 Yard
Wonderfully fine weaves, in subdued shades, for tailored costumes.
From ENGLAND—
Tailored Suitings, 54-in., $2 to $4.50 Yard
In this group the black-and-white effects are seen in their richest variety.
Admiralty Serges, 46 to 54-in., $1.50 to $3 Yd.
All in navy blue, and including some of the finest serges woven.

From GERMANY—
Two-toned Suitings, 54-inch, $4.50 Yard
Mostly whipcord effects, two-toned and sold largely to Paris dressmakers. Exclusive in New York with GIMBELS.
Two-toned Silk-and-Wool Eponge, 43-in., $1.50
Bedford Suiting, 54-in., $4.50 Yard
Mostly two-toned, with one weave in plain colors and a strikingly handsome broad welt at $3 a yard.
From AMERICA—
The Best Weaves from the Best Makers
Including Storm Serges, Whipcords, Shepherd Checks and other fabrics in constant demand, in black and colors, at 50c to $2 yard.

GRACE CHURCH FIVE PLAY IN BROOKLYN

Local Junior Quintet Contest a Game on the Schoolboy Court Today.

Following their annual custom, the Grace church boys' basketball team, accompanied by a delegation of rooters, left for Brooklyn this morning where they will play their last game of the season with the boys' team of Public School No. 19, as their opponents. Athletic relations between the Plainfield boys and the Brooklynites have been close for the past few years and the annual basketball game is one of the contests always looked forward to by both aggregations.

Last season the game was an unusually hot and closely contested one, the Plainfielders winning out on the Brooklyn team's court by a score of 16 to 15. Until the last few minutes of play the home five led the visitors by a goodly margin, but a sudden shower of field goals brought the Grace boys to the front and they won out by a one point margin. The game this year promises to be just as close and although the Plainfielders are always handicapped by the condition of the Brooklyn court they have high hopes of coming out on the bigger end of the score. The school boys' court is of concrete construction as are most of the gymnasiums in the metropolitan athletic league, and this unusual feature makes it difficult for some visiting aggregations to put up their regular style of game. It is possible that a second game will be arranged to be played on the Grace church court in this city, but this date will have to be decided upon after the game today. As a fitting windup for the trip the Grace team will attend the theatre in New York tonight as guests of the Brooklyn school boys.

Those who will play are Cottre and D. McNamee, (capt.), forwards; Ryder, centre; Williams and Wheelan, guards.

MARSH WON THE ATHLETIC EVENT AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Indian Leaguers took part in a three standing broad jump event at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon in connection with their league athletic activities. Marsh won the event with a leap of twenty-three feet five inches, and McDowell came in for second laurels, covering twenty-two feet three inches. All of the eleven contestants were grouped together closely at the finish and the various teams will profit by the points garnered by their members in yesterday's event. The summaries:

Marsh, Yale	23.5
McDowell, Harvard	22.3
Adams, Harvard	21.8
Krausse, Harvard	21.7
Kuldoshes, Yale	20.5
Force, Princeton	19.2
Hummell, Pennsylvania	19.2
Brower, Harvard	17.5
Giddes, Pennsylvania	17
Stover, Harvard	16.9
Walter, Yale	16

PLAYERS SENT HOME.

Rigid training rules during the present Southern trip of the Yale baseball nine have been enforced by Coach Quinby, and as a result four of the pitchers of the team have been sent home. They are Pendleton, Brown, Ripley and Gile. The team attended a dance at Old Point Comfort last Saturday night, and were notified to regard the usual retiring hours. The other members of the squad obeyed orders, but the quartet who are now home found Southern hospitality too attractive. It is believed that they will be allowed to rejoin the squad on its return home. Brown and Gile were members of the 'Varsity staff last year, and Ripley and Pendleton were of the freshman staff.

ALLEN SNYDER ELECTED TO LEAD HOPE CHAPEL NINE IN 1913 PENNANT RACE

Allen Snyder was elected temporary captain of the Hope chapel baseball team at a meeting conducted in the chapel rooms last night for the purpose of reorganizing for the coming season, and George T. Leighs, Sr., who served so efficiently in the capacity of manager last season, was re-elected for 1913. Enthusiasm was rife at last night's meeting and from present appearances it looks as though Hope chapel would have an even stronger aggregation than the one that captured the Sunday-school League cup last year.

All of last year's team with the exception of Captain Grisley, who will play with Park Avenue Baptist, and Angleman, a catcher, were present at the meeting last night together with about twenty other chapelites who will remain active in the formation of a diamond combination. Application has already been filed for admittance into the 1913 Sunday-school Baseball League and Hope chapel will endeavor to repeat its championship feat of last season. Grisley and Angleman's places are comparatively easy to fill, Grisley played second base for which a number of candidates have already signified their intention of trying for; and Angleman's position behind the bat is already a matter of contention. Other stars who will help to form the West End nine are Herbert Terry, Allen Snyder, Dick Schott, John Heron, Mulford Darling, Tommy Heron, Arthur Thorne and David Wardrop.

The committee appointed two weeks ago to look out for suitable home grounds for the Hope team made no definite report at last night's meeting but the chairman, George T. Leighs, said that he had his eye on several diamonds which, with a little remodeling, would make excellent playing grounds. The other members of this committee are Mulford Darling and Allen Snyder. The field that appealed to the chapelites most highly when the committee was originally appointed was the one at Myrtle avenue, but First Baptist secured first lease on it and the Hope committee were forced to look elsewhere. There is a suitable field on Plainfield avenue, opposite the Hartridge School dormitories, which the committee has a line on, and something definite may be done toward securing these grounds before the next meeting of the team.

A committee composed of Allen Snyder, chairman; Arthur Thorne, John Heron and David Wardrop were appointed some time ago to make a report at this meeting concerning the advisability of holding a baseball supper such as the one conducted last spring. Their report showed that they were in favor of the idea and as a result the Hope chapel athletes will be banqueted May 2 in the church rooms.

Captain Allen Snyder has issued his first call for practice to be held at Hope Common next Saturday afternoon and wants every prospective candidate on deck in full regalia at that time. While Mr. Leighs is busy completing the managerial end of work, Snyder will be equally as busy trying to shape out a speedy nine that will be able to cope with any of the other league contestants. As no definite date has been set for the opening of the Sunday-school League it is quite likely that a number of practice games with independent teams will be arranged before the opening of the schedule in order to give the new captain an opportunity to get a line on his best team of players.

OUTDOOR RUNS POPULAR.

Athletes of various sizes are seen every night clad in trunks and running shoes exercising their leg muscles by short runs through the more thinly populated streets. This branch of sport has proven popular at the Y. M. C. A. and instead of doing apparatus work indoors the members go for short trots along the road. The well known Plainfield-Scotch Plains course, over which the recent modified marathons were held, have been frequented the most. Some have gone so far as to venture out in the morning air, keeping pace with the milkman's wagon.

BASEBALL AT PARKER FIELD.

Although Parker Field has not been officially thrown open to the public for summer recreation, and will not be until after July 4, a large number of local baseball players take advantage of the diamond offered for ball playing at this rendezvous every afternoon and the well known "game of sides" is indulged in daily. Plainfield High School is practising every afternoon at the playground under the direction of Coach George W. Wriston and are gradually rounding into shape for the season, which opens April 5.

HARVARD FOOTBALL CALL.

Candidates for the Harvard football team next Fall will hold their first Spring practice next Monday afternoon at Soldier's Field, Cambridge. Leo Leary, who has coached the ends the past few years, will be in charge of the coaching as the vacancy caused by the resignation of Percy Haughton, the head coach, has not been filled. Falling on the ball, tackling the dummy, throwing and catching the pigskin, will constitute the practice at first. Robert Storer is captain of the eleven.

BASEBALL MEETING.

W. A. Batterson, director at the Scotch Plains Parish House, has called a meeting of those intending to try out for the Parish House baseball team to be held at that place tomorrow night. The purpose of the meeting will be to reorganize, electing a captain and manager for the coming season. Material is plentiful at the Plains and a good aggregation can be turned out, especially with the coaching of Mr. Batterson, who is an ex-league baseball player.

LOCAL FIVE AT ELIZABETH.

An All-Plainfield basketball aggregation is scheduled to play the Young Men's Hebrew Association on the later's court in Elizabeth tomorrow night and will be the guests of the association at a dance and reception immediately following the contest. Those interested in the formation of the Plainfield representative quintet would not devulge any definite lineup today and it is possible that the players have not been decided upon as yet.

A NIGHT OFF.

Y. M. C. A. Senior department members were treated to a slight let-up in their program of activities last night because of the heat but several took advantage of the weather conditions and indulged in a short outdoor run. From the attendance at last night's class it looks as though many are resting up for the department banquet which is scheduled to take place next Friday night.

SWIMMING CLASS POPULAR.

Henri Welle has been conducting a swimming class for beginners at the Y. M. C. A. during the past season and to date seventeen youngsters have mastered the art of propelling themselves in the water. A picture was taken of the class recently and Mr. Welle is now forming a new one which he will instruct certain afternoons during the week.

A YANKEE RECRUIT.

CLAUDE DERRICK

He is the one who is giving Jack Martin, the Plainfield boy, the hardest fight for the shortstop position. Derrick is considered to be faster and a heavier hitter than the local youngster but Martin is equally well liked by Manager Chance, who wants to give him a fair show before sending him back to the International League, where he will probably wind up if the Yankee pilot decides to drop him. Derrick has been showing rare early season form and has been used consistently by Manager Chance. His designs in holding Martin out are not known, however, but the Plainfield boy's parents have received letters from him saying that a sore arm has kept him out of the regular lineup.

In the event that Derrick does cinch the shortstop job, but many think that he is rushing it too hard during the early part of the season, Martin may be carried for some time as a utility man. This job will not net as much as a steady playing one would with the Jersey City team, one of the clubs that has been dickering for his services should Chance decide to let him go.

WITH THE BOXERS

Freddie Hicks and Young Mahoney have signed for a clash to take place at Superior, Wis., April 4.

Frank Klaus, who recently won from Bill Papke, will meet George Carpentier in a 20-round bout at Paris, April 17.

Harry Pollock, the New York boxing promoter, is now the manager of Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion of England.

"Kayo" Brown and Bud Anderson are in training for their 20-round bout scheduled for Tom McCarey's Vernon Arena on April 12.

Expert opinions are divided as to the true condition of Ad Wolgast. Some of the boxing critics claim that Ad is all in while others maintain that he is as good as he ever was.

Bob McAllister, the amateur champion middleweight and heavyweight of California, made his debut as a professional at Oakland the other night, and defeated Willie Meehan in a 10-round bout.

JIMMY ARCHER SIGNS.

Jimmy Archer, the holdout catcher of the Cubs, last evening signed a four-year contract. The terms were not made public. Archer will leave Chicago to join the Cubs at Louisville.

McDOWELL WINNER OF HOP, STEP AND JUMP AT Y. M. C. A.

Robert McDowell was the winner of the running hop, step and jump athletic event in the boys' department Indian League yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A., covering a distance of thirty-one feet three inches in his hop. Krausse was second and Adams third.

The summaries:

McDowell, Harvard	31.3
Krausse, Harvard	29.9
Adams, Harvard	27.7
Hummel, Pennsylvania	26.6
Kuldoshes, Yale	25.9
Walter, Yale	24.4

BASEBALL NOTES

With Hendrix, Byrne and Carey signed up the Pittsburgh Pirates have all of their men in line and ready for the bell.

It looks as if the Cleveland Naps had snared a couple of real ball players in Pitcher Cullop and Third Baseman Bates.

About 1,000 persons witnessed the first game of the series between the Boston Red Sox and Pittsburgh Pirates at Hot Springs, Ark.

Manager "Kitty" Bransfield, of the Montreal team, has been visiting the big league training camps in the South looking for players.

Tim Flood, the old Brooklyn second baseman, has been signed to manage the Winnipeg team in the new Northern League.

Hans Lobert, whose knee, fractured last summer, is sound again, is one of the busiest men in the Phillies' training camp.

Manager Huggins, of the Cardinals, is trying to put over a deal for Charlie O'Leary, the old Detroit shortstop, now with Indianapolis.

Owner James E. Gaffney, of the Boston Nationals, will visit the training camps in the South in an effort to land some promising players for his Braves.

Baldemero Acosta, the young Cuban with the Washington team, is being rated as a mixture of Willie Keeler and Jesse Burkett when it comes to batting.

Zeke Wrigley, the American Association veteran, has purchased the Lima franchise in the Ohio State League. He managed the Beans, as his team is known, last year.

The score card at the San Francisco ballyard carries the following ad: "Many Eastern scribes claim Ping Bodie's wonderful improvement this year is due to the Acme beer he drank while in San Francisco last winter."

The Eastern section of Kansas has turned out quite a number of baseball stars. Walter Johnson, Fred Clarke, Earl Hamilton, Edgar Willett, Joe Wood, Claude Hendrix, Beals Becker and "Zach" Wheat are a few of the big leaguers who claim the Sunflower State as their home.

So much rain in Mobile has compelled Manager Joe Tinker to rent a gymnasium for his Cincinnati Reds to train in.

The New York Highlanders and the Jersey City Skeeters have been playing clever games with close scores in their practice games in Bermuda.

Manager Hugh Jennings is pretty sweet on the work being done by Charlie Deal, who is out to land the third sack job with the Detroit Tigers.

John Pendry, formerly manager of the Youngstown, O., team, has been signed to pilot the Traverse City team in the Michigan State League.

"Hack" Schmidt, the former Detroit backstop, tacked a wallop on a citizen of Fort Smith, Ark., the other day and now has to defend a suit for $2,000 damages for his rudeness.

Louis (Hetty) Green, the Denison, Tex., pitcher, has signed with the Indianapolis Club. It is said that he is the originator in the use of slippery elm as an aid in shooting the "spitball."

The Wisconsin-Illinois League will open the season earlier than at first announced. The recently accepted W.-I. schedule calls for 126 games, the season opening on April 24 and closing Labor Day.

Armando Marsans, the Cuban outfielder of the Cincinnati Reds, showed up at the Reds training camp at Mobile in fine condition. He has been playing with the Havana team during the past winter.

The swell flinging pitcher Jimmy Lavender has been doing for the Cubs has caused Manager "Keystone King" Evers to declare that James will make the National League batters curl up and wither when the big show starts.

Long Branch, N. J., has taken the place of Long Island City in the New York and New Jersey League. The league will have teams in Poughkeepsie, Middletown, Newburgh and Kingston, N. Y., and Paterson and Long Branch, N. J.

Claiming that he can make more money as a conductor of a trolley car than the baseball salary offered him, Pitcher Carmichael, of the Southern League, refuses to report to his club. The cash register that Carmichael rings must look like a sieve.

A number of baseball stars have been injured in practice games this spring. Otto Knabe, of the Phillies, is nursing an injured foot caused by being spiked, "Stub" Hauser, of the Cardinals, is suffering from an injury to his right knee sustained in sliding to second, and Hal Chase, of the Highlanders, and Tris Speaker, of the Red Sox, have each a bad ankle, the result of practicing the art of sliding.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

When Miss Grace George appears at the Plainfield theater Saturday afternoon and evening she will be seen in one of the roles in which she attained her most remarkable success. As the sprightly heroine in Sardou's comedy, "Divorcons," Miss George achieved international fame, as one of the most brilliant comediennes of the English speaking stage. The most remarkable thing perhaps about her career is the fact that she was able in comparatively short time to portray a Cyprienne that gained the approval of critics on both sides of the Atlantic. Her preparation was by no means easy, for Miss George has assumed feminine leads in all sorts and conditions of plays, except, of course, down-right tragedies. In less than a decade she rose from frivolities like Lady Teazle in the "School for Scandal" and in the interval appeared in Margaret Mayo's adaptation of the Sardou comedy in this country, and for a season at the Duke of York theater in London. That was six years ago, and since that time she has been seen in New York in "Divorcos" only once, and then at a special matinee. It was in "Her Majesty" and in the title role of the comedy that Miss George was first brought prominently to the gaze of American play-goers. They saw then, some dozen or so years ago, a slight, golden-haired, blue-eyed actress, whose ability led them to expect much from her future years. After "Her Majesty" came "Under Southern Skies," and in 1905 an all-star revival of the "Two Orphans," in which Miss George played the role of Louise. In that same year she appeared as Abigail in the light comedy of that name, and then followed her appearance in a comedy of somewhat satirical character, "Clothes," which proved to be the intervening step that was to bring her to her most conspicuous success as Cyprienne in "Divorcons." Miss George will be supported by a notable company which includes such well-known players as William Courtleigh, Howard Estabrook, Frank Compton, Frank Reicher, Frank Peters, Gail Kane, Mario Marjeoni and others.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HEADS BANQUETED AT Y. M. C. A.

Representatives from nearly every county in the State gathered in the local Y. M. C. A. parlors yesterday afternoon to attend the banquet and meeting of the Central Committee of the New Jersey Sunday-school Association. Among those who attended the dinner and business session that followed were department heads of many New Jersey Sunday-schools, many of whom spoke briefly on the work being conducted in the schools which they represented.

George E. Hall, of this city, presided at the meeting and addressed the delegations, telling the object of the session and making suggestions for the furtherance of the association's interests.

CAUGHT RUNAWAY.

Bennett Kaine, 15 years old, who ran away from home yesterday, was arrested at the North Avenue station last night by Patrolman Kelly, and detained at headquarters until this morning on a charge of vagrancy. On appearing before City Judge DeMeza this morning sentence was suspended and he was released in the custody of his parents.

Trimmed Hats at $5 and $7.50

These are popular prices for prettily trimmed hats—thousands are satisfied to spend one or the other amount, but do not often go beyond it.

We are featuring hats at these popular prices, and we are trying to make them artistic and beautiful—different from the common run.

We put a certain amount of individuality and charm into every one of the hats we produce. They are not like the factory-made, ready-to-wear hats, but are the creations of our own thoughtful milliners, who dream out pretty ways of handling ribbons, feathers and flowers.

The materials we use are of excellent quality, so that there is nothing cheap about the hats, and you get the most for your money that it is possible.

We invite you to see the large display of these pretty hats ready for you tomorrow at .....$5 and $7.50

OUR GREATEST FLOOD.

The greatest flood in the history of the United States was that known as the Johnstown Flood, May 31, 1889, which wrought destruction through the whole Conemaugh Valley, in Pennsylvania. That valley had a population of 30,000 and the loss of life was 9,000.

THOUSANDS PERISH IN FLOOD

the White River at Indianapolis has been swept away, and that some of the branch lines of the Lake Shore Railroad have suffered washouts, making it necessary to suspend operating trains.

The Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies notified all persons offering messages to points in Ohio, Illinois, Southern Michigan, Eastern Indiana and other places reached through these States that such messages would only be accepted subject to interruption and delay.

In this city much anxiety is now expressed as to the cities and towns along the Ohio River, including Cincinnati. It is understood that while the weather conditions are improving there is absolutely no evidence of a subsidence of flood conditions, and that therefore the present indications are that the flood situation will be worse before it is better.

It is estimated according to latest reports that the flood has made half a million people homeless in Indiana and Ohio.

The following telegram was sent to J. N. Cox, governor of Ohio, by the Chamber of Commerce: "The Chamber of Commerce of New York wishes to express its deep sympathy for the sufferers of the flood in Ohio. Would you like us to take immediate steps to collect subscriptions for their relief?" Signed, John Claflin.

Pittsburgh, March 26.—After a heavy rainfall over a wide territory of northern and western Pennsylvania the flood situation at many points is serious today. A score of bridges throughout the State have been swept away.

The Allegheny River at 12:30 p. m. today was at the twenty-three feet three inch mark and still rising. At 11:30 a. m. it was twenty-two feet seven inches.

Xenia, Ohio, March 26.—Refugees reaching this city from Miamisburg this morning stated that the whole town had been swept away and that many lives were lost. They declared it was impossible when they left there to secure an estimate of the drowned. Miamisburg is a town of about 4,000 and is twelve miles below Dayton.

Cincinnati, March 26.—The Mayor of Middletown, O., has appealed to Cincinnati for aid. In his message he says that the known dead are fifty and may go much higher.

Hamilton, O., March 26.—The plant of the Champion Coated Paper Company took fire early today and burned to the waters edge, as the flood wiped out all means of fighting the fire. The glare from the fire, however, aided rescuers in their early morning work among the flood refugees.

New York, March 26.—The following statement was issued this afternoon by President W. C. Brown, of the New York Central lines on the flood situation in the State of Ohio: "The main line of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway to Chicago is not affected to any extent by the heavy rains, and trains are operating practically on schedule time between New York and Chicago. The situation on the Lake Shore is serious and no trains are being operated out of Cleveland, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Dayton, Cincinnati and intermediate points. Through passengers for Columbus are being transferred at New London, Ohio, and handled through to destinations. The Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio are detouring their trains over the Lake Shore road between Chicago and Cleveland and we are also handling Erie Railroad trains between Buffalo and Chicago."

J. W. Lee, press representative for the railroads at the firemen's arbitration hearing, said this afternoon: "Conditions on the Pitsburgh division of the pan handle look very bad. The Pennsylvania Railroad has only 200 miles of wire service west of Pittsburgh and has discontinued train service west of Denison, Ohio.

A message from the Philadelphia office of the Pennsylvania Railroad states that the 600 foot bridge at Franklin, Ohio, on the Pittsburgh division of the pan handle has been washed away.

BIBLE CLASS MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN IS PROGRESSING

A committee on finance was appointed at the semi-monthly meeting of the McWilliams Bible class held at Hope chapel last night, to consist of the following members. Chairman, Walter Firstbrook; J. Frank Lindsley and Edward Mathewson. The appointment of standing committees was laid over until the next meeting.

Reports on the campaign being conducted to increase the membership of the class were presented and showed that the project was progressing favorably, the class now having an enrollment of fifty-one. At the conclusion of the business meeting the class enjoyed refreshments served by the following committee: Allen Snyder, chairman; Robert Baillie and Henry L. Keen.

FORESTERS' DOINGS.

Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order Foresters, at its meeting, last night, initiated one and received one application. It was decided to hold a class initiation Saturday night, the work to be performed by the initiatory team of Somerville. The good and welfare committee has arranged for a banquet. The members will go by special trolley to Elizabeth, Thursday night, April 3, to visit Court Childs and meet the supreme officers from Toronto. The trolley will leave Watchung avenue and East Fourth street at 6:45 o'clock.

SUFFRAGE ACTIVITY.

The "Suffrage Questionaire," this morning at the home of Mrs. Augustus V. Heely, of West Eighth street, was attended by many women. Mrs. M. J. Reynolds, of Newark, answered the questions. Members of the Plainfield Lodge of Elks will have an opportunity to hear Mrs. Reynolds, for she appears at their lodge rooms tonight to make a short address.

FROM POLICE BLOTTER.

Francis J. McCafferty, 34 years old, of 130 North avenue, was arraigned before City Judge DeMeza this morning on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by his wife. Sentence was suspended. It was claimed that he came home several nights in an intoxicated condition and raised a disturbance.

MR. McNABB'S CHANGE.

After sixteen years of practice in this city, Lawyer Charles J. McNabb will close his office at 209 North avenue, tomorrow, and enter the title department of the Fidelity Trust Company, at the home office in Newark.

THE TEMPERATURE.

THE FAILURE TO MAKE A WILL

is often the cause of much unnecessary trouble and expense. This important duty is sometimes deferred because of the difficulty in selecting the right man to act as executor but even if the "right man" be found he may die before the estate is settled and its administration will then pass into the hands of someone appointed by the Court who may or may not be competent and who, of course, will be unfamiliar with the wishes of the deceased.

LIMITED DIVORCE IS RECOMMENDED

Advisory Master Finds That Mrs. Pittis Was Cruelly Treated by Husband.

NEITHER TO RE-MARRY

It is Also Found That Physician Assaulted Her Twice and Insisted on Having His Family in Their Home.

Newark, March 27.—A limited divorce has been recommended for Mrs. Caroline Pittis, wife of Dr. Albert Pittis, of Plainfield, by John Franklin Fort, as an advisory master. His report is made to Chancellor Walker. The ground for the separation is cruelty. The couple were married at Plainfield in May, 1904, and parted on September 21, 1911. Mr. Fort recommends that neither Mrs. Pittis nor her husband be allowed to marry again.

In her bill of complaint Mrs. Pittis asked for alimony, but this will be heard as a separate action. At present, under an order by Vice Chancellor Stevens given some time ago, Mrs. Pittis is receiving $50 a week for her support. This will continue until some other arrangement is made.

Among the incidents in which cruelty is alleged was an automobile trip which the doctor and his wife took to Westfield, when she alleges that he slapped her in the face. The advisory master says that according to the evidence Mrs. Pittis was assaulted twice, one occasion of which the doctor admits. That was on the trip to Westfield, and Mr. Fort states that it seemed to be more serious than Mrs. Pittis testified to. On that occasion, Mrs. Pittis appealed to Justice Collins, of Westfield, and instead of returning home with her husband, she went back to Plainfield in the company of a lawyer.

The married life of the couple seemed to be made hard for Mrs. Pittis, according to the advisory master. In his written opinion Mr. Fost said that a man should not willingly inflict on a newly-married woman an aunt, sister and two brothers and he did not think that a newly-married woman should be placed in such a position. While the husband objected to her family, she consented to have them stay away for a period of two years. During this time the petitioner without protest entertained and cared for his family. She was docile and submissive is the further comment of Mr. Fort.

"If the assault was not intended," says Mr. Fort, "he might have asked pardon, but the doctor didn't do it."

In the alimony order issued by Vice Chancellor Stevens, Dr. Pittis is said to have stated that his income was $7,800 a year, while Mrs. Pittis, through her counsel said that it was $17,000.

It is expected that Mrs. Pittis will now begin action against her husband to secure permanent alimony, the $50 a week allowed her being granted pending the decision in the suit for a separation. Richardson & Shreve, of Washington, were counsel for Mrs. Pittis, while William N. Runyon, of Plainfield, represented Dr. Pittis.

GRACE CHURCH YOUNG MEN ENJOY A DINNER

The annual dinner of the Young Men's Club and Bible class was held in the Parish House of Grace church at 7 o'clock last night, the affair being arranged by the curate, Rev. John G. Currier. The young men have been especially interested in athletics. Eugene Lidgate, one of the number, has distinguished himself in baseball, and will play this season with the Baltimore Club of the International League. Harry Van Zandt, another member, will also play minor league ball.

These are the officers of the club: President, Harold McDowell; vice president, C. E. Stanley Bellows, Jr.; secretary, Elliott L. Burr; treasurer, Frederick B. Krom. These are the officers of the Bible class: President, Elliott L. Burr; secretary, Frederick B. Krom; treasurer, Eynon White. The committee in charge of the dinner comprised Frederick B. Krom, Elliott L. Burr and Garrett DuBois.

SOCIETY GATHERS AT AUDITORIUM

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Henry Depew Give a Charming Dance.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Henry Depew, of Hillside avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Baker, of East Seventh street, gave a charming dance at the Hartridge Auditorium last night, it being one of the notable social functions of the post-Lenten season. There were about 300 guests including a number from New York city to enjoy the delightful entertainment. A feature was the attractive musical program for dancing furnished by Brooks and Denton. The numbers were chiefly of the popular sort and the musicians were prompt in responding to encores.

The auditorium was attractively decorated for the affair by Stanley, the florist. Pink was the prevailing color. The decorative scheme included a profusion of palms, daisies and roses, effectively arranged about the large hall. The stage, as usual, was made attractive with flowers, adding much to the pleasure of the guests.

The dancing began about 9 o'clock and was continued until an early hour this morning. During an intermission at midnight an elaborate supper was served by an out of town caterer.

PASTOR WHO IS SUED AWAY ON VACATION

Rev. Mr. Mathiews, Defendant in Defamation Action, is in Portland, Maine.

Rev. Franklin K. Mathiews, pastor of the Scotch Plains Baptist church, is resting for a few days in Portland, Me., and according to a statement made at his home today, he does not know of the $5,000 suit for damages for alleged deframation of character, instituted against him in the Supreme Court by Burnett Brodziak, of Scotch Plains, former instructor and supervisor of the Scotch Plains Memorial Parish House. Robert Newton Crane, of this city, who is Mr. Brodziak's lawyer, claims that the summons has been served on him. At the minister's home today it was further stated that neither he nor his family knew anything of the case until reading an account of the matter in the Daily Press.

As told yesterday, Mr. Brodziak in the complaint alleges that Rev. Mr. Mathiews made statements in the presence of William I. Guest and others, of Scotch Plains, to the effect that he, Brodziak, had assaulted a small girl member of the Parish House. In consequence of this alleged statement the plaintiff claims he was discharged from his position and his reputation has suffered. He also alleges in the complaint that he has been unable to obtain similar employment because of the alleged charges voiced against him by the minister.

ST. JOSEPH'S DANCE.

The fifth annual Post-Lenten dance conducted under the auspices of the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's church, held last night in Sebring's Hall, surpassed any of the former efforts. Both floors of the popular dance hall were crowded. On the first floor the Irish piper, Touhey, with his orchestra, played, while Paroubek's orchestra was on the second floor.

Y. M. C. A. PICTURE PROGRAM.

The following films will be shown at the afternoon and evening motion picture shows in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium Saturday of this week: "Pathe Weekly," two biological films—"The Great Centipede," "Sea Anemones," "Pandora's Box," and a drama entitled "Brutality." The usual comedy pictures will also be shown.

FINE PINEAPPLES.

The Fort Pierce Citrus, Fruit and Produce Company, of North avenue, received yesterday a consignment of pineapples grown on a tract adjoining its rich plantations below the frost zone in Florida. The pineapples are excellent specimens of that fruit.

"DARKEST AFRICA."

Dr. Gabriel Reid Maguire, of this city, will give an illustrated lecture on "Darkest Africa" at the South Plainfield Baptist church tomorrow night.

RELIEF FUND.

Contributions for the relief of the flood sufferers will be received by the Daily Press. Subscriptions already received are acknowledged on this page today.

DUNDON AND FEICKERT ON MOSQUITO COMM.

Judge Charles W. Parker, of the Supreme Court, has just appointed the following members to the newly created Somerset County Mosquito Extermination Commission: To serve for three years—Dr. C. R. P. Fisher, Bound Brook, and John B. Osborne, Somerville; to serve for two years—Dr. Arthur H. Dundon, borough of North Plainfield, and Edward F. Feickert, North Plainfield township; to serve for one year—Peter V. B. VanDoren, East Millstone, and Charles Opie, Belle Mead.

The Commission will meet for organization at the Courthouse at Somerville on Friday night at 8 o'clock, at which time Dr. Lipman, of the State Experiment Station at New Brunswick, will be present to make an address on the subject of the work.

AUTO SPEEDERS.

Three reckless automobilists arrested within the last few days for violating the automobile laws were arraigned this morning before City Judge DeMeza, who, after administering a severe lecture to each one, suspended sentence. They were Emery Gillette, colored, of 62 Elm place; chauffeur for J. F. MacDonald; Leon B. Alling, of 512 Woodland avenue, and John Vanderworth, 28 years old, of Bound Brook.

Relief Fund For Victims

Daily Press Will Receive Contributions for Flood District—Received Today $111.00.

The President of the United States having appealed to the country to help the afflicted people of Ohio, and his message being supplemented by that of the Governor of Ohio, the Daily Press will be glad to receive, acknowledge and transmit to the proper authorities any contributions for relief work. Naturally many Plainfielders, who are in business in New York, will be called upon to contribute to funds being raised there and therefore their contributions here are in addition to probably much larger ones made there.

The first to contribute was J. Herbert Case and others rapidly followed.

Received today:

J. Herbert Case	$25.00
Ernest R. Ackerman	25.00
William L. Saunders	10.00
Charles W. McCutchen	50.00
V. W. Nash, Jr.	1.00

RUSSELL EDWIN VAIL IS NOW A BENEDICT

Amid profuse decorations of Easter lilies, smilax and palms, Miss Susan Dorothy Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edes B. Bennett, of 1224 West Sixth street, and Russell Edwin Vail, of Elmwood place, were married late yesterday afternoon at the Holy Cross Episcopal church. The rector, Rev. William S. McCoy, officiated. Many friends and relatives of the couple witnessed the ceremony. The bride, attired in a blue traveling suit with hat to match, was unattended, in compliance with her wish that the nuptials be as simple as possible. She was given in marriage by her father.

They are spending their honeymoon at Atlantic City, and upon their return on Wednesday the bride's parents will give a wedding reception in their honor.

Mr. Vail holds a position with the Hudson Terminal Co., of New York.

ELKS HEAR "CAUSE."

Mrs. W. J. Reynolds, of Newark, touring New Jersey in the interest of "the cause," delivered an address last night before members of the Plainfield Lodge of Elks. About seventy-five were present. The speaker was introduced by Frank H. Smith, the Exalted Ruler. She was accompanied by Lamar Van Sickel and Mr. and Mrs. Champlain C. Riley.

THE DISASTROUS RESULT OF THE GREAT WESTERN FLOOD

CABINS IN FLOODED DISTRICT.

IN THE FLOODED RIVER BOTTOM.

Here are pictured two scenes showing the result of the disastrous floods, which are causing so much loss of life and damage to property, particularly in the States of Ohio and Indiana.

FLAMES FOLLOW FLOOD; DEATH TOLL OVER 5,000

Appalling Conditions, Conflagration and Broken Reservoirs Making the Catastrophe Beggar Imagination--Relief Expeditions Powerless--President Issues Sweeping Orders--Floods Now in Penn'a, New York and Conn--President May Go to Scene of Disaster

Conditions in the flood district of Ohio are worse today than yesterday, according to dispatches received over Daily Press wires.

There is no way of estimating within hundreds if not thousands, the number of lives lost.

Dayton is still the worst sufferer and the parts of the city which were not ruined by the flood are being destroyed by fire or blown up with dynamite to prevent the spread of the flames.

Relief trains have been unable to get near the stricken city.

It is estimated by a Columbus newspaper that the loss in that city will be from 600 to 1,000 lives.

President Wilson and Secretary of War Garrison at Washington this morning decided to spend money without limit to aid the sufferers, depending upon Congress to make the amounts good by later appropriations. The Secretary of War left this afternoon for the flooded district.

Lesser floods are being experienced in New York, Connecticut and Pennsylvania. A cloudburst is reported at Reading, Pa.

The loss of life throughout the entire flooded district will reach 5,000 and probably many more.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Columbus, Ohio, March 27.—That at least 600 to 1,000 persons met death in this city from the flood were the estimates made here at noon today by the "Dispatch" from information gathered by its reporters who went through the flooded districts in boats.

Erie, Pa., March 27.—Long distance telephones messages from Cory, Pennsylvania, say that a passenger train of the Allegheny Valley Railroad from Timsville to Oil City was thrown into the river with great loss or life. Details are lacking.

Dayton, March 27.—A report reached here today that the reservoir at Lewiston is broken and the waters are rushing down the Miami.

Columbus, Ohio, March 27.—That the fire in Dayton has broken out afresh and is more serious than at any time before, was the word received at the office of Adjutant General Wood from the operator of the Central Union Telephone Company at Dayton. The operator said the flames were getting so near the building that he had to leave, and as a result communication has again been broken off from the inundated city.

A holiday in the flood district of Ohio for the next ten days was declared in a proclamation issued by Governor Cox today. This was done to protect negotiable paper that might be subject to protest.

Any fears that the storage dam northwest of this city might give way were allayed today when engineers who have made a critical examination of it announced that up to the present time the great walls of the dam had not been perceptibly affected by the flood.

Cincinnati, March 27.—All reports received from Dayton up to 3 o'clock this afternoon indicate that there is no sign of relief from the flood which has been devastating the city since Tuesday night, and that the situation there becomes more desperate with every hour. Hundreds of people are without necessities of life, and have been in that condition for from thirty-sit to forty-eight hours. Many are being overcome by exhaustion and dropping from places of safety into the water, only to drown, in their efforts to escape the flames which are sweeping all of the business section of the city.

Relief trains loaded with goods are unable to get within miles of the city, and the only means of transportation are the few motor boats, which are being pushed back and forth through the debris floating in the streets, picking up people from the upper stories of buildings and transporting them to the nearest high land.

The early advices from Dayton said that the situation there was so desperate, owing to the spread of the fire, that Vice Mayor Hubert sent a call for dynamite and fire-fighting apparatus to every city in the State, as he believed that nothing short of blowing up the buildings in the path of the fire can save the city from total destruction.

The most harrowing scenes are reported in the business section of Dayton. No less than twelve thousand persons are believed to be penned in the upper floors of business buildings and hotels by the angry rush of waters, and the few boats available are unable to handle the necessary food and clothing to sustain life in the flooded district.

An impending danger, which those in the flood stricken city know nothing about, but which is causing great apprehension in this city, lies in the weakening of the dam which holds back the reservoir at Lewiston. A telephone message received here this morning from a lineman says that the reservoir is expected to go at any minute, and if it does give way, it is thought by those who are familiar with the situation, that a worse flood than that of Tuesday will hit Dayton

This city was deluged all of the morning by a heavy rain, and there is a severe storm of sleet and snow reported from Cleveland and as far west as Huntington, Indiana. The danger line has not been reached here, but it is drawing near, and reports from Indianapolis state that the Vandalia bridge went down with a crash this morning, and that the Big Four Railroad bridge in that city is in grave danger. If it goes out it will take another with it.

Warnings have been sent to all points below Zanesville to prepare for the flood. Marietta and McConnellsville are reported to be several feet under water; Chillicothe, Circleville, Portsmouth, Ironton and all points in the Miami valley are cut off from communication, all being partly under water.

The report reached here shortly before noon that the reservoir which supplies St. Marys and Salina has broken, and is adding to the floods in that territory.

The relief train from Toledo for Dayton and West Liberty at 2:45 this morning made transfer and train left for Springfield at 6:30 a. m. Two trains carrying the Fifth Regiment left Toledo at 2:20 and 2:40 a. m., respectively. These trains made transfer at West Liberty. Relief trains are making slow progress on account of the long wagon transfer at West Liberty. Every available man is being pressed into service.

A pile driver with sufficient material to rebuild the brige at West Liberty, which is a 100 foot opening, has started work on the construction of the bridge. As soon as it can be completed it will save considerable delay of transfer. The general reports received indicate that the water is receding, but no messages direct from Dayton or Springfield have gotten through.

Hamilton, Ohio, March 27.—The Lakeview Hotel in the residential part of the town collapsed today. It is said that fifty persons took refuge there earlier in the day. Ten bodies have been recovered. It is believed 250 persons are dead here. A relief train from Indianapolis arrived with provisions and troops this morning and the town is under martial law under command of Captain Hunter, of the Ohio National Guard.

Washington, March 27.—The Secretary of War and President Wilson conferred at the White House today over the flood situation. Only one message was received at the War De-

My Husband Could Not Pay the Bills

Our little income was enough to take care of us a few years ago, but lately everything's gone up so, that my husband simply could not pay the bills.

It was a great problem what to do, and I knew the same problem was bothering my neighbors because we often used to talk about it together. Finally one of the neighbors suggested that we write to Larkin Co. as she believed their method of dealing would save money for us all.

I wrote that very night and asked them for their Catalog; and when it arrived we all got together and went over it. We found that if ten of us would club together and each pay a dollar apiece, we could get $20 worth of Larkin Products for $10, which would mean that our expense for these things would really be cut in half. Of course we did it, and every week since then we have sent in orders just like it. We found Larkin Products very satisfactory indeed. They include teas, soaps, foodstuffs, and lots of other things which we'd buy almost every day at the store.

If you want to keep expenses down (and what woman doesn't?), you ought to do just what we did. For every dollar you spend with Larkin Co. you can get $2 worth of the Products you'd get at the store. I wouldn't lose one minute if I were you, but would sit right down at my desk and write a postal to Larkin Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and ask them to send you their big Catalog No. D 24 at once.

New Providence.

Dr. J. J. Savitz, superintendent of the Union County Public Schools, visited the borough and township schools Tuesday.

At noon on Sunday next in St. Mary's church, Stony Hill, it is announced by invitations sent out to friends of the couple, Miss Margaret Amodeo will be married to Vito Delio, of Berkeley Heights. Miss Amodeo is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amodeo, of Berkeley Heights.

Dunellen & Vicinity

Lewis Bergheim, a brakeman employed by the Jersey Central Railroad, has rented the house now in the course of construction in Dunellen avenue, which is owned by Harry E. Giddes, and will occupy the premises about May 1.

"A Trip to Bermuda," will be the subject of an interesting lecture to be given tonight in the Seventh-Day Baptist church, of New Market, by Else F. Randolph, of Great Kills, N. Y. Mr. Randolph has gained for himself a wide reputation as a lecturer of ability, having a pleasing personality and style of oratory. A silver offering will be taken at the door.

Mrs. E. F. Feickert, the well known suffrage advocate of this locality, is taking an active interest in the campaign being waged at present by the women desiring the ballot in this State, especially in Union county.

According to reports coming from the County Democratic Committee meeting held Saturday in New Brunswick, the local Democrats favor Mayor Otto Wittpenn, of Jersey City, as a Gubernatorial candidate. Thomas Reynolds, who attended the meeting as representative of the Dunellen followers of Woodrow Wilson, expressed these sentiments in an address and the meeting proved to be the opening of the Wittpenn boom in this vicinity.

Funeral services fof Mrs. Katherine Maier, who died Tuesday, after a lingering illness, will be held tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock at her late home in Front street, and thence to St. John's church, where at 9 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem will be celebrated. Interment will be made in Hillside cemetery.

Wesley Blaine, the local constable, has resumed his duties at the New Brunswick court house, after an absence of several weeks due to an attack of rheumatism.

Edward Matthews, the alleged horse thief, arrested on the Dunellen road, charged with stealing a mare from Charles Strobbe of New Brunswick, has been committed to jail awaiting arraignment. He was apprehended by Detective Clifford Cathcart. The horse he is charged with stealing has been missing since March 16.

The decision of the trial jury of the Methodist Conference, which heard the evidence in the case of Rev. Willis S. MacRorie, and practically freed him of the damaging offenses he was officially charged with by two other Methodist clergymen, has met with unanimous disapproval among local church people. The concensus of opinion seems to be that he was guilty.

Euchre players representing the local Holy Name Society defeated players of the Holy Name Societies of St. Joseph's church, North Plainfield, and St. Mary's church, Plainfield, in the first of a series of games played Tuesday night at North Plainfield. The Dunellenites won 14 games while the St. Joseph and St. Mary church players won 9 and 7 games respectively.

Miss Marion Gardner, of Smith College, is spending the week at the home of her parents, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Edward P. Gardner, in Chester.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Chester Presbyterian church took in $50 at its recent supper and netted $48.

Rev. Charles B. Roach, of Glen Ridge, is spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Searles, Sr., in Chester.

Miss Minnie Donovan, of Newark, is spending the week with Mrs. James Donovan, in Chester.

Plains & Fanwood.

Rev. Franklin K. Mathiews, pastor, led the prayer-meeting in the Baptist church last night.

The first women's suffrage meeting of any prominence will take place tonight in Firemen's Hall, where Mrs. M. J. Reynolds, of Newark, and Champlain S. Riley, of Plainfield, will deliver addresses on "Votes for Women." Mrs. A. B. Jones, a prominent suffragist, has made a tour of the town and has distributed posters announcing the meeting at all points of vantage. That a good sized assemblage of women, as well as men, will greet the speakers is assured by the interest aroused. Mrs. Reynolds was at one time a resident of Colorado, where equal suffrage is enjoyed. She will tell of the advantages of "votes for women."

The regular weekly cottage prayer-meeting will be held tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Elliott. Dr. H. K. Carroll, pastor of the Methodist church, will be in charge. It is probable that he will tell some interesting incidents of the Methodist conference just closed.

Many local Elks as well as those who enjoy an evening of laugh producing entertainment, will attend the minstrel show of the Plainfield Order of Elks, which is billed for the Plainfield theatre tonight and tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Denison, of Park avenue, are entertaining the former's mother of Newark.

Mrs. Rosina Jahn, of Park avenue, is entertaining friends from Newark.

The baseball meeting open to all hose wishing to try for a position on the several baseball teams that will represent the Parish House this year, is scheduled for tonight. After temporary organization has been affected, Instructor Batterson will give a lecture on the National game and a captain and manager will be elected.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Alverson, of East Orange, are visiting relatives in Westfield avenue.

Harry Doremus, of Belleville, who has been spending several days in town as the guests of friends, has returned to his home.

With the advent of the warm weather local farmers are starting operations. Many tillers of the soil have been busy with the plow for several days.

Mrs. John Gorman, of Jersey City, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Augustus Sheelen, of the borough.

The Misses Dorothy and Ethel Hooker and Robert and Sidney Hooker will remove to the Roseville section, Newark, on Monday.

Miss Evelyn Clarke, of Bath Beach, Long Island, is visiting Miss Helen Hoar, of the borough.

Mrs. Henry Johnston left yesterday for California where she will join her husband, who went there last week to take a position with an insurance company.

Mrs. H. W. Rhodes has removed from New York into her new house on Midway avenue.

Miss Katherine Terry is detained at her home by a badly lacerated finger.

Clifford Hall has returned to his studies at Stevens' College, after visiting his parents.

Somerville.

The Rev. William M. Trumbower, formerly pastor of the Methodist church at this place, has been assigned to the church at Whitehouse.

As a result of a fall in front of his residence on East Main street, Edwin Snover received a number of severe bruises and, it is feared, internal injuries, as a consequence of which he is now confined to the house in a helpless condition.

A meeting of the Borough Council will be held at the engine house next Monday evening to hear objections, if any, against the proposed sanitary sewers on North Gaston avenue, East Cliff street, and also on Warren street.

At a meeting of the baseball club on Tuesday night it was decided not to attempt to put a team in the field this year. The club still has a lease for two years for the grounds at Somerville, and it is rumored that "Jimmie" Clinton, formerly of the West Ends, may organize a team the coming season and utilize the old grounds.

Howard Agan and Miss Josephine Siriski, both of this place, were married last evening at Plainfield. On their return to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Siriski, at this place, a reception was tendered them.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

"Macbeth" has been chosen by Robert B. Mantell from his repertoire of eleven plays as the bill he will present at the Plainfield theatre Wednesday night, April 2. Mr. Mantell's success in the interpretation of this role, which is one of the first he chose to play after he decided to give up the career as a romantic actor and become a Shakespearean star, has become a matter of American stage history. He is regarded as easily the best Macbeth that has been seen on the stage in this country since the days of Edwin Booth, and no English-speaking star, even in the Old World in late years, has given a performance of the barbarous Thane that has been so much admired as his. Mr. Mantell is credited with putting into his work the elemental passions of this primitive Scottish chieftain and his visualization of the downfall of the ambitious nobleman from the time when, at his moment of greatest glory, the witches suggested a goal unattainable without crime, to his ignominous death, is regarded as the masterpiece of acting such as has seldom been seen on a stage of the world. Mr. Mantell's production is of an elaborate character scenically, filled with the atmosphere of weird mystery that pervades the text of the Shakespearean tragedy. Beautiful electrical effects are employed, especially in the wild scene on the heath. This year there will be seen in Mr. Mantell's support a new Lady Macbeth, Miss Florence Rockwell, who received a severe training for the Shakespearean drama in her girlhood days in the strict school of the late Richard Mansfield. Others of note in Mr. Mantell's company are Miss Agnes Elliott Scott, Miss Genevieve Reynolds, Fritz Leiber, Brigham Boyce, Allen Thomas, Guy Lindsley and Alfred Hastings.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

Politics, thrills, sentiment and sobs were deftly woven into an unusually interesting play presented Monday night in the Astor theatre and called "A Man's Friends." It was written by Ernest Poole and produced by the Liebler company. The enthusiastic audience was fairly sprinkled with jurists, politicians, clergymen and men of letters and it contained also a one-time president of the United States. After the third act pandemonium broke loose with ceaseless applause and shouts for "Poole!" but after a dozen curtain calls, Frederick Burton, one of the actors, said: "The author has begged off and wishes me to thank you." That did not put the lid on the noise, however, and the orchestra, which had begun to grow sentimental and was playing "The Palms," had to stop short, turn over a leaf and begin a loud, brisk march. Still the applause kept up and it continued practically throughout the entire entr'acte. If that was a sincere public expression of what Monday night's audience thought of "A Man's Friends," then it is going to be one of the big belated successes of the theatrical season.

Francis Wilson comes to the Forty-eighth Street theatre on Monday night in his latest comedy, "The Spiritualist," under the management of John Cort. The play is in three acts, the scenes being laid in New York at the present time. The character which Mr. Wilson will assume is that of Stephen Atwell, who is in love with Eleanor Roywell, a widow. Atwell is possessed of psychic power of which he had not dreamed, and for which he is far from grateful. This mediumistic adaptability is discovered by Gustav Schumacher, supposed to be an adept in science, and who in vain has long sought to place himself "en rapport" with the middle world. His ardent desire for an apparition unsatisfied, he resorts to the newly-discovered subject, Atwell, as one who can invoke the presence of disembodied spirits. Atwell rejects his advance at first, but finally yields and consents to take part in a seance when he is convinced that only thus can he aid his love and save the child of Eleanor, who is in the power of an evil physician and nurse. Schumacher so plays on Atwell that he gets him in a most terrifiedly receptive mood and then leaves him to the tender mercies of the supernatural. The company surrounding Mr. Wilson will include Edna Bruns, Harriet Otis Dellenbaugh, Lola Fisher, Dorothy Gwynn, John Blair, Wright Kramer and others.

NEW JERSEY'S INTEREST IN U. S. COMMERCE CHAMBER

Washington, D. C., March 27.—No State of the Union has shown more rapid growth in the membership of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America than New Jersey during the month just ended. In that month the Board of Trade of New Brunswick, the Chamber of Commerce of Bayonne, the Board of Trade of Passaic, the Board of Trade of Paterson and the Chamber of Commerce of Trenton all became members. The growth of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America has been very rapid in all sections of the country. There are now 309 organizations affiliated with the Chamber, of which 85 are of State or National scope.

N. P. H. S. NOTES.

Guy Dayton Peck, Jr., valedictorian of the class of 1912 and a postgraduate at High School this year, has left to accept a position in the office of the Sauter Motor Co., of Clinton avenue.

The members of the junior basketball team were given a banquet at the Ritz yesterday by the captain, Charles D. Beckman. Those who enjoyed the feed were Roy Love, Gibson Fairman, Franklin Lowe, Frank Dunning and Charles Beckman.

Manager H. Newton Spencer is having season tickets printed which will soon be on sale. They will be 50 cents each, which admits the owner to all the home games free, which are twelve in number. He also has about 300 schedules which may be had from any member of the team.

The junior class bastketball team have received their monograms. They are black numerals 1914 and are so arranged that they may be put on the front of the school sweaters. Those who received the monograms are Captain Charles Beckman, Manager Frank Dunning, Franklin Lowe, Roy Love and Gibson Fairman.

At a meeting of the senior class yesterday it was decided to appropriate enough money to purchase monograms for the senior team that finished second in the class basketball league.

Lucile Ewart, chairman of the junior banquet committee, has resigned her position and the committee has been temporarily discharged.

FACES FRAUD CHARGES.

Columbus, O., March 27.—Mrs. Emma Bothwell, whom the detectives call the queen of confidence women, was given a preliminary hearing before the United States commissioner in this city today on charges of having mulcted wealthy men in a half dozen cities out of thousands of dollars within the past few months. According to the authorities the woman's method was to write her alleged victims claiming to be in delicate health and demanding money with which to provide for an operation. Under another name she is alleged to have written claiming to be a sister to Mrs. Bothwell, and representing that the latter had died from the effects of an operation. From $200 to $500 was asked to pay hospital and buriel expenses. Exposure was threatened in the event of a refusal. The woman's alleged victims are said to include men of wealth and prominence in Cleveland, Detroit, Indianapolis, South Bend, Wilkesbarre and other cities.

FIRE SWEEPS SHIRT FACTORY.

New Brunswick, March 27.—An electric fuse dropping upon goods started a blaze which did $15,000 damage at the Mark & Davison shirt factory at South River Tuesday night. The entire second floor was burned out and damage was done on the first floor by water. Machinery valued at $4,000 was destroyed and goods worth $5,000, besides the damage done to the plant. The goods were insured and the loss on the plant is partly covered by insurance. The fire was discovered by Miss Helen Sofonski as she walked by the plant in Washington street. Fifty girls are employed at the factory. The plant will be rebuilt at once, it is said.

POSTMASTER AT ASBURY PARK.

Asbury Park, March 27.—Former City Clerk William C. Burroughs yesterday became acting postmaster, his selection having been made by the surety company with which the late Postmaster William H. Bannard was indemnified. Mr. Burroughs' appointment continues until a regular appointment is made. The salary of the local office is $3,500 a year.

PORT COLLECTOR CHOSEN

Washington, March 27.—John A. Sague, former mayor of Poughkeepsie, will be collector of the Port of New York, according to information obtained at the White House today. Mr. Sague's nomination will be sent to the Senate on April 7.

BRADLEY BEACH GIRL ENGAGED

Bradley Beach, March 27.—Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Somers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Somers, of the La Rein Hotel, here, and Calvin Leslie Robinson, of St. Louis.

HOME

The average man spends half his life at Home. That takes into account the nights at the club, at lodge, at the theatre, or sitting up with a sick friend. It also takes into account the fellow who sees home often enough only to establish a voting residence. He is balanced off in averaging up by the man who spends a good deal more than half his life at Home. The Newark Sunday Call has figured this all out and says that the statement that more than half of life is spent at Home cannot be disputed. If there is any doubt about it, keep a time schedule for a week or so. The Average Women? Bless you, three-quarters of her life is spent at Home! And that includes the working woman, too, the real NEW WOMAN.

Home shapes up as a pretty big proposition, considering all that. The world realizes it, too, for most of the world's efforts go toward providing homes. Right down at the bottom of things, you come up against that great big reason for it all—"Home."

There was a poet who said that Home was not merely four square walls. That was the absolute truth. Home is what you make it, whether you call it palace, villa, flat, cottage or hut. Some people can make a hall bed-room more homey than others can with a $300,000 marble mansion. It is wholly up to the individual. But as half a life time is to be spent at Home, it is worth trying to make it a success. A real homey Home is life's biggest success.

The poet's four square walls idea, however, should not be taken wholly at its face value. Most truths should not. There is always that little exception to the rule lurking in the background. Accept the truth, but also dig out that little exception and digest its meaning. Then you will get the full value out of the truth. Four square walls do not make a Home. But they help. The better those same walls are the better chance of making a successful Home. Be careful in choosing a setting for the jewel—the home jewel. Remember that you must use that setting half your life. Pick some thing that will wear. See that it is good. That means be careful in choosing your abode. Whether it be a house, a flat or a room, choose it carefully. Whether you buy or rent, remember you are selecting a setting for the biggest thing in life—Home.

The Plainfield Daily Press

thinks a lot about Home. That is natural, for Homes form its destination when it leaves the presses ready for distribution among its thousands of readers. The Daily Press likes to take part in home making and it does all it can to further that end in what it prints. It can aid you in selecting your setting for your Home—the dwelling, whatever form it may take.

The owner of a house who wishes to sell or rent the house goes to an agent—if he be wise and wants results. The agent gives publicity to the owner's desire, attends to the troublesome incidental business, and accomplishes the desired results.

The agent has the assistance of another agent—a very powerful agent for this sort of work. This other agent is the RELIABLE NEWSPAPER, the newspaper that reaches the kind of people the owner would want to sell or rent to. The DAILY PRESS is such an agent. It reaches this desirable clientage and is used by responsible agents. Look at the names of the agents who advertise real estate for sale or to let and note the high character of these advertisers. They, in turn, have chosen the DAILY PRESS as their agent because it reaches the kind of people they want for clients.

Choose your home setting carefully. Study the For Sale and To Let advertisements in the DAILY PRESS. Make notes of what appeals to you, write to the agent or the owner, and inspect the property. You are dealing with established business concerns who can aid you in this big work of Home-Making. They, the agents, are seeking your patronage because you are the kind they want dealings with—the kind who can be reached through the DAILY PRESS.

MARCH 27 IN HISTORY.

1625—Death of James I of England and accession of Charles I.

1632—By the treaty of St. Germain-en-Laye, the whole of Canada, Cape Breton and Acadia was restored to the French.

1697—Simon Bradstreet, one of the famous colonial governors of New England, died in Salem, Mass. Born in England in 1603.

1785—Louis XVII., titular king of France during the revolutionary period, born at Versailles. Died in Paris, June 8, 1795.

1860—The Japanese ambassadors to ratify Perry's treaty arrived at San Francisco.

1865—The Federals commenced the siege of Spanish Fort, one of the principal defenses of Mobile.

1889—John Bright, celebrated English statesman, died. Born Nov. 16, 1811.

1912—Albert B. Fall and Thomas B. Catron elected as first United States senators from Arizona.

Plainfield, N. J., March 27, 1913.

WE SHOULD BE THANKFUL.

The whole nation is in sympathy with the people of tthe West in the terrible flood and wind storm which has swept over that section of our country. We are fortunate in our climate and natural conditions in New Jersey. We sometimes complain of the weather and climatic conditions, sudden changes and the like, but our difficulties are so small compared with those in so many other places, both at home and abroad, that we should find great contentment in being residents of New Jersey. Without being in it, one can little imagine the terror of a cyclone. The awful fright and nerve-racking conditions must drive people almost to insanity. Let us be thankful that our lot is cast in such pleasant places.

OCEAN GROVE.

Every good citizen of New Jersey will be gratified at the action of the State Senate in refusing to destroy the autonomy of Ocean Grove. Even conceding that those who advocate a borough may have the better of the argument, which we do not intend to assert, still this great institution, with its moral power and wonderful organization and growth, deserves well of the State and should be conserved in every way possible.

The great body of Methodists throughout New Jersey would feel grievously offended if any harm should come to Ocean Grove through legislation based on political considerations or questions of governmental policy. So long as Dr. Ballard lives Ocean Grove should at least be permitted to remain as it is. Every one recognizes that this association is to him as dear, if not more dear, than life. Its great prosperity is due as much to him as any other man, and we earnestly hope that so long as he may desire the continuance of the present form of government the Legislature will not change it.

You know, they sometimes call Rahway a sleepy town, but the fact remains that the people over there in one respect at least have more civic pride than we. They are going to erect a monument in memory of the fallen sailors and soldiers. Away back in the seventies, if our memory is correct, a fund was started here for a monument in memory of those who fell in the Civil War, but nothing has ever come of it.

If any body of ministers feels honored by restoring McRorie to their membership, that's their business, but at the same time isn't it the business of all who respect the Christian ministry? If McRorie is really innocent, why doesn't he seek vindication in a court of law? That is the only satisfactory and honorable way out of his predicament.

Contributions to the fund being raised in Union county for the purchase of musical instruments for the entertainment of the patients at Bonnie Burn sanitorium will be received by the Daily Press. We have received $8 so far for that purpose.

E. Phillips Oppenheim, one of the most famous story writers of today, has a great big thrilling tale in the next issue of the Plainfield Daily Press Literary Magazine which will appear on Saturday, April 5, and will be given free with this paper.

If you wish to read something to make you think peruse the regular weekly contributed editorial to appear on Saturday. That is the cardinal feature of the contributed editorial—to make you think.

Governor Sulzer, who tries to look like Henry Clay, announces his independence and declares that he is the leader of the Empire State Democracy. Guess he imagines he can play a dual role and appear as a Woodrow Wilson also.

President Wilson violated tradition by visiting the Capitol the other day. But Wilson is an extraordinary man and he necessarily has no respect for moss-covered precedents and antiquated and narrow ideas.

Mayor Mravalag has decided to appoint a woman to membership on the Elizabeth Board of Education. A very sensible idea. Hope our Mayor may emulate his example some day.

It will profit our readers to peruse the History of Plainfield, by Howard G. Lapsley, now being presented in serial form in this paper.

Good afternoon, any more gubernatorial timber in sight?

President's Appeal

Washington, March 27.—The following, an appeal in connection with the floods in the Middle Western States, was issued yesterday by President Wilson:

"The terrible floods in Ohio and Indiana have assumed the proportions of a national calamity.

"Loss of life and the infinite suffering involved prompts me to issue an earnest appeal to all who are able, in however small a way, to assist the labors of the American Red Cros to send contributions at once to the Red Cross at Washington or to the local treasurers of the society.

"We should make this a common cause.

"The needs of these upon whom this sudden and overwhelming disaster has come should quicken everyone capable of sympathy and compassion to give immediate aid to those who are laboring to rescue and relieve.

"WOODROW WILSON."

RELIEF FUND.

Contributions for the relief of the flood sufferers will be received by the Daily Press. Subscriptions already received are acknowledged on first page today.

FRATERNAL VISIT.

Fifty-five members of the Plainfield Aerie, No. 866, F. O. E., accompanied by the Life and Drum Corps, were the guests last night of Elizabeth Aerie, No. 667, who gave an elaborate reception and ball in Turn Tall, High street, Elizabeth.

MODERN BRIDGE FOR WASHINGTON ROCK ROAD

The Somerset County Board of Freeholders at a meeting Pfeister's Hotel on Somerset street, today, decided that in view of the action of the Legislature in passing the bill to set apart the Washington Rock section as a park, to replace the wooden bridge on the Washington Rock road, with an iron beam and concrete top structure. The new bridge will cost approximately $800 and it will be 12x20, four feet wider than the present bridge.

The freeholders also authorized repairs to the bridge on the upper end of Grove street, north of Greenbrook road. The contract price for the new wing walls to be built on the West End avenue bridge is $980. Mobus Brothers have the contract. The borough has agreed to make the fill.

BAD COLORED BOYS.

Fortune Sweeney, aged 10; John Sweeney, 14, and Henry Richardson, 11, all coolred, of West Third street, a rrested on charges of larceny, were arraigned before City Judge De Meza this morning who committed all to the county jail to await the next term of the Juvenile Court. The Sweeney brothers have been arrested over a dozen times on similar charges within the past three months.

—A great deal of today's "Good luck" is going to attach itself to those who read and investigate Press want ads.

HISTORY OF PLAINFIELD
—BY—
Howard G. Lapsley

(Third Instalment)

Indian Trail.

Before the coming of the white man an Indian trail ran through Plainfield from the Hudson to the Delaware River. This trail was converted into the main stage line road between New York and Philadelphia.

Grist Mill and Meeting House.

By 1760 a grist mill had been built on Greenbrook near Watchung avenue and by 1788 the Friends' Meeting House was built on the same street. These two magnets of trade and religion were the nucleus of the village.

Milltown.

At this time the village acquired the name of Milltown, New Market was called Quibbletown and New Brooklyn, Towtown; mail was delivered through the postoffice at Scotch Plains.

Postoffice.

On April 1st, 1800, a postoffice was established here and by this recognizance of Uncle Sam, Plainfield may be said to have been officially born.

Originally Plainfield marked the limit of Elizabeth township, Essex county. In 1794 Westfield township was made separate so in 1800 Plainfield was part of Westfield. A monument showing the Essex county line is standing at the end of the trolley line on the Plainfield Country Club grounds.

From the establishment of the postoffice here, the growth of the place was rapid and prosperous as the following description in Gordon's Gazateer published in Philadelphia in 1834, will show:

Plainfield In 1834.

"Plainfield—A large and thriving village of Westfield Township, Essex County, on Green Brook, the line between that and Somerset County, 65 miles from Philadelphia, 45 miles from Trenton, 20 miles southwest from Newark, 16 miles from Elizabethtown, 25 from New York and 11 northeast from New Brunswick, on a plain of very level land between 2 and 3 miles wide and about 11 long. Contains 1 Presbyterian, 1 Baptist and 1 Methodist church, 2 Friends' Meeting Houses (Hicksite and Ortho dox), 2 Grist Mills, 1 Saw Mill, 4 stores, 3 schools, 2 clergymen, 1 lawyer, 2 physicians, 2 taverns, 13 master hatters who manufacture about $75,000 worth of hats annually, 5 master tailors employing 70 hands who work for the southern market, a fire engine and company, a mutual insurance company established in 1832, which in a few months executed policies to the amount of more than $150,000, a Ladies' Library, an Apprentices' Library, a four-horse mail stage to N. Y. 3 times a week, and as often to Philadelphia, on alternate days runs through the village. The country around the town is rich, well cultivated and healthy, the water good and the society moral and religious and ambitious of improvement, the neighboring mountains about a mile north of the town afford an abundant supply of cheap fuel and screens the valley from the violence of the north and northwest winds and gives a very pleasing prospect to the S. and E. over a space of 30 miles."

The development of Plainfield from a farming community to a place of some commercial importance was due to the hat making industry started here in 1808 by John Wilson. With the gradual decrease of the hat making trade here, Plainfield received a temporary stop to its progress.

First Newspaper.

On January 12, 1837, the first issue of the "Plainfield Union and General Advertiser" appeared, published by a committee every Thursday morning in the village of Plainfield, opposite the Post Office, Jacob Overacre being printer and editor." Unfortunately this weekly gives us more national news than it does local news.

In an editorial under date of May 18, 1837, on the "State of Society," we find "The present period is emphatically the time which tries men's souls, mutual confidence in matters of commercial interest is about expiring." For several years times were very hard, special payments stopped and the editor of Plainfield's first newspaper had a hard time keeping afloat.

On August 24, 1837, this advertisement appeared:

"Reduced Fare
By Stage and Steamboat
From Plainfield to New York for only 5 Shillings
By Swift sure Mail Line."

In September of the same year the fare was reduced to 3 shillings. These reductions of tariff forecasted the end of the stage road. The steam railroad was beginning to revolutionize transportation.

EXTENSION CLUB'S BANQUET TONIGHT

Over Ninety Members of Y. M. C. A. Boys' Dept. Will Attend Closing Affair.

Over ninety members of the Y. M. C. A. boys' department are expected to attend the Extension Club dinner planned by the boys' secretary, C. William Bingeman, for tonight and the affair will probably be the largest ever conducted under the auspices of the local association boys' department. Mr. Bingeman has planned for a dinner and it will be served by the Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A.

James E. McClymont will act as toastmaster and he wil introduce the following speakers: E. C. Ostlin, physical director of the Y. M. C. A.; J. M. Clinton, who is home on a furlough from China, will tell "What It Means to Help the Other Fellow;" H. S. Park, of the New Jersey State Committee, who will give a "Hello" from the organization which he represents; Charles H. Line, formerly assistant physical director of the local Y. M. C. A. and now a student at the International Y. M. C. A. Training School, who will make the presentation speech to the "Harvard team," winner of the College League contest; Herbert E. Parker, general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., who will make the presentation speech to the victorious "Iroquois team" of the Indian League contest; William D. Murray, president of the local Y. M. C. A., who will tell "How Boys Can Help the New Building;" Charles R. Scott, State Secretary of boys' work in New Jersey, who will speak on the activities in the "New Jersey Boys' Camp," of which a number of local boys are familiar having attended it at one time or another.

Clarence Krausse, captain of the "Harvard team," winner of the College league race, will accept the cup presented to his team and Joseph Angerbauer will serve in a like capacity, being captain of the winning team in the Indian League.

MR. AND MRS. YERKES CHARMING HOSTS

Delightful Dance Given for Their Daughter at the Park Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yerkes, of Central avenue, gave a delightful dance at the Park Club, last night for their daughter, Miss Anna Scott Yerkes, and five schoolmates, who are guests of Miss Yerkes during the Easter vacation. They are Miss Margaret Heald, of South Weymouth, Mass.; Miss Mildred Greene, of Cohoes, N. Y.; Miss Martha Cobb, of Rockland, Maine; Miss Emily Lee, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Miss Charline Baker, of Los Angeles, Cal.

The guests, together with Miss Yerkes were students at Dana Hall, Wellsley, Mass., and they spent last summer traveling through Europe. Last night's affair was somewhat in the nature of a reunion. In all there were nearly 100 guests at the dance, including a number from out of town.

The dancing began about 8:30 and continued until 2 o'clock this morning. During an intermission about 11 o'clock refreshments were served. The club was attractively decorated for the affair by Stanley, the florist. Yellow was the predominating color, palms and jonquils being used with good effect.

COUNTESS MONTIGNOSO DENIES NEWSPAPER STORIES; COULD BE HAPPY IN AN ATTIC IF SHE HAD HER SON

The Countess Montignoso has denied most emphatically the fantastic stories of her affairs published recently in European newspapers. The Countess, who is living quietly at Brussels, has regained her health and attractive appearance and looks young, as she is no longer disturbed by her husband, being legally separated from him.

The Countess declared she has not written a word of the libretto of her husband's opera, has no intention of retiring to a castle in Austria or a convent in Italy; has not tried to commit suicide, has not been received again into the Church and has come to Florence only to see her boy.

"According to the newspapers," she went on, "I have committed suicide five times, been married ten times in two years—to an Italian officer, to a Florence engineer, to a French aviator, to an American millionnaire, to an Austrian count, to a professor of philology, to a Polish count, to a tenor, to a Russian nobleman and to a German lawyer.

The Countess Montignoso was the Princess Louise of Saxony, wife of the Crown Prince, when she was divorced by him in February, 1903. He has since succeeded to the throne of Saxony. There are six children, three sons and three daughters, the youngest of whom, Princess Anna Monica, was born in May, 1903, after her mother's rupture with the Crown Prince. The title of Countess Montignoso was given to the Princess after the divorce. In 1907 she was married to Enrico Toselli, a pianist. She obtained a legal separation from him.

NO WORD RECEIVED BY RELATIVES HERE

Plainfielders Fail to Hear from Their Kin in the Stricken Districts.

Frederic Harrington, of 1060 Central avenue, has as yet received no word from his wife, who is in Dayton, and his daughter, Miss Helen Harrington, who is visiting in Indianapolis. He is hoping that they had timely warning of the awful floods and were able to reach places of safety. Mr. Harrington has been making every possible effort to get to touch with his family, but owing to the fact that telegraph and telephone wires are down all communication is practically cut off. There is a possibility, however, that they may be able to get letters through and Mr. Harrington is anxiously looking in every mail for a letter.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark A. Price, of 29 Sandford avenue, who have many relatives throughout Ohio and Indiana, are also anxiously waiting for some word. Every effort thus far made by Mr. Price to get in communication with relatives has failed. Mr. Price's father, I. C. Price, resided on West Second street, Dayton, near the Third street bridge, which was swept away by the flood. Mrs. Price's brother, J. H. Fulmer, resides in Indianapolis, but she feels certain that he is outside of the flood zone. It is also hoped that Mr. Price's father reached a place of safety.

Miss Marie Kenney, of Dayton, who is visiting her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Gesswein, continues to feel alarmed owing to inability to get word from her relatives at home.

It was learned yesterday that the Hamilton branch of the Niles-Bement-Pond Company is under fifteen feet of water and of course work has been suspended. The plant is located along the river at Hamilton.

DINNER PARTY ON HIS 72ND BIRTHDAY

Dr. J. H. Buchanan Entertains in Honor of His Venerable Sire.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Hervey Buchanan, Duer street, the borough, gave a ner at their home at 1 o'clock this ernoon in honor of Dr. Buchanan's her, Rev. Dr. J. C. Buchanan, who is celebrating the seventy-second anniversary of his birthday today. The guests, neighbors and intimate friends, include W. H. Bishop, of Pemberton, who is exactly the same age as Dr. Buchanan, whom the latter likes to refer to as his twin-brother.

Among those present in addition to members of the family were J. H. Van Winkle, Sr., J. V. N. Willis, Andrew Love, Sr., Thomas S. Armstrong, Rev. William E. Honeyman, V. W. Coriell, A. L. Force, Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, and W. H. Bishop. Following the dinner the afternoon was spent in a social way, Dr. Buchanan having provided a program of music.

Rev. Dr. Buchanan is one of the oldest Baptist ministers of the State. During his active ministry he held pastorates at Scotch Plains and Pemberton, being very successful in both charges. He was also for many years prominent in the State Baptist Association, being an officer and member of important committees.

FLAMES FOLLOW FLOOD

partment this morning, and it was a request from Governor Cox asking that pontoons be sent to Dayton. The War Department is rushing food and tents and it has also provided medical supplies.

President Wilson has determined to go to the flood district if his presence there can do any good. He will await word from Secretary Garrison who is now on the way and then decide whether he will join the succoring party.

After the conference with President Wilson the Secretary of War announced that the War Department would go the limit in measures of relief regardless of expense or legislation. Money will be expended and Congress will be asked to reimburse.

Secretary of War Garrison, Major General Leonard Wood and a number of other high army officials left Washington at 3 o'clock this afternoon on a spcial train over the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway for the flooded districts of Ohio.

Surgeon General Blue, of the United States Public Health Service, left Washington today for the flood district to take personal charge of the Federal medical officers rendering assistance to the distressed people of Indiana and Ohio.

Flood reports received by the Weather Bureau today were reassuring and indicated that the water in the Ohio River will not reach high enough today to cause any fresh disaster. The most reassuring news was that the Ohio River at Pittsburgh was about stationary, having reached a stage of 28 feet, which is six feet above the flood stage, and 9 feet, 7 inches higher than twenty-four hours ago. At Cincinnati the river is still rising, having reached a stage of 67 feet, 2 inches, and it was predicted that a 60 foot stage would be reached. The flood stage is 50 feet. The greatest rise in the last twenty-four hours occurred at Louisville, Kentucky, where the river rose 11 feet, 1 inch. The Mississippi River at Memphis showed a slight rise, but still has two and one-half feet to go before reaching flood level. At Vicksburg, Mississippi, the river is eight feet below flood level. A warning was sent to Wheeling, West Virginia, of a 52 foot river stage by midnight tonight. The flood stage is 36 feet.

New York, March 27.—President W. C. Brown, of the New York Central lines, this morning issued the following statement: "No further reports of importance from Dayton, Ohio, or other points in the flooded district were received this morning, except that there were no lights in the city during the night, making relief work practically impossible. Advices just received from Cleveland are that there has been rain and snow during the night there and throughout that section of the country. We have organized a force large enough to push the work of repair on the Big Four lines in Ohio, with the utmost speed as soon as the water goes down enough to permit the work to begin. In the meantime orders have been issued by our lines in Ohio and Indiana to transport free all relief supplies to Dayton and the other affected points."

The Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies announced this morning that they were unable to reach Chicago without delay on account of the storms, and that there had been practically no change in conditions in the west from yesterday, with the exception that occasional interruptions of the wire lines were reported in West Virginia and Kentucky.

$12,177 IN N. Y. FOR RELIEF.

New York, March 27.—Mayor Gaynor this morning received contributions of $10,000 from J. P. Morgan & Co.; $1,000 from R. G. Dun & Co., and other amounts up to a total of $12,177 for the relief of flood sufferers in the west.

NOT SO SERIOUS AT PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, March 27.—It is believed that the Alleghany River is now close to its crest, and at the worst it is not expected to go six inches higher. The water this morning had reached 28 feet, 2 inches. A drop of from 20 to 30 degrees in temperature is expected before midnight and this should help to quell the flood. A light snow is falling, and the temperature dropped nine degrees before noon.

Sharon, Penn., March 27.—That fifty persons have lost their lives in the flood of the Shenango River here is the report today.

CLOUDBURST AT READING.

Reading, Pen., March 27.—There were several cloudbursts in this section this morning. The Schuylkill River has risen two feet.

RISING WATERS IN NEW YORK AND CONN.

Albany, N. Y., March 27.—Business houses along the Hudson River front, in Troy, have been damaged by high water.

Glenns Falls, N. Y., March 27.—With bridges and small dams washed away the dam at Spier Falls, the biggest in the Adirondacks is danger, water swept away 150 feet of the International Paper Company's dam at Corinth. The company shut down its mill.

Rochester, N. Y., March 27.—The Genessee River is higher than at any time since 1902 and is rising rapidly. Many local industries have been forced to close.

Springfield, Mass., March 27.—The Connecticut River, which for the past two days has been steadily rising, reached a height of sixteen feet from low water mark this afternoon. The water is increasing at the rate of a foot an hour and already the farming and lowlands of Chicopee, North Chicopee and West Springfield are submerged.

FUNERAL OF DENYS DROIN.

The funeral service of Denys Droin, aged 68 years, who died at Muhlenberg Hospital yesterday from strangulation of the hernia, will be held at the late residence, 11 Codington avenue, Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

CORKING ENTERTAINMENT.

An entertainment will be given tomorrow night in the Park Club under the auspices of the Holy Cross Episcopal church. The Montanillis Venetian Quartette, vocal and instrumental artists, John F. Dillon, humorous songster and recitationist, and Frederick W. Dunworth, a magician, are on the bill.

YOUNG PEOPLES' SOCIAL.

The Young Peoples' Society of the Congregational Sunday school will conduct a book social in the church parlors tomorrow evening at 7:45 o'clock.

THE TEMPERATURE.

The temperature report from the State Trust Company today is as follows: 9 a. m., 68 degrees; 11 a. m., 67 degrees; 1 p. m., 62 degrees.

Miss Marjorie Hart, of the borough, who underwent an operation at Muhlenberg Hospital for appendicitis, is reported as doing well.

The Solemn Englishman.

An Englishman in New York got in a car and sat opposite to a lady who had a very peculiar looking child in her arms. An awfully funny looking kid it was, and the man could not keep his eyes away from it. He would look at it, look away and then look back again, absolutely fascinated by it. It was so ugly.

Finally the mother became very much annoyed over the man's rudeness and leaned over and said to him, "Rubber!"

A look of relief came over the Englishman's face as he exclaimed:

"Thank heaven, madam. I thought it was real."—New York American.

DAUGHTER OF PROMINENT RAILROAD MAN TO MARRY.

MISS BESSIE F. YOAKUM.

One of the most interesting engagements of the year has just been announced. It is that of Miss Bessie F. Yoakum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Yoakum, of New York city, to Mr. Francis R. Larkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Larkin, also of New York.

Miss Yoakum's father is chairman of the Frisco lines and one of the leading railroad executives of the country. The members of his family have taken an active part in social affairs during the years they have lived in New York. His daughters, the other being Mrs. Paulding Fosdick, became popular there at once, and their beauty and engaging personality caused them to be much sought after as guests at leading entertainments.

No date has been set for Miss Yoakum's wedding, but it is likely to take place this spring.

Mr. Larkin was graduated from Princeton in 1911, being an honor man of that class.

Miss Yoakum is fond of outdoor life. She plays tennis and golf and is a good rifle shot. She spends a good deal of time at her father's place in San Antonio, Texas, and at the great King ranch in the southern part of that State with her friends, the Kleberg family. She was there only a few months ago and when there her friends read in the newspapers how she was attacked by wild hogs when on a shooting trip and had killed five as they were closing in on her.

MRS. LYDIG TO ENTER WESTERN SANITARIUM

MORE MEAT ANIMALS IS DEMAND OF HOUSEWIVES.

League Starts Campaign Against High Food Prices.

The National Housewives league, satisfied that the present high price of meat is due, in part at least, to an actual shortage in the supply of meat animals, has undertaken an educational campaign among eastern farmers to persuade them to raise cattle for food consumption. Mrs. Julian Heath of New York, president of the league, was enthusiastic in discussing the plans of the league to provide a food supply.

Mrs. Heath wired to Arthur G. Leonard, president of the Union Stock Yards company, in Chicago, asking the cause for the increase in the prices of meats. Mr. Leonard wired back:

For the period since Jan. 1 as compared with the same period of 1912 there has been a total decrease in the receipts at Chicago of 646,000 meat animals of every type, amounting to an aggregate of 200,000,000 pounds.

Mr. Leonard further explained the shortage on the ground that a large amount of range country was annually being cut into small farms and made unsuitable for the raising of cattle. He said the annual shortage had been increasing for seven years, and it would take a similar period of time to build the cattle industry up to a point where there could be a reduction in prices.

Mrs. Heath said:

"If we can persuade the farmers to raise enough meat animals to supply the local demand then the dealers could procure their whole stock from local sources and would be free from the influence of the packers, and the dealers would be glad to do this if they could feel assured that a sufficient supply would be forthcoming. The farmers should be glad to co-operate because of the profit which would accrue to them, and the Housewives' league would co-operate by buying none but home raised meat."

NARROW TROUSERS DICTUM.

"Sausage Suit" Is Decree of Clothes Cutters.

The "sausage suit" remains in vogue, only tighter. This is the law of fashion given forth at the garment exhibit of the Custom Cutters' club at its semiannual meeting held recently in New York. This is the edict of the city's tailors, from the "club plan" nine dollar man to the most exclusive Fifth avenue shop. Only the Adonis-like will hail the new styles with elation.

The coats will be shorter and shapeless. The shoulders will be narrow and without padding. The lapels will be peaked and the coat fronts without stiffening. The trousers, too, will be even tighter. The more fashionable will be narrower at the knee and will have a spring at the foot. For afternoon wear the striped trouser has been resurrected after six years of desuetude. Vests will be cut high and will have a notched collar. English homespun promises to be a popular material, and the prevalent colors will be striped blues, fancy brown stripes and plain gray flannel effects. More Norfolk jackets will be worn this summer than have been worn before.

CAPTURES A REAL CHIGWERI.

First Specimen of Wonderful Animal Brought to United States.

The Brazil Lloyd steamer Germanicus arrived in New York recently from South American ports with the cabins filled with stuffed animals, birds and snakes of all kinds which had been collected by Captain Berndt, who is an amateur taxidermist and naturalist. His collection included a specimen of the golden headed umti-amma of the Amazon and the whistling chigweri of the upper Orinoco.

The latter is held in such awe by the Warooma Indians above Arturo's falls on the Orinoco that they—the Waroomas, not the chigweris—give away all their possessions and take to the woods when they hear their mournful note—the chigweris', not the Waroomas'—at night.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

FASHION HINT

By JUDIC CHOLLET

Young girls always admire jaunty little coats like the one shown today. They suit their needs and are becoming. The coat illustrated, together with the smart plaited skirt, is one of the newest spring models for young girls and small women.

The coat is made with slightly overlapping cutaway fronts and a pretty back that is plain on one side and overlapped at the other. The material is dark brown velvet, and the skirt worn with the coat is of satin the same shade and plaited by machine.

This costume is very attractive for afternoon calling, and it makes a fine suggestion for between seasons wear. Later on, in place of the velvet coat, satin or silk could be used for the entire costume, with coat collar and cuffs of a contrasting fabric. Ratine or the new zigzag cloth would be an appropriate selection.

For the sixteen-year-old size the coat requires three and one-quarter yards of material twenty-seven inches wide, with one-half yard of fifty-two inch material for collar and cuffs. The skirt without the yoke takes five yards of twenty-seven inch goods and with yoke five and three-quarter yards.

These May Manton patterns are cut in sizes for the skirt for girls of fourteen, sixteen and eighteen years of age and for the coat for sixteen and eighteen years. Send 10 cents each for the patterns, giving numbers, skirt 7687 and coat 7705, and they will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

GRAPEFRUIT A LA MODE.

DAINTY desserts should add attractiveness to lenten meals. Grapefruit served in pleasing styles will be welcomed in spite of the fact that it is a fruit that is almost always with us.

Dainty Tidbits.

Grapefruit Sherbert.—Take firm, sweet grapefruit, cut out the part containing the seed. Squeeze the juice out of the pieces and add the juice of one or more grapefruit. Make a sirup of three cupfuls of sugar, one quart of water and juice of one lemon. Cool and add to the grapefruit juice so that it makes about two cupfuls of juice. Add a wineglassful of sherry and freeze as you would any other water ice. Serve on the half grapefruit, placing one cherry on each.

Grapefruit Jelly.—Dissolve a tablespoonful of powdered gelatin in a cupful of boiling water. Stir in three heaping tablespoonfuls of sugar, four cupfuls of grapefruit pulp and juice, three tablespoonfuls of sherry and one tablespoonful of lemon juice. Cut preserved or candied cherries in slices to form rings, dip the rings of cherry in the grapefruit mixture. Put them into a mold; then fill the molds with grapefruit mixture. Put the grapefruit into molds a little at a time so the pieces of fruit will not settle to the bottom.

A Delicious Salad.

Grapefruit Salad.—Take two cupfuls of grapefruit, one cupful of quartered oranges, one cupful of almonds, one-quarter cupful of French salad dressing and one-half cupful of whipped cream. Cut the grapefruit in halves, save the skins to use as cups in serving. Line the skins with lettuce or parsley, allowing the greens to drop over the cups. Blanch and split the almonds. Cut the oranges and grapefruit in small pieces. Mix all together, marinate with French dressing, fill cups and place a spoonful of whipped cream on top of each.

Grapefruit Cocktail.—Take a chilled grapefruit and cut it in halves. With a sharp knife take out the seeds and cut out each section of fruit. Serve the pulp with the juice in dainty glasses. Two teaspoonfuls of sugar and one tablespoonful of sherry may be added to each glass.

Another way is to take grapefruit juice, lemon and orange in equal proportions. It is then sweetened to taste, flavored with maraschino and diluted just before serving with water and served in glasses with some of the grapefruit pulp and a maraschino cherry.

MOTHERS' WORK

Conducted by the Plainfield Mothers' Association. Every Thursday

Contributing Staff.
Mrs. G. Stuart Simons, Mrs. Jos. Smith, Mrs. Wm. M. Sandford, Jr.

The Daily Press for Thursdays containing the column on Mother's Work will be sent by mail for one dollar a year, in advance.

The purest thing I know in all earth's holding,
Is mother-love, her precious child enfolding;
Yet when the Mother's footstep feeble groweth,
As sweet the child love then, which round her floweth.
—M. M. TUCKER.

Trenton Council.

The date of the State Council of the Mothers' Congress and Parent-Teacher Associations to be held at Trenton has been changed to Saturday, April 5, and the place of meeting from the Prospect Street Presbyterian church to the Gregory School. Delegates from Plainfield will take the 8:45 a. m. train, arriving in Trenton at 9:38 a. m. Returning they will leave Trenton on the 4:26 p. m. train, arriving in Plainfield at 5:17 p. m. Changing cars at Trenton Junction both going and coming. Each delegate is asked to bring a box luncheon. The fare for the round trip is $1.65.

Open Air Crusaders.

A revised and enlarged edition of this book by Sherman C. Kingsley with new pictures and the latest information in regard to open air schools is now ready for distribution. Price, postpaid, sixty cents. Apply to the Elizabeth McCormick Memorial Fund, 315 Plymouth Court, Chicago, Illinois.

March Aftermath.

The Mothers' Association met on March 13 to hear Dr. J. J. Savitz, superintendent of Union county schools.

The Bryant Parent-Teacher Association met on March 5 to hear Dr. Stelle on "The Care of the Teeth."

The Lincoln Parent-Teacher Association met on March 6 to hear H. C. Krebs, superintendent of Somerset Schools, on "Ventilation."

The High School Parent-Teacher Association held an "Acquaintance Party" on March 3.

The Dunellen Parent-Teacher Association elected its officers, adopted a constitution and listened to an address by H. C. Krebs on "Child Training," on the afternoon of March 18.

Higher Salaries.

Prof. Meeker, of Princeton University, states that schools today are too much occupied in imparting stereotyped information and blames them for the great prevalence of contagious diseases, physical defectiveness, immorality, etc. Most of these evils he says can be eradicated by weeding out incompetent teachers, doubling the teaching force, providing adequate medical inspection, consolidating rural schools and encouraging more sympathetic relations between the home and the school.

Bad buildings with good teachers will give far better results than good school houses with poor teachers. As to teachers, what inducement is there for a person of quality—the mental, moral and physical quality the teacher of your child should have—to go into school work? Will the $60 per month, after several years hard study and money expenditure, for at most ten months of the year, attract her more than the $25 per week of the trained nurse, or the $25 per week of the secretary for 52 weeks of the year? We are getting the best teachers we can for the salaries.

Dr. Calvin Kendall, commissioner of education in New Jersey, in his recent recommendations for the betterment of the schools, asks for higher salaries for teachers first of all that the standards of efficiency be not only maintained but raised.

Roselle P. T. Ass'n.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Chestnut Street School of Roselle, has recently joined the New Jersey Congress of Mothers with a membership of 150.

Wm. D. Murray, of this city, on the afternoon of March 18 repeated to the Roselle parents and teachers the inspiring address given by him to Crescent avenue parents in January, on "Home Training of Children."

The president of the Board of Education was also present and laid before the association the plans for a new school building, as well as other school matters.

"CURLY HEADED ANGEL" NOW A REAL ARTIST'S MODEL

Fearing that the "Curly Headed Angel" had fallen from his east side paradise and perhaps moved to Tim buctoo or some inaccessible mundane precinct, but even more alarmed lest a tonsorial artist had practised his trade on the "angel" and scissored his locks Miss Dewing Woodward, a painter of children, with a studio in New York city, advertised as follows in one of the papers there:—

INFORMATION Wanted. — Address of small boy known as "Curly Headed Angel" in neighborhood 78th st. and East River. DEWING WOODWARD 132 East 19th st.

It seems Miss Woodward noticed the little fellow while he was leading a band of youngsters through one of the busy streets of the metropolis. His wonderful red golden curls, beautiful gray eyes and cute ways so attracted the artist that she attempted to secure him as a model. He was gone, however, before she could reach him, and so she advertised.

N. P. H. S. NINE IS BEING WEEDED OUT

First Game of the Season but Two Weeks Off—Fourteen Players in the Race.

Preliminary baseball practice at North Plainfield High School is nearing its conclusion and the large squad of candidates has been weeded out until only fourteen remain. These few present the best available material and Captain Dunning says that the borough school will be represented by one of the best aggregations it has had in years. Last year no coach was procured for the team but this fault has been remedied this season and George Webster and Benjamin Phelps have been giving up much of their time toward rounding the team into shape.

N. P. H. S. will once more have Hyde Oval as its home grounds and Manager Spencer has arranged a stiff schedule of games with twelve of the nineteen games being played at home. Those who are still in the race for positions on the team are Carroll Taylor, Ashley Burner, Warren Townley, David Levitz, Clarence Roddy, Duclos Van Mater, Ralph Smalley, Newton Spencer, Raymond Parsh, Ronald Conroy, Edson Day, George Townley and Frank Dunning, who is captain of the team.

The opening game of the season will be played at Hyde Field Saturday afternoon, April 5, when the team lines up against the representatives from New Brunswick High School.

CENTRAL LEAGUER IN NEW WOOLENS

Mason, of High Bridge, Joins Paterson Interstate League Team.

John Mason, who was until recently considered a permanent fixture as catcher for the High Bridge Central New Jersey Baseball League aggregation, has signed with the Paterson team, of the recently formed New York-New Jersey Interstate League. Mason was recommended to the league manager by Frank Bruggy, the former Bound Brook player, who is now being given a tryout with the Lawrence team, of the New England League, and the silk city manager jumped at the opportunity to garner him to do the backstop work.

The Paterson team is looming up to be one of the strongest teams on the league circuit and although Mason will have several good players to fight against, fans who have seen him work expect to see him make good. He has played with the North Ends, Elizabeth A. A., Lakesides, All Stars, Liberty A. C., of Linden; High Bridge, of the Central New Jersey League, when that organization was in operation two years ago, and several other classy aggregations. Mason probably played his best game with High Bridge in the league race two years ago, when he not only caught well but did some fine hitting. He also caught several games for the Elizabeth trolleymen's team, which made a splendid showing last season in the Elizabeth Public Service League. Mason will try for the position of catcher, but if he fails to land this berth he will go after an outfield position. He is not altogether unaccustomed to garden playing, as he has filled in on several different occasions when he was not in condition to catch owing to injury or illness.

FINAL STANDING OF TEAMS AND INDIVIDUALS IN Y. M. C. A. BOYS' DEPARTMENT FOR WHICH AWARDS ARE MADE TONIGHT

Activities in the Y. M. C. A. boys' department will come to a grand climax tonight when the Extension Club will be entertained at a banquet planned by Secretary C. William Bingeman and served by the Women's Auxiliary of the association. This club was formed two months ago and now has an active membership of over ninety, all of which will be entertained at the banquet tonight. The object of the organization was to raise money by subscription to aid in the support of the local association's representative in the South American missionary fields and for the State Boys' Work.

The organization has been a complete success in every sense of the word and Mr. Bingeman is tendering the banquet tonight as an appreciation for the work done so earnestly by the boys of the junior department. In connection with the Extension Club's affair Mr. Bingeman will take this opportunity to award the individual and team prizes to the members and teams in the boys' department that have been conducting an all around campaign during the winter term. In the race for the team trophy, the Harvard team, of the College league, is the winner and will be presented with a silver loving cup at the banquet tonight as an award for the faithful work accomplished in basketball, athletics, attendance and membership campaign. Harvard came out ahead with a total of 3,704 points to its credit and Princeton came next with 3,019.

The members of the Harvard team will have their names engraved on the trophy and Clarence Krausse, the captain of the team, will be called to accept the cup when it is presented by Charles H. Line, formerly assistant physical director of the Plainfield Y. M. C. A., tonight. Krausse will have a double honor thrust upon him as he is the champion individual point garnerer totaling 694 points during the season. For this he will receive a ribbon.

Indian Leaguers conducted a similar competition in which the Iroquois team came out ahead with 4,936 points to its credit. George King was the winner of first place in the all around individual point scoring in the organization and will be honored with a ribbon also tonight.

A complete summary of the season's work done in the Y. M. C. A. boys' department follows:

THE ONE TIME PRESIDENT AND HIS DAUGHTER PHOTOGRAPHED WHILE PLAYING GOLF ON THE LINKS AT AUGUSTA, GA.

MR. TAFT ON THE LINKS OF THE AUGUSTA COUNTRY CLUB

(RIGHT TO LEFT) MISS HELEN TAFT AND MISS KATHERINE DAVIS, WHOM SHE DEFEATED IN A MIXED FOURSOME AT THE AUGUSTA COUNTRY CLUB.

Residents of Augusta, Ga., are vying with one another to make the stay of Mr. and Mrs. Taft and their party a pleasant one, and the entertainments given in their honor were among the most delightful of the season. Luncheons, dinners, suppers at the Country Club and many other events on the social calendar have kept Mr. Taft unusually active, but he has found time for occasional trips to the golf links.

The largest gallery ever seen on the links of the Augusta Country Club followed the finals of the mixed foursome, in which Miss Helen Taft and Mr. R. S. Worthington won by a score of 2 up and 1 to play.

Mr. Taft was playing at the time on the over hill course, and when the first of the throng drew near he eagerly called:—

"Who's leading?"

"Miss Helen," was the response, and her father stopped his own game and joined the crowd following her over the course.

ORTLIEB MAY GO TO NEW ENGLAND CLUB

Twirler Who Has Adorned Local Mounds May Play With Lawrence.

George Ortlieb, the Westfield slab artist, who has on several different occasions occupied the mound for the Plainfield baseball team, and who was given a tryout with the Lawrence team, of the New England League, last year, and failed to make good, will probably be given another chance this season with the same organization. Manager Pieper, of the New England League champions, has been in constant communication with Ortlieb, and it is almost a certainty that the big German will affix his signature to a contract.

Ortlieb is at present employed in an oil milling department at the Singer Sewing Machine factory at Elizabethport, and was looked upon to do most of the twirling for the "Millers" in the Elizabeth Factory Baseball League games this season. Should Ortlieb decide to go to Lawrence for another trial, the Westfield team, of the Central New Jersey Baseball League, that was also dickering for his services, would have to look elsewhere for a moundsman. Ortlieb is a favorite with the fans in this section, where he has pitched ball for a number of years in the Plainfield, Scotch Plains, Bound Brook and Somerville uniforms, always putting up a good article of baseball when he was in the best of condition. Last summer he twirled for Plainfield a number of times and warmed the bench in case Frederickson weakened at a crucial moment on many other occasions. Besides having a good assortment of benders, Ortlieb is a demon with the stick, a quality that not many good pitchers possess.

IS THORPE A FAILURE?

Jim Thorpe will be released by the Giants after the first trip west has been finished, according to a private tip that comes indirectly from Manager McGraw. Thorpe, it is said, is a failure as a ball player, and McGraw hasn't the time to develop him this season. The Indian signed a regular National League contract, in which the usual ten day's notice of release is included. His salary is said to be $6,000 for the season or $1,000 a month, beginning April 10.

"FITZ" GUEST OF HONOR.

Robert Fitzsimmons, former world's champion pugilist and a prominent member of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, who spends part of his time on his farm at Dunellen, will be the guest of honor of the Green Sod Club, of Elizabeth, at a ball to be given at that place tonight. "Ruby" Robert, although he lays claim to no Irish ancestry, will go to the affair bedecked in his finest and is expected to say a few words when called upon by the toastmaster.

N. P. H. S. CLASS MEET.

A meeting of the N. P. H. S. Athletic Association will be held late this afternoon to decide whether or not it would be advisable to promote an Interclass Athletic Meet sometime during the early part of April. Agitation has been rife in the borough school for such a contest and the thing will no doubt become a reality.

QUOITERS PLAY TONIGHT.

Central Lodge, of this city, will entertain Rahway Lodge, A. O. U. W., in a quoit tourney tonight in the local lodge's rooms. Following the match a meeting of the Central Lodge will be held at which all members are requested to be present. Reports of local delegates to the recent grand lodge session held in Atlantic City will be heard.

WESTFIELD TEAM BEING BOLSTERED

Eddie Burke, the Speedy Elizabeth Outfielder, Added to the Fold Yesterday.

Westfield is evidently making preparations to put up a strong fight for the Central New Jersey League pennant this season if signing up of various star players bears any significance. The latest addition to the Mt. Ararat aggregation is Ed. Burke, the T. A. B. S. young outfielder hailing from Elizabeth. Burke has been playing semi-professional baseball on Elizabeth fields for the past three years and is considered one of the most promising little garden protectors playing semi-pro ball in the metropolitan circles. After much dickering the Westfield manager finally managed to get his signature and now it is an assured fact that Burke will wear Westfield woolens this season. He has affixed his John Hancock to Westfield parchment and all that remains to be done is to get him working.

Burke is an unusually heavy clouter and this feature of his work has made him a player much sought for by New Jersey baseball managers. While he will play with the Westfielders Saturday afternoons he will still be retained by the T. A. B. management for Sunday games. Last year his Saturday afternoon ball was played with the Linden A. A.

CARLSTROM PLAYS WELL AT FIRST FOR RED SOX

Albie Carlstrom, the Elizabeth boy who played shortstop for the Plainfield baseball club two years ago and filled in at various times when he was enjoying a leave of absence from his duties on the Lawrence team, of the New England League, has been turned into a first baseman by Jake Stahl, of the Boston Red Sox, with whom he is trying out. The Elizabethan covered the first sack in the game Monday between the Pirates and the Red Sox, which was won by Boston with a score of 7 to 4. Carlstrom had a run, a hit, out of three times at the bat, and eight putouts to his credit.

MEDALS FOR CLASS CHAMPIONS.

It has been voted by the N. P. H. S. class basketball league board of directors to present the junior class five, winners of the league title, with bronze medals instead of a class banner as has been the case heretofore. The committee appointed to select these awards consists of Duclose Van Mater, Frank Dunning and Newton Spencer. The medals will be presented to the victorious aggregation by Principal B. J. Phelps.

GIRL ATHLETES BEHIND COUNT

Members of the North Plainfield High School Girls' Athletic Association will conduct a cake and candy sale at the school tomorrow and Saturday for the purpose of raising funds to meet expenses incurred during the basketball season just closed. Miss Marguerite Woolston is chairman of the sale committee.

CHARLEY D'ESPIES MAY JOIN HARTFORD TEAM

Charles D'Espies, the Central New Jersey Leaguer of two years ago, who was prominent in local baseball circles at that time, is considering an offer to play on the Hartford League Club, of Elizabeth, this season, but is still uncertain as to whether or not he will tie himself up with this aggregation. The manager of the Elizabeth club is still on the heels of the husky backstop, but owing to parental objections and the remunerative he has in the shuttle department of the Singer plant he is not in a position to sign a contract which is still in his possession.

FRESHMEN TRY BASEBALL.

The initial practise of the N. P. H. S. freshman class baseball team was held Tuesday afternoon, with a large number of candidates on hand. Harry Hand is captain of the first year team. If any of the other classes form nines a class league will probably be organized.

—To overlook, day after day, classified ads that were practically written to and for you—that is enough "bad luck" for any one person.

A BIT ROUGH BUT—

When the cave man wanted help or a wife he strode forth, tapped one on the head, and dragged he or she to the tribal habitat.

Civilization has placed certain restrictions and limitations about us which prevent this beautifully simple method.

But it has given us the Press want ad, which costs but a few cents, and no physical effort.

Here are pictured five of the society débutantes of Omaha, Neb., who were in the cyclone which swept that city in its furious rush across the country. Miss Ruth Hammer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hammer, both of whom were severely injured and taken to the hospital, is now assisting in the work of caring for the homeless and injured.

Miss Elizabeth Pickens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pickens, is also aiding the suffering. Mr. Pickens was seriously injured and is in the hospital.

The other young women here pictured have also enlisted in the army of relief workers who are caring for the injured and homeless. They are Miss Caroline Congdon, Miss Dorothy Hall and Miss Daisy Fry.

HOWARD DREW WILL RUN IN LOCAL MEET

Noted Colored Sprinter Promises to Enter the Annual Y. M. C. A. Meet.

Local track and field enthusiasts may be treated to a program of athletic endeavor such as was never before shown in this or nearby cities this summer if the plans of the local Y. M. C. A. materialize. While it was planned to have the annual association meet the Fourth of July as last year, there is a possibility that it will be postponed in order to accommodate some of the world famous stars who have been lined up for the meet.

Among the runners prominent to cinder path followers who has signified his intention of coming to Plainfield as a contestant is Howard Drew, the Olympic star and runner for the Springfield High School. Drew is a personal friend of J. R. Gates, of the Public Service department, who approached him on the subject at the athletic meet conducted under the auspices of the Smart Set Athletic Club in New York, last night in which both Drew and Gates were participants. Drew said that he would positively come to Plainfield on any other date but July 4, and wherever Drew is entered other stars may compete. For this season the Y. M. C. A. meet will undoubtedly be shifted to a later date and the appearance of Drew will therefore be assured. The colored sprinter, who is now the 100-yard champion of America, was the star performer in the special seventy-five yard race last night, starting from scratch and winning the event and the big silver trophy formerly held by the late J. B. Taylor, the University of Pennsylvania colored star.

LOCAL SPRINTERS IN NEW YORK MEET

Jordan and Gates of This City Ran on Fast Relay Team From Orange.

Among the runners on the Imperial relay team, of Orange, which finished third in the Smart Set athletic meet conducted in the Forty-seventh Regiment Armory in New York, last night were Harry Jordon and J. R. Gates, of this city. The event was closed to negro organizations and the team on which the local men ran made an excellent showing against a speedy field of entrants.

The winner of the event was the Smart Set team in the excellent time of 3:46 and the Salem Crescent A. C. was the runner up. The Plainfielders are active members of the Orange organization and are planning to enter several other first class meets in which they hope to make an even better showing. Gates is well known to many Plainfielders having won a number of medals at various meets. He is employed by the Public Service Corporation, in this city. Jordon has always been an ardent follower of the cinder path sport and is also planning for an active season on the turf.

SHORT MEETING.

A short session of the Sunday-school league managers as conducted at the Y. M. C. A. last night, delegates being present from five different organizations. No business was transacted other than looking over the revised code of regulations which were accepted.

PROMINENT BUILDINGS IN THE BUSINESS AND RESIDENTIAL SECTIONS OF OMAHA, WHICH WAS SWEPT BY TERRIFIC CYCLONE CAUSING DEATH AND INJURY TO HUNDREDS

FARNAM STREET, OMAHA'S BUSINESS DISTRICT

OMAHA FIELD CLUB

RESIDENCE OF GEORGE A. JOSLYN

Here are shown scenes picturing some of the most prominent buildings in the city of Omaha, where hundreds of persons were killed and injured in the great cyclone which swept over the west and South. One of the photographs shows a scene in the business district, where a great deal of damage was done. As a result of the storm, from the Omaha Field Club to the Carter Lake Club there is now a wide lane of tangled and smoking wreckage. Many of Omaha's most beautiful homes are now in utter ruins.

FIRST BAPTISTS' PROSPEROUS YEAR

Some Excellent Reports Presented at the Annual Meeting.

HAVE 844 MEMBERS

Trustees' Treasurer Announces That Receipts Approximate $7,746.90—What the Societes Have Done the Past Year.

Reports from the different societies, the election of officers, a fine program of music, together with a social hour and the serving of refreshments were the features of the annual meeting of the First Baptist church last night. Despite the stormy weather the lecture room was filled with members of the church and congregation. Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, the pastor, presided. The business session followed a short devotional service.

Rev. and Mrs. George A. Francis were given letters to unite with the Baptist church at Foxboro, Mass., and Mrs. Anna Caperton and her daughter, Miss Catherine Caperton, were given letters of recommendation to unite with the Presbyterian church of Charleston, W. Va.

John G. MacLaughlin, reporting for the trustees, stated that the receipts for the past year, which, by the way does not end until April, amounted to $7,746.90. There is a balance of about $400 at present. Albert Kennelly, reporting for the budget committee, stated that last year about $7,000 was raised through the envelope system. There has been received 281 pledges thus far for the coming year, including eighteen new ones. Arthur M. Harris, superintendent of the Sunday-school, reported an increase in the membership of 34 over last year, and the receipts of the year were $1,547.91, with a balance of $235.15.

The Men's Conference Bible Class has a membership of 115, with an average attendance of 50, according to the report presented by A. G. Adams. Reference was also made to the organization of the Federation of Men's Bible Classes and the fact that some of the members of the class have joined the church.

Randolph M. Stelle, of the Judson Junior Templars, reported an active membership of 10 and 20 associate. The society sent $10 for mission work in Japan, $5 each to Baptist Board of Missions; $6 each to the home and foreign missionary societies.

Mrs. Lucie Rising, the church missionary, reviewed her work of the year in an interesting report, telling of the organization of a teacher training class and a normal class. She made 2,090 calls and has assisted all departments of the church.

The report of Mrs. B. J. Shreve, secretary of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, showed receipts of $483.46 and in addition $25 was pledged in support of a medical college in Philadelphia. The average attendance at the ten meetings during the year was 26. Every phase of foreign missionary work was discussed.

Mrs. George H. Robins for the Women's Home Missionary Society, reported an average attendance of 30 at each meeting, and through a special effort the membership was increased by nearly 35. The society is supporting a native mission girl, has sent several barrels of clothing, etc., to mission stations, raised $80 as a memorial to Mrs. D. J. Yerkes, to be divided among missions. The total amount raised for the year was $481.94. By the will of Mrs. Caroline Voorhees the society received $100.

The Young Women's Missionary Society, through the secretary, Miss Elizabeth Nash, reported a membership of 81, an increase of 19 for the year. There were contributions to the Baptist Orphanage and 24 dolls were sent to Miss Sara Curry in New York for her work, and in addition money has been contributed to various missionary enterprises. There was raised during the year $485.15, with a present balance of $27.42.

In connection with the report of the Temple Builders, Dr. Strong spoke of plans underway to form a men's missionary society to continue the support for the Yerkes' Chapel in India.

Frank W. Jones, reporting for the deacons, stated that the receipts for the year amounted to $1,107.77, and there is a balance of $119.92. Heber Cubberley, president of the Young People's Society, reported an average attendance of 50 and a plan to double the membership. A typewriter was given to Miss Stella Relyea, a missionary; $5 to the Salvation Army; several Thanksgiving dinners were given and $140 was given to the church for general purposes. The total amount raised was $171.35. Mrs. Arthur M. Harris for the deaconnesses, reported that 80 calls had been made and 25 persons had been prepared for baptism.

An interesting report was that of Oliver B. Leonard, church clerk. He stated the membership a year ago to be 820. During the year 17 were added by letter; 39 on confession and three were restored to membership; 4 erased and 13 died, making the present membership 844. Of the present membership 13 received under first pastorate of Rev. Simeon J. Drake are still living and 531 received under the pastorate of Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes are living, he having baptized 381. Of the membership 238 were received under the pastorate of Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss. During Rev. Dr. Strong's pastorate 62 have been received.

Supplementing the above report, Dr. Strong stated that $1,000 had been given to Dr. Vining's work in India and $500 to Miss Relyer for her work in China. He also spoke of the plan to double the membership of the Bible school to one thousand, making reference to improvements made during the year which included new hymn board, a telephone and the different special services.

In accordance with a suggestion by Dr. Strong it was proposed to hold quarterly business meetings instead of monthly, and to hold the annual meeting in April, the end of the fiscal year. A committee comprising J. Herbert Case, E. L. Bonay and Arthur M. Harris was appointed to report on these changes at the next business meeting.

Dr. Norman H. Probasco was re-elected a deacon for a term of five years; Miss Anna Boice was chosen a deaconness and Lewis Matlack, Sr., was elected a member of the budget committee to succeed William Flanders.

During the evening there were vocal selections by a male quartet from Dr. Probasco's Bible class; cornet selections by Miss Violet Jewell, vocal selections by William Holmes, baritone soloist of the church. Howard M. Case was at the piano. A social hour followed during which women of the church served ice cream and cake.

HYDROPHOBIA FATAL TO THIS LITTLE GIRL

Bound Brook, March 27.—Alice Terhune, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Watson Terhune, of Mountain avenue, died suddenly yesterday following an attack of hydrophobia on Tuesday night. About a year ago the child, while playing on the front porch at her home, was bitten in the face by a strange dog which came along at the time.

The wound, which was slight, was cauterized, and soon healed. No further effects from the wound were experienced until Tuesday night, when the child suddenly developed symptoms of hydrophobia which caused her death.

Rev. T. R. Francis, of Jersey City, will conduct the regular meeting of the Bible class at the German Reformed church tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

PARK AVE. BAPTIST CHURCH FLOURISHES

Great Progress Made During Year is Learned at Annual Meeting.

Reports submitted at the annual business meeting of the Park Avenue church last night showed the church to be in flourishing condition. All branches of church work have expanded noticeably within the past twelve months under efficient supervision and prospects for an even larger and more wide spreading change are bright. Rev. G. R. Maguire, the pastor, presided at the meeting and various committeemen presented their reports.

Statistics showed that all apportionments had been amply provided and a neat balance was left in each instance after the payment of dues. Among the organizations benefitted by the church were the American Baptist Missionary Society, the Home Missionary Society, the Women's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society, Ministers' Missionary Benefit Fund, Women's American Home Societies and the Home for Aged Ministers.

All of the former officers were re-elected to serve in their respective capacities as follows: Deacons, John H. Doane, Louis R. Scofield and William M. Tallman; church clerk, Howard S. Mason; benevolent treasurer, Charles B. Hellyer. Reports from the Sunday school workers showed a large increase in membership. The Ladies' Foreign Missionary Society report showed that the society had increased its annual apportionment from the original $80 to $750.

THE FAILURE TO MAKE A WILL

is often the cause of much unnecessary trouble and expense. This important duty is sometimes deferred because of the difficulty in selecting the right man to act as executor but even if the "right man" be found he may die before the estate is settled and its administration will then pass into the hands of someone appointed by the Court who may or may not be competent and who, of course, will be unfamiliar with the wishes of the deceased.

ELKS MINSTRELS CROWDS THEATRE

Plenty of Applause at Eighth Annual Production of Local Lodge.

FINE STAGE SETTING

Singing the Best Feature—Program is a Varied One—The Performance Will Be Repeated Tonight at 8:15.

Before a packed house, such as always greets an Elks' performance, Plainfield Lodge, No. 885, B. P. O. E., presented its eighth annual minstrel show at the Plainfield theatre, last night. Not only did it please a capacity house, but it was pronounced "the greatest ever" and "the best People on Earth" were given the real thing in the applause line. It wasn't a mere string of ragtime ditties, with cheap "vaudeville" specialties thrown in. It had music, it called for people who could sing rather than chortle, and it had to be, and was acted.

Then to add something original to the show, the chorus sang. This is remarkable. They didn't bing and they didn't bang; and you didn't have to hold on to the arms of your seat to avoid the shock. The chorus of sixty members let its voice emerge and the result was admirable.

Of course a burnt cork performance would not be complete without its rag time and the eighth annual instalment was brimful of this necessary ingredient. Rag time melodies such as savor of the old plantation and its good old times were sung and resung to satisfy the audience.

Genuine interest begins at the rise of the curtain displaying a night at the Dewdrop Inn, of which George O. Stevens is proprietor, and he has hired a troupe of cabaret entertainers to furnish amusement for his guests. The troupe consists of Edward Bennett, Harry Blimm, John Campbell, John Cose, William Firstbrook, Charles Ward and Harry Weber. "When the Midnight Choo Choo Leaves for Alabama" is let loose as the opening chorus, followed by Elmer Cutting's solo, "When I Lost You."

The rest of the program is as follows: Solo, "When You're Married," by John J. Campbell; solo, "Just a Dream of You, Dream," by Bertram F. Tallamy; solo, "There's Hope—I Believe," by Harry W. Weber; solo, "I Want My Man," by Ed Bennett; solo, "Till the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold," by William G. Smith; solo, "I Left Little Heinie Behind," by Charles J. Ward; solo, "In My Harem," by John H. Cose; "Good Resolutions," by Harry Blimm. The musical part of the program is intermixed with an excellent collection of topical side splitting jokes that keep the interest at a high water mark.

Part two is oypened by "Some Quartet," composed of Ed Bennett, Elmer Cutting, Joseph Martin and A. C. Lohrman. "Mirth and Music" is provided by Harry W. Weber and Maximus, the strong man, gives an exhibition of perfect physical development and feats of strength.

UNUSUAL PROSPERITY OF FIRST NATIONAL BANK

The prospecity of the First National Bank is shown by the fact that its surplus fund has recently been increased from $50,000.00 to $100,000.00 and its dividend rate raised to a 10 per cent. basis. The savings department is growing so rapidly that it has become necessary to open a separate department to take care of this branch of the business.

"SHOWER" FOR MISS RINK.

Miss Ethel Rink, of West Fifth street, was given a "kitchen shower" at her home on Wednesday night, in honor of her approaching marriage to William Carkuff, of West Fourth street. Miss Rink was the recipient of a complete kitchen outfit of white enamelware. The evening was spent playing progressive games. A program of vocal and instrumental music was also enjoyed, after which refreshments were served. Miss Rink was assisted by her sister, Miss Stelia Rink, and several friends.

APPROACHING WEDDING.

Invitations have been issued for the approaching marriage of Miss Frances Campbell Zelie, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Sheriden Zelie, to Birney B. Petigrue, to be solemnized at the Crescent Avenue church on Tuesday afternoon, April 15, at 6 o'clock. The ceremony at the church will be followed by a small reception at which only the bridal party and the families of the bride and groom will be present.

TAKES TRENTON GIRL AS BRIDE

Miss Alma Hutchinson Becomes the Wife of Malcolm G. VanArsdale.

A CHURCH CEREMONY

Fashionable Crowd at Elaborate Wedding—Large Reception Follows—Will Reside Here After a Wedding Trip.

Malcolm Guerin Van Arsdale, of Grove street, took as his bride last night, Miss Alma Obert Hutchinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rogers Hutchinson, of Central avenue, Trenton. The ceremony was performed in the Prospect Street Presbyterian church, Trenton, by the Rev. Francis Palmer. A reception was held at the Contemporary club house, Trenton, where over 400 guests congratulated the couple.

The church was profusely decorated with palms and Easter lilies, and the wedding marches were played by Mrs. Stuart Hill. The bride was given away by her father, and looked superbly in a gown of ivory color duchess satin, with court train, trimmed with Duchess lace, pearls and orange blossoms. Her veil, which was of tulle and edged with duchess lace, was caught with orange blossoms and arranged as a Juliet cap, with a white Bird of Paradise. She carried a muff of bride's roses, with a shower of lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor, Mrs. A. C. Van Arsdale, of this city, wore a gown of pink satin de luxe, trimmed with Chantilly lace. There were dainty pink ostrich tips in her hair, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Frances Short, of Glenside, Pa., wore a similar costume, while the bridesmaids wore gowns of blue satin de luxe trimmed with Chantilly lace and had blue maribou aigrettes in their hair. They carried arm bouquets of pink roses. The pink and blue color scheme was particularly Frenchy, and artistic.

The bridesmaids were Miss Helen Weller, of Trenton Junction; Miss Ethel Cook, of Trenton; Miss Mildred Gordon, of Trenton, and Miss Hazel Grearley, of Germantown, Pa.

Miss Cornelia Venker, of Trenton Junction, a cousin of the bride, preceded her, strewing flowers in the path of the bride. She wore a dainty gown of white lace over pink satin, trimmed with forget-me-nots, and carried a basket of pink and white sweet peas tied with pink tulle ribbon.

Arthur C. Van Arsdale, a brother of the bridegroom, was the best man, and the ushers were: Clarence Hand, Marshall Ward and Frank Webster, of this city; G. Fraley Hutchinson, a brother of the bride; B. R. Wright, of Glenside, Pa.; Le Roy McCullough, of Omaha, Neb.; Frederick McClintock, of Cornell University, and H. Le Roy Schafer, of Trenton Junction.

Mrs. Hutchinson, the mother of the bride, wore a handsome gown of flame colored crepe de meteor, trimmed with pearls and real lace. She wore diamond ornaments.

The bride's gifts were beautiful and costly, and she received a large number of pieces of silver, china, cut glass, linen, furniture and rugs. The bridegroom's gift to his bride was a pearl ring, surrounded with diamonds. The bride's gifts to her matron and maids were pearl lavalieres, and the bridegroom's gifts to his best man and ushes were golf scarf pins.

The reception, held at the Contemporary club house, was a most brilliant affair, the pink and blue color scheme being carried out in the decorations in the auditorium, where Mr. and Mrs. Van Arsdale received the congratulations of their guests.

The bride has many friends in Trenton and is a graduate of the State Model and Miss Von Voigtlander's private schools. Mr. Van Arsdale is the son of former Councilman and Mrs. Morris C. Van Arsdale and is connected with the firm of Bacon & Co., of New York.

Following their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Van Arsdale will be "at home" after May 1, at 116 Watchung avenue.

GAVE A DINNER.

Members of the Nonpareil feminine basketball team and their friends were entertained last night by Miss Helen Southard at Scotch Plains. Following a dinner, cards and other games were played. Among the guests were Misses Ida and Helen Hummel, Lucie Douglas, Helen George, Elsie Debelc, Edith Southard, Ruth Dunn; David Clarion, Robert Alison, James MacNamee, William Marsten and Thomas Heron.

FOR FORTY YEARS THEIR SECRETARY

Mrs. B. J. Shreve's Long Services Marked by Presentation of a Jewel.

The anniversary meeting of all the missionary societies of the First Baptist church, held in the lecture room, yesterday afternoon, furnished a delightful surprise to Mrs. Benjamin J. Shreve, who completed her fortieth consecutive year as secretary of the Foreign Missionary Society of the church. Entirely unexpected to her, Mrs. Martin I. Cooley, on behalf of the home and foreign missionary societies, presented Mrs. Shreve with a beautiful pearl brooch set with four diamonds.

In presenting the brooch, Mrs. Cooley recalled the many years of faithful service of Mrs. Shreve and of her devotion to the cause of missions which is so dear to her heart. The affair was such a complete surprise that Mrs. Shreve was scarcely able to make any response. Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, the pastor, conducted the devotional service, Mrs. Reuben Knox, as president of the home society, being in charge. An interesting letter from Mrs. Susan T. Wilson, for many years an active member of the foreign society, now in Denver, unconsciously prepared the way for the presentation to Mrs. Shreve, when she referred to the fact that the latter had completed her fortieth year as secretary, and that Mrs. Alexander Thorn and Mrs. Charles Smith had served the same number of years as collectors for the foreign society. After the meeting, during which the reports of the societies were read, as presented at the annual meeting of the church, Wednesday night, there was a social hour, during which Mrs. Shreve received the congratulations of those present.

Mrs. Arthur M. Harris was in charge of the refreshments, assisted by the Young Women's Missionary Society. Mrs. Francis K. Anderson and Mrs. Gifford Cooley poured tea, and the other young women assisted in serving.

EDWARD DRIVER DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Edwin Driver, aged 61 years, died at his home on Willow avenue, North Plainfield avenue, last night, following a long illness. He had been a resident of the borough for the past ten years and prior to that he was engaged in farming in Washington Valley for twelve years and before that he resided in Jersey City for four years.

Mr. Driver is survived by a wife, a daughter, Miss Florence E. Driver, and a son, Edward O. Driver, and a brother, Russell Driver, of Bridgeport, Conn. The funeral will be held at the late home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. C. C. Cain, of Grace M. E. church, and Rev. Dr. R. S. Campbell will officiate. The burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

IRON WORKER IS HURT; HE FELL FIFTEEN FEET

Peter Ritter, aged 19 years, of Dunellen, employed as an iron worker by the Kennard Iron Company, of this city, in the construction of the new hospital buildings, fell a distance of about fifteen feet inside one of the buildings this morning, fracturing his knee-cap, cutting his forehead and bruising his arm. Ritter landed directly in front of the door leading to the men's ward and it was but the work of a few minutes removing him into the hospital for treatment.

At the time of the accident, Ritter was standing on some bricks which were covered with a light frost. He slipped, lost his balance and fell, landing on the floor of the building fifteen feet below. Ritter's general condition is good and it is believed that he will recover.

EASTER MUSIC REPEATED.

The choir of the Park Avenue Baptist church, Mrs. Russell R. Dorr, organist and musical director, will repeat the Easter anthems, so finely rendered last Sunday, next Sunday, being assisted morning and evening by Mrs. Florence Flournoy, soprano, of New York city.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Minna L. Hille, nee Ringel, and Oliver P. Taw, of New York city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Conrad Blunk, of this city, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. Ringel, 816 Carlton avenue, on Wednesday.

TO REPEAT EASTER MUSIC.

Special music, consisting of the repetition in full of the anthems sung last Sunday, will be given by the First Baptist church choir, Sunday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

FUND FOR VICTIMS

Plainfielders Responding Liberally—$313.25 Received to Date.

The appeal for funds to relieve the suffering of the afflicted in the flood and fire swept Ohio Valley is meeting with a ready response in Plainfield as throughout the country. When the Daily Press offered yesterday morning to receive, acknowledge and transmit to the proper authorities any subscriptions here, Plainfield lost no time in showing its sympathy for the suffering people in a most substantial manner. In yesterday's issue a total of $111.00 was acknowledged and up to 1 o'clock this afternoon $202.25, had been added to that amount, making the sum thus far received $313.25. The relief committees on the scene of the catastrophe appeal for money, rather than for supplies of food, declaring that the latter would be delayed in transit and that with the money the food and other supplies can be purchased more readily and satisfactorily near the scene of the disaster.

The Plainfield Daily Press will send tomorrow noon the money received up to that time to the National Red Cross Society, and therefore we suggest that any who feel inclined to help those suffering thousands send their contributions in cash or by check to this paper before that time, checks to be made payable to the "Plainfield Daily Press, for Flood Relief Fund."

SAUNDERS TO LECTURE ON THE PANAMA CANAL

The members of the Monday Afternoon club are reminded that on Monday afternoon next the meeting will be of an informal nature and will be addressed by Dr. William L. Saunders, who will deliver a lecture on "The Panama Canal" before the club members and their friends at the Hartridge auditorium at 3:15 o'clock. Each member will be privileged to invite two or more of their friends as guests as the lecture promises to be one of unusual interest.

Dr. Saunders has frequently visited the Panama Caal Zone and as he is a personal friend of Col. Goethels and is himself a noted engineer he is enabled to present his subject in a particularly intimate and interesting manner. The talk will be illustrated by some 200 official stereopticon views loaned by the Government for this occasion, and a large papier machee map of the entire zone. Dr. Saunders will distribute among the audience as souvenirs colored aero views of the canal. It is hoped that a large number of the club members and their friends will embrace this opportunity to listen to a lecture of absorbing and thrilling interest, generously presented by a distinguished fellow-townsman, who has made an exhaustive study of the subject under the most favorable conditions. Tea will be served at the close of the lecture.

SAUNDERS ON PANAMA.

A talk on the Panama Canal will be delivered by W. L. Saunders at the Plainfield Business College, Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Professor Herr extends an invitation to the general public to attend. The school assembly room can accommodate about 200 and the business men are particularly invited.

ORGAN RECITAL HELD AT CRESCENT AVENUE

Superb Entertainment, Audience Being Small but Appreciative.

Dr. E. Mettler Davis, organist, gave a public organ recital at the Crescent Avenue church, yesterday afternoon, assisted by the church quartet comprising Miss Lillian Vernon Watt, soprano; Miss Grace J. Carroll, contralto; James R. Richards, tenor, and Gwilyn Miles, bass. While the audience was not as large as hoped for, due to the inclement weather, those present were appreciative of the fine program and the finished manner in which it was presented by both the organist and quartet.

The selections included the cantata, "Penitence, Pardon and Peace," by Maunder. The first number, "Suite," by Bach, by Dr. Davis, was followed with a duet, "Quis Est Homo, (Stabat Mater)," Rossini, by Miss Watt and Miss Carroll, which was given in a pleasing manner. Dr. Davis then gave the familiar "Peer Gynt Suite," by Greig, including "Daybreak," "Ase's Death," and "Anitra's Dance." In both organ numbers ample opportunity was afforded Dr. Davis to show his mastery of the instrument and his true interpretation of the selections.

The rest of the program was devoted to the cantata, in which excellent work was done by the quartet, especially in the tenor and baritone parts, while that of the four voices in unison was all that one could desire. The program was concluded with the "Prelude to Meistersing," by Wagner.

SUFFRAGE LEAGUE LEADERS ORGANIZE

Community is Divided Into Five Districts for Active Campaign.

The newly-appointed district leaders of the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield, met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Champlain L. Riley in the borough, to organize the work for the five election districts of Plainfield and North Plainfield. During the noon hour Mrs. A. B. Jones and Mrs. M. J. Reynolds visited the Watchung Silk Skirt factory to talk to the young women employes on suffrage.

Champlain L. Riley and Mrs. Reynolds spoke on "Votes for New Jersey Women," at Firemen's Hall, Scotch Plains, last night. Mr. Riley recalled some amusing reminiscenses of his boyhood days in Scotch Plains.

Mrs. Frank W. Smith, of Westfield, president of the Woman's Club, gave a suffrage luncheon, at which Mrs. Francis deLacy Hyde, suffrage chairman of Union county, and Mrs. Reynolds, were invited to discuss organization with Westfield women. Later in the afternoon Mrs. Reynolds spoke before the Methodist Literary Society of Westfield, at the home of Mrs. Herbert Welch.

Mrs. Reynolds will speak before the Rasores, of Plainfield, at the home of Mrs. H. R. Halloway, 225 East Seventh street. She will speak Tuesday night at Cranford and Thursday night at Garwood.

JOLLY TIME ENJOYED BY CAMP FIRE GIRLS

The Camp Fire Girls of Plainfield met last night at the Y. W. C. A. for a ceremonial meeting led by Miss Frances Gulick, of New York city, a daughter of Dr. Luther H. Gulick, the founder of the Camp Fire Girls of America. The ceremonies were held around the open fire place and were commenced by Miss Gulick making fire without matches, by rubbing two pieces of wood together. From the sparks made, the fire was lighted by a torch bearer. After the roll call followed the awarding of honors, reception of a new member, conferring of fire maker's rank and camp fire songs. Among other songs Miss Gulick sang "Burn Fire Burn, Flicker, Flicker Flame" and interpreted it with motions.

WATERS NOW RECEDING; FUNDS SORELY NEEDED

Loss of Life in Flood District May Not be as Great as First Reported But Impossible to Total it---Governor Cox Appeals For Money, Not Supplies.

Reassuring news comes from the flood districts in Ohio and Indiana today.

The waters are receding all through the territory, and in some parts of Dayton they have left the ground bare, allowing the authorities to start systematically at the work of computing the loss of life and the damage to property. It will be days, and perhaps a week before the actual death toll is known, and weeks or months before the property loss is learned.

It is now thought that the loss of life in Dayton will not be over 300, and in Columbus 500.

Railroad service is being slowly restored in the flooded regions, but it will take a month or more before temporary lines are fully in operation and a year or more before all the bridges and embankments are replaced. The loss to the railroads has been estimated roughly at $25,000,000.

Governor Cox has sent word to New York that the urgent need is for funds to purchase supplies near the flooded district, as supplies sent from a distance have trouble in reaching there on account of the crippled transportation facilities.

Columbus, Ohio, March 28.—This city today awaited the receding of the waters to learn the number of dead which reports put at 500. Many towns in the Scioto and Muskingum valleys are still cut off.

Dayton, Ohio, March 28.—With bright skies over head, the water receding rapidly in the streets, and supplies and help from outside here the State and local relief authorities got down to the actual work of rescue this morning for the first time since the flood descended upon this city on Tuesday night.

The first bit of cheerful news to circulate through the city was that six hundred people who had been trapped in the Union station and reported drowned were found to be safe, although suffering greatly from exposure and the lack of food.

The entire situation throughout the flood district has cleared up during the last twelve hours. The sun is brightly shining this morning and the temperature, which was from 20 to 30 above zero during the night has greatly moderated. There has been no rain since yesterday.

With the arrival of a life-saving crew from Louisville; the naval militia from Toledo; train loads of provisions and additional guardsmen, prospects for the rescue of persons still imprisoned by the flood continued to brighten. An inspection of the city indicates that the loss of life in Dayton will be less than 300.

The Pennsylvania Railroad this morning established communication with the outskirts of the city over its lines.

At 2:30 this afternoon much of the water had receded from the streets of the city and the people were able to get about in many sections. A message reached this city today that 32 lives have been lost at Venice.

New York, March 28.—Governor Cox, of Ohio, this morning wired to John Claflin, president of the New York Chamber of Commerce, as follows:

"The immediate need of relief for the sufferers is funds. On account of transportation facilities being destroyed food and other supplies are being purchased nearest the districts affected. I appreciate very much your thoughtfulness."

At the offices of the New York Central Railroad, President F. C. Brown received a message from Toledo which stated that passenger traffic had been re-established between Indianapolis and Chicago by a roundabout route through Michigan, and between Indianapolis and the east via Elkhart, Indiana. Several other lines throughout the middle west are also expected to be opened by tonight or tomorrow morning.

A relief train has been gotten through to Peru, Indiana, carrying food and drinking water for the sufferers. The railroad has also succeeded in moving a large amount of food supplies with two regiments of militia and two companies of naval reserves from Toledo today. The naval reserves have sixty-five boats to be used in the flooded districts. Fremont, Delaware and other towns in the flooded zone have been supplied with bread and other food stuffs.

Zanesville is apparently suffering from high water more thar any of the other towns, although the loss of life in that city is light.

Conditions on the Pennsylvania Railroad lines east of Pittsburgh have been much improved.

Telegraph service to Ohio and other western points is much improved and conditions are growing brighter each hour. Service to those points adjacent to the flood and storm affected areas is necessarily subject to interruption, while communication with points within those areas, where communication has been opened actually, is confined to messages of the utmost importance. Service has been disturbed in various parts of New York State, particularly in the Adirondack section and there is liklihood that conditions there will be somewhat worse before an improvement begins. Service to West Virginia and Kentucky points and tributary sections is subject to interruption.

Pittsburgh, March 28.—With the waters of the Alleghany River slowly receding since 2 o'clock this morning, the situation in the parts of the city bordering on the river has become less tense, and it is expected that by night the water will have gone down much more. At 9 o'clock the water at the Point bridge had dropped to a thirty foot level, which was two feet below the mark at 2 o'clock this morning.

Wheeling, W. Va., notified the local weather bureau this morning that the Ohio river was rising there, having reached the 50 foot stage, and was rising at the rate of one foot an hour. It was expected that the water would not go above fifty-two feet.

Long distance telephone messages received here today from Wellsville, Ohio, and East Liverpool, Ohio, show flood conditions in both of those town to be critical.

Washington, March 28.—The Weather Bureau today announced that the lower Ohio situation is bad and will get worse. 71 feet at Cincinnati is the record and the river is now 62 feet with three days more of rising water to be expected from up stream. Fair weather in the west is a favorable sign.

The department received the following reports on the rivers: Pittsburgh, 8 feet above flood stage; Cincinnati, 12 feet above; Louisville, 10 feet above; Cairo, 2 feet above; Memphis, 2 feet below; New Orleans 4 feet below. The upper Mississippi and upper Missouri Rivers are not in flood.

Roanoke, Va., March 28.—Secretary of War Garrison's special train, after being delayed through the night by washouts and forced to make a detour, passed through here shortly after 9 o'clock this morning. The Secretary and Major General Wood have decided to try to reach Dayton first, and if they cannot reach there will go to Columbus.

Floods in New York Bad.

Rochester, N. Y., March 28.—The flood record of 1865 has been broken in western New York and many reports of damage and suffering have been received.

Olean, N. Y., March 28.—A sudden cold wave has checked the flood here. The Allegheny River has fallen five inches since last night.

New York, March 28.—Owing to the demand for money on account of the floods in the Middle West the Sub-Treasury today transferred $400,000 to Cincinnati.

WEST END ATHLETES WILL ACT AS HOSTS

Annual Dance and Reception of West End Athletic Club Tonight.

Following their annual custom of holding a dance and reception immediately preceeding the opening of the baseball season the West End athletic club will act as hosts at Sebring's Hall tonight where they have arranged an attractive program of dancing and other kinds of entertainment. Music for the terpischore part of the program will be furnished by Professor Kinnemeyer, who will disperse all of the popular airs.

Those in charge have spared no time nor effort in making the affair the greatest ever conducted by this organization and they expect a big crowd on hand to greet them when the doors open tonight. Athletic and social clubs from Elizabeth, Newark, Bound Brook, Somerville and New Brunswick will be guests. Prizes will be awarded to the most elaborately dressed woman and the most comically dressed man. As a special feature, the athletes have engaged Al Lynch and Johnnie Allman, two well-known singers of Newark and New York, to supply entertainment between the dances.

Reports from cities in all parts of the country indicate that there will be a great deal of building done this year.

MAY NOT BE TRIED FOR EATON MURDER

Resume Hearing But Belief is That Mrs. Eaton is of Unsound Mind.

Boston, Mass., March 28.—The preliminary hearing of Mrs. May Harrison Eaton, who is accused of the murder of her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, U. S. N., retired, was conducted today at Hingham, but it failed to develop anything new in the celebrated case. The hearing, in fact, was only a perfunctory proceeding, since the action of the grand jury in finding an indictment sends the case directly to the supreme court.

The extraordinary secrecy that has attended every step of the official investigation since Admiral Eaton died has only served to whet the public curiosity and arouse speculation as to what is at the bottom of the case. That the trial of Mrs. Eaton is likely to develop some big sensations is indicated by the statements of the officials who gathered the evidence that resulted in her arrest. These statements have all been to the same effect—that some of the facts disclosed as to the family life of the Eatons were so peculiar as to prevent the authorities from communicating them to the public.

It will be four weeks tomorrow since Admiral Eaton died suddenly at his country home near the little town of Norwell. During these four weeks there has been a constant rattling of the family skeleton in an effort to shed light on the cause and manner of his death. The coroner's jury reported that the Admiral had died from arsenical poison. Thereupon the widow was arrested and lodged in jail at Plymouth to await trial on a charge of murder. These are the only real facts in the case made public. No hint has been dropped by the authorities as to the possible motive for the alleged crime. So far as public knowledge goes no murder—if the case proves to be a murder—ever was committed with less motive for the deed. At one time Admiral Eaton was fairly well-to-do, but unfortunate investments had cost him practically all of his fortune. At the time of his death he possessed practically nothing except his salary as a retired naval officer, which salary ceased with his death. Why his wife or any member of his family should take any step that must necessarily cut off the chief source of their income seems incomprehensible.

Though the public has learned little in regards to the so-called murder case itself much has been brought to light the past few days concerning the life story of the woman who stands accused of the killing of her husband.

The present Mrs. Eaton was the Admiral's second wife and was formerly the wife of D. H. Ainsworth, once a clerk in the United States senate. They had two children, June and Dorothy, but their married life was not altogether happy, and Mrs. Ainsworth finally divorced her husband on the ground of drunkenness. She met Admiral Eaton, according to a story made by the Admiral several years ago, in Chicago. He thought she was a widow, though as a matter of fact she had not at that time secured a divorce. Her father was George Harrison, and the family home at Alexandria, Va.

Admiral Eaton and Mrs. Ainsworth were married in 1907 and came to Massachusetts to live. The Admiral was commandant of the Boston navy yard and after his retirement from the service the family went to live on a small farm at Assinippi. During the last few years of his life the Admiral had given up his clubs and forsaken society altogether, devoting his attention to the raising of chickens.

As to the family life of the Eatons the statements of neighbors and friends seem widely at variance. All seem to agree, however, that the Admiral appeared to be unhappy in mind and at times exceedingly morose. A story has been circulated to the effect that Mrs. Eaton, after her second marriage, continued to supply her first husband with money and that this was a cause for family discord. Mrs. Eaton, however, vigorously denies the truth of this story. Much more tangible is the story concerning the Eaton baby, whose sudden death undoubtedly severed, for a time at least, the friendly relations of the Admiral and his wife.

Nearly four years ago the child died under unusual circumstances. It developed then that this was an adopted child and that a quiet deception had been practised upon relatives and friends concerning its birth an antecendents. Mrs. Eaton openly charged that the child had been poisoned and that she suspected the Admiral. An analysis of the stomach showed that the child had died from natural causes and a reconciliation followed between the Admiral and Mrs. Eaton.

A belief is gaining ground that Mrs. Eaton may never be tried for murder. The theory is that alienists will be sent to examine her as to her mental condition. Then she may be given a public hearing as to her sanity, and finally, if it should be determined that she is of unsound mind, she might be confined in an institution.

WOULD BE KINGS PLAGUE ALBANIA

Score of Pretenders Is Nation's Pest.

TEN HAVE STRONG CLAIMS.

Crown Seekers In Two Classes, First Having Weird Names and Unassailable Ancestry and Second Being Sons of Reigning Sovereigns, Respectable and Dull—Harald Most Likely.

Tumultuous Albania is suffering from a plague of pretenders. That any man should want to reign in Albania is a puzzle in itself; but, in fact, there are about ten Europeans with "legitimate, indefeasible" claims to be Albania's rightful king, in addition to which there are about ten persons more who have no claims, but have very much better prospects.

The second class consists of princely younger sons of reigning sovereigns all of them respectable, talented and dull, with nothing at all in common with Albania. The first class consists of hitherto obscure but picturesque personages with weird names and secular pedigrees, who all swear they are descended from some prince, brigand or patriot in Albania's bloody past.

The most likely of the uninteresting respectable candidates is Prince Harald, younger brother of King Christian of Denmark. Harald is a brother of another brand new sovereign, King Haakon of Norway, and he is married to a princess of Schleswig Holstein. He is a brother-in-law of August Wilhelm the kaiser's third son.

In Picturesque Class.

The most interesting of the picturesque class of candidates are the descendants of Skanderbeg. George Castriot or Skanderbeg was Albania's fifteenth century ruler and defender. Until a few years ago no one knew that he had left any descendants. But now that the Albanian question has grown acute descendants have sprung up in thick crops.

The most active is Prince Juan Aladro Kastriota, a black eyed, good looking Spaniard, a genuine aristocrat, who once represented Spain at The Hague. Prince Juan first preferred his claims to the Albanian throne in 1902. He proved that he is descended from Skanderbeg's daughter. He let fly batches of proclamations at the Albanians, begging them to foster their native culture (which they haven't got) and not to worry about religion (which they don't). In those days an Albanian committee was sitting in Rome, pretending to run Albanian interests, but in reality running Italian. The committee adopted Prince Juan as rightful claimant to Albania's then nonexistent throne.

Last November, when the Turks were beaten and it became plain that Albania wanted a king, the Albanians said what a nice thing it is to have a man who is descended from Skanderbeg's daughter. But at this moment there arose two gentlemen from Naples who poured cold water on the Prince Juan enthusiasm by announcing that they are descended from Skanderbeg's son.

Have Strongest Claim.

On the legitimist principle these two Neapolitans have the strongest claim to the Albanian throne. They are Giovanni Castriota Skanderbeg, marquis of Auletta, and his cousin, Filippo Baron di Fossaceca. Which has the best right is doubtful. Both are descendants of Ferdinando Castriota Skanderbeg, whom a whole mass of historical evidence and family records brings back to the great Skanderbeg. The two cousins Skanderbeg have issued a statement proclaiming they are the rightful heirs. They declare they are too sure of their position to push their claims, but that they also do not intend to renounce them. They add that Prince Juan Aladro Kastriota, the Spanish grandee, has no claims at all.

Next in importance to the Skanderbeg posterity come various claimants from the families of Paleologi and Ghika. The Ghikas are a Roumanian family of Albanian origin which ruled on the Danube for many years.

Two Paleologi In Field.

Two Paleologi are in the field. The most important is Prince Nicholas Nemanio Paleologos Ducas Angelos Commenos. The prince lives in a modest house in the Rue de Chiajo, in Naples. He issues a circular in which he says that all Italian genealogists admit him to be the direct posterity and legitimate heir of the emperors of the east, who in 1453 lost Constantinople to the Turks and with Constantinople lost their suzerainty over Albania and Epirus. The prince appeals to the powers to accept him as the rightful heir of the Emperor Constantine XI., "who lost all in the defense of the Christian faith and of the freedom of the peoples of the orient."

The prince is reckoning without his rival, Colonel Martyn Andreyevitch Paleolog of the Eighteenth Russian regiment of chasseurs, who declares that it is he who is the rightful king of Albania. The colonel is an honest, penniless soldier, who lost an ear at Liaoyang.

Sali Beg, a Moslem notable of Herzegovina, has a better and more recent claim than any one. He is a direct descendant of Ali Pasha of Janina, Byron's friend. Of Ali Pasha's reality as an Albanian chief there is no doubt.

STYLE SR RELIABILITY.

Being True to Ourselves]

Honesty in business does not consist in being square with your customers, but in being square with yourself.
If I misrepresented my goods or had more than "one price" for an article, or resorted to petty schemes to take advantage, it would not be a calamity for my customers but for myself.
Mr. Shakespeare's dictum, "First unto thine ownself be true," has never been improved upon.
Tomorrow marks the first Birthday of this store—how well I have succeeded remains for you to judge—but I HAVE succeeded because I believe in doing the "right thing."

My Creed:

To sell for cash only.
To sell at a moderate profit.
To warrant absolute satisfaction.
To be courteous to every customer.
To show the new good things first.
To sell only dependable merchandise.

THE WOMAN COP NEXT WELL, I SHOULD WORRY

Trenton, March 28.—Women police officers will be permitted in this State if the bill introduced by Senator Leavitt, of Mercer county, and which passed the Senate yesterday becomes a law. The bill allows the appointment of women as members of the various police departments. The bill met with opposition from Senator McGinnis, but was urged even more strongly by Senators Leavitt and Colgate. The latter asserted that women detectives are almost indispensible to the big department store keepers in New York and other States where the law is in practice and urged its passage here.

NOTES FROM LABOR FIELD

There are 722,335 coal miners in the United States.

The trades and labor council of Nelson, B. C., is planning the erection of a labor temple to cost $20,000.

The United Mine Workers organization of Iowa is planning the creation of a legal department to prosecute personal injury cases of members.

A bulletin by the Department of Agriculture states that wages paid to field laborers in this country have increase 3.2 per cent. last year and 7 per cent. during the last two years.

Great city improvements now in progress have caused a scarcity of help in Pittsburgh, Pa. It is reported that ten thousand workmen, mostly laborers and workers in the building trades, are needed.

Reports from the Painters' International Union show that something like $15,000 a month was paid in 1912 to beneficiaries of deceased members, and other thousands were disbursed in sick claims and funeral benefits.

The International Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employes has purchased two buildings for head quarters in Detroit, Mich. One building will house the printing plant, the other the business office of the union.

At the next Trades-Union Congress in Great Britain a movement will be inaugurated for the establishment of a trades union bank on co-operative lines, and the projectors have no doubt that the enterprise will take definite shape.

There are approximately two thousand five hundred women employed at night work in Utica, N. Y., factories, and they receive from $8 to $10 a week. They are obliged to report at 7 o'clock at night and work until 6 o'clock in the morning.

A referendum vote taken on the question of electing officers of the Iowa State Federation by referendum vote was defeated. The Socialist delegates in the Iowa State Federation for a number of years have advocated the referendum plan of electing officers.

Announcement has been made that the International Typographical Union is soon to erect an addition to the Union Printers' Home at Colorado Springs, Colo., at a cost of $50,000. The work of erection will be started soon and the new building will be used as an amusement hall.

Prices of farm products have fallen in Little Rock, Ark., owing to the advent of the Farmers' Union as a factor in the local grocery trade. The Little Rock store was a success from the day it started, and it is probable that the Farmers' Union will open stores in other cities of Arkansas.

The labor temple at Vancouver, British Columbia, recently erected and which, with the land on which it stands, represents an outlay of more than a quarter of a million dollars, is owned by the organized labor of Vancouver, the trades and labor council carrying the controlling interest.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

For the early April days, Proctor's Fifth Avenue theatre has prepared a bill of springtime tendencies well calculated to bring joy to the jaded appetites of the most persistent theatre-goer. Now is the time of the year when production houses are thinking of closing for the season, but the two-a-day houses are just starting their animal "new blood" policy of securing attractions fresh to this style of entertainment. On the Fifth Avenue program, stellar honors will go to Carter, the Mysterious, an illusionist, magician and prestidigitateur of such weird ability that he has been hailed as "greater than Herrman." Others on the long program are Al and Fanny Stedman in their newest conceit, "Piano Capers;" Empire Comedy Four; Deiro, accordion virtuoso; Mardie Grae, muical comedy soprano; Brothers Bradshaw, comedy contortionists, The Kratons, marvelous hoop rollers; Kaufman Brothers, Dixie dandies, and Edison's Kinetophone.

THEY GAVE TALKS ON HOME MISSIONS

Woman's Presbyterial Society Held Its Annual Sessions Here.

The twenty-ninth annual meeting of the Women's Presbyterial Society for Home Missions in the Presbytery of Elizabeth is being held in the Crescent Avenue church today. The meeting was opened at 10 o'clock this morning with devotional services conducted by Mrs. J. H. Fraser, followed by the reports from the different departments.

After the reports, Mrs. Charles Young, wife of the superintendent of the college, gave an interesting address on the work of Harbison College for Freedmen, in which she told of the great work being done at that educational centre.

Following the morning session, luncheon was served to the visiting delegates in the chapel by the women of the Crescent Avenue church. The afternoon session was resumed at 2:15 o'clock, with an address by Miss Helen C. Crane on "Summer Conferences: Their Charm and Inspiration." The address of the afternoon will be given by Walter B. Adams, field investigator and school accountant of the Board of Home Missions, on "Home Mission Work in Alaska."

SNOVER-HOLMES.

Somerville, March 28.—The marriage of Miss Sadie Holmes, daughter of Marshal and Mrs. Robert Holmes, and Harry Snover, took place place at the home of the bride's parents, on Grove street, Wednesday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William S. Cranner, pasior of the First Reformed church. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Eva Holmes, and Raymond Snover, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. After congratulations and the serving of refreshments the bridal couple left for a brief wedding trip, and on their return will reside on East Cliff street.

W. E. BACON RESIGNS.

W. E. Bacon, who was employed by I. H. Boehm, the former dry goods merchant for seventeen years, and by his successors, Tepper Brothers, for the past four years, where he has had charge of the men's furnishing goods department, has resigned his position to take effect tomorrow, to accept a position with Harry Werner, the West Front street clothier.

HOME

The average man spends half his life at Home. That takes into account the nights at the club, at lodge, at the theatre, or sitting up with a sick friend. It also takes into account the fellow who sees home often enough only to establish a voting residence. He is balanced off in averaging up by the man who spends a good deal more than half his life at Home. The Newark Sunday Call has figured this all out and says that the statement that more than half of life is spent at Home cannot be disputed. If there is any doubt about it, keep a time schedule for a week or so. The Average Women? Bless you, three-quarters of her life is spent at Home! And that includes the working woman, too, the real NEW WOMAN.

Home shapes up as a pretty big proposition, considering all that. The world realizes it, too, for most of the world's efforts go toward providing homes. Right down at the bottom of things, you come up against that great big reason for it all—"Home."

There was a poet who said that Home was not merely four square walls. That was the absolute truth. Home is what you make it, whether you call it palace, villa, flat, cottage or hut. Some people can make a hall bed-room more homey than others can with a $300,000 marble mansion. It is wholly up to the individual. But as half a life time is to be spent at Home, it is worth trying to make it a success. A real homey Home is life's biggest success.

The poet's four square walls idea, however, should not be taken wholly at its face value. Most truths should not. There is always that little exception to the rule lurking in the background. Accept the truth, but also dig out that little exception and digest its meaning. Then you will get the full value out of the truth. Four square walls do not make a Home. But they help. The better those same walls are the better chance of making a successful Home. Be careful in choosing a setting for the jewel—the home jewel. Remember that you must use that setting half your life. Pick some thing that will wear. See that it is good. That means be careful in choosing your abode. Whether it be a house, a flat or a room, choose it carefully. Whether you buy or rent, remember you are selecting a setting for the biggest thing in life—Home.

The Plainfield Daily Press

thinks a lot about Home. That is natural, for Homes form its destination when it leaves the presses ready for distribution among its thousands of readers. The Daily Press likes to take part in home making and it does all it can to further that end in what it prints. It can aid you in selecting your setting for your Home—the dwelling, whatever form it may take.

The owner of a house who wishes to sell or rent the house goes to an agent—if he be wise and wants results. The agent gives publicity to the owner's desire, attends to the troublesome incidental business, and accomplishes the desired results.

The agent has the assistance of another agent—a very powerful agent for this sort of work. This other agent is the RELIABLE NEWSPAPER, the newspaper that reaches the kind of people the owner would want to sell or rent to. The DAILY PRESS is such an agent. It reaches this desirable clientage and is used by responsible agents. Look at the names of the agents who advertise real estate for sale or to let and note the high character of these advertisers. They, in turn, have chosen the DAILY PRESS as their agent because it reaches the kind of people they want for clients.

Choose your home setting carefully. Study the For Sale and To Let advertisements in the DAILY PRESS. Make notes of what appeals to you, write to the agent or the owner, and inspect the property. You are dealing with established business concerns who can aid you in this big work of Home-Making. They, the agents, are seeking your patronage because you are the kind they want dealings with—the kind who can be reached through the DAILY PRESS.

DIPLOMATIC APPOINTMENTS.

The President appears to be having difficulty to secure suitable persons as Ambassadors at foreign Courts. This is put upon the ground that the maintenance of the required standard by the Ambassador is so expensive that the persons whom the President wishes to appoint feel unable financially to assume this burden. The result of this condition will be to bring, in an acute form, before the American people the duty of the nation to make provision for its foreign Ambassadors at the Courts of other nations. That the salaries themselves should be greatly increased we do not believe to be wise. That homes, in connection with which there should be an Embassy office should be established, we strongly believe. These residences and offices should be in the best parts of the capitol of the nation to which the Ambassador is commissioned. They should not be extravagant, because we are a Republic and should adhere as much as possible to the simple methods of the fathers. In Tokio, Japan, the United States has a residence for its Ambassador. It is not palatial in any sense, but it is comfortable and fairly satisfactory. There is no reason why the same condition should not exist in every nation.

Extravagance of men like the late Ambassador Reid, at the Court of St. James, should not be countenanced or encouraged in any way. In fact, if it were, there are but few persons who would be able to hold the position, and that might not be the best for the Republic in any sense. This Republic should be represented abroad not by men of wealth, with extravagant tendencies, but by men typical of the true character of American citizenship. Small means and little wealth is not a crime. In fact, in the estimation of most people, it is not even a hindrance. This country should go very slow in the matter of increasing the salaries of its public officials. Good salaries should be paid, but not salaries which might be called princely, to encourage extravagance, after the manner of the princes of the old country, who are supported by taxation at public expense.

Let us endeavor to keep the public officials of this nation as close to the people as possible, providing suitable salaries, and where necessary, a proper residence, but avoiding all extravagancies and every tendency to luxurious living, whether at home or abroad.

OUR POLICY.

The Plainfield Daily Press is published primarily to give to the community the news of Plainfield and vicinity. Every day hundreds of words of world news come over a leased wire to us, but unless it is of startling character it is given secondary consideration in the busy work of making up an ideal home newspaper. But when something of really great national importance takes place the reports published by this newspaper have been complete and have excelled those printed by any other paper in a city the size of Plainfield.

The superior excellence of the news and illustrations of the Omaha cyclone and the Ohio and Indiana floods has brought forth hundreds of commendations from friends and readers of the paper. We point with pardonable pride to the excellent service on Wednesday, last night and tonight on these gripping news stories of heartrending happenings. Not a line that appeared in the Daily Press was "boiler plate" shipped in by express from New York and reprinted from the morning papers. All of the new developments of the morning and early afternoon were printed each day, and these were coupled with graphic pictures which were received practically as soon as they reached the great metropolitan papers.

As in the case of the Titanic disaster, the stirring National political conventions of last year, the world's series baseball games of last October, the exciting Federal election of last November and the inauguration of President Wilson, the Daily Press leapassed any paper in this section in its presentation of the flood news. When the news of the world is of such a character that it is of more importance to our readers than local news the Daily Press concentrates its efforts to present that news clearly, completely and accurately.

But local news will always have preference except in cases where the news from other places is of interest to everyone amongst us. This paper is a newspaper, not crowded with "fillers" and boiler plate, but chuck full of live local news and with up-to-the-minute illustrations of the world's happenings, and with nothing suppressed.

The concluding chapter of Howard G. Lapsley's History of Plainfield is published today. Beginning on Monday's issue the Daily Press will publish a particular phase of Plainfield's history, of which Oliver B. Leonard is the author.

The contributing editor for tomorrow's issue will be Arthur B. Vossler, A. M., Ph. B., supervising principal of the North Plainfield Public Schools. Mr. Vossler will discuss "The Present Status of American Schools."

Advertising is to business what steam is to machinery—the great propelling power—Lord Macaulay.

WILSON TO FIELDER ON JURY REFORM BILL

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, March 28.—President Wilson today wrote to Governor Fielder, of New Jersey, further urging the passage of the jury reform bill and suggesting if it fails at this session of the Legislature the Governor should call an extra session if necessary. A constitutional convention should be invoked, he added. President Wilson also wrote he would go to Trenton if necessary and speak in favor of the bill.

MRS. FREDERIC HARRINGTON IS THOUGHT TO BE SAFE

Frederic Harrington, of Central avenue, who has been alarmed concerning the safety of his wife, who is in Daytonview, Ohio, and his daughter, Miss Helen Harrington, who is in Indianapolis, received a telephone message this afternoon from Charles E. Faber, in New York, saying that he had received a telegram from a friend near Dayton, stating that Daytonview suffered but little from the flood and that Mrs. Harrington was undoubtedly safe. No word has as yet been received from Miss Harrington, neither has Mr. and Mrs. Clark A. Price, of Sandford avenue, heard from their relatives.

SUFFRAGE MEETING.

Firemen's Hall, Scotch Plains, accommodated a capacity audience last night, including many men as well as women, who assembled to hear addresses on women suffrage, some of whom were heartily in favor of "votes for women" and others who were opponents of the cause. Mrs. M. J. Reynolds, of Newark, was the chief speaker. She was introduced by Champlain S. Riley, of North Plainfield, who opened the meeting with a brief address.

Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, will preach Sunday morning on "The King Who Won a Flock of Sheep, but Lost a Kingdom," and at 7:45 o'clock in the evening on "The New Birth or Regeneration."

HISTORY OF PLAINFIELD
—BY—

Coming of the Railroad.

The State of New Jersey chartered the Elizabethtown and Somerville Railroad February 9, 1831. At this time there were three daily lines of stages from Easton to New York, one via Morristown and two via Plainfield. Additional charters issued by the States of New Jersey and Pennsylvania prepared the way for the Somerville and Easton Railroad. These two roads in conjunction would penetrate the anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania. However, it was a good many years before these plans were carried out.

The first financial prospectus of this railroad states how offers were made to the railroad promoters, "to furnish coal and place it in company's cars on the railroad at 50c. per ton, and it is not doubted that contracts for any quantity can be made for 37½c. per ton." The charter issued by the State allowed the road to charge not more than 6c. per mile per passenger or per ton of freight.

As the post road followed the Indian trail so the railroad followed the road through or at least for the present to Plainfield. On Wednesday, March 21, 1838, a notice of a Railroad meeting was made in the "Union" then under the editorship of Milton F. Cushing.

"The citizens of Plainfield and its vicinity are invited to attend a meeting at Jack Thorn's Long Room on Thursday evening next at early candle light, with a view to aid in concerting measures to assume the completion of the said Railroad as far as this village the ensuing season. Several gentlemen from Elizabethtown and Somerville are expected, who will give all necessary explanations and information. The great importance of the object it is hoped will ensure a general attendance."

In the next issue of the paper we find that "The meeting was large, influential and respectable," and unanimously resolved; "That in the opinion of this meeting it is highly important that the road should be completed as speedily as possible and that the company be solicited and encouraged to progress immediately with the work and that we will render all the aid in our power."

It is especially gratifying to learn that this meeting was respectable but it makes one anxious as to other meetings held in Jacob Thorn's Long Room, which it will be noted was the "Get Together" place in which Plainfield's future was determined.

In December another meeting was called "to properly plan a celebration for the completion of the Railroad." The issue of the "Union" telling about this celebration is missing so we are left to surmise that perhaps the celebration included too much applejack to be respectable.

By 1839 trains were running regularly from Elizabethtown to Plainfield. From Elizabethport passengers were carried to New York by boat and from Plainfield to points West, goods and passengers were still carried by stage.

The railroad was soon extended to Bound Brook. This extension so increased the road's business that the superintendent, Mr. Elihu Harrison, was compelled to run four or five trains a day to care for the business.

In 1840 the running time from New York to Somerville was three hours. Today the same distance is made in about an hour.

In 1854 over 59,000 passengers were carried between New York and Plainfield. In 1861 the 12 mile ferry trip from Elizabethport to New York was proving tedious so the experiment of having passengers drawn over the New Jersey Central Railroad from Elizabeth to Jersey City was tried. The bridge over Newark Bay was started in 1863 and with the exception of straightening out the track between Scotch Plains and Dunellen in 1875, there have been few changes in Plainfield's railroad connections with New York.

Considerable space has been devoted to this story of the beginnings of the Central Railroad of New Jersey but the development of the steam railroad plays the leading part in the history of the United States for without this development the country as it stands today would not be physically possible. It would take a congressman from California six months to reach Washington except for this progress in transportation.

Importance of Railroad.

The excessive enlargement of the Roman Empire soon transformed it into a despotism. The sameness of speech, blood and degree of civilization in a country of the extent of ours, is possible only by reason of the railroad and the opportunities it has made for social and commercial intercourse. Without the steel rails and the telegraph; the artificial arteries and nerves of this country, we would have seen the government blow up into fragments like the soap bubble, blown up till its thin shell loses power of cohesion.

The following newspaper items show us the state of Plainfield society about 1840.

"The New Jersey Railroad has discontinued running trains on the Sabbath."

"Though Plainfield is large enough to support a newspaper, six churches two large academies, three or four first rate hotels, it is not large enough to support a single grog shop."

At this time Washington Rock was the principal picnic ground of Plainfielders. Fourth of July picnics and political meetings were held there. Sometimes as many as two thousand people journeyed up to the Rock for these events.

Union County.

By 1845 talk has started of splitting up Essex county and naming the new part Rock county after Washington Rock. However the actual division did not take place until March 19, 1857, when the new county was named Union.

Ten years before (March 4, 1847) Plainfield had been made a separate township, Robert Anderson being town clerk, Charles Boice, assessor; Daniel Bullman, collector; Frazee Cole, freeholder; Charles H. Stillman, superintendent of common schools.

Plainfield was incorporated as a city in 1869, Job Male being the first mayor and Nelson Runyon, city clerk.

Suburban Growth.

The Park House (now Truell Inn) was built in 1873. Plainfield's growth as a town of suburban commuters now began in real earnest. The Netherwood Hotel (now Truell Hall) was completed in 1878 at a cost of $175,000. For a time the city prospered as a summer resort. Growth along this line ceased on account of the bad advertising given the city by its inhabitants all going to other summer resorts to escape the heat. Plainfield, however, as the actual figures show, enjoys a climate equal to many summer resorts.

Population.

The following census table shows the growth of population:

		Inhabitants:
1800		215
1835		1,000
1890		11,250
N. Plainfield	5,009
		20,378
1910	20,550
N. Plainfield	6,117
		26,667

These figures show only numerical growth. Social and moral development has held its place. The public school system has been wonderfully well developed, while Muhlenberg Hospital and Plainfield's other altruistic institutions, the beacons and milestones of civilization, are not surpassed by those of any city of similar size in the State of New Jersey.

A SOCCER GAME.

The Plainfield Association football team and the O'Keefe's, of Harrison, both members of the Intercity Amateur Soccer League, will play on the Clinton avenue grounds tomorrow afternoon. The probable line-up of the locals will be: McNiece, goal; Braidwood and Craig, backs; Thomas, Kenney and Cranford, half backs; Spalding and Johnston, right wings; Heaume, centre; Gardner and Sutton, left wings.

SOME ITEMS OF INTEREST TO 7TH DAY BAPTISTS

"The Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath," will be the theme of the discourse at the Seventh-Day Baptist church, tomorrow morning by Rev. Jesse E. Hutchins, of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, Marlboro. Mr. Hutchins recently made a change of pastorate from Berlin, N. Y., to Marlboro. Mrs. Hutchins is a cousin of Rev. Edwin Shaw, pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, this city, and both Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins were students of his when he was a teacher in Milton College, Wisconsin. On their way from Berlin to Marlboro they, with their four children, are stopping a few days in this city.

The topic for the prayer meeting at the church this evening will be "The Sabbath in the Old Testament," and next week it will be "The Sabbath in the New Testament." The Sabbath-school will hold its annual meeting for the election of officers and the hearing of reports on Sunday evening.

An invitation has been given and accepted by the young people of the church to the young people's society at New Market to hold a union meeting in the church tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mrs. F. A. Langworthy will lead the meeting and the topic will be "How may every Sabbath be kept holy?"

William C. Hubbard, superintendent of the Sabbath-school, has arranged for a special Sabbath service at 11:45 o'clock tomorrow morning, similar services being held in all the denominational churches at the same time. Elston Shaw will lead the Junior C. E. Society meeting at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The topic will be "How Paul spent his Sabbaths—a lesson on church-going."

WILL PROBABLY RECOGNIZE NEW REPUBLIC OF CHINA

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Washington, March 28.—That the United States will probably recognize the new republic of China before the day is over was the impression here following a conference held today between President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Assistant Secretary Adade.

President Wilson and his cabinet today went over the special tariff measure to be sent to Congress on April 7. It is only 1,200 words long and deals practically alone with the tariff.

President Wilson's conferences with the Secretary of the Treasury, Chairman Owen, of the Senate committee on Banking and Currency, and Chairman-elect Glass, of the House Committee on Currency Reform, have thus far resulted in only one definite conclusion that it will be impossible to attempt currency legislation at the short session. It is not desired to have agitation of the money question along with the upsetting of tariff and trade conditions unless some practical and definite result can be promised.

The scarlet fever quarantine has been lifted from the home of Judson LaTree, in East Whitehouse. One of the children died from the disease, but the others have recovered.

Mrs. Mary A. Davis was given a dinner party at her home at Whitehouse Station, on Tuesday, in honor of her birthday. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart A. Kenny, of Somerville; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Skillman and Chester and John B. Skillman, Mr. and Mrs. Peter LaTourette, Miss Ella Davis, of New York; Mrs. Rebecca Skillman, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dahn and Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Davis.

The Sunday-school of the Lebanon Reformed church has elected the following officers: Superintendent, Samuel J. Shurts; associate superintendent, George B. Rittenhouse; secretary and treasurer, Van R. S. Lowe; librarian, William Apgar; leader of the Sunday-school orchestra, Alvah Haver, Jr. Mr. Shurts is serving his fifty-fourth successive year as the superintendent of this school, and in all this time has been absent but few Sundays.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon J. Hageman are both ill at their home at New Germantown, Mrs. Hageman suffering from pneumonia and Mr. Hageman from the grip.

Mrs. Angeline Rinehart returned yesterday to her home in Jersey City, after a visit to her brother, Charles M. Apgar, at New Germantown.

Miss Elsie Alpaugh, a student in the Northfield Seminary, at Northfield, Mass., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alpaugh, at New Germantown.

Mrs. N. Wyckoff Hoffman, of Lebanon, is visiting her mother, Mrs. William S. Carel, near Flanders.

Misses Edith and Alice Cooley, of East Whitehouse, are home from a visit to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Cooley, near Bedminster.

Miss Nellie Powelson, of Boston, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. John J. Powelson, at their home at Burnt Mills.

Miss Leila Alpaugh, a student in Centenary Collegiate Institute, Hackettstown, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvah L. Alpaugh, at New Germantown.

Miss Clara Layton, a student in the Northfield Seminary, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Layton, near Lamington.

Miss Pearl Apgar, of New Germantown, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Serring Bunn, of near Lamington.

About Telephone Ordering

"YES, Mrs. Jones, I'll tell you the secret of easy housekeeping. It is simply to let the telephone do all your shopping. The first thing I do every morning is to sit at the telephone for a few minutes and order my supplies—then I have the rest of the day to myself. You must try it—it's so easy and convenient."

Have you tried shopping by telephone?
If not, why not try it tomorrow?

AMERICAN IDEAS INVADING BERLIN

The German Metropolis Being Transformed.

PRINCE HENRY IS DISMAYED

Wonderful Advertisements of Yankee Origin Startle Teutonic Citizens. German Girls Now Portrayed According to Gibson Ideals—City Is Full of American Bars.

Prince Henry of Prussia is much dismayed by the Americanization of Berlin. Since he arrived home from Japan he has discovered that the sacred palace quarter is rapidly being Americanized—that is, on the Spree's banks, near his own palace, a boarding stood high to protect some work, and on it glowed a gigantic paper ear. The ear was rosy, irreverent and tipsy looking, and from a distance it looked more like a mere drunkard's nose. Beneath it flamed "Hoeren Sie"—Do You Hear?—and all this was an advertisement for soap. Henry was displeased with this extravagant ear and made the remark that "the Americanization of Berlin is making life sad."

And not only Berlin life. A Hanover newspaper recently appeared with its front page made up as an ordinary news page and a big scare heading, "Krupp v. Bohlen and Holbach Offers a Million Marks." Under this was an explanation that the husband of Bertha Krupp, the cannon queen, had ejaculated that he would pay a million marks to cure his headaches and that Herr Schmidt or Herr Mueller has an unfailing means to win the million, only he doesn't want it, as with true philanthropists money is no object.

In what way this thing is American the average German doesn't know, but he knows that it is American. Everything big, soaring, startling and ingenious is American. And Berlin has become the biggest, soaringest, startlingest, most ingenious city in Europe. It is all quite new. Where ten years ago Friedrichstrasse and Potsdamer platz resembled the liveliest spots in Emporium, Pa., they have now come to resemble the liveliest spots on Broadway for crowds, street cars, illuminated sky signs and noise.

Craze For American Art.

German-American artists are rebuilding Berlin on (German) American lines. There are no skyscrapers because police regulations limit Berlin to five humble stories, but the new German department stores are built of steel on best skyscraper principles. Likewise there is a craze for American art. It started two years ago, when Berlin had an American picture exhibition, and it has degenerated into a universal Gibson girl craze. In the streets Germans look as German as ever, but German beauty has ceased to be a German ideal. The fancy stores are full of pictures of impossibly slim and clean cut, clean shaven young men, who kiss impossibly American Gibson girls. The originally German picture postcard business has been entirely Americanized as regards its ideals of beauty. This craze exists also outside Berlin. The Augsburger Abendzeitung started a schoolgirl and schoolboy drawing competition to show Bavarian ideals of beauty. Sixty out of 170 school girls sent in drawings of "the unmistakable young American man with the well made chin which we are so used to," while half the boys' ideals of feminine loveliness were either Gibson girls or German girls "modified by Gibson influence."

American Bar Popular.

Innocent Augsburg confines its Americanism to the pictorial side. Berlin goes further and tries to live Americanwise. The theater, concert and cabaret are being ousted by what Berlin considers the "American" bar. Five years ago an American bar existed only in the Kaiserhof hotel. Now there are registered in Berlin over seventy "bars," most of which claim to be more or less "American" and prove their claims by long schedules of cocktails and juleps with Anglo-Saxon names. The "American" bar, like most other American institutions in Berlin, was originated by rich returned German emigrants from the United States. The 2,000 Americans living in Berlin, who are mostly mild, musical and sober, seldom go near these bars. If they do go near them they make weird remarks upon the list of "American drinks"—upon the "White mountain cocktail," the "Wasmay cocktail," the "silver julep," the "rye high bowl" and the still more wonderfully named concoctions which are introduced to Berliners as the latest inventions of incalculable America.

Another sign of Berlin's Americanization is Berlin's way of living. The once domesticated Berliner is deserting his self contained apartment for the hotel and the apartment hotel.

The passion is to cut down domestic life and to get rid of the Pomeranian "Dienstmaedchen," who is uppish.

Italy Gets Many Aeroplanes.

The newly formed Italian transaerial society has undertaken to build a large number of aeroplanes for the Italian army. Six hundred thousand dollars has been subscribed for aeroplane construction, which will provide for about 200 aeroplanes. Seven monoplanes and sixteen biplanes are to be delivered in April.

MOTION PICTURES TRIED IN LONDON PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

County Council Experiments to Determine Advantages of Films.

Lessons by moving pictures form one of the features of modern education which are making school life more and more attractive in London. The day seems to be at hand when a cinematograph will be as essential a part of the apparatus of a council school as pencil and writing desk.

At a recent meeting of the London county council education committee a subcommittee recommended that an experiment with film lessons might be made with advantage. It was purposed to exhibit a series of educational films in the halls of six polytechnics, 1,000 children to be present at each exhibition. The education committee is to select films from a large number which would be submitted, and instruction is to be given by teachers in the schools on the subjects of the various items both before and after the performance

Explanatory notes follow the films, so that the children can follow the subjects before them without difficulty.

INDIANS TO HAVE A CONGRESS

Redskins Plan Organization to Administer Affairs In Washington.

Congress when it reconvenes will find a rival, for it developed recently plans have been made to establish in Washington an organization to be known as the Indian congress. The arrangements were approved at a meeting of several tribal Indians and their representatives. The congress will have one resident delegate from each of the various American tribes of the country. Each delegate will receive a salary, the amount to be determined by the council of each tribe, to be paid out of the tribal funds. The primary object of the congress will be to look after the interests of the Indians before the government and congress.

The Indian newspaper, the Tomahawk, now printed on the White Earth reservation in Minnesota, is also to be located in Washington, and it is expected the publication of the paper in Washington will begin by the time the extra session of congress convenes.

DOLLAR PATCHES HIS SKULL.

Arkansas Doctor Hammers Out Homemade Plate.

John Crickmore of Omaha, Ark., will always have $1 on his person, but it will never be available as a cash asset, as it lies in the front part of his head over a jagged hole more than two inches long and one inch wide.

Crickmore got in a fight recently, and his skull was crushed in by a rock thrown by Alvin Roberts. Dr. W. A. Butts, who was called, had to have something at once to cover the opening. Crickmore being in too grave a condition to be removed to a city hospital and there being no time to order a silver plate.

The doctor did the next best thing: he made one. He took a silver dollar and a heavy hammer and beat it out to fit the hole. He sewed up the scalp, and John is now recovering.

TO MAN COLUMBUS CARAVELS

University Men Will Take Historic Vessels to Exposition.

Manned by a crew of Harvard graduates and students of Chicago university, the three models of Columbus' ships that attracted so much attention at the World's fair in Chicago will start a journey from Chicago down the Mississippi, through the gulf of Mexico, through the Panama canal and around to San Francisco in time for the opening of the Panama-Pacific exposition.

The South park commissioners recently granted permission for the use of the boats at the request of Charles F. Stephenson, instructor of rowing at Harvard. The three caravels were built in Spain and brought across the Atlantic for the Chicago exposition.

COFFINS SELL FOR A SONG.

Farmers Buy Steel Ones to Use as Watering Troughs.

Farmers for miles around went to Boyertown, Pa., recently to attend the most unusual sale ever held in that section and bought at bargain prices a lot of heavily rolled steel coffins at from 10 to 35 cents each.

A burial casket company purchased the coffins fifteen years ago, but they were too cumbersome and could not be disposed of. The coffins will be used by the farmers for watering troughs for their stock.

SHAMROCKS TO BURIED MEN.

Sprigs Sent Through Tube 227 Feet Deep Into Mine.

Among the incidents of St. Patrick's day near London was the lowering of sprigs of shamrock to two Irish miners who had been imprisoned by a rush of water in a Cumberland mine since March 13. They were fed through a narrow bore hole which is 227 feet deep.

The men were well and cheerful when rescued as soon as the water was pumped out.

Couples Wed For a Day Only.

In Chinese Turkestan the practice exists of writing out a bill of divorce at the same time that a marriage is celebrated. Thus marriages often last for a day only, said Miss L. G. Kemp, describing her travels across central Asia at Caxton hall, London, recently.

HORROR SCENES IN OHIO CITIES

Review of Happenings Since Flood Started on Tuesday Night.

TORRENTS IN STREETS

Nothing Like Disaster Known in Country's Previous History—Dayton Was Model City—Loss at Other Places Equally Great.

ALL previous disasters inflicted by the elements in the past century pale into insignificance by comparison with the great flood which, following the cyclone and tornadoes, devastated Ohio and Indiana.

Dayton, one of the prettiest cities in the country, was struck with the greatest fury of the waters. [illegible] thousand persons drowned, many more thousands rendered homeless and millions of dollars' damage wrought was the toll of the torrents.

Scenes at Dayton.

During the hours of its greatest force the water at Dayton stood thirty feet deep at many points. In the downtown sections the depth ranged from ten to fifteen feet. In the residence section the torrents swept clear over houses, with a depth of over thirty feet.

Helpless women and children stood on roof tops while the waters rose and finally were carried off to their deaths, the houses being not high enough to save them or being toppled over in the flood.

Many men left in the city with their families at home to face the terrible dangers alone were reported to have killed themselves.

John H. Paterson, president of the National Cash Register company, who headed the relief work in the southern end of the city, sent out an appeal for food supplies and for doctors and medicines. On the first night 3,000 homeless were housed in the cash register offices.

A fire which started from an explosion in the Meyers Ice Cream company, near Wyoming street, spread and burned the block on South park, a block from Wyoming.

Another big fire burned a downtown block.

The breaking of the Tarleton reservoir, which supplies drinking water, left the city without water, and there was danger of typhoid in the use of the flood water.

There are no boats in Dayton which can breast the swift current, and those on the outside early gave up any attempts to reach the business section.

Risk Lives on Cable.

At Wyoming street, on the south side, where efforts at rescue were centered, many saved their lives by creeping along a telephone cable 100 feet above the flood.

At first linemen crept along the cable carrying tow ropes, to which the flat bottomed boats were attached. When the flood became so fierce that the boats were no longer able to make way against it men and women crept along the cables to safety. Others, less daring, gave up hope of rescue as darkness fell. Those willing to risk their lives in the attempt to rescue found themselves helpless in face of the water.

Two Girls Flash News.

It remained for two girls to be the real factors in giving to the world the news on the first day of the Ohio flood. Both are operators, but in different lines.

One, a telephone operator in the main exchange at Dayton, flashed the last tidings that came out of the stricken city by telephone as well as having delivered the news to Governor Cox, which enabled the executive to grasp the situation and start the rescue work.

The other is the telegraph operator at Phoneton, eight miles north of Dayton, who served as a relay operator for the girl in Dayton. Both stood to their posts as long as the wires held, and the young woman at Phoneton, Mrs. Rena White Eakin, worked all during the day and night.

Reservoir Breaks.

The flood in the Miami, the largest of the three rivers, was suddenly and greatly increased by the bursting of the Loramie reservoir, about fifty miles north of Dayton. This reservoir, which is about six miles long and two miles wide, is a feeder of the Miami and Erie canal and has a natural outlet into Loramie creek, which empties into the Miami about twenty miles above Dayton.

The horror of the flooded district was heightened at night by more than a dozen fires, which could be seen in the flooded district, but out of reach of fire fighters.

The electric light plants were put out of business early in the day, and total darkness, coupled with a torrential downpour, added to the horrors of the night.

Famine also became an immediate possibility. All of the supply and grocery houses were in the submerged district.

GENERAL EFFECT OF FLOODS.

Awful Havoc Wrought In Many Towns Throughout Ohio.

Many thousands of lives were lost, more than 450,000 were rendered homeless, entire cities were isolated, bridges destroyed and dams broken by floods in the states of Ohio and Indiana, causing millions of dollars damage in country in all parts of both states. There were floods also in Pennsylvania, up state New York, Missouri, Illinois and Kentucky.

Governor Cox of Ohio in telegrams said 250,000 were homeless in his state. He declared the disaster is the greatest in the state's history.

In both Ohio and Indiana troops were called out in several cities.

The mayor of Dayton in an appeal made to the mayor of Springfield reported that the water was thirteen feet deep in the Union station in Dayton and that according to unconfirmed reports 5,000 lives have been lost and fully 30,000 were homeless.

The Hydraulic, a dam at Piqua, went out, causing hundreds of deaths.

Railroad Loss $25,000,000.

Chicago railroad officials place the loss to railroad property, due to the floods and storms, at $25,000,000.

Governor Cox issued an order directing Brigadier General John C. Speaks to call out the entire Ohio national guard for duty in the flood-swept district, which comprises practically the whole state. The troops will be subject to the further orders of General Speaks and Adjutant General Wood, who will assign them to locations according to the gravity of the situation.

At the suggestion of Governor Cox a bill was presented to the legislature appropriating $250,000 for relief of the flood sufferers of the state. The governor has sent out appeals for aid to the governors of all the states bordering on Ohio, including Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Michigan, Indiana and Kentucky. Tents and provisions are badly needed.

Many Idle at Youngstown.

Fully 11,000 workmen employed in various industries of Youngstown were thrown out of employment as a result of the high water, while the loss to the industries will be very heavy.

At East Youngstown the Mahoning river was nearly half a mile wide and the Pennsylvania lines through the city and for a number of miles east are entirely submerged. The Austintown branch bridge of the Erie which crosses the Mahoning river has been weighted down with a train to prevent its being washed away, the water having already reached the girders. Every bridge here is guarded by policemen.

Flood at Hamilton.

Many persons were drowned in the flood of the Miami river that swept Hamilton from one end to the other and rushed through the streets at night to a depth of from three to six feet.

J. R. Espey, a merchant, saw a man and woman fall from a boat as it swept past his house, and neither appeared on the surface again.

At night the residents were gathered in the principal buildings. Communication with the outside world was limited to a single telephone wire only to Cincinnati.

The town was in darkness owing to the fact that the light plant was put out of working order early in the day, and this limits the rescue work to a minimum.

Three companies of militia from Cincinnati arrived at night, but owing to the swiftness of the currents in the street have not been able to detrain.

Effects at Middletown.

Middletown was practically cut off from the outside world as the result of the worst cloudburst in twenty years. Tracks of both the Big Four and Cincinnati and Hamilton and Dayton railroads are under water.

It is believed that fifteen were drowned when a bridge over the Miami, on which a number of people were standing watching the flood was swept away. Several bodies were recovered.

The water and electric light plants were out of commission.

Two hundred houses were under water here, and their former occupants had to seek shelter in the schoolhouses, churches and city buildings. The Miami river is one mile wide at this point.

DAYTON, HIT BY FLOOD, RICH AND PRETTY CITY.

Fine Ohio City Has About 135,000 Population—Its Big Levee.

Dayton, O., which was inundated by flood, suffering greatest damage of all the flood centers, is a splendid city. The levee, which is strongly built of gravel, has an average height of about twenty feet through the main part of the town.

It is over twelve feet across the top and about thirty-five feet broad at the base. It is wide enough to allow carriages to go along its top. The levee ceases along some parts of the course of the Miami river.

This river, which cuts the town in two, is approximately 250 feet broad at most of the points within Dayton. It would have to rise more than twenty feet to overflow the levee. Wolf creek, a tributary on the west, has heretofore caused most of the trouble from floods.

North Dayton has usually been the section most damaged in previous inundations. It lies at a wide bend in the river. Central Dayton is down on a flat. The highest region is occupied by east Dayton. The population is well distributed in detached houses, with no congestion.

Dayton is situated in the valley on the east bank of the Miami river at its junction with Mad river. To the north is a low region through which vast quantities of water might pour down and wreak terrible destruction.

The population of the city is about 135,000, and it is one of the most prosperous and rapidly growing municipalities in the state. It is adorned with many handsome public buildings, such as the Dayton State hospital, the courthouse and a magnificent city hall. In the suburbs, two miles west of the city, is the National Military Home For Disabled Volunteers of the Civil War, with 640 acres of beautiful ground and large buildings accommodating 6,000 persons. It is feared that this tract was in the path of the flood.

One of the principal avenues of the city is the boulevard, which is built on land made from the Miami river bed. Along this are located many of the largest residences, which would have been destroyed by an unusual disturbance of the waters.

Dayton was founded in 1805 and was named in honor of General Jonathan Dayton. It was chartered as a city in 1841, and its growth has been remarkable since that time.

Every year when the spring freshets make the ordinarily peaceful Miami river a raging torrent the inhabitants of the city are accustomed to live for days in fear of flood and then pestilence. Great disasters have been wrought by the swollen stream, and in 1805, 1847, 1863, 1866, 1886 and in 1898 many lives were lost.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Harris, of West Front street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Adelaine Harris, to William Meyers, of New York. The wedding will take place sometime this month.

FOR LARGER USE OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Measure Advocated by Wilson Passes in House Unanimously.

Trenton, March 28.—Assembly Bill 666, by Mr. Hennessy, of Bergen county, permitting the public to use the public school houses for various purposes, was passed in the Assembly Wednesday afternoon without opposition. In advocating it, Assemblyman Hennessy [illegible] that it fulfilled one of the pledges in the Democratic State platform. This pledge was as follows:

"We heartily recommend [illegible] of school houses and public buildings for political and other neighborhood and public meetings, as well as for elections, under proper local regulation."

The measure provides that the Board of Education of any school district may, subject to reasonable regulations to be adopted by the Board to permit the use of any school house and rooms therein, and the grounds and other property of the district when not in use for school purposes, for any of the following purposes:

For giving and receiving instruction in any branch of education, learning or the arts; for public library purposes; for holding social, civic and recreational meetings and entertainments; for meetings, entertainments and occasions where admission fees are charged; for polling places, for holding elections, for the registration of voters and for holding political meetings.

Another argument made in its favor by Mr. Hennessy was to quote from the last message of Governor Wilson to the Legislature on the subject.

"A great movement has sprung up in this country in recent years which centers around the school house as a place of neighborhood conference in all matters affecting the public or any local part of it. It is known as the social center movement. It has the force and momentum of a great idea in it. Secret forces, corrupt forces, forces of evil of every kind, are against it, are afraid of it. They fear neighborhood discussions. They do not wish to have local and neighborhood matters canvassed too much outloud. It is our duty as public servants to lend full and effectual aid to this movement. We can do it by giving public spirited men and women everywhere free use of the school houses. A very simple statute will accomplish the desired result. The free forces of society will do the rest."

The roll was then called and the bill went through unanimously.

PIERCE INDETERMINATE FRANCHISE BILL PASSES

Trenton, March 28.—If Senator Pierce's indeterminate franchise bill, which passed the Senate Wednesday, shall become a law it will make radical changes in the granting of public utility franchises in this state. The bill provides that thereafter every franchise or privilege granted by any municipality to any public utility, other than a steam railroad shall be an indeterminate permit. Senator Pierce maintains that the provision that a franchise may be terminated under his bill if the standard of proper service is not maintained, will result in every public utility striving to give the best possible service. In other words, the bill will put public utility corporations on their good behaviour so they may not lose their privileges.

The bill repeals the limited franchise act of 1906, the supplement thereto passed the same year; the supplement of May 8, 1907, providing that the imited franchise act shall not apply to second, third and fourth class counties, except in cities having a population of 12,000 or more; and the act of 1912 extending the limit of franchise that may be granted to fifty years.

Senator Pierce has made a long fight for this measure. He had a similar bill before the Senate last year, but it was defeated.

BANKER RELEASED.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 28.—William Mongomery, former banker and prominent clubman of Pittsburgh, was released today from the western penitentiary, where he had served about four and one-half years of a fifteen-year sentence imposed upon him for misapplying the funds of the Allegheny National Bank of this city, of which he was cashier. The bank failed in 1908 with a shortage of a million dollars. All losses have been repaid, and President Taft, as one of his last official acts, commuted Montgomery's fifteen-year sentence on the ground that it was out of proportion to that imposed in similar cases.

NEW JERSEY CONFERENCE.

Newark, N. J., March 28.—The New Jersey Housing Association, the only State organization of its kind in the country, held a conference here today attented by delegates from of the leading cities and towns of the State. The conference was devoted to a general discussion of the housing conditions in New Jersey and methods of improving the bad conditions that exist in many localities.

TWO EXEMPT CLASSES IN EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY

Trenton, March 28.—Farm laborers and domestics will be excluded from the provisions of the employers liability act by a bill which passed the Senate Wednesday and which was introduced by Senator Gaunt. The bill was introduced in the interests of farmers of south Jersey and passed without opposition.

THE PLAINFIELD THEATRE

Every young woman who aspires to theatrical honors—and very few of them are immune—will find ample encouragement in the career of Grace George, the most youthful of contemporary stars. What Miss George has been able to accomplish in the brief period of ten years is best illustrated, perhaps, by the success she has attained in the role of the heroine of Sardou's comedy, "Divorcons," in which she will be seen at the Plainfield theatre Saturday matinee and night. In that portrayal the young comedienne made herself famous not only in this country but in Great Britain as well, playing the entire season at the Duke of York's theatre, London. She had, however, no easy road to fame. Her record of portrayals is in itself ample evidence to this effect.

Miss George had undergone a severe schooling in that severest of all curriculums—the school of experience. She spent a brief season in vaudeville, then metamorphosing from variety, and followed this by establishing herself as the most subtle and refined of the ingenues when William A. Brady featured her in "The Turtle" and in "Mlle. Fifi." Subsequently she was starred under the Brady management in "The Countess Chiffon."

Then Mr. Brady purchased from J. I. C. Clark, author of Julia Marlowe's "For Bonnie Prince Charlie," a romantic drama, entitled "Her Majesty." The production was made early in September, 1900, at the Columbia theatre, Washington, whence it was taken to the Manhattan theatre, New York, where the play remained through the winter. Then she appeared in "Under Southern Skies," following this with a series of successes, including "Pretty Peggy," in which she impersonated the great Woffington; "The Two Orphans," carrying off, as the blind Louise, the honors of a great all-star cast; "Abigail," a pretty little comedy by Kellett Chalmers, which she abandoned in spite of its success because it afforded opportunity for ingenue work only; "The Marriage of William Ashe," in which her Lady Kitty was a piece of sound emotional acting; "The Richest Girl in the World," which was abandoned also for the reason that its exactions were chiefly in the ingenue line; "Clothes," the satirical comedy in which, as Olivia Sherwood, she showed the follies of the fashionable world, and "Divorcons" in which she captivated both London and New York. Later Miss George successfully presented "A Woman's Way," and also at the invitation of the directors of the New theatre, appeared in that famous playhouse as Lady Teazle in "The School for Scandal," winning one of the greatest personal triumphs of her career.

Robert B. Mantell, recognized leader of the American stage in the interpretation of the great roles of Shakespeare and the classics, will be seen at the Plainfield theatre on Wednesday night, April 2, in what is regarded by many of his admirers as his masterpiece, "Macbeth." Mr. Mantell is credited with putting into this role the elemental barbarism of which Shakespeare undoubtedly dreamed when he created the Thane of Cowder, and which so far actors have succeeded in visualizing. William Winter, dean of American dramatic critics, regards Mr. Mantell's "Macbeth" as the greatest the American stage has seen since the days of Edwin Booth. Of Mr. Mantell's readings of such speeches as "She should have died hereafter," and "Had I but died an hour before this chance," Mr. Winter says in his new book, "Shakespeare on the Stage," regarded as the most authoritative utterance on American theatricals in the past fifty years: "Those affecting speeches were spoken by Mantell as they had not been spoken of any actor since the days of Edwin Booth—entoned so melancholy, solemn and afflicting, so frought with the desolation of a seared, hopeless mind and a broken heart that memory will long treasure them as among the most expressive and touching achievements of elocutionary art that have been known in recent years." Mr. Mantell will present "Macbeth" here with exactly the same scenic equipment and in exactly the same manner as he presented it in New York on the night when he aroused such enthusiasm from Mr. Winter, and a brilliant Broadway audience. There will be seen in Mr. Mantell's support a new Lady Macbeth, Miss Florence Rockwell, who when a girl only a little out of her 'teens, was leading woman with the late Richard Mansfield. Others of note in Mr. Mantell's company are Miss Agnes Elliott Scott, Miss Genevieve Hamper, Miss Genevieve Reynolds, Fritz Leiber, Guy Lindsley, Alfred Hastings, Brigham Royce and Allen Thomas.

THE FAILURE TO MAKE A WILL

is often the cause of much unnecessary trouble and expense. This important duty is sometimes deferred because of the difficulty in selecting the right man to act as executor but even if the "right man" be found he may die before the estate is settled and its administration will then pass into the hands of someone appointed by the Court who may or may not be competent and who, of course, will be unfamiliar with the wishes of the deceased.

PRESBYTERIAL REPORTS.

Reports were presented by the officers at the Women's Presbyterial meeting in the Crescent Ave. church today as follows: Corresponding secretary and Freedmen work, Mrs. J. H. Fraser; secretary Young People's Work, Mrs. Adrian Lyon; treasurer, Mrs. Clarence C. Coleman; secretary literature, Miss Catherine Reed. Mrs. Lyon, Mrs. Fraser and Mrs. Mooney conducted the Young People's Conference for leaders of study class organization. Mrs. L. B. Griggs, of Union, and Miss Mary Neighbor, of Califon, took part in the afternoon devotional services. There was a roll call and offering for the contingent fund. The invitation to luncheon was given by Mrs. I. C. Pierson and about 200 accepted. The Westminster Guild assisted the women of the church in serving.

BANQUET TONIGHT.

Covers will be laid for 150 at the Y. M. C. A. tonight, the occasion being the annual senior department supper and a fine program of after-dinner speeches and other forms of amusement has been arranged which promise to make the affair a mammoth success. Frederick A. Pope, prosecuting attorney of Somerset county, will be the speaker of the evening and among the other prominent speakers will be State Secretary Charles A. Coburn, William D. Murray, president of the Y. M. C. A.; H. E. Parker, general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., and E. C. Ostlin, the local physical director. Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, of this city, will offer the invocation. Guy Hunter will provide amusement in his immitable way.

ALLENS ELECTROCUTED.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Richmond, Va., March 28.—Floyd Allen and his young son, Claude Wanson Allen, of the Carroll County Clansman, who took part in the court house shooting at Hillsville on March 14, 1912, were electrocuted today.

Following an all night conference between Lieutenant Governor Allyson, Attorney General Williams and friends of the Allens, it was announced this morning that Superintendent Wood, of the prison, had agreed to postpone the execution of the men until Governor Mann should return from a trip out of the State. The Governor returned at noon and refused to intercede.

DANCE AT SEMINARY.

The dance given by the faculty of The Seminary last night in the school auditorium for members of the 1913 class proved to be a delightful occasion. The large room where the dances are held was transformed into a place of decorative beauty by the profuse display of palms, azalias and bunting. The junior and sophomore classes paid homage to the seniors by decorating the gymnasium in elaborate fashion, the general color scheme being green and gold, the colors of the junior class. An exceptional and varied program of dance music was rendered by the Van Eps Brothers.

PRESTON PARRY.

Mrs. Frederick Knowland, of Parnassuf, Pa., who has been the guest this winter of Mrs. Francis de Lacey Hyde, received a telegram last night stating that her nephew, Preston Parry, formerly of this city, had died in Twin Falls, Idaho. She left for Parnassuf today, where the funeral will take place. Mr. Parry's end was caused by tuberculosis. He was thirty-five years old. Left an orphan at the age of five years, Mr. Parry was brought up by Mrs. Knowland, who lived in this city for many years prior to 1895.

MISS MARTIN ENTERTAINS.

Miss Elizabeth Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Martin, of 818 Park avenue, entertained a number of young friends at her home, yesterday afternoon. In addition to an attractive program of music, the young folks enjoyed playing "Five Hundred." Those present were the Misses Constance Veysey, Dorothy Simons, Dorothy Butler, Elsie Stevens, Roda Todd, Florence Neilsen, Ruth Voorhees, Kathryn Stout, Celia Cottrell, Edith Lowry, Elizabeth Martin and Eugene Martin.

PARVIN LECTURES ON LITTLE KINGDOM

His Illustrated Talk on Holiday in Belgium Proves Enjoyable.

Under the auspices of the Berean Bible Study Class of Warren chapel, Emerson E. Parvin, of this city, gave an interesting illustrated lecture at the chapel, last night, entitled "The Little Kingdom of the Rich," being a narrative of a holiday spent in Belgium last summer. The lecture was illustrated with about seventy-five lantern slides, some of them beautifully colored.

After a brief reference to the geography of the country, Mr. Parvin commented on its richness in art, the magnificent public buildings and churches which are everywhere seen, and the evidence of great prosperity and happiness displayed on all sides.

Starting at Antwerp, after illustrating some features of the ocean voyage, the lecturer conducted the audience through that great city, showing many of its beautiful buildings and specially referring to the Cathedral. From Antwerp the journey continued to Ghent, Bruges, Ostende, Brussels, through a portion of the beautiful Ardennes country, visiting Namur, Dinant and including a four hours' ride by boat on the Meuse. The lecture, as a whole, justified its title, and revealed in a pleasing way the many attractions of the "Little Kingdom."

CHANCE PEN IN CASE.

Frank J. Farrell, owner of the New York American League club, received from Ban Johnson, president of the league, yesterday, a glass case containing the pen with which Frank Chance signed the contract to become the New York manager. The league president expressed the wish that the pen would be an ounce of good luck and that the American League in New York would be highly successful under the new order of things.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

FASHION HINT

By JUDIC CHOLLET

The roughness of ratine makes a delightful contrast with the smooth finish of broadcloth, and the gown pictured is made of both these materials. The frock would be charming developed in cotton ratine in antique blue with black charmeuse satin. Plain materials are pretty trimmed with flowered ratine. The frock is very easy to make.

For the medium size the blouse will require three and five-eighths yards of material twenty-seven inches wide, with three-eighths yard of twenty-seven inch goods for collar and cuffs.

These May Manton patterns are cut in sizes from 34 to 42 inches bust measure for the waist and from 22 to 32 inches waist measure for the skirt. Send 10 cents each for the patterns to this office, giving numbers, skirt 7708 and waist 7707, and they will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

APPROPRIATE EASTER DESSERTS

SOME recipes for easter desserts are given here. Among these is tansy pudding, a dish served by the early Christians. It had a religious significance, its object being to commemorate the bitter death of the Christ. There is nothing bitter about the pudding as made by the modern housewife.

A Historic Pudding.

Tansy Pudding.—Crumble or grate one pound of stale sponge cake and pour over it one pint of cream. Into a cupful of grape juice dissolve one-half teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half grated nutmeg, one-half cupful sugar and six well beaten eggs. Add this to the cake and mix well. Pound tansy leaves in a mortar until four tablespoonfuls of the liquid are obtained, or one-half teaspoonful of oil of tansy. Add this to the pudding and bake forty minutes in a buttered pudding pan. Serve cold with whipped cream.

The following dish will especially please the children:

Eggs In Nest.—Make a rather stiff jelly with gelatin, coloring it a fairly deep violet with a harmless vegetable coloring. Have ready ten or twelve empty eggshells whose contents have been drained through a hole in the small end. Rinse them out with cold water and fill with the liquid gelatin, setting them upright in a pan of meal to keep them steady. Leave them for twenty-four hours to cool and set and when ready to serve pick away the shells and pile the violet eggs on a glass platter, if possible, in a nest of whipped cream, sprinkling a few candied violets over the whole.

Easter Sherbet.

Mint Sherbet.—Take two cupfuls of boiling water and pour it over a bunch of well washed, fresh bruised mint leaves. Simmer ten minutes, add one cupful of sugar, strain, stir in a tablespoonful of gelatin that has stood half an hour in a quarter cupful of cold water and stir until dissolved. Add a cupful of grape or currant juice and a cupful of lemon juice, then freeze to a mushlike consistency. Serve in sherbet glasses, ornamenting each with a candied cherry and a sprig of mint.

Easter Blancmange.—Make a quart of blancmange in the usual way. Empty twelve eggshells whose contents have been drained through a small hole in the end. Divide the blancmange into four parts. Leave one white, stir into another two beaten egg yolks; into a third chocolate; into the fourth cochineal coloring. Heat the yellow over the fire long enough to cook the egg. Fill the shells with the various mixtures, three of each. Set upright in a pan of meal or flour to keep them steady and leave until the next day. Then fill a glass bowl more than three-quarters full with nice wine jelly or gelatin, broken into sparkling fragments. Break away the eggshells bit by bit from the blancmange. If the insides of the shells have been properly rinsed and left wet there will be no trouble about this. Pile the varicolored eggs upon the bed of jelly, lay shredded preserved orange peel or very finely shredded candied citron about them and serve as an Easter day dessert.

MRS. FRIEDA DROLL DIES AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Frieda Droll, wife of Frank Droll, died at 7:45 o'clock last night at her home, 1022 West Front street, after a lingering illness. For a number of weeks she failed gradually and during the past few days her death was momentarily expected. Mrs. Droll was born in Baden, Germany, and had lived in Plainfield about twenty-eight years. She was an active member of Hope chapel, and when her health permitted attended all the services and was interested in the various societies.

Surviving are a husband, Frank Droll; two daughter, Mrs. Emma Droll-VanEps, of this city; Miss Rose V. Droll, of New York city, and two sons, Emil A. Droll, of South Bethlehem, Pa., and Walter H. Droll, of McGill, Nevada.

The funeral service will be held at the late home, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Fred B. Newman, formerly of this city, but now of Tunkhannock, Pa., and Rev. Frederic L. Greene, pastor of Hope chapel, will officiate. The burial will be in the family plot in Hillside cemetery.

SCOOP IS SOME PROUD OF HIS "SPANISH"

"MAC" SAYS

Senior department activities will end with a big feed at the Y. M. C. A. tonight as all good things should. Wonder if baseball will be advocated after the athletes get the league activities off their mind?

Indoor baseball is getting to be a popular pastime at the Y. M. C. A. This branch of sport together with outdoor runs makes up the physical department schedule nowadays.

The rainy spell has put a crimp in the two High Schools training schedules during the past few days. Both captains are anxiously awaiting the return of clear weather in order to get their candidates out in the open before their first contests.

Another baseball team has sprung up during the past week and is bound to be heard from before the season gets far under way. The athletes of Scotch Plains have organized a team at the Parish House under the leadership of Director Batterson and some good material has been out for the aggregation.

Many of the local teams will get into action for the first time tomorrow in practices but no regularly scheduled competitive matches have been arranged.

Captains of Hope chapel, Commercials and Public Service have all issued calls for practice.

Company K baseball candidates are being given daily tryouts in the armory and prospects are bright for a diamond combination.

According to dope forthcoming from the Giant camp, Jim Thorpe is due for the toboggan after he has drawn a month's pay from McGraw. He is a rank failure as a ball player, it is said, except in such a league as the Carolina organization.

Still we hear nothing from Jack Martin. "The feature of the game," we read from accounts of the Jersey City-Yankee clash, "was Derrick's work at short. The Dutchman blew himself to eight chances."

Why continue pumping 'em towards this fellow? Haven't we insisted before that Martin is just hanging back to give his able rival an opportunity to get into the good graces of Chance.

Why go into batting bankruptcy? Why push the bally pill toward a bottomless well?

It is about time someone announced the date for the annual Y. M. C. A. athletic meet. In the event that the local management wants to have Howard Drew, the colored champion of America, on deck that day something definite will have to be done very soon.

John Gates, the colored lad who ran on the fast Orange relay team in the Smart Set games, is one of the best short distance men in this section. He won laurels through his work on the cinder path several years ago but because of lack of competition in local athletic circles dropped out of the limelight.

Harry Jordon is another speedy spiked shoe artist and will no doubt be heard from this spring in various metropolitan meets.

SPECIAL FOR BOGARDUS.

A communication has been received from the manager of the Iroquois Atheltic Club baseball team of Perth Amboy, challenging local aggregations to games on home grounds. From the letter it seems that the Amboy team is in the semi-professional class and he states that he is particularly anxious to hear from Bob Bogardus, of the Dunellen baseball team. Address all communications to Phillip Payne, Perth Amboy, N. J.

GRACE BOYS BOW TO NEW YORKERS

Playing on a Public School Court in Brooklyn They are Easily Defeated.

Playing on the court in Public School number nineteen in Brooklyn, Wednesday afternoon, the Grace Church Boys' Club basketball team of this city, was forced to swallow a 16 to 10 defeat by the public school players of Brooklyn in a fast and well played game. Little field goal shooting was done by either team, the visitors making four foul field goals against their opponents' eight. The first half was featured by close guarding, especially on the part of the home team, who allowed the Plainfielders but one point, this one a foul shot made by McNamee. During the initial administration the school boys piled up a quartet of shots from the field, netting them eight points.

The final half was by far the best for the church players, they scoring nine points against their opponents' eight and very nearly overcoming the big lead obtained early in the game by their rivals. For the winners, Beecher was the star point-getter, totaling up eight of his aggregation's sixteen scores; and McNamee and Fitch held the same role for the losers, tallying four points each.

DRISCOLL'S TEAM WILL OPEN SEASON

Plainfield Captain and First Baseman Will Have Old Team on the Diamond.

Plainfielders will be able to get their first glimpse of 1913 baseball next Sunday afternoon by taking a trip over to the New Brunswick Aumsement Park, where Dave Driscoll, the local captain and first baseman, will have his team in working order for the first time this season. Providing the weather is favorable Driscoll is planning to open the diamond season Sunday afternoon with a game in which the All-Professionals will be New Brunswick's opponents. The visiting team is managed by Bill Robbins, a cousin of Christy Mathewson, and Hank Mathewson, who will play right field, is a cousin of the famous twirler.

Ramrau, who will play shortstop, is a former Trenton Tri-State League player, and has played several games against the Brunswicks in past seasons. Lanner is from the Charlotte team. Tierney and Kelley come from the Erie and Elmira clubs, while Deedon has played with Dallas, Texas League team. Tee, who will do the catching, is from the Jersey City team, and McGarry, who will be the box artist, hails from the Albany club. Most of these men are to report to the various teams within the next two weeks, and are anxious to play there for practice purposes.

The New Brunswick lineup is familiar to all Plainfielders, the same team taking the field in the opening game as sported Plainfield uniforms here last season with the exception of Lewis, who will cover the shortfield. Lewis is a former Williams College player and a teammate of Davis, the New York Yankee twirler. Howard Craig will play second base, and Lee will do the catching. Cadore, who was a popular favorite here last season, will adorn the mound. The lineup of the two teams will be as follows:

C. R. SCOTT SPOKE ON BOYS' CAMP AT BANQUET LAST NIGHT

Educational Recreation at Jersey Boys' Camp.

Members of the Y. M. C. A. boys' department extension club, to the number of 110, enjoyed a banquet and program of speech-making in the local association auditorium last night, the occasion being the conclusion of the season's activities in that department. The Women's Auxiliary, composed of the following members, served the dinner: Mrs. J. E Kimball, president; Mrs. C. Parse, first vice president; Mrs. J. W. Gavett, third vice president; Mrs. Phillip S. Suffern, recording secretary; Mrs. N. Y. Hull, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Thomas F. Hylan, treasurer. They were assisted in the work by the Boys' Work Committee, composed of the following: Mrs. F. J. Hubbard, chairman; Mrs. George L. Babcock, Mrs. Frank T. Clawson, Mrs. Leslie Daniels, Mrs. Thomas F. Hylan, Mrs. W. A. McClurg, Mrs. W. A. Parker, Mrs. James Peacock, Mrs. Norman H. Probasco, Mrs. C. C. Randolph, Mrs. Ora Rogers, Mrs. Phillip S. Suffern and Mrs. L. C. Whitall.

James MacClymont acted as toastmaster and introduced the following speakers, who described various phases of the boys' work particularly attractive to boys of that age:

E. C. Ostlin, physical director of the Y. M. C. A.; J. M. Clinton, who is home on a furlough from China, told "What It Means to Help the Other Fellow;" H. S. Park, of the New Jersey State Committee, who gave a "Hello" from the organization which he represents; Charles H. Line, formerly assistant physical director of the local Y. M. C. A. and now a student at the International Y. M. C. A. Training School, made the presentation speech to the "Harvard team," winner of the College League contest; Herbert E. Parker, general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., made the presentation speech to the victorious "Iroquois team" of the Indian League contest; William D. Murray, president of the local Y. M. C. A., who told "How Boys Can Help the New Building;" Charles R. Scott, State secretary of boys' work in New Jersey, spoke on the activities in the "New Jersey Boys' Camp," of which a number of local boys are familiar, having attended it at one time or another.

He illustrated his address with over one hundred stereopticon slides of the camp activities at Wawayanda. He began by showing some scenes of different vacation resorts and spoke of the temptations boys have to face during their vacation period which revealed the need of parents taking every precaution in the selection of the place where the boy should spend the summer.

LOCAL ATHLETES IN GYMNASTIC CHAMPS

Miller and Dutcher Among Those Entered in Intercollegiates at Princeton.

Gymnasts from most of the large eastern colleges will be present at Princeton University gym tonight, where the intercollegiate gymnastic meet is scheduled to be held. Among those who will compete for honors in various events are Russell Miller, of this city, and Ray Dutcher, a graduate of Plainfield High School, whose parents formerly resided in Dunellen. Both Dutcher and Miller are looked upon as sure point winners in their specialties, Miller on the flying rings, and Dutcher in the club swinging part of the program.

Miller has not been defeated on the rings this year, taking part in all of the intercollegiate meets in which Pennsylvania has been a factor, and should he win tonight he will be acknowledged as the collegiate champion for 1913. Dutcher is at present the A. A. U. champion club swinger, having won that coveted title last year and he will represent the New York University in that event tonight. While the teams are evenly matched and the competition will no doubt be close, N. Y. U. now rules a popular favorite and it would not surprise may to see the New Yorkers capture the championship as they have already defeated the strongest of the eleven teams entered in season competition.

HOLY CROSS FIVE BEATS WATCHUNGS

In a Close Game the Home Players Manage to Nose Out a Victory.

Playing on the Holy Cross court last night the Watchung five, of North Plainfield, was trimmed by the Holy Cross boys' basketball team by a score of 27 to 24. The game was close and well played at all times, neither team having a decided advantage over the other at any stage of the fray.

At the end of the first half Holy Cross led by a count of 16 to 11, but the visitors outscored the home basket cagers in the final period to the extent of 13 to 11. The victors excelled in team work, having many opportunities to shoot garnered by their classy manipulation of the ball keeping it in their team mates' hands. For Holy Cross, Conroy and Day were the chief scorers, while F. Featherstone and Underhill occupied this role for the visitors.

SQUASH TOURNAMENT NOW IN PROGRESS

Schedule of Games has Been Drawn up and the Sport Has Become Popular.

Somewhat of an innovation has been introduced into this city in the way of sports by a group of athletically inclined men at Truell Hall and a squash tournament is now well under way among the enthusiasts at that place. Although this game is one of the greatest exercises known at the present time in the field of sports because of the fact that it brings into play practically every muscle in the body it has not been tried to any great extent, probably because of the great expense involved in fitting up a court suitable for competitive games.

Two squash teams have been formed at Truell Hall consisting of six members each and are known as the Highlanders and Lowlanders, being made up of Netherwood residents who have taken up the sport on the recreative side. The first games of the tournament schedule were decided last night and resulted in the Highlanders taking the lead on games by a score of two to one, while the Lowlanders claim the bigger end of a five to four point score. In last night's matches George Clarke defeated Jack Van Deventer by a score of two games to one. Clarke did not get started until after the first game, dropping the initial one to his opponent, but tied the score up in the second and won the series by capturing the odd game. Charles L. Hyde defeated Joe VanDeventer by a score of two games to one, taking the first and third contests. In both of these matches the interest was intense because of the fact that the game score was tied in both instances after the second contest and the result of both series hinged on the final games.

The last trio of contests was more one-sided. Jacob Vandeventer managing to take all three of the games from his opponent, John R. Greason. The teams benefited by the playing of individuals as follows: The Highlanders now lead on games by virtue of Joe and Jacob Vandeventer's victories and the Lowlanders obtained their one game through the efforts of George Clarke. A second set of games will be played tonight.

The summaries:

Clarke (n)	0–1–1–2
Jack Vandeventer (l)	1–0–0–1
Hyde (h)	1–0–1–2
Joe Vandeventer (l)	0–1–0–1

N. P. H. S. PLAYERS OPPOSED BY STARS

Boroughites Will Have to Put up a Superior Brand of Ball to Beat Brunswick.

When North Plainfield High School baseball players take the field in the opening game of the season against New Brunswick High School next Saturday afternoon, they will be up against one of the stiffest propositions on their season's schedule if preliminary reports on the strength of the Brunswick nine may be taken as a criterion. Among the players New Brunswick has in its fold this season, besides an abundant supply of veterans, is "Jakie" Polinsky, who came from Stuyvesant High School of New York city, and entered the junior class of the High School of that place. Polinsky has already proven a find at football and basketball, but little is known of his baseball ability, authough he is hailed as a great ball player by those who have seen him in action in the one practise held by New Brunswick.

Polinsky may well be remembered by Plainfield and North Plainfield High School basketball followers, he having played steady and fast games against both of these institutions. He has been elected temporary captain of the Brunswick High School nine and expects to turn out one of the best aggregations of ball tossers that ever represented that institution on the diamond. Rumor has pictured him as a pitcher of considerable ability, and the North Plainfielders will have to get their batting eyes working before next Saturday if they intend to make any kind of a showing against their old rivals in the opening game of the 1913 season.

Estimated That Their Two Performances Will Net About $1,200.

CUTTING SCORES A HIT

Eddie Bennett Also a Star—The Receipts Will Be Devoted to the Club House Furnishing Fund of the New Building.

Repeating the performance of the night before, the Elks' minstrel troupe played to its second capacity house in the Plainfield theatre, last night and wound up the eighth annual appearance with a brilliant flourish. Elmer D. Cutting was once more the feature of the minstrel program, his female disguise being most complete and those who did not refer to the program were ignorant of the identity of the mysterious "Tillie Foster." His voice added much to the deception and when he swooned after his third appearance before the footlights he did it in the way typical of the weaker sex.

As joke dispensers the end men surpassed their first night's efforts, but "Banty" Bennett was once more the leader in the jocular handouts. "Banty" appeared in the second part of the program with his "full" dress suit and provoked round after round of applause by his antics. William G. Smith, Elmer Cutting and B. R. Tallamy rendered solos which earned many encores and Harry Weber in his original musical skit was a scream. Maximus, the strong man, exhibited some thrilling stunts showing his marvelous lifting powers and muscular development.

As a result of the two nights' performance the local lodge will net over $1,200, which will be expended in partly furnishing their new building now in the course of construction.

Those taking part in the chorus were: John Ardern, E. H. Bennett, H. N. Blimm, A. E. Billings, Harry Crentnall, W. P. Banks, J. H. Cose, J. F. Coleman, J. J. Campbell, Dr. C. L. Crist, E. D. Cutting, J. L. Duckworth, A. D. Findlay, W. J. Firstbrook, Boyd Fullerton, F. E. Giles, H. E. Gray, A. E. Groff, T. Harding, W F Hamilton, L B. Harris, F. R. Haynes, W. H. Hudson, C. F. Kreger, A. C. Lohrman, F. G. Lynn, L. N. Leland, R. Lowrie, J. A. Lohsen, J. C. Martin, W. T. MacCollough, H. E. Morrison, E. Y. Neighbour, J. F. O'Keefe, A. A. Prudhon, E. W. Poinier, A. S. Robinson, C. W. Runyon, E. C. Searing, F. A. Sheppard, W. G. Smith, G. O. Stevens, W. Swlam, L. R. Stewart, B. F. Tallamy, S. R. Timpf, W. R. Townsend, C. J. Ward, Harry Weber and H. A. Wickham.

The minstrel committee are: J. H. Cose, Dr. C. L. Crist, E. D. Cutting, Harry W. Weber, V. W. Nash, W. E. MacClymont, E. L. Steffen, J. F. O'Keefe and W. S Marder

William MacClymont was the musical director; Harry Weber, coach, and E. D. Cutting, stage manager.

MRS. CONNER GIVES A DELIGHTFUL TEA

Entertains Two Hundred at Her Home in Hillside Avenue.

Mrs. William A. Conner, of Hillside avenue, gave a delightful tea and reception at her home yesterday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. The affair was attended by some two hundred friends, including a number from out of town. The floral decorations added much to the pleasure of those present.

Mrs. Conner was assisted in receiving by Miss Laura Tupper, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. B. G. Follansbee and Mrs. O. B. Jones, of Pittsburg, Pa., and Mrs. Arthur M. Harris, of Plainfield.

Those who poured in the diningroom were Mrs. John Gray Foster, Mrs. Howard McWilliams, Mrs. A. F. H. Streuli, Mrs. James R. Blake, Mrs. H. F. Johnson, Mrs. Otis E. Hovey and Mrs. DeWitt C. Ivins, and they were assisted by the Misses Marjorie Brown, Audrey Gernon, Anna Scott Yerkes, Elizabeth Flanders, Hope Ivins and Lillian King.

FAKE TICKET SELLER'S IDENTITY IS LEARNED

August Fletcher and Charles Peterson, as they called themselves, who when arrested about a week ago in the act of defrauding the public by selling bogus admission tickets which stated that a basketball game and dance was to take place in the local High School auditorium and held by City Judge DeMeza for the action of the grand jury, have been identified as August Fleidner, of 356 Davis avenue, Kearny, and Harry Gray, of 89 Garden street, Newark, respectively. Gray had been arrested in Kearny on Feb. 24, 1912, for swindling, the police records show. The identity of the men was learned through newspaper clippings found among the articles taken from them when searched at the local police headquarters. They are said to be old offenders.

COLORED BOYS SENT TO THE STATE HOME

Elizabeth, March 29.—Fortunas and John Sweeney, colored boys arrested in Plainfield for stealing from automobiles on the streets there, were sentenced to the State Home for Boys at Jamesburg by Judge Connolly in the Juvenile Court yesterday afternoon. They had a previous record. Henry Richardson, who was with them, was placed in charge of the State Board of Children's Guardians. His mother was rebuked by the court for chewing gum while testifying.

FOR POULTRY RAISERS.

Theodore Whitman, of Allentown, secretary and manager of the great Allentown fair and who has been selected as one of the three managers for the San Francisco Exposition in 1915, will address the New Jersey Association of Poultry Improvement, at the next meeting Wednesday, April 16, in Coward's Hall, 109 Park avenue. He has been in the chicken-raising business for thirty-seven years.

ENTERTAINED WITH MAGIC.

Henry Warren Rankin entertained the Sunday School pupils of Hope chapel in the church parlors with his feats of magic in connection with the Sunday school social program arranged for last night. Following Mr. Rankin's exhibition of mysteriously producing and vanishing different objects, refreshments consisting of cake and coffee were served by the committee in charge.

DRUM CORPS CONTEST.

Arrangements are being made for a drum corps contest to be held in Schentzen Park, Union Hill, Sunday, June 31, and over 20 drum corps have been invited to attend. These represent organizations in Pennsylvania, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey and they will compete for prizes consisting of silver loving cups and gold medals.

COMMITTEE TO REPORT.

The committee appointed by Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., of North Plainfield, to investigate and examine into the borough's finances, has about completed its work and it is expected that a final report will be made at a meeting to be held Monday night in the Somerset street school. George T. Rogers is chairman of the committee.

N. P. TWP. DANCE.

Members of the North Plainfield Township Society will give a dance tonight in the town hall at Watchung.

OPEN AIR SCHOOL SESSIONS TO BEGIN

Formal Opening by Anti-Tuberculosis League on Monday, April 7.

Dr. Clara DeHart Krans has just been appointed chairman of the Open Air School committee of the Plainfield Anti-Tuberculosis League. The league's pavilion which the movers have been conveying through the streets of the city for the last two weeks has almost reached its destination on Muhlenberg place. The work of altering and adapting it to meet the needs of the new use to which it will be put will be begun at once, and it is expected that it will be opened as the Open Air School for Anaemic Children on Monday, April 7.

The work of the school will be begun with twenty children, who while not tuberculous are delicate and anaemic, and would be likely to contract the disease if exposed to infection. No children who are tuberculous will be accepted as pupils, owing to the danger of the other children contracting the disease from them.

The school will be so arranged that all its rooms will be practically outdoors, although the children will be sheltered from the most severe weather and from high winds.

At the beginning the working staff will consist of a teacher and a matron, who will prepare the children's food and generally look after them under the direction of the League's Nurse, Miss Leahy, who will visit the school every day. The children will be supplied with the necessary blankets and the canvas bags which are used in such schools. They will be given a hot lunch at noontime, and in addition every child will have a quart of milk to drink each day.

The publicity committee of the league, of which Mrs. Allan Cowperthwaite, is chairman, will conduct a tea at the school from 3 to 6 o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, April 5. Visitors are asked to bring or send a donation of dry groceries or canned fruit, anything in fact which may be suitably used for the children's lunches.

UNION PLUMBERS HAD MERRY TIME AT DANCE

Saengerbund Hall presented a gala appearance last night the occasion being the third annual reception and ball of members of Local Union No. 103, U. A. Plumbers and Steamfitters. The stage upon which the orchestra sat, was a profusion of palms, Japanese lanterns, evergreen, American flags and red streamers arranged in artistic array. From the ceiling hung red streamers of crepe paper and along the balcony was red, white and blue bunting, made pronounced at intervals by the American shield.

The committee consisted of Evan D. Peterson, chairman; Harry Reilly, floor manager, John Barry, assistant floor manager, Otto Rice, John Coughlin, Fred J. Winn, Louis J. Feiring, Ernest Enander, James Kiley, Edward McCann, Walter Chandler and Fred Ehrhardt.

ELIZABETH'S MAYOR ISSUES AN APPEAL

FUND IS NOW $387

$300 Wired on Behalf of Plainfield for Sufferers' Relief.

Renewed appeals were made today by the Red Cross and other organizations and committees for relief work in the stricken Ohio Valley, where despite the fortunate smaller loss of life than at first anticipated the suffering among the tens of thousands of survivors is beyond the power of the voice or pen to express.

When the terrible earthquake wrecked San Francisco, the good people of Plainfield speedily subscribed $1,827.51 to the fund raised by the Plainfield Daily Press. And when an earthquake destroyed Messina, in Italy, our people responded to the call by contributing $1,016.80 to the fund raised by this paper. On both occasions Plainfield was high up on the honor role among the humanatarian communities.

The fund for the afflicted people of the Ohio Valley started by the Daily Press began with a rush and yesterday $313.25 had been subscribed. But the subscriptions did not come in very fast today for only $74 was added to the amount. Plainfield, the finest, richest and most benevolent community of its size anywhere in America, is not responding to the heartrending cry for help as it should. The total contributed up to 1 o'clock this afternoon was but $387.25.

Washington has officially announced that all money should be sent to Col. W. L. Wilson, treasurer of the relief fund at Columbus, Ohio, and accordingly at noon today in the name of the people of Plainfield, the Daily Press wired $300, the telegram accompanying it being as follows:

Colonel W. L. Wilson,
Treasurer Relief Fund,
Columbus, Ohio.

Are wiring you herewith $300 contributed for relief fund by Plainfield citizens, and more will follow.

PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS.

Clothing and food are not wanted according to Governor Cox and the Ohio Relief Committee—what is wanted is money to buy these necessities.

While the railroads and the express companies are sending everything without charge, the telegraph companies, both the W. U. and the Postal, strange as it may seem, are conscienceless enough to exact the regular rate for transmitting this relief money by wire.

HOLY CROSS PEOPLE ENJOY ENTERTAINMENT

Humorist, Magician, Vocalists and Instrumentalists Provide Program.

Montanelli's Venetian Quartet made their initial appearance in Plainfield last night at the Park Club, where they presented an excellent program of entertainment given under the auspices of the Church of the Holy Cross. John F. Dillon, a humorist, delighted the audience with funny stories, impersonations and songs, and Frederick W. Dunsworth, a magician, proved himself to be an artist of exceptional ability and a pleasant departure from the ordinary sleight-of-hand entertainer.

Umberto Janni, tenor, the vocal artist of the quartet, brought his hearers to applause repeatedly and was probably favored more in this respect in his closing selection, "Ciribiribin," which has always proven popular. He was encored again and again. Accompanying him when he sang was Anacleto Montanelli, the leader, who played the mandolin; Emilio Calamara, mandolina, and Raffaello Scarpati, harpist.

The program:

1—(a) "Spirit of Independence," Instrumental; (b) "Sale Mio," vocal; Montanelli's Venetian Quartet.

2—Mirth and Mystery, Frederick W. Dunsworth.

3—(a) "The Jollie Waltz," Instrumental; (b) "La Spagnola," Vocal; Montanelli's Venetian Quartet.

4—Laughing Songs and Stories, by John F. Dillon.

5—(a) "My Little Persian Rose," Instrumental; (b) "Mari Mari," Vocal; Montanelli's Venetian Quartet.

6—Up-to-date Sleight-of-Hand, by Frederick W. Dunsworth.

7—(a) "Tango Argentino," Instrumental; (b) "Cidibiribin," Vocal; Montanelli's Veneitan Quartet.

8—Dialect Stories and Songs, by John F. Dillon.

MRS. REMSEN TALKS ON MISSIONARY EFFORT

Mrs. William L. Remsen, formerly of Plainfield, but who is now residing at Jamaica, N. Y., where she is active in junior mission work in the Presbyterian church, gave an interesting address at the meeting of the Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church, yesterday afternoon. Her talk was along the line of women's mission work in general, during which she offered many helpful suggestions. She told of the progress being made at her home in the cause of missions.

During the afternoon Miss Adele Freeman sang two solos and she and her sister, Miss Ruth Freeman, sang a duet in a pleasing manner. After the meeting the band served tea in the parlors of the church and a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. Will F. Williams and Mrs. George Mantz poured tea, and they were assisted by the young women of the society in serving.

CHANGE OF DATE.

The date of the State Council of the Mothers' Congress and Parent-Teacher Association to be held at Trenton has been changed to Saturday, April 12, and the place of meeting from the Prospect Street Presbyterian church to the Gregory School. Delegates from Plainfield will take the 8:45 a. m. train, arriving in Trenton at 9:38 a. m. Returning they will leave Trenton on the 4:26 p. m., train, arriving in Plainfield at 5:17 p. m. Changing cars at Trenton Junction both going and coming. Each delegate is asked to bring a box luncheon. The fare for the round trip is $1.65.

SHARPE INNOCENT OF ANY WRONG ACT

Indictment Against Plainfielder to Be Nolle Prossed on Monday.

Jersey City, March 29.—George W. Young, financier and husband of Mme. Nordica, who was recently indicted by the Grand Jury for alleged conspiracy in connection with the land sales of the Port-au-Peck Realty Company, was yesterday granted a severance by Judge Robert Carey. Through his counsel, Merrit Lane, Mr. Young proved to the court's satisfaction that he was not connected with the company when the alleged frauds in land transfers were committed.

John Milton, representing the other defendants, including Ernest Sharpe, of Plainfield, was present in court and stated that his clients had evidence in their possession which, he said, demonstrated that neither George W. Young nor Sharpe had anything whatever to do with the company.

It was stated today on authority that Monday morning, the indictment against Ernest Sharpe, of Plainfield, would be nolle prossed, evidence being in his possesion to prove that he had not been connected with the company since 1909, whereas the troubles of the company are alleged to have occurred in 1911.

STEVENS STUDENTS CONCERT ENJOYED

Orchestra Makes a Hit at Annual Entertainment at High School Here.

The Stevens Musical Clubs of Stevens Institute gave their annual concert at the Plainfield High School, last night, followed by a dance. A feature of the concert was the work or the orchestra, which was really above the average and frequent encores were given. The program follows:

RELATIVES ARE SAFE PLAINFIELDERS HEAR

Isaac Schwed, of Evergreen avenue, received a telegram today from his brother-in-law, Charles R. Goldsmith, and his son, Ralph, of this city, who have been in Dayton, Ohio, that they are both safe and did not suffer from the recent floods in that part of the country. Clark A. Price, of Sandford avenue, has also received word from his father, I. C. Price, who lives in Dayton, that he is all right, but that he knows nothing as to the damage to his home from the floods.

Frederic Harrington, of Central avenue, has thus far received no direct word from his wife or daughter, the only information concerning possible conditions coming yesterday from a friend through Charles Faber, of the borough, which was to the effect that Mrs. Harrington was probably safe.

HENRY CRISTY.

Henry Cristy, aged 87 years, of 207 Elm street, Westfield, died at Muhlenberg Hospital this morning from the infirmities of old age. He was admitted to the hospital for treatment on March 18, but owing to the advanced stage of his disease, little hope was entertained for recovery. Mr. Cristy was a widower. The remains were taken to the late home today where the funeral will be held.

WORST IS OVER NOW

Feed and Clothe Survivors in Dayton Who Search for Dead.

MARSHALL EN ROUTE

Estimates on Loss of Life in Ohio Valley Lessens—Hotel Collapses at Zanesville—Cincinnati Feels Flood Effect.

There was a great change for the better in the flood regions of Ohio and Illinois during the last twenty-four hours, and conditions in all of the flooded cities are becoming much relieved. Food supplies have reached Dayton and many of the surrounding towns.

At Columbus and Dayton the water has receded from practically every street in the city, and people are able to go about, searching for bodies and clearing up the wreckage.

The relief supplies of food and clothing are adequate for the time being, and hundreds of tons of all sorts of food and clothing are being shipped into the stricken cities from all directions.

Vice President Marshall and Miss Mabel Boardman, the head of the Red Cross, are on the way to Ohio in a special train.

While the waters have receded from the cities which have been submerged since Tuesday, they have risen at Cincinnati, and that city is now experiencing trouble, about sixty blocks being under water.

From Pittsburgh, Pa., comes the report that the flood at Marietta, Ohio, passed the high water record of 1884 by six feet. 9 third of the city was swept away.

The Roggie Hotel, at Zanesville, collapsed this morning.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Dayton, Ohio, March 29.—With practically all of the water off of the streets, the cheering information that less than five hundred, instead of five thousand lives have been lost, plenty of provisions on hand and many more on the way, and pleasant weather conditions overhead, the people of Dayton this morning set to with a will to begin to clean up after the disastrous flood which has engulfed the city since Tuesday.

The first work undertaken was the search for bodies, and after they had found food and warm clothing, thousands who had been penned up in the top floors of buildings turned to with a will to help the local and State authorities in their quest for bodies and for people who might be marooned in places from which they could not escape because of the blocking of passage ways by debris cast up by the water. Up to noon over 150 bodies had been recovered and placed in the temporary morgue at the plant of the National Cash Register Company. A careful inspection of the city at that time convinced the authorities that the highest possible figure the fatalities could reach would be 500, and that probably it would be even less.

8,500 people have been fed by the authorities now, and thousands of others have found means of procuring supplies.

Columbus, Ohio, March 29.—Careful inspections of the city made by various authorities place the estimates of the number lost in the flood of the past few days at not more than two hundred. Director of Public Safety Barger said shortly before noon that he did not believe that more than 100 persons had lost their lives, and Coroner Bankert thought that 200 would be nearer the figure. Former Mayor Marshall, who is in charge of the rescue work, differed with both these men, and said that they were entirely too high in the figures. Fifty-six bodies have been recovered, and of these twenty-seven are identified.

The weather was clear, with the thermometer standing at 34 above zero, making the rescue work easily possible, without inflicting hardship upon those engaged in it.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 29.—Although the entire lower section of this city is affected by high water, and much is submerged, there has been little or no loss of life, and practically no suffering whatsoever, as the inhabitants had profited by the warnings sent out following the floods elsewhere. About sixty blocks in this city, Newport and Covington, Kentucky, are under water.

Reassuring reports of a most cheerful character comes from Youngstown. It is said that conditions there are such that it is hoped that the industry and business of the city will be resumed in a normal way by Monday. The City Water Works is again in operation, railroad traffic has been resumed on all the roads entering the city, and connecting it

PLAINFIELD'S NEIGHBORS

Dunellen & Vicinity

Manager Bogardus, manager of the local baseball team, has called a meeting for Monday night, when subscriptions will be received and organization effected. That Dunellen will be represented by a strong nine is evident by the large number of classy candidates for berths on the team. All have been in active training for the past week and some say they are now in mid-season form. Active team practise will begin next Wednesday. The application of the team for membership into the Central New Jersey Baseball League has been accepted.

The Dewey Park Social Club have leased Wayside Park for a term of thirty days beginning April 20, and will conduct dances there on Saturday night to which the members and their friends will be invited. The committee that will be in charge of these affairs is composed of Benjamin Prosie, chairman; Samuel McGovern, Henry Cramer and Henry Lund.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church held a cake and candy sale this afternoon in the church parlors, which proved a decided success. Musical selections were rendered at intervals throughout the afternoon.

John Tinsman has resigned his position with the grocery firm of D. J. Heaume & Son.

The regular meeting of the Board of Education will be held Tuesday, March 1.

The next meeting of the Council will be held Monday, April 7, when it is probable that the proposed joint sewerage system and matters pertaining to the suggested "Washington County," will be discussed.

Miss May E. Higgins, a local public school teacher, is detained at her home in Bound Brook this week with an attack of the grip.

Walter Elwood, of Prospect avenue, has returned home after spending several days with relatives in Amsterdam, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rinker, and family have moved from the borough to the Maplewood section of Newark. There many friends in town tendered them a reception last night in their honor, at which many expressed regrets that they were to leave the borough.

Professor Alfred J. Wilson will return to Newark Saturday to resume duties in the Newark school of which he is principal. He has been spending a week in town because of the extended Easter vacation customary in the Newark institution.

George A. Schenck, the local ice dealer, has leased an office in the First National Bank building.

The Baraca Bible class basketball team will go to Scotch Plains tonight where it will endeavor to send the first five of the Parish House down to defeat.

Whitehouse.

Miss Bertha Rockefeller, of Lebanon, is spending a few days in New York as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Rockefeller.

As an experiment last fall, George W. Shampanore, of Whitehouse Station, planted a number of strawberry plants in flower pots and kept them in the house all winter. The result is that Mr. Shampanore and his family enjoyed some luscious strawberries for their dinner yesterday.

Ralph Ford and Chester Scott are spending a week at the manse of the Presbyterian church at Lamington.

Mrs. David T. Brokaw, of New York, is visiting her brother, John B. Van Derbeek, at Lamington, for a week.

Walter H. Parsons, of Newark, is a guest at the home of Robert Duyckinck, at Lamington, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Opdycke are spending a week at his former home at New Germantown.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. John P. Krechting, of Scarsdale, N. Y., are spending several days among acquaintances at New Germantown. Until recently Dr. Krechting was pastor of the Lutheran church at New Germantown, a position which he held for thirty-four years. He was obliged to resign because of ill health. He is now somewhat improved.

Miss Edith Craig, of New Germantown, is the guest of her brother, William W. Craig, at Flatbush, Long Island.

Mrs. John Gulick, of Lamington, is spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. David T. Lane, in Somerville.

Mayor H. C. Evans, of Westfield, was a recent guest at the home of Zachariah Smith, at Lamington.

Rev. H. E. Reed, of New Germantown, is attending conference in Maryland this week, and will not return to his old charge, having been assigned a church in that section.

Mrs. Samuel Emley will entertain the Wishbone Club at her home in East Whitehouse next Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Andrew Melick returned to New Germantown yesterday after a stay of several weeks in Somerville, where she went, hoping to benefit her health.

Charles Connor, of New Germantown, has gone to Pottersville to take a position in the store of Austin Moke.

Mrs. Mary J. Teats, after a visit of a few days at New Germantown, has gone to Lebanon to spend a fortnight at the residence of John H. Ramsey.

Mrs. Edward H. Moore, of Asbury, Warren county, has returned home after a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Vander Voort, at Whitehouse Station.

Mrs. Daniel H. Beekman and daughter, Miss Mabel, of Somerville, were guests yesterday of Mrs. Harry C. Van Derveer, in East Whitehouse.

When the first basketball team of the Parish House stack up against the strong Baraca class team, of Dunellen, on the local court tonight, "the fur is sure to fly." As an appetizer for the big event, the Seniors will lineup against the W. F. A. quintet of Bound Brook.

Rev. Franklin K. Mathews, pastor of the Baptist church, has returned from a short stay in Portland, Me.

Yellow Stone Park was pictured and talked about last night by the Rev. Dr. Henry A. Rose, of Newark, before a large gathering in the Parish House. The illustrations of the beauties of this immense reservation, which attracts thousands of travelers within its bounds every year, formed a delightful entertainment and the graphic style in which each pictures were described moved the audience repeatedly to applause.

For some reason which has not been explained to the youngsters who have made it a habit to frequent the Parish House every afternoon after school, the odors of that institution were closed to them yesterday, although the girls were allowed to enjoy the privileges to be found there. As a result the boys stormed the Parish House yesterday afternoon and about fifteen swarmed into the building when some one opened the door in response to their knock. They were quickly "shooed" out, however, by Miss Annie Joppling. The boys jeering and then renewed their demonstrations to the door bell. Miss Joppling ran to the front of the building and after making a vain attempt to catch the "rascal" who was exerting himself making the bell ring, she threatened to report every boy present to the council of the Parish House. This had the desired effect and the boys retired to Joseph Albert's candy store where an indignation "meeting" was held. Russell Johnson was probably the most indignant person in the group and he addressed the assemblage like this: "Fellers this is a outrage, to think of them keepin' us from de joint for tha sake of them gurls. Fer my part, I'm through—I wouldn't go to that Parish House again, if they carried me there." He was loudly cheered by his mates and the meeting dispersed, promising dire things for the Parish House, Miss Joppling and the "gurls."

Miss Willa Ward, of Grand street, is detained at her home with an attack of the measles.

An afternoon tea was given at the home of Mrs. Fred Fernell, in Forest road, this afternoon for the benefit of the All Saints' Episcopal church.

FLORIDA TO CELEBRATE.

St. Augustine, Fla., March 29.—St. Augustine, the oldest city in the United States, will turn back the pages of her history the coming week and indulge in a celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of its founding by Ponce de Leon. It was on April 2, 1512, that the site of the city was first visited by the daring Spanish navigator, in a voyage he had absurdly undertaken to find the fabled fountain of youth. The celebration next week will include a representation of the landing of Ponce de Leon and his little band of adventurers, together with other pageants depicting events in the early history of Florida. Motor boat races, band concerts and a variety of other atractions will be included in the celebration program. The city is being elaborately decorated for the occasion. Thousands of visitors, including many tourists from the North, are expected here for the festivities.

ROTHBERG'S

"Most Things Men Wear"

214 West Front Street

Plainfield, N. J.

A Letter to My Friends and Enemies

March 30th, 1912, marks the opening day of my store for "Most Things Men Wear." A year ago the store was mine—Sam Rothberg's—now it is yours. I just manage it! I work for you. This is as it should be; for what is business but human service; based on confidence and co-operation?

Confidence is the tribute paid to character; character is mirrored in the quality of the goods sold, and the efficient service rendered.

Successful business relies on satisfied customers, and satisfied customers are the result of the "square-deal." Satisfied customers have made Rothberg's successful, because he always maintained a uniform quality—reliable and stylish. The standard has never been lowered. Quality has never been sacrificed to profit. Rothberg's is known as the store where you buy "Wares that wear well."

I am proud of the business reputation I have gained, proud of the store and its patrons. In the coming year I hope to still further strengthen the friendly relationship existing between me and my patrons.

In the future as in the past I shall give you the best I have, both in goods and service. Appreciating fully the need of your co-operation and while thanking you heartily for past support, respectfully ask for its continuance.

Yours faithfully,

Samuel Rothberg

"THE TEST OF THE CRUCIBLE"
By John Robert Lloyd
A GREAT STORY—DON'T MISS IT

SOME OF THE FEATURES:

E. Phillips Oppenheim, the noted novelist, has a great story in "The Rossheimer Tragedy."

"The Green Parrot," by Angus Perkerson, is one of the best short stories of the year.

"The Lake Thing" is a great big thriller by Edwin L. Sabin. It will grip you as no other story has ever done.

"The Difficult Eliza" is one of Harry Lee Snyder's story gems.

"Selling Ardelia," by L. T. Davis, is a beautiful story.

"When Life Hung in the Balance," by Jette M. Phelps, is another real good story.

IT IS SERIOUS.

Some Plainfield People Fail to Realize the Seriousness of a Bad Back.

The constant aching of a bad back,
The weariness, the tired feeling,
The pains and aches of kidney ills
May result seriously if neglected.

Dangerous urinary troubles often follow.

A Plainfield citizen shows you what to do.

Mrs. Anthony Wahl, R. F. D. No. 1, Plainfield, N. J., says: "I had such distressing pains in my back that I could hardly stand and it was out of the question for me to stoop. I was all crippled up and I knew perfectly well that my kidneys were the cause of the trouble. A neighbor recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me and on her suggestion, I used them. They gave me almost immediate relief and three boxes changed me from a chronic sufferer to a healthy woman. I still take Doan's Kidney Pills occasionally, when a cold settles on my kidneys and they act as a preventive of any serious trouble. You may publish this account of my experience for the benefit of other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Happenings Due Next Week

Washington D. C., March 29.—The calling of a caucus of the Progressives of the House for organization next Wednesday comes as a forcible reminder of the fact that the Congress about to assemble will be composed of three distinct parties, for the first time in the history of the nation. The Progressives are expected to name Victor Murdock, of Kansas, as their choice for the speakership. The Republicans of the House will caucus Saturday and will name Representative Mann, of Illinois, for speaker.

Municipal elections involving important local issues will take place during the week in Chicago, St. Louis and several other large cities. Forty cities and towns of Wisconsin will vote on the anti-saloon question, while the voters of Fargo, N. D., Racine, Wis., Durham, N. C., and several other places will ballot on a proposal to adopt the commission plan of government.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, Mrs. Champ Clark and the wives of the cabinet officers are to be the guests of honor at a breakfast in the capital on Saturday. The affair is to be non-partisan in character and is designed to give the Washington official and unofficial circles an opportunity to meet the wife of the President, the Vice President and other women of the new administration.

The wedding of Miss Ethel Carow Roosevelt, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, and Dr. Richard Derby, of New York city, will take place Friday morning in the Episcopal church at Oyster Bay. The ceremony will be followed by a reception at the Roosevelt residence on Sagamore Hill.

The sister ship of the Imperator, the largest ship in the world, is to be launched Thursday at Hamburg and will be christened Europa. The Europa will be 950 feet long and 100 feet beam. Both vessels are to be employed in the transatlantic service of the Hamburg-American Line.

The professional baseball season of 1913 will be ushered in Tuesday with the first championship games of the Pacific Coast League. Portland will open at San Francisco, Vernon at Los Angeles and Oakland at Sacramento.

The seventeenth annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science will be held in Philadelphia Friday and Saturday and will be devoted principally to a dieussion of "The Cost of Living in the United States." Other notable gatherings of the week will be the Episcopal Church Congress, at Charleston, S. C., and the Mississippi Valley Suffrage Conference, at St. Louis.

BIRTHDAY OF GOTTI.

Rome, March 29.—The venerable Cardinal Gotti, Prefect of the Propaganda, entered upon his eightieth year today. The position which Cardinal Gotti has held for more than ten years is the most important in the gift of the Pope and his influence at the Vatican is second to none. Were it not for his advanced age the Cardinal undoubtedly would be considered as a candidate for the throne of St. Peter in the event of the passing of Pope Pius X. As it is, he probably will exert a potent influence in the selection of the next Pontiff. Cardinal Gotti's ability as a diplomat is well known, while his knowledge of cannon law is asserted by many to be superior to that of any other member of the Sacred College.

HOME

The average man spends half his life at Home. That takes into account the nights at the club, at lodge, at the theatre, or sitting up with a sick friend. It also takes into account the fellow who sees home often enough only to establish a voting residence. He is balanced off in averaging up by the man who spends a good deal more than half his life at Home. The Newark Sunday Call has figured this all out and says that the statement that more than half of life is spent at Home cannot be disputed. If there is any doubt about it, keep a time schedule for a week or so. The Average Women? Bless you, three-quarters of her life is spent at Home! And that includes the working woman, too, the real NEW WOMAN.

Home shapes up as a pretty big proposition, considering all that. The world realizes it, too, for most of the world's efforts go toward providing homes. Right down at the bottom of things, you come up against that great big reason for it all—"Home."

There was a poet who said that Home was not merely four square walls. That was the absolute truth. Home is what you make it, whether you call it palace, villa, flat, cottage or hut. Some people can make a hall bed-room more homey than others can with a $300,000 marble mansion. It is wholly up to the individual. But as half a life time is to be spent at Home, it is worth trying to make it a success. A real homey Home is life's biggest success.

The poet's four square walls idea, however, should not be taken wholly at its face value. Most truths should not. There is always that little exception to the rule lurking in the background. Accept the truth, but also dig out that little exception and digest its meaning. Then you will get the full value out of the truth. Four square walls do not make a Home. But they help. The better those same walls are the better chance of making a successful Home. Be careful in choosing a setting for the jewel—the home jewel. Remember that you must use that setting half your life. Pick some thing that will wear. See that it is good. That means be careful in choosing your abode. Whether it be a house, a flat or a room, choose it carefully. Whether you buy or rent, remember you are selecting a setting for the biggest thing in life—Home.

The Plainfield Daily Press

thinks a lot about Home. That is natural, for Homes form its destination when it leaves the presses ready for distribution among its thousands of readers. The Daily Press likes to take part in home making and it does all it can to further that end in what it prints. It can aid you in selecting your setting for your Home—the dwelling, whatever form it may take.

The owner of a house who wishes to sell or rent the house goes to an agent—if he be wise and wants results. The agent gives publicity to the owner's desire, attends to the troublesome incidental business, and accomplishes the desired results.

The agent has the assistance of another agent—a very powerful agent for this sort of work. This other agent is the RELIABLE NEWSPAPER, the newspaper that reaches the kind of people the owner would want to sell or rent to. The DAILY PRESS is such an agent. It reaches this desirable clientage and is used by responsible agents. Look at the names of the agents who advertise real estate for sale or to let and note the high character of these advertisers. They, in turn, have chosen the DAILY PRESS as their agent because it reaches the kind of people they want for clients.

Choose your home setting carefully. Study the For Sale and To Let advertisements in the DAILY PRESS. Make notes of what appeals to you, write to the agent or the owner, and inspect the property. You are dealing with established business concerns who can aid you in this big work of Home-Making. They, the agents, are seeking your patronage because you are the kind they want dealings with—the kind who can be reached through the DAILY PRESS.

Copy for These Classified Advertisements is received until 1:30 each afternoon. Minimum charge is 10c.

PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY, MARCH 29, 1913.

The editorial columns of this paper are conducted on Saturdays by representative citizens who are free to express their own views. Arthur B. Vossler, A. M., Ph. B., Supervising Principal of the North Plainfield Public Schools, is the Contributing Editor for Today.

THE PRESENT STATUS OF AMERICAN SCHOOLS.

The public schools of the United States are in the limelight. They are receiving a great deal of criticism from both press and public. One must indeed be blind not to see that there is something vitally the matter with them. Unfortunately, much of the criticism directed toward the public schools is of a destructive nature. It aims only to hurt, not to help. It suggests no competent remedies, it merely ridicules. Emanating from vindictive sources, it seeks only to hold up schools and schoolteachers to public scorn. Such criticism is really too petty to merit a reply.

But there is another kind of criticism that the schools should not only welcome but invite. It is the wholesome, suggestive interference of thoughtful, intelligent citizens. It recognizes that the colleges and schools are trying to "make good," that they are dealing with a difficult problem; that schoolmen are bringing to its solution all the tact, courage and ability at their command. Such criticism is constructive and stimulating—not depressive. It helps the schools. It indicates an interest on the part of the body politic. It encourages the teacher and lifts him above the humdrum of his environment. It arouses, yes challenges, the right-minded teacher to do his very best for the community which he serves. And the teacher, if he is really a teacher, receives it in a humble spirit and resolves that henceforth the schools shall give the best training possible for the money and effort expended.

The Foundations of American Free Schools.

To understand present conditions, it is necessary for us to survey, briefly, the educational foundations of our American School System. Our Free Schools had their conception in the academies that were established during colonial times. These academies were dominated by college men, steeped in the theories of the classic schools of Europe. They fostered professional training. Their purpose was to prepare men for Classical Courses in Colleges; Divinity, Law and Medical Schools. They grew up in a warlike century; the French and Indian War and the American Revolution, in the English colonies, the French Revolution in Europe were breaking down the old established order of society. The new schools reflected the times in marked degree. They were military in their control; arbitrary in their organization. Yet they breathed the spirit of the Declaration of Independence—that all men are created free and equal. Doubtless they were the best solution of the educational conditions of their day and necessary, likewise, in the evolution of educational methods. But viewed in the light of twentieth century progress, they are antiquated. Like certain atrophied organs of the human body, they have become obsolete. Yet they continue to exist, stored away in the attic of the brain, clinging tenaciously to educational systems and thus impeding the mental processes of modern thought.

Reform Necessary to College as Well as Secondary School.

It is because these antiquated subjects and methods remain in the curricula of the colleges and secondary schools that educational systems are being so severely criticised today. For two hundred years applied science has been revolutionizing ideas of life. Religious, social and political standards have changed with startling rapidity. Invention, rapid travel and communnication have forced governments to adopt new laws for the safeguarding of their subjects. Surgery and the germ theory in the treatment of disease have materially increased the span of human life. Cheap production and transportation of commodities have raised the standard of living. Free public schools have given the children of the poor an insight into the culture and refinement of the educated well-to-do. And very naturally they demand their right to the enjoyment of the luxuries so long restricted to the ruling class.

Commercial and Industrial Training the Demand.

The rank and file of the American people know that it takes money to satisfy these desires. Therefore they demand a practical course of study for their schools. Whether we will or not, ours is an age of commercialism. Consequently, our education must be not only cultural but utilitarian as well. Our children must be equipped when they leave school, to take their place in the industrial world and earn a living wage. We have the industries of a great undeveloped country to formulate and subdue. It is the will of the people that the old regime must go, that a new order of things shall show them how to compete with industrial and commercial conditions successfully.

What Colleges and Schools Could Do to Remedy Conditions.

There is no panacea for these educational problems. Whatever is done for years can only be experimental. Influx of immigration; increase of defective children and the deplorable high cost of living only complicate conditions. But experiment alone can point the way.

At present the Colleges really constitute an Educational Trust. They dictate entrance requirements to the public schools. To bar out their enormous increased attendance, they have raised entrance requirements beyond all reason. This reacts against the high or secondary schools. It compels them to teach many subjects not wanted by the majority of students who never go to college. It prevents the masses from getting the education they really need for the practical problems of life.

Therefore the present policy of the colleges in this regard should be stopped. They should simplify entrance requirements. They should accept for entrance to any course, many of the high school subjects not now recognized. Furthermore, they should employ as teachers in college only those who are pedagogically trained. Then they would be prepared to teach competently many of those fundamental subjects which they now force down upon the secondary schools. I assert, without fear of contradiction, that the most unscientific teaching of today is done by our colleges. The work of most college instructors is not supervised or normal trained. Each is a law unto himself. Most of them have never led any other than the scholastic life and lacking sound business training, by their combined unskilled efforts, they bring about an enormous economic waste in the educational world.

But the colleges are not the only ones at fault in this regard. The secondary schools also need scientific business management. Boards of Education are composed of busy men. They leave the management of school affairs to principal or superintendent and hold him responsible. But only too often these men lack good business judgment. They also are liable, only too frequently, to dwell in an atmosphere remote from the business world. They, too, are apt to ignore the necessity of rigid economy in the administration of the schools. It is so easy to spend other people's money raised by taxation. They often advocate policies which would bankrupt a business house. They let sentiment enter into school transactions. They seemingly forget that schools are not charitable institutions. Along no line is there room for greater improvement and readjustment. Fortunately, the increased cost of living during the last decade, has opened the eyes of many superintendents and boards of education to this problem and it is being solved.

Co-operation of the Home and the School Imperative.

But the schools alone cannot solve the problem of higher efficiency. There is another angle from which to view the situation. Pardon me for reminding you of the oft repeated statement that the parent also has a duty toward the child. And as he does or neglects to do his duty, so is the efficiency of the school affected. No parent should be too busy to give the child proper home training. No parent should fail to take an interest in his child's teacher and school. A little co-operation would do a world of good to the child. A little attention to such home culture and gentle training as the schools cannot give along certain moral, physical and social lines, would save the child to a happy and successful career. Neglected for business or pleasure, the child many times is allowed to run the streets or seek his own amusements. This is one more cause of failure of the schools to produce results. They lack the backing of home training, which schools cannot supply and for which there is no substitute.

The Press Most Powerful in Molding Public Opinion.

The United States educational reports on the investigation of the public schools show that American education for the year 1910 cost $626,000,000. Of this amount more than half went for elementary schools and over $40,000,000 for high schools. But less than 5 per cent. of the elementary pupils ever reach the high schools. And of those who enter high school less than 20 per cent. go away to college. No comment is necessary in the face of such statistics to show how abortive our present educational system really is. What we need now is publicity and proper reforms. The newspaper is the most potent influence in the world to mold public opinion. Let it wage a campaign against educational abuses, no matter where the fault may lie. Place the responsibility where it should properly rest and compel the colleges to institute needed reforms. Only when the high schools become finishing schools for the masses and not merely preparatory schools for the colleges, can we hope to be emancipated from the present slavery in the secondary schools. If it is true that we are a representative people; if we are responsible for our laws and their enforcement, we as a people must, through the ballot, assume a responsibility for and sanction the present tendencies in American education. Logically, then, it is the duty of every parent and every voter to assist teachers and boards of education in improving the condition of the public schools. Only when the schools and the people bestir themselves to the immense opportunity for such improvement can they truly be said to be the guardians of the liberties of a free nation.

MRS. CRANE HEADS MISSIONS' SOCIETY

Officers Elected and Addresses Made at Presbyterian Body's Meeting.

"Home Mission Work in Alaska," was the subject of an interesting address by Walter B. Adams, field investigator and school accountant of the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions, at the twenty-ninth annual meeting of the Women's Presbyterial Society for Home Missions, at the Crescent Avenue church, yesterday afternoon.

The speaker during his address presented a striking contrast between two classes of people in Alaska. In one class there was the ever familiar cry of gold and in the other the supreme effort was for souls.

Alaska more than ever needs the help of the Christian missionary, was the opinion of Mr. Adams. Hundreds of people who have gone to that country in search of gold and failed, have taken to drink and gambling, while the natives who have accepted the customs of the white men in many respects have joined them in living worldly lives. The speaker also referred to the deplorable conditions among the women employed in the salmon canneries. Mr. Adams then told what the Presbyterian church through its missionaries are doing to save these people.

In response to a request, Mr. Adams touched briefly on the mission work in Mexico. He said that there is no better mission work anywhere and great opportunities are offered the missionary. Mr. Adams gave an insight into the work being accomplished in Mexico by Dr. Gass, who represents the Presbyterian board there.

Miss Helen Clark Crane, who spoke on "Summer Conferences, their Charm and Inspirations," referred particularly to those held each summer at Northfield. This year the conference will be held July 18-24, and the young people were urged to avail themselves of this exceptional opportunity to enjoy a vacation under the very best influences.

During the business session, Mrs. J. E. Keron, of Elizabeth, who was the treasurer for fifteen years, but who resigned because of ill-health, was elected one of the vice presidents. The officers of the society for the year are as follows:

President, Mrs. Augustus S. Crane, Elizabeth; vice presidents, Mrs. I. C. Pierson, Plainfield; Mrs. W. I. Steans, Westfield; Mrs. W. Gulick, Elizabeth; Mrs. H. F. Mooney, Rahway; Miss C. F. Dwight, Roselle; Mrs. J. E. Keron, Elizabeth; secretaries — corresponding and Freedmen, Mrs. J. A. Frazer, Elizabeth; recording, Mrs. G. E. Ludlow, Cranford; Young People's Work, Mrs. Adrian Lyon, Perth Amboy; literature, Mrs. Catherine Reeve, Basking Ridge; treasurer, Mrs. Clarence C. Coleman, Elizabeth.

The next meeting of the society will be held the last Friday in March, 1914, in the Second Presbyterian church, Rahway.

It was reported that at the end of the fiscal year 1912 there was a debt of $56,000 in the Board of Home Missions, but during the year this had been reduced so that the present debt is $420, which it is hoped to liquidate before Monday.

BIBLE CLASS ENJOYS ITS ANNUAL DINNER

The parlors of the Scotch Plains Baptist church presented a gay decorative appearance last night, the occasion being the annual banquet of the Junior Bible Class. The election of officers was also held with this result: President, Harry Paff; vice-president, Edward Marsten; secretary, C. Sorensen, and treasurer, Robert Anson.

The event proved to be a success in every respect and was featured by the largest attendance in the history of the class. Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, of North Plainfield, made the chief address of the evening, giving earnest advise and telling humorous stories. Mrs. M. A. Koff, teacher of the Bible class, also made a short address in which she thanked the members for the attention and esteem they have always paid her and urged that new members be secured to swell the roster.

The dinner was served by Mrs. H. B. Saunders, Mrs. Paff, Mrs. Dunn, Mrs. Feekens, Miss Smalley and Miss M. Weller. Among the members present were A. Meyer, K. Saunders, F. Saunders, D. Saunders, William Marsten, E. Marsten, L. Lewis, A. Koff, S. Johnston, R. Gere, R. Anson, Harry Paff, Edward Hatfield and G. Sorensen.

HOW SCOURGE OF WIND AND FLAME SWEPT CITY OF OMAHA

Great Swath of Ruin Soars Metropolis of the State of Nebraska.

Eyewitnesses Tell of the Awful Scenes Enacted During Cyclone.

THE storm which devastated Omaha and many other central western towns came almost without warning, the day, which opened with overcast skies, having cleared in the afternoon. The little town of Ralston, three miles west of South Omaha, first felt its fury and was practically destroyed.

In a northeasterly direction and almost a straight line it traveled to the fashionable West Farnam and Bemis park districts.

Electric and trolley wires were carried down by the storm, and the current had to be shut off in the devastated districts, so that all work in the night was done by the light of lanterns, and only an imperfect idea of the extent and character of the damage could be formed.

Flames Follow Tempest.

Twenty or more fires were reported in the track of the storm, and every piece of fire fighting apparatus of Omaha, as well as companies from South Omaha and Council Bluffs, was kept at work all night. This and the fact that torrential rain followed the blow, soaking the debris, prevented a conflagration.

The work of rescue was at once undertaken, but only slow progress was made in the darkness and the blockaded streets. The streets were filled with wreckage of houses, uprooted trees and tangled electric wires. Street car movement was impossible, and wagon and automobile travel almost so.

Emergency morgues and hospitals were established at various points and all available physicians and nurses pressed into service. Dr. W. H. Connell, city health commissioner, appealed to surgeons to volunteer their services, and the responses came by scores.

Money poured into the city, the city organizations taking the lead in providing funds. State and religious bodies fell in line and offers of help are coming from all quarters of the United States.

SIXTEENTH STREET VIADUCT IN OMAHA AND SCENE OF CAR CRUSHED BY A HOUSE IN STORM.

Whole Blocks of Houses Smashed.

The worst damage was done and the largest toll of lives was exacted in the vicinity of Twenty-fourth and Lake and from there northeast to Sixteenth and Binney. This is the residential portion, and the destruction wrought was well nigh appalling. Whole blocks of homes were picked up and dashed into a shapeless mass. Street cars were buried from the tracks and demolished.

Bemis park, one of the prettiest residence districts in Omaha, was razed, and fires completed the destructive work of the tornado.

Among the show places of the city which felt the baneful effects of the storm was the Joslyn castle. The roof was torn off and the trees and shrubbery uprooted.

The convent of the Poor Clares at twenty-ninth and Hamilton streets was unroofed, and the grounds were littered with debris. Sacred Heart convent was demolished, but all escaped.

A pathetic sight was that of a young girl keeping watch over the body of her mother. The mother, Mrs. John Newman, had been killed instantly. As the body lay on a porch awaiting suitable burial the daughter, Mabel Newman, told of the storm.

Tales of Eyewitnesses.

"Mother was ill and confined to a room on the second floor of our home," she said. "When the raging winds hit the house it toppled over as if built of pasteboard. Mother and myself were buried in the wreckage. As soon as I could pull myself from the debris I began to search for her.

"Board after board I lifted. I tugged and pulled at them until my hands were cut and bleeding. Finally I reached her. I bent down to raise her, but she was dead."

A coincidence among the injured at the Child institute was that all were badly cut about the face, while the bodies were comparatively free from wounds. Ugly looking scalp wounds marked every injury.

Storm Interrupted a Toast.

At the home of Patrick Hynes a party in celebration of his eighty-first birthday was in progress. The guests had just begun dinner and were drinking a toast to the health of their host when the storm swept the house away. All the party succeeded in getting out with minor injuries except a grandchild, Miss Cecilia Bigelow, who was internally injured.

"The party had just begun dinner," said Mr. Hynes. "The young people were making merry, and, old as I am, I had entered into the spirit. Suddenly there was a roaring sound. The next minute the house was in ruins. I wiggled around and out and aided the others in escaping."

Then suddenly brought back to the fact that his grandchild was near death, he said:

"Oh, if it had only been me instead of Cecilia!"

When the storm had passed Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Wilhelm found themselves buried under a mass of broken and twisted furniture in their home. They extricated themselves with difficulty.

John Wright, a railroad watchman, probably owes his life to the fact that he went to work half an hour ahead of time because he feared he would get wet if he did not hurry. Incidentally this is the third time that Wright's home has been destroyed by a tornado. Sixteen years ago, in Norfolk, Neb., his home was demolished, and forty-two years ago, in Pandora, Ia., he barely escaped with his life during a tornado.

Chop Through House to Girl.

Little Gladys Crook was revived after a house had been blown over her and she had been imprisoned for more than half an hour. It was necessary to chop a large hole in the side of the house before she was taken out uninjured.

Cliff Daniels, his wife and their two children met death together. When soldiers, digging about the ruins of their home, found the four bodies the two little girls were clasped in the arms of their mother, while the body of the father was over them, as if he had tried to shield them with his own body.

Mary Knudsen, a servant, was blown out of the home of her employer and, badly frightened, ran all the way downtown, to fall fainting in front of a hotel.

Although Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Bryant escaped without injury from their home, the aged mother of Mrs. Bryant was found buried in the cellar and was rescued with difficulty. Debris had piled about her until only her head was exposed, and she was unable to take any steps to free herself.

Two Lose Their Reason.

The body of an unidentified child was found in the ruins of two houses with a little rag doll still tucked under her arm.

When C. Saber discovered the crushed and almost unrecognizable body of his wife in the ruins of an apartment house he fled down the street shrieking at the top of his voice.

E. H. Smith, a private of the signal corps from Fort Omaha, became insane after helping carry a number of bodies and collapsed. When he had regained consciousness it was necessary to take him to the post hospital, where he was placed under restraint.

A. L. Green, advertising manager of a department store, was on his back porch watching the storm when it broke.

"It came like a rushing and roaring torrent of water," he said. "It came from the south and passed right by us to the east. I went to my attic window immediately afterward and saw fires bursting forth from houses along the path of the storm. I could see five fires burning at once. The flames made a ghastly sight as they illuminated the acres of razed buildings nearby."

E. W. Dixon was bruised about the head, and his wife and three children were seriously injured. Dixon started upstairs as he saw the tornado funnel swoop down and crush the homes of his neighbors to the south. An instant later the wind struck his house and he was hurled downstairs into a dining room, flat on his face. Dazed, he struggled to his feet and hurried his family to the cellar. A second later his home was swept away, and the family in the basement had but the sky above them. Flames sprang up on every side.

"It seemed as if the whole city was afire," said Dixon. "Then I lifted my wife and children out and down the street, joining scores of my unfortunate neighbors. We had lost our all, but were thankful for our lives."

"The strife is o'er, the battle done, the victory of life is won," sang Cassius Shimer, a tenor, at the Easter services in McCabe Methodist church Sunday morning. Mr. Shimer was killed when the tornado destroyed his home. The church in which he had sung was badly wrecked.

Oscar Carlson, night cashier of the Calumet restaurant, residing at Forty-fifth and Leavenworth streets, had his life saved in a peculiar way. When the storm approached and the wind began to blow terrifically he attempted to look outdoors and in resisting a sudden gust he clung tenaciously to the door. The next thing he knew he was out in the back yard with the door on top of him, and when he arose and looked around he found there was not a house in sight so far as he could see in the semidarkness. Outside of a few bruises he was all right.

LIST OF DESTRUCTIVE TORNADOES.

Willis L. Moore, chief of the United States weather bureau, issued the following statement:

Undoubtedly the great loss of life at Omaha was occasioned by one of a series of violent local windstorms or tornadoes that occurred over that region Sunday afternoon in connection with a general storm or area of low barometer that was central Sunday morning over Colorado.

A tornado is a violent, revolving local storm of small diameter and great intensity, not often being more than a few hundred yards in diameter, nor traveling a straightaway path of more than fifty miles in length. The winds, however, in such whirls have been estimated to exceed 200 miles an hour.

The following are the most destructive storms of this class of which there is a record:

The St. Louis storm of May 27, 1896, when more than 400 lives were lost and property of the value of more than $12,000,000 destroyed; that of March 27, 1890, at Louisville, when 113 people were killed and property to the value of $2,500,000 destroyed; that of May 7, 1840, in Adams county, Miss., where there were 317 lives lost, and again in the same county in June, 1842, when 500 lives were lost.

The storm at Galveston, Sept. 8, 1900, when 9,000 lives were lost, was not of this class—it was a West Indian hurricane.

Electricity to Propel Ship.

An important experiment in marine propulsion is to be made with the big collier Jupiter, under construction in the Mare Island navy yard since October, 1911. The vessel is to be propelled by electricity generated by dynamos driven by turbine steam engines.

BROADWAY NEW YORK THIRTY THIRD ST.

TO GREET B'NAI B'RITH.

Washington, D. C., March 29.—Hebrews who stand high in their communities as citizens and men of affairs are arriving in the capital to attend the district conention of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, the most prominent of all Jewish organizations in the world. The sessions will begin tomorrow and will be attended by delegates from Georgia, North and South Carolina, Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia. The most important matter to come before the convention is the proposal of Julius Rosenwald, of Chicago, that the society adopt a plan to pension Jewish widows with dependent children. President Wilson will receive the delegates at the White House Monday afternoon and in the evening there is to be a banquet which will be attended by Secretary of State Bryan and several other members of the cabinet.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

FASHION HINT

By JUDIC CHOLLET

Long, loose coats will be worn all spring over one piece frocks, and the illustration shows a good looking topcoat for this purpose. It is made from a new broadcloth, white with black stripes, but any suitable material may be used. There are kimono sleeves and rather unusual lines in the front. Broaded crape lined with plain satin would make a charming evening wrap for summer.

For the medium size the coat will require six yards of material twenty-seven inches wide, with a quarter yard of twenty-one inch material for the collar.

This May Manton pattern is cut in three sizes—small 34 or 36, medium 38 or 40, large 42 or 44 inches bust measure. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7810, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

OYSTERS FOR EPICURES.

OYSTERS cooked with vegetables, cereals or other meats take on new and tempting flavors. They may be prepared thus in an infinite number of combinations.

Toothsome Fare.

Oysters With Macaroni.—Cold macaroni left from a former meal may be utilized in this way. Cut it into short lengths and lay in a buttered baking dish. When a layer of the macaroni has been formed cover it with oysters well seasoned with salt and pepper and bits of butter. Make a second layer of the macaroni and put in more oysters. Cover this with macaroni and sprinkle with cracker crumbs. Sprinkle the crumbs with salt and pepper and dot with bits of butter. Set in the oven just long enough for the edges of the oysters to curl.

Oysters and Mushrooms.—Take some large tender mushrooms, wash and remove the stems and peel. Stew the caps in butter, using an enameled pan or earthen pie plate. Then arrange them in a shallow baking dish with the hollow side up. Place a fat oyster in each cap, dust with salt and cayenne and lay a small slice of butter on each and cook in the hot oven until the oysters plump up and the gills begin to curl. Serve with brown butter sauce.

Novel Dishes.

Oysters and Celery.—Strain the liquor from a pint of medium sized oysters into a saucepan. Cover and as soon as the scum rises skim clear. Put in three or four tablespoonfuls of fine chopped celery from the heart and simmer a few moments. Then season with salt and white pepper, a grain or two of cayenne and two butter balls. Lastly add the oysters and cook until they plump and the edges begin to curl. Stir well and serve at once with thin brown bread sandwiches.

Oysters and Tripe.—Take two dozen oysters, a pound of boiled tripe, a tablespoonful each of butter and flour, a cupful of milk, a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of paprika, a quarter of a teaspoonful of white pepper, a half a teaspoonful of onion juice. Wash and cut tripe into inch pieces, put into saucepan, cover with boiling water, add a tablespoonful of cut onion and boil an hour. Drain and add to the cream sauce. Put the oysters into a shallow pan, cook until the gills curl, drain and add to the tripe and sauce. To make the sauce put the butter into a saucepan over the fire. When melted remove, add the flour, mix well and return to the fire, adding the cold milk slowly. Stir until smooth and creamy. Add the salt, pepper, paprika and onion juice or grated nutmeg. Boil three minutes.

Anna Thompson.

HINTS ON FASHIONS IN THE METROPOLIS

Some Suggestions to the Woman Who Would Be Gowned Correctly.

New York, March 29.—Although the average tailored suit for practical purposes still shows the customary severity and plainness of former years, many of the tailored and semi-tailored costumes, intended for afternoon and informal evening wear show some trimming on the coats and slight skirt draperies. Among the best materials are eponge, plain and striped frizette, an eponge with longer nap, Bedford cord, needle cord, silk and wool faille, basket cloth, poplin, hopsacking and the fine weave serges. A feature of this season is the combination of materials. A black and white check coat, of woolen material, and a black faille skirt; a coat of black and slphur check tops a skirt of solid sulphur color. This shows reversing of the old order when the skirt flaunted the becks and the jacket was of solid coolor. This new idea is introduced by Paquin. Shades of brown, blue, purple and green are the favored colors.

When a corded or striped material is employed the stripes are managed in such a way as to form trimming, and both skirts and coats may be inlaid with diagonal or horizontal bands. This is especially effective in the two-tone materials which are still in vogue. Diagonal stripes give a slender appearance to the figure.

Coats vary greatly in style and cut. They are either distinctly long or distinctly short. The high cutaway model, with swallow tail or fish-tail back, will be popular. This cutaway is sometimes high enough in front to give the Eton effect. An exaggerated cutaway slopes away immediately from the bust line, and is fastened with a single large button. The less ultra model is fastened with two or three buttons. In the cutaway the back frequently hangs straight from the shoulders in long semi-fitting lines, and when the Empire line is expressed a slot seam is visible on the sides, joining the back and front seams.

The Russian blouse is having considerable vogue. A suggestion or variation of it appears in many of the most exclusive models. Cheruit, Bernard, Francis, and other great foreign designers have set the stamp of their approval upon it. Sometimes the blouse appears only in the front and falls softly over the fitted skirt of the jacket. The back of this coat is semi-fitting and rounds off into a swallow-tail, or is finished in a square panel effect, extending three or four inches below the coat length.

In other models the blouse shows itself in the back, and the fullness is held in by a suggestion of a belt with a buckle of the material. Cords of the material are much used to outline the blouse effect. The blouse of another style continues all the way round the coat and falls over the tight fitting lower portion, which is quite short and fits snugly, with the fullness placed in a seam several inches below the waistline. This seam is covered by the fullness of the upper part and is often corded or piped. In some cases the skirt or lower part rounds abruptly away from the front, fastening at the bust. In others, especially in the coats for general wear, this portion, which is hardly more than a band approximately eight inches wide, fits closely around the hip, and is fastened with two buttons.

The difference between the Balkan and the Russian blouse is not great; the Balkan blouse fits very loosely, and is belted quite low on the hip. This belt is often a sash knotted to one side, and these models are best adapted to the youthful and undeveloped figures.

Even the most severely tailored skirt shows some fullness, usually stitched into the seams in the form of flat plaits, and the disposition of drapery is varied. On some skirts it is quite low, folding the skirt in tightly at the bottom, while in others it is looped over the hips, or held in about the knees. Plaits and flat folds are characteristic of the tailored skirt, and the drapery is rarely affected by shirring or gathering.

The absence of seams is marked, as skirts are cut circular, or with three broad gores, the material extending above the waist line as a belt finish. Skirts are still narrow at the foot line. The walking skirt is worn longer, just clearing the ground. Some of the skirts are slashed.

Sleeves show little change. In the man-tailored they may be long, three-quarter length, close fitting or loose with a large turn-back cuff. They are sometimes set in a dropped arm seam, and here and there the kimono sleeve appears, but in the best models for street wear the sleeve is tailored in the body of the coat without fullness. Collars are circular, square, sailor and shawl, but they are not large.

Buttons abound on both coats and skirts. They are decidedly an interesting feature of this year's styles, unique in size, color and composition. Like the linings, they either match the suit or contrast with it. Crystal buttons are frequently centred with black or color. Whimsical little waistcoats button trimly beneath many jackets, and very modish are those showing cretonne and Balkan tones. With the Shepherd's plaid or checked suit nothing could be smarter than the light red or green vest.

Semi-tailored coats follow the general lines of the tailored coats, except in some instances they are shorter. An Eton jacket with a deep pointed back is seen. In the semi-tailored skirt the drapery is more pronounced, with the slash higher and reaching almost to the knee at times. As to skirt length it should escape the floor, and wrinkling prettily over the shoes to reveal the shoe buckles. Never has hand embroidery been more in vogue. In bright colors and conventional designs it adorns collars, cuffs and belts.

The sleeve of the semi-tailored coat is invariably of the three-quarter length, and is apt to be loose and show a turnback cuff, with lace frill. The old fashioned bell-shaped sleeve is with us again. A tiny Van Dyck ruff of lace protruding from collars is something new.

Stenciling is used on women's clothes this spring. Stenciled silk is used for collars and cuffs on coats and street suits. A conventional pattern done in bronze on yellowish green silk for collars and cuffs on a dull yellow brown bedford cloth street gown is effective. Stencils are applied to net, too, for jabots and collars and cuffs. Bulgarian colorings can be used in these designs.

An interesting use of wide flowered ribbons on white lace and net bodices shows small buttons, outlined buttonholes and bows and ends of different colors. The wide ribbon is cut in hit-or-miss fashion, with the result that a tab on one sleeve shows a strip of red rose, on the other part of a blue butterfly; one button is pink, one yellow, one is green and another violet.

Tiny silk roses are used to edge ribbon girdles. They are especially effective if used with white ribbon on white gowns for young girls.

Sashes are beginning to be seen even on tailored suits.

MILLER IS NOW THE COLLEGE CHAMPION

Local Boy Wins Intercollegiate Title on Flying Rings at Princeton Meet.

Russell Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley S. Miller, of Union street, added more laurels to his long list last night at the annual interscholastic championship meet held in the Princeton University gym, by winning the intercollegiate championship on the flying rings. Miller in winning the title defeated Samuels, of Yale, and Hunt, another Penn man, who were tied for second place. The Plainfield boy's performances on the flying rings was one of the brilliant features of the meet, his turns and flying hand stands easily winning first honors for him in this event.

Ray Dutcher, another Plainfield High School graduate, and a club swinger sporting the colors of the New York University, was defeated in this event by Hassis, of Rutgers College. This was one of the surprises of the meet, Dutcher being looked upon as a sure winner because of the fact that he is at present the amateur athletic union champion in this event. The best Dutcher could do was to tie Goldberg of Yale for second place. Clark, of Pennsylvania, a team mate of Miller's, won the all around championship, totalling up 218 6-10 points.

Not only did the local boy have the honor of carrying off individual honors, but he was also a member of the team winning the intercollegiate championship, Pennsylvania coming out first with twenty-five points while Princeton was second with sixteen. The poor showing of N. Y. U. in the final standing was a great surprise, the metropolitan athletes being looked upon as sure winners of first place but the best they could do was to run a poor fourth with six points.

YANKEE INFIELDERS PICKED BY CHANCE

Jersey City Team Will Probably Be Graced by Surplus Including Jack Martin.

Frank Chance thought his Yankees far enough advanced to dispense with the usual game between the Regulars and the Yannigans yesterday. In the forenoon he put the entire squad through a long and hard drill, with special stress upon infield practice.

Chance took first base himself, while Chase covered second, Derrick shortstop and Hartzell third. Chase, still limping badly from the injury to his ankle, nevertheless took care of his station in good style. He played closer to the bag and took throws better than in yesterday's game with Jersey City.

From the way things shape up in these final days on the Lily Isle the infield that went through the drilling this morning will be the regular Yankee inside bulwark. Clyde Derrick is going well at short and is hitting the ball, while Hartzell's all around work practically assures him of the third base position. Chance's stiffness has about worn off and he is cavorting around first like a youngster.

The Jersey City team, which left for home yesterday on the steamship Orotava, will probably soon welcome some of the Yankees who are to be sent away for further development. Chester Hoff, the Yonkers pitcher, is badly wanted by "Larry" Schlafly, as is "Jack" Martin, the infielder. It is said that "Pat" Green, the twirler from Holyoke, Mass., will go with Hoff, both having strings attached to them, as they the too good to let go outright. Priest and Stumpf are also included among those reported to be headed for smaller league company.

TY COBB INSISTS ON SALARY BOOST

"Georgia Peach" is an Accomplished Automobile Salesman.

If the statement that Ty Cobb made at Atlanta is sincere, the Detroit club will have to either fork over $15,000 a year to the Georgia Peach or use some other player in the outfield. Cobb has been touring through Georgia with his Augusta All-Stars and remained at Atlanta to meet his old friend, Manager Stallings, of the Boston Nationals.

When asked about the statement credited to President Navin, of Detroit, that his holdout was merely a press agent scheme for his All-Star baseball tour, Cobb was hot under the collar.

"I intend to hold out for that $15,000," remarked Cobb. "I'm worth that much to the club. If Navin believes I am press agenting he has another guess coming. I can make $10,000 playing independent baseball this season, and I am not afraid of being blacklisted. I don't want to appear conceited, but I will leave it to any fair-minded baseball fan if my services with the Detroit club in its present makeup are not worth what I am asking for.

"I have every respect for President Navin and Hughey Jennings, but this is a matter of business with me, and if they can't see my figures, then, of course, they will have to get somebody for my place."

Cobb will not have to turn to the stage in case his independent venture falls through. He is well cared for in this world's goods. He married the daughter of F. C. Lombard, the big iron foundry man of Augusta, Ga., and the star ball player has in the past shown marked ability as an automobile salesman. Cobb is an obstinate young man, and friends of his here, including Manager Stallings, believe the Detroit head will have to come through and meet his demands.

HAROLD SCHENCK PLAYING RIGHT FIELD FOR RUTGERS

Harold Schenck, of this city, played right field for the Rutgers College baseball team in its game with Princeton University at the latter place this afternoon, it being the first game of the season for the New Brunswick collegians. Schenck is one of the few veterans remaining on the Rutgers team from last year, he having covered an outfield berth at various times last season.

In 1912 the local ball player was used as a utility man but he has established a permanent place for himself in right field this season and will probably be used in most of the games with other colleges.

SOMERVILLE BASKETBALL.

As their opponents on the armory court at Somerville tonight the Company M basketball team will have the Columbia Five, of New Brunswick. This team has made a splendid showing throughout the season and the players hope to keep up their good work by returning with a verdict over the soldier boys tonight. The Somervillians are much the larger but the Columbias are not daunted by this factor and hope to overcome it with aggressive playing.

JUVENILE GOLFERS FAVOR PLAINFIELD

Plainfield Country Club May Also Harbor Interscholastic Tourney This Year.

It may be that the Plainfield County Club will have a monopoly on junior golf this year and from present indications it looks as though local enthusiasts will be treated to a program of the juvenile division of the summer sport such as has never before been presented in this vicinity. The latest tournament proposed comes from metropolitan school boys who have asked permission to hold their interscholastic championship here this spring, the dates preferred being May 12, 13 and 14.

Not long since the Metropolitan Golf Association announced that June 24 and 25 had been reserved on the Plainfield links for the metropolitan junior championship tourney and the second junior event has come as more or less of a surprise. The event was originally scheduled to take place at Baltusrol but this course will be used for the New Jersey State championship, and in preparing for this event the school boys' meet would somewhat interfere. Accordingly, the local Country Club is likely to entertain the youngsters and the first three days of a week have been set for the meet in order to avoid any other competition.

TROUT SEASON OF 1913 WILL OPEN ON APRIL 1

The trout fishing season for 1913 will begin Tuesday, April 1. During the last two or three years the State Fish and Game Commission has been stocking the streams with this kind of game fishes, and lovers of trout angling are looking forward to an unusually good season. The State Commission distributed more than 100,000 young trout in the Jersey streams last fall alone.

The open season for trout extends from April 1 to July 15, inclusive. It is unlawful to catch any trout less than six inches in length, or to fish for trout between 9 o'clock p. m. and daylight the following morning. It is also unlawful to use more than three hooks on any line.

"CY" YOUNG'S BIRTHDAY.

Paoli O., March 29.—"Cy" Young, the veteran baseball pitcher who retired from the Boston Nationals last year with a record for longer service than any other man who ever played in the big leagues, received messages from some of his former teammates today on the occasion of his forty-sixth birthday anniversary. Since his retirement Young has lived on his farm near here. The farm is one of the finest in Ohio and was bought with his earnings as a ball player. Though the old veteran has no apparent intention or desire to resume his career on the diamond he continues to take a very keen interest in the game and never fails to read the daily news from the training camps.

CYCLE RACING AT HAND.

New York, March 29.—The outdoor bicycle racing season will be inaugurated tomorrow with an initial meet at the Newark Velodrome. The promoters of the sport predict that the season will be the most notable of recent years. An Eastern circuit of racing meets has been planned, the circuit to embrace Boston, Providence, New Haven and Newark. The fields promise to be unusually large and will include such crack riders as Frank Kramer, the world's champion; Joe Fogler, Eddie Root, Ernest Pye, Jackie Clarke, Alfred Goulet, Pete Drobach, Alfred Grenda, Paddy Hehir James McNamara and the Bedell brothers.

LOCAL TEAMS ON ROSELLE FIELDS

N. P. H. S. and P. H. S. Included in Roselle Manager's Schedule for 1913.

North Plainfield and Plainfield High Schools both appear on the Roselle High School baseball schedule for the coming season, the boroughites being the first cut of town team to invade Roselle. Manager Weston Hill has compiled an excellent schedule of eighteen games including one with N. P. H. S. April 9, at Roselle, and another May 14, at North Plainfield, and one with Plainfield here April 16 and a return game with the local nine is now pending.

The Roselle team is an exceptionally strong one this season, having kept a number of last year's veterans after graduation and a banner season is looked forward to. The schedule follows:

March 29—Alumni at Roselle.
April 9—North Plainfield H. S. at Roselle.
April 16—Plainfield H. S. at Plainfield.
*April 19—Battin H. S. at Roselle.
*April 23—Roselle Park H. S. at Roselle.
*April 30—Battin H. S. at Elizabeth.
May 10—Bloomfield H. S. at Roselle.
May 14—North Plainfield H. S. at North Plainfield.
May 17—Rutgers Prep. at Roselle.
*May 21—Roselle Park H. S. at Roselle Park.
May 24—Pingry at Elizabeth.
May 29—Pingry at Roselle.
May 31—Pingry at Elizabeth.
*June 2—Cranford H. S. at Roselle.
June 4—Bloomfield H. S. at Bloomfield.
*June 6—Rahway H. S. at Rahway.
*June 11—Cranford H. S. at Cranford.
*June 17—Rahway H. S. at Roselle.
*League games.

SOCCER AND BASEBALL.

There will be a double header attraction at Amusement Park, New Brunswick, tomorrow afternoon when the Brunswick baseball season will open, with a game between Dave Driscoll's team and the All-Professionals. This will be the only baseball game, however. The other attraction will be the soccer football game between the New Brunswick and the Trenton Potteries team. This game will begin at 2 o'clock. The baseball game will start promptly at 3 o'clock. Both games will be the usual admission price. The Brunswick soccer club has a lease on Amusement Park until the end of March. The combination of soccer and baseball should draw a large crowd.

BASEBALL BENEFIT SHOW.

An entertainment is being planned by the Scotch Plains Parish House members for the benefit of the Parish House baseball team and the following committee has been appointed to arrange the details for the affair: W. A. Batterson, chairman; Frank Lee, William Marsten and Henry Demarest. The play will be held in about three weeks, no definite date having been decided upon as yet.

SCOTCH PLAINS BASKETBALL.

A double bill of basketball will be staged on the Scotch Plains Parish House court tonight when the first team lines up against the Dunellen Baraca class quintet and the seconds meet the W. F. A. contingent of Bound Brook. Both games will probably be interesting and as this will be the last set of the season a large crowd is expected.

P. H. S. TRIO HAD AN EVENTFUL TRIP

Peacock, Schenck and Middlekrauf Return From Bicycle Ride and Hike.

Footsore and weary, but satified that they have had a profitable experience, the trio of Plainfield High School boys that set out on their bicycles for Ithaca last Friday afternoon, returned to their homes in this city last night, with much to tell concerning their long overland trip. The adventurers, who included William Peacock, Edson Middlekrauf and Irving Schenck, started from this city late Friday afternoon, but were caught in a rainstorm before they had gone far and were forced to curtail their trip for the time being. The rain followed them throughout the whole journey, however, and they had to intermix their bicycle trip with a large portion of tramping, pushing their wheels before them. All told, the boys traveled a little over 250 miles on the going portion of the trip, pedaling most of the distance between here and Foster, Pa., but after reaching that juncture, walking was the main ingredient of the bill-of-fare every day following until they reach Ithaca, N. Y., where Cornell University is situated. Here they expected to meet several Plainfielders who are pursuing courses of study at that institution but they happened to strike the town when the Plainfielders were away on their Easter vacations and had to do their own sight-seeing.

While at Ithaca they made their headquarters at the Y. M. C. A. and during their day's sojourn took in the sights of the city, especially those afforded on the university campus. Schenck is contemplating entering this college upon his graduation from High School and the trip was therefore of unusual interest to him. Leaving Ithaca they railroaded to Stroudsburg, Pa., reaching there Thursday afternoon. Their craving for something novel overcame them again at this place and the trio decided to hike it to Easton, where they were to take the train for their homes in this city. The distance, which is about thirty-five miles, was covered during the day yesterday (probably the hardest day's work any of the three fellows have done in a long time), and they took the train at Easton, reaching here last night.

Although this experience was somewhat of a novelty to Middlekrauf, Peacock and Schenck have pedaled long distances before, having made a trip to the Delaware Water Gap last summer and several shorter runs in the last few years.

Y. M. C. A. BANQUET LARGEST EVER HELD

Over 150 Color Leaguers Attended Physical Department Affair Last Night.

Color Leaguers to the number of 150 attended the banquet held by the Y. M. C. A. senior department in the association auditorium last night. turkey supper was served under the direction of the Women's Auxiliary. Following the repast an attractive program of after dinner speeches was presented in which a number of prominent Y. M. C. A. workers and business men participated.

The affair marked the closing of the Senior Department Color League activities which have been conducted during the past winter in the gymnasium, and the Orange team, winner of the league championship, was presented with the silver loving cup for the highest point score which was offered by the Ritz Company. Bert Newmiller, captain of the victor combination, accepted the trophy in a neat response. The victory signifies that the Orange team has led in the league race, in which four teams were entered, and has been the largest point winner in the membership campaign, athletics, swimming, gymnastics and class attendance.

As an entertainer, Guy Hunter, the blind artist from Bound Brook, added much to the pleasure of the occasion, his singing and recitations providing much enjoyment while the diners partook of the repast. Besides the regular program of speech making a number of senior department members responded with one minute talks telling of the benefits they have derived from the league during its operation and how it was conducted during the long campaign.

Harry C. Runyon, of this city, acted as toastmaster and introduced the following speakers, all of whom had a good word to offer for the work being accomplished in the local senior department and urged the furtherance of the possibilities offered on a larger and broader scale, William D. Murray, president of the Y. M. C. A.; E. C. Ostlin, physical director, who delivered a lengthy address on the subject, "With the Master Builder;" Charles A. Coburn, Y. M. C. A. State Secretary; Herbert E. Parker, general secretary, on "The Outlook for the Future," and Frederick A. Pope, prosecuting attorney of Somerset county, on "Am I My Brother's Keeper?"

BASEBALL AT PLAINS.

W. A. Batterson, director of the Scotch Plains Parish House, has issued a call for baseball practice and had his first delegation out for a workout this afternoon, a large array of material being on deck. Henry Demarest has been elected manager of the team and is now arranging a schedule for the team.

16TH CENTENNIAL OF EDICT OF MILAN

Vatican's Demonstrations Commemorating Peace of Constantine.

Rome March 29.—Thousands of pilgrims from all parts of the globe are assembled in this city to witness the opening of the series of celebrations which the Vatican has arranged to commemorate the sixteenth centennial of the proclamation of the edict of Milan, known as the Peace of Constantine, which marked the Christianization of the Roman government. On the surface this celebration, which will extend over the whole year, is supposed merely to be a fitting remembrance of the adoption by the Emperor Constantine, following his victory over the pagan General, Maxentius, just outside of Rome, of Christianity as the official religion of the State. No secret, however, is made of the fact that back of the celebration are two other motives. In the first place this commemoration is intended as a protest of the Vatican against the celebration by Italy two years ago of the fiftieth anniversary of its unification, a celebration which was highly offensive to the Vatican, because it commemorated an event by which the Vatican was deprived of its temporal power.

To celebrate the anniversary of the unificatfon of Italy the government had arranged exhibitions on a magnificent scale at Rome and at Turin, but owing to the outbreak of the war with Turkey, the prevalence of a cholera epidemic and other unfortunate conditions the celebration proved a failure and attracted but few visitors to Italy. One of the motives in arranging the "Constantine Year" celebration by the Vatican was to prove to the world how much greater is the temporal power of the Vatican than that of the Italian government. Judging from the number of pilgrims already assembled here and the many thousands who are either on their way to Rome or have made their plans to visit the city at some time during the celebration year, the Vatican bids fair to make a good showing. Although the commemorative celebrations planned will all be held in this city, some of the principal anniversaries will be observed by Roman Catholic churches throughout the world.

The illness of the Pope will probably prevent him from taking part in the services and ceremonies scheduled to take place within the precincts of the Vatican, but there will be enough pomp and spectacular display of a magnificent order to satisfy even the most exacting sightseeing visitors. Should the condition of the pontiff improve he may, by his presence, lend greater importance to the religious ceremonies in the Vatican to be held in April. The traditions of the Church will, of course, exclude the Pope from all celebrations held outside of the Vatican precincts.

The series of commemoratie celebrations will begin tomorrow with a solemn Eucharistic procession, passing from the Catcombs of Saint Domitilla to those of Saint Callixtus and then to the church and catacombs of Saint Sebastian where a Te Deum will be sung and the blessed sacrament administered to the pilgrims.

From April 6 to 13, inclusive, a solemn Octave will be celebrated at the Church of Saint John Lateran with exposition of the "Acheropita." During the Octave the mornings will be set apart for the reception of pilgrims of Young Men's Christian Associations, Arch Confraternities, Congregations and religious orders; with a sermon every afternoon by a bishop and benediction by a cardinal, culminating in a Pontifical high mass on April 13, celebrated by a cardinal in the presence of the Pontifical court, the diplomatic corps accredited to the Holy See and the high dignitaries of the Church in Rome.

On April 20 there will be solemn commemoration at Saint Peters on the same scale of magnificence as the Feast of the Prince of the Apostles, with the exposition of the relics of the Passion of the Saviour, which are kept at Saint Peters.

On April 27 there will be a celebration and Pontifical mass at the Patriarchal Basilica of Saint Paul on the Ostian Way. May 2, 3 and 4 there will be Pontifical masses in the Church of Saint Croce in Gerusalemme and on the night of May 4 an immense electric cross will be inaugurated on Monte Cavo, eighteen miles from Rome. In May, June, August and December other commemorative celebrations of an impressive character will be held at the Papal Chapel at St. Peters, the Church of Saint Agnes, the Church of Saint Laurence, the parish church of Saints Peter and Marcellinus, the Cathedral of Albano and the Church of Saint Mary Major, where for three days the Holy Image of the Blessed Virgin, known as the "Borghenia" will be exposed to the view of the visiting pilgrims. There will also be special services and celebrations at that same church on each of the three days, December 6, 7 and 8, which will close the series of the celebrations.

MISS ANNA M. HARPER DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Miss Anna M. Harper, daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. Nathan Harper and a life-long resident of Plainfield, died this morning, following a long illness in her apartment in the Jackson building, Madison avenue and West Front street, where she and her brother, Joseph Harper, the only surviving relative, lived.

The Harper family lived for many years on West Second street, between Central avenue and New street. Later following the death of the parents Miss Harper and her brother removed to the Jackson building. Miss Harper was a life-long member of the Religious Society of Friends. Announcement of funeral will be made later.

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR DENYS DROIN IS HELD

The funeral service of Denys Droin was held at his late home, 11 Codington avenue, at 3:15 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. J. O. McKelvey, of Warren chapel, of which both Mr. and Mrs. Droin were members, having united with the chapel since coming to this city, officiated. Mr. Droin was a native of England and was a noted linguist, speaking several languages.

The burial was in Hillside cemetery and the pall-bearers were Joseph W. Gavett, George M. Hoagland, Robert R. Pentecost and Corra Ryno.

TO TEST HER SANITY.

Somerville, March 29.—A struck jury was called yesterday to inquire into the case of Miss Julia N. Garretson, who is confined in the asylum at Morristown. She was made insane some months ago at her home in Franklin township, because of the attack of a colored man, and the jury was called to determine as to whether or not she is capable of managin gher affairs. Because of the absence of Assemblyman Beekman, who was at Trenton, the hearing was put off until Monday morning.

"A WORLD OF GIRLS" PROVED SUCCESSFUL

"A World of Girls," was the title of a tableau performance given last in the Grace M. E. church, North Plainfield, before a large and appreciative audience. These participated: Mrs. Charles Maltby, Benjamin Schuck, Misses Belle DeMott, Elba Lippincott, Edith Major, Florence Conroy, Edna MacDonald, Minnie Nelson, Margaret Darby, Carrie Quick, Florence Nichols, Marian Major and Jessie Hummer: Mrs. Edward Young and Mrs. Raymond Miller. The musical accompaniments were played by Dyckman Winckler, violinist, and Miss Alice Carroll, pianist.

The Misses Della Voehl, Grace Clark and Benjamin Schuck arranged the affair and served refreshments at the conclusion of the performance.

SPOONER AVENUE DARK.

The West End section of the city in the vicinity of Spooner avenue was thrown into darkness last night when an electric light pole in that thoroughfare, between West Third and Fourth streets, fell to the ground. It is thought that the pole had become rotted by exposure and when it fell, it carried with it the wires which broke from their connections causing the street lights to go out. The danger to passersby was great and several men in the neighborhood stood guard to warn any pedestrians. The Public Service Co. was notified and a gang of electricians was sent to the scene to make temporary repairs. A new pole was raised this morning.

ENTERTAINED BOYS.

Boys' Secretary C. William Bingeman, of the local Y. M. C. A., conducted a variety entertainment for the benefit of the inmates of the State Home for Boys at Jamesburg, last night, about 550 boys enjoying the program of music, recitations and motion pictures. Harold Tomlinson, of this city, and Waldon Fountain, of Elizabeth, assisted in entertaining.

The Plainfield Colored Lyceum, under the direction of C. E. VanHorn, will hold Easter exercises at Reform Hall, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. There will be an attractive musical program.

DANIEL POUND DEAD; AGED SEVENTY YEARS

Daniel Pound, aged about 70 years, a well-known resident of this city for many years, died at 11:30 o'clock last night at the home of his son, Harry Pound, on West Front street, following a lingering illness. Mr. Pound for many years was engaged in the hay business, but owing to failing health was obliged to retire a few years ago. He was a member of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, and a regular attendant at the services.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Judson Giles, of Nazareth, Pa., and Miss May Pound, of this city, and three sons, Fowler Pound, of Philadelphia and Daniel H. and Harry Pound, of this city. Notice of funeral will be made later.

with Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Asttabula and Sharon.

Washington, March 29.—Vice President Marshall and Miss Mabel Boardman, chairman of the Red Cross Executive Committee, are on their way to Dayton, and if not delayed will reach there before night. They left this city at 11:30 last night on a special relief train over the Southern Railway via Lynchburg, Bristol and Harrison Junction, Tenn. It was originally planned to send them out over the Chesapeake and Ohio road, but washouts on that line made it impossible. In addition to the Vice President and Miss Boardman there are in the party President W. W. Finley and Vice President J. M. Kulp, of the Southern Railway, and a number of physicians and nurses. There are several baggage cars filled with medical supplies, food and clothing. The train is being handled without charge by the Southern Railroad.

Wheeling, W. Va., March 29.—There is considerable suffering here today. Trains will proceed over the company's own lines subject only to delay through slow orders through the recently flooded districts. Fast freight service will be resumed on Monday morning, when it is thought that the road will be fully ready for the resumption of regular traffic.

Zanesville, March 29.—The Roggie Hotel here collapsed this morning. The water is deep all about the structure and the current is so swift that it is impossible to approach close enough to determine if any lives were lost.

Pittsburgh, March 29. Reports received here today from Marietta, Ohio, say that the flood situation there was the worst in the history of the city. The Ohio River stage exceeded the high record of 1884 by six feet. Although it was believed that the loss of life would be great, one-third of the town has been swept by the flood, the report said. Refugees are now being housed in buildings and churches. Food and clothing are badly needed.

Albany, N. Y., March 29.—The rivers throughout the State are receding and danger of further floods is believed to have been passed.

Pittsburgh, March 29.—At 8:30 this morning the Allegheny River at Point Bridge showed 24.8 feet. The river has been falling steadily since yesterday morning. The rate of fall is now four and one-half feet an hour.

New York, Mar. 29.—Owing to severe sleet storms in the nortern part of New York State and in Canada wire service to Montreal and neighboring sections of the Dominion is paralyzed. Flood conditions in New York State have not seriously interfered with service to Albany, Rochester and Buffalo and other important points except in the Adirondack section. Service to the west is showing steady improvement.

The Erie Railroad announced this morning that the work of restoring its tracks has progressed so rapidly that it would resume its through New York and Chicago passenger service

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN S. S. ANNUAL ELECTION

Officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Sunday-school of the First Presbyterian church, held last night at the home of William J. Hamilton on East Seventh street, and H. W. Herrmann gave a helpful talk on "Personal Sunday-school Work," in which he offered many suggestions as to the various functions of an adult Bible class.

These officers were elected for the year: Superintendent, LeRoy H. Gates; first assistant, A. V. Searing, Jr.; second assistant, Mrs. Harry Williams; secretary, F. L. Palmer; treasurer, Jesse Lounsbury; superintendent of the Home department, Rev. Lewis Bond; superintendent of the primary department, Mrs. Grove P. Hinman; superintendent beginners' department, Mrs. George A. Ballantyne. After the business meeting a social hour with refreshments were enjoyed.

EXAMINE POLICE CANDIDATES.

The Councilmanic Police Board at its meeting last night, examined seven likely candidates for positions on the force. Out of the number probably two or three will be selected. The committee also discussed the annual budget, but no decision was reached. An increased amount over that of last year will be asked for especially if additional policemen are put on the force.

Mrs. Sarah Wardner, of Park avenue, is spending sometime in Norfolk, Va.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

An offering for the flood sufferers in Ohio will be received at All Souls' Unitarian church tomorrow morning.

"Women's Day" will be observed at the Ebenezer Baptist church tomorrow under the auspices of the Missionary Circle of which Mrs. Mary Smith is president. The program will be as follows: 11 o'clock, scripture reading; 3 o'clock, Pentecostal meeting; 7:30 o'clock, praise services; 8 o'clock, evening services, with speaking by Mrs. Susan Lightford, of New York.

Rev. Frederick J. Hubach, of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, will preach tomorrow morning on "Paul" and in the evening his theme will be "The Great Stone Face."

"Letting in the Infinite," will be Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring's topic at the morning service tomorrow, and the theme for the evening sermon will be "Looking Downward."

Mrs. John Manley will lead the W. C. T. U. meeting tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

MONROE AVE. CHURCH ACTIVE.

Rev. Frederick J. Hubach, pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, will meet the probationer's class Monday night. The cabinet of the Epworth League will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the parsonage and at 8 o'clock the Epworth League will meet in Epworth House. The church school will meet Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and on Thursday night the cantata chorus will hold a rehearsal. A missionary exhibit will be held at the church, April 9, 10 and 11, under the auspices of the department of world's evangelism of the Epworth League.

Y. P. S. ENTERTAINMENT.

Members of the Young Peoples' Society of the Temple Baptist church were the guests last night of the society of the First Baptist church. The evening was spent playing games after which refreshments were served. The committee consisted of Misses Corin Tennyson, Marie Fountain and Marjorie Cubberley.

ADAM SCHOTT A BENEDICT.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony G. Gawel, of Brooklyn, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elinor Gawel, to Adam Schott, of this city. The ceremony was performed at Christ church, Bedford avenue, Brooklyn, on Tuesday by Rev. Reginald Scott, the rector. After a short honeymoon the couple returned to Plainfield last night. They will reside at 1353 West Fourth street. Mr. Schott is widely-known as a baseball player, having been a member of the former Plainfield Baseball Club, known as the Clinton Avenues.

FIREMEN'S PARADE.

Inhabitants of Mt. Bethel are expected to turn out in large numbers tonight to witness the firemen's parade which will start at 8 o'clock. The line of march will end at Binz Hall, where an entertainment and dance will be given and former Assemblyman W. de La R. Anderson will deliver an address on the "History of Rural Fire Fighters."

VILLAGE FAIR.

The New Market firemen's fair and dance opened last night in Friendship Hall, where large sales were effected and dancing was enjoyed. The event will continue tonight. The arrangement committee is composed of George L. Harris, chairman; William Van Ness, William Thornton, William T. Pittington, Jr., Harry J. Pittington, Alexander Herlich, Stanley Day, and J. R. Von Minden.

PRINCE OF REUSS DEAD.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Gera, Germany, March 29.—Prince Henry XIV., of Reuss, the head of the younger branch of the Reuss family, who had reigned over the principality since July 11, 1867, died today.

MINERS WIN.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Charleston, W. Va., March 29.—As a result of a conference held by the mine owners in the New River and Virginia districts of West Virginia, all non union, a nine-hour day will be inaugurated April 1.

Mrs. C. A. Leland, of West Fifth street, who has been seriously ill, is slowing recovering.

FOUND HUSBAND DEAD IN HIS BED

Runyon Clawson, Well Known Dunellen Resident, Victim of Heart Disease.

AT SEVENTY-TWO YRS.

Wife and Two Sons Survive Him—Funeral Services to Be Held on Wednesday Afternoon—Burial at South Plainfield.

Feeling slightly indisposed at his home shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Runyon Clawson, 72 years old, of New Market road, Dunellen, told his wife he was going upstairs to lay down. Less than an hour later his aged wife found him dead in bed, a victim of heart trouble. Although greatly alarmed, Mrs. Clawson did not realize that her husband was beyond the aid of the medical profession and hurriedly summoned neighbors, who gathered at the bedside. Although all knew the truth after viewing the lifeless form none informed Mrs. Clawson of her loss until the arrival of Dr. M. J. Whitford, of New Market road, who had been summoned by Louis Laire, a neighbor.

Mr. Clawson was a native of New Jersey and has lived practically all his life in New Market and vicinity. For many years he had been the janitor of the Dunellen School and despite his years took active interest in social, religious and political affairs. He enjoyed exceptional health until fatally stricken. Besides Mrs. Clawson, two sons, Walter G. Clawson, of Dunellen, and Frederick Clawson, of Scotch Plains, survive.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at his late home at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Dr. T. E. Vassar, pastor of the New Market Baptist church, will officiate. Interment will be made in the cemetery at South Plainfield.

"NEVER AGAIN" SAYS MULLIN ON RETURN

Local Shorstop Lost Money and Weight in Virginia and is Through.

Two weeks of Virginia League life was plenty for Tommy Mullin, the local youngster who signed up to play shortstop for the Petersburg aggregation. During his curtailed sojourn Tommy lost sixteen pounds and his fame has been visibly effected by the scarcity of food which he reports. In speaking of the trip this morning Mullin said, "The best we got to eat in the clubhouse was corn bread and soup and that was the main substance on the bill of fare at each meal. All of the players on the team are in a state of rebellion and many of them threatened to quit any instant despite the entreaties of the manager and club officials who are trying to hold fast to their recruits."

Mullin refused to report to the playing grounds early last week and he was immediately cut off the pay roll, returning to his home in this city at his own expense. While he was being starved in the minor organization the local boy was making good at the same time, being practically sure of his berth at short. All kinds of inducements were offered him to stay with the club, except food, and he refused to stick when this necessary requisite was not forthcoming. When he arrived in this city last night, Mullin sent back to Manager Harry Busch, of the Petersburg Club, for his release, with the intention of keeping in the good graces of the National Commission in the event that another baseball offer comes his way. Until that happens, however, the Plainfield favorite will once more adorn the local sand lots and there are a number of good semi-professional teams in this vicinity who would be only too glad to get an option on his services.

SABBATH-SCHOOL OFFICERS.

Officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Seventh-Day Baptist church Sabbath-school yesterday as follows: Superintendent, William C. Hubbard; assistant superintendents, Henry M. Maxson and Asa Randolph; secretary, Nathan S. Wardner; treasurer, Irving A. Hunting; pianist, Mrs. Roland M. Davis; chorister, Frank A. Langworthy; auditors, John B. Cottrell and Raymond C. Burdick; librarian, Leland Shaw.

MASS MEETING OF SUFFRAGISTS

Hundreds Hear Stirring Addresses on "the Cause" at State Rally in Newark.

THEY SUBSCRIBE $1,300

Mrs. E. F. Feickert Presides and Representatives of Three Great Parties Are Among the Galaxy of Speakers.

Mr. and Mrs. Champlain L. Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Van Syckel, Mrs. Marion S. Ackerman and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Feickert were among the Plainfielders who attended the jubilee meeting under the auspices of the New Jersey Woman's Suffrage Association in Proctor's theatre, Newark, yesterday afternoon. It is estimated that nearly 1,000 people were present and the subscriptions in cash and pledged for the work amounted to $1,300. Mrs. E. F. Feickert, as president of the State association, presided.

There were a number of excellent addresses, including those by State Banking Commissioner George LaMonte, representing the Democrats; Edmund B. Osborn, of Montclair, representing the Progressives; Dr. Maud Thompson, of East Orange, representing the Socialists, and Col. John S. Crosby, of New York. There were also remarks by Rev. Edgar S. Wiers, of Montclair; Mrs. M. J. Reynolds, of Newark, who has been campaigning in Union county, and Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, formerly of Plainfield, who gave an interesting account of the pioneer work in the cause of suffrage in which her mother, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, took an important part. Rev. Antoinette Brown Blackwell, of Elizabeth, offered prayer, and the Apollo Quartet, of Newark, sang appropriate selections.

Although, she declared that three hundred thousand women in public schools are teaching boys the duties of citizenship, Dr. Maud Thompson said that there is only one place where woman is not wanted and that is the place of power, the place where she can protect herself. Mr. LaMonte called attention to the fact that even after the bill submitting the suffrage question to the people has passed both houses the second time the hardest work will be to persuade the men of the State, who are interested enough to vote, to support the bill. He pointed out the increase of woman's power if she could back her request to the legislators to vote for this reform or that by the power of the ballot.

Mr. Osborne said that the putting in of the suffrage plank in the party platform was the first time in history that a great political party had unqualifiedly registered itself in favor of giving the vote to women.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, recalled the spirit of concentration, self-sacrifice, wisdom, thoroughness, courage, faith, hope and charity of the pioneers in the suffrage cause and compared the different stages of the movement to a relay race. Col. Crosby expressed the regret that women had to waste precious time fighting for the ballot, while there are so many important matters waiting their attention.

Rev. Mr. Wiers emphasized the fact that a new state had arisen in which the property interest has given place to human interest. Mrs. M. J. Reynolds made an appeal for funds to carry on the campaign. At this time the Plainfield Men's League for Equal Suffrage contributed $100 of the $1,300 raised.

TRINITY'S ANNUAL.

The annual congregational meeting of Trinity Reformed church will be held on Wednesday night, April 16, for reports and election of elders and deacons. The members of the Consistory whose terms expire are: Elders, George L. VanEmburgh, Robert Clark, Jr., and Henry E. Gayle; deacons, William F. Oliver, Alfred K. Willett and William R. Kriney. An elder will also be elected to succeed H. J. Martin, Sr., resigned.

MISTAKE NEARLY FATAL TO HUNTER

Scotch Plains Man Swallowed Roach Salt Thinking it Was Rochelle Salts.

PHYSICIAN SAVES HIM

Druggist Misunderstood Order But Plainly Labeled It—It Was All Caused by Hunter's Speech Impediment.

A dose of roach salt, mistaken for Rochelle Salts, came near causing the death of Walter Hunter, 25 years old, of Park aveue, Scotch Plains, yesterday afternoon. He has been brought out of the danger zone by Dr. Ray T. Munger, who was summoned about two hours after the almost fatal dose had been taken. According to the physician, Hunter, whose speech is slightly impeded by a physical defect, called at a Plainfield druggists on Saturday and asked for Rochelle salts.

Thinking that Hunter desired to "execute" some insects and misunderstanding the order for "roach salt," the drug clerk handed over a package of the latter plainly labeled. Hunter evidently failed to examine the supposed medicine and on Sunday afternoon mixed a dose of the stuff with water, which he swallowed. The mixture proved decidedly unpleasant, and an hour later he became sick at his stomach and was attacked with violent pains in his solar region.

His brother, James Hunter, summoned the physician. Had the administration of an antidote been delayed an hour it is probable, according to Dr. Munger, that death would have been the result of his carelessness.

HE STAYED OUT NIGHTS; WIFE USED ROLLING PIN

Neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. John Garrison, of St. Mary's avenue, telephoned to the police Saturday morning that the couple were engaged in a combat in their home and the advent of Patrolman Craig on the battlefield, resulted in their arraignment this morning before City Judge DeMeza. Mr. Garrison declared whenever he stayed out late at night his wife patroled the vicinity of the front door armed with a rolling pin. He said in his opinion this was "a violation of the American spirit of Independence," and that he had strenuously objected to it.

The court after telling the couple to sign articles of peace, bade them go home and live orderly lives and incidentally delivered a lecture, the subject of which could appropriately be called, "Martial Happiness Without Martial Combat."

AN UNKNOWN COLORED WOMAN IS FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

A middle-aged colored woman was found in an unconscious condition at the Public Service Corporation car barns, Westfield Junction, last night, by the Westfield police and was removed to Muhlenberg Hospital in the city ambulance. According to the Westfield police the woman was seen to leave a Main Line car at Westfield Junction, after which she became unconscious. She was searched, but there was nothing on her person to disclose her identity. Neither did she have any money. How she expected to get to Rahway, where she was reported as going, is not known.

The woman partially regained consciousness today and the hospital authorities as near as they could determine from her mumbled conversation learned the name of "Mrs. Olive Taylor," and that her home was in Newark. The case has been reported to the police in the hope that they may be able to locate some of the woman's relatives.

MADAME LOUISE HOMER WILL BE HEARD HERE

The Charity Circle of King's Daughters announce a song recital to be given by Madame Louise Homer at the Plainfield theatre, Tuesday evening, May 13, at 8:30 o'clock. The proceeds from the concert will be used for the Day Nursery and other King's Daughters work. The seats will be placed on sale at the box-office of the theatre on and after Monday, May 5. No reservations of seats will be made for anyone before the opening of the regular sale and telephone orders will not be held over twenty-four hours.

$96 MORE FOR FUND

Total Amount Received for Flood Sufferers $483.75.

Many more contributions have been received since Saturday afternoon for the fund being raised by the Daily Press for the relief of the Ohio Valley flood and fire victims. In all $96.50 has been added, among the contributors being the Seventh-Day Baptist Sabbath-School and the Hebrew Charity Ball Committee, the latter on motion of Hyman Adelberg at a meeting yesterday, deciding to help the cause.

The subscriptions up to 1 o'clock this afternoon totalled $483.75. Some three or four who have subscribed have overlooked sending the checks and as it is desired to wire more money tomorrow noon it is suggested that they do so at their earliest convenience. On Saturday, in the name of the people of Plainfield, the Daily Press wired $300. We would like to wire at least $200 more tomorrow. If you have not already contributed and feel disposed to do so, checks or cash will be particularly appreciated before tomorrow noon.

CONTINUE THE CRUSADE AGAINST RECKLESS AUTOISTS

In compliance with the orders issued recently by Mayor Stewart that the motor speed laws be strictly enforced in the city, the police have showed unusual activity in bringing these offenders to account. Saturday, William Banks, a chauffeur, and William Willis, taxi driver, were arrested for speeding and the latter, arraigned before City Judge De Meza this morning, received a suspended sentence after a warning had been administered during which the court classed auto speeders as a menace to the public safety of Plainfield inhabitants. The hearing in Banks' case was adjourned until Monday, April 7, when a State official will examine the chauffeur to determine whether Banks is qualified to drive an automobile, according to the requirements of the law.

TEMPERATURE REPORT.

The temperature report from The State Trust Company today is as follows: 9 a. m., 55 degrees; 11 a. m., 65 degrees; 1 p. m., 72 degrees.

MRS. VAN BUREN DIES SUDDENLY

Wife of Edward Morris Van Buren Succumbs to a Hemorrhage.

PROMINENT IN SOCIETY

The Funeral Services to Be Held at the Late Home Tomorrow Afternoon—Husband and Four Sons Survive Her.

Mrs. Caroline Van Buren, aged 36 years, wife of Edward Morris VanBuren, died suddenly yesterday at her home, 810 Central avenue, following a hemorrhage. Her death is a severe shock to her friends as her recovery was confidently expected. A baby boy a week old is among those surviving. Today he was named Carol, that being the nearest to the maiden name of Mrs. VanBuren, which was desired by the family.

Mrs. VanBuren was the eldest daughter of the late Joseph W. Reinhart, the former president of the Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, who resided on Belvidere avenue for many years. She was born at Sewickly, Pa., in 1877, and was educated at Miss Ely's school, then on Riverside Drive, New York. She was a member of the Plainfield Country Club and the Watchung Hunt Club.

Mrs. VanBuren was married in this city, and had lived here practically all her life. She was prominent in society. She was a member of Grace church and a regular attendant at the services. There survives besides a husband, four sons, Morris, Allison, Julian and Carol; her mother, Mrs. J. W. Reinhart, two sisters, Mrs. John Thayer, of Charleston, W. Va., and with whom Mrs. Reinhart lives; Mrs. Maury Corbin, of Berkeley, California, and one brother, Frank O. Reinhart, the well-known golfer.

The funeral service will be held at the late home tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector, and Rev. John G. Currier, curate, of Grace church, will officiate. The burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

MISS STANHOPE MAKES A MOST GENEROUS OFFER

Many are the philanthropic offers that have been made to relieve the suffering of the poor and supply the necessities of life for the needy of Plainfield, but few have been as generous as one made by Miss Eleanor Stanhope, of 159 Somerset street, who has asked the Daily Press to assist her.

An acre of fertile land in the Netherwood section, near the junction of Rahway road and Prospect avenue, owned by Miss Stanhope, has remained idle for years. Realizing that the land could be of use to a poor family, in the way of conducting some kind of business on the premises or by converting it into a truck farm, Miss Stanhope offers to allow some worthy person to make such use of the acre, free of charge. She is particularly desirous that the free use of the property be utilized for the interests of one in need.

Any person or persons interested in Miss Stanhope's kind offer can receive additional information by addressing the Daily Press or by communicating with Miss Stanhope at her home, 159 Somerset street.

IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY'S DANCE A MARKED SUCCESS

An entertainment committee composed of members of the North Plainfield Township Improvement Society conducted a most successful dance and reception in the Improvement Society's rooms at Watchung Saturday night, about 150 persons being in attendance. The hall was beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers for the occasion and the affair was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present.

Excellent music was furnished for dancing which continued until a late hour and much of the credit for the success of the affair is due to the efforts of Charles C. Wheeler, who acted as chairman.

A BANQUET TONIGHT.

The Senior and Junior Baraca classes of the Temple Baptist church will give a banquet in the class rooms tonight at 7 o'clock. This will be free to the members. There will be several short speeches. The banquet is given as a reunion for the members of the classes. Frank Stewart, Charles Smith, Clarence LaRue and Mrs. P. H. Moore comprise the committee in charge.

FLOOD WORSE IN CINCINNATI NOW

Ohio River Now Higher Than in the Famous Flood of 1884.

OTHER PLACES SUFFER

Governor Cox Estimates That in Ohio Alone the Property Loss Will Be $300,000,000—He Fears a Famine.

Cincinnati, just now the centre in the Ohio River floods, expected the crest of the waters in that city today. A large part of the city is now inundated and further great property loss is expected. In Cincinnati and at Newport and Covington, Ky., it is estimated that 250,000 persons are homeless.

The Ohio flood is now higher than in the famous flood of 1884. The situation is acute throughout the lower Ohio. The water is within a foot of topping the levee at Cario, and Leadsville is almost completely isolated.

Despatches from different sections in the Ohio Valley show that the flood continues to destroy millions of dollars of property and endanger thousands of lives.

The business section of Huntington, W. Va., is under water. Huntington sends word that the town of Point Pleasant, with its 2,200 population, is submerged and the entire population suffering. One death was reported from that town.

Secretary of War Garrison finds that the situation in other parts of Ohio has so improved that he plans to return to Washington tomorrow. Relief work in the stricken districts has been systematized and the thousands of homeless are receiving every care.

Governor Cox estimates that in Ohio alone the flood property loss will amount to $300,000,000.

There are still thousands of refugees who will need care for several days at least. Governor Cox was fearful today that there would be a scarcity of food. Unless supplies are received quickly and regularly, he said, there would be a famine within a week.

The work of fighting against an outbreak of disease was well under way in Dayton, Columbus and other stricken cities. All the available men were put to work in an effort to get the cities cleaned up before an epidemic should break out.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Cairo, Ill., March 31.—Fear that the levees at this city would break caused hundreds of families to flee from their homes today. The city is in danger from the weakening of the levees and every effort is being made to strengthen them with bags of sand. The flood late last night was within a foot of the top of the big levee. There was a panic among the inhabitants of the city when the Weather Bureau issued a special bulletin warning the people to flee to the higher ground.

At the request of Mayor Parsons Gov. Dunne ordered two companies of the 7th Regiment to Cairo for duty. The soldiers are expected here early today and besides patrolling the city streets they will take charge of the work at the levees.

The problem of feeding the citizens and the refugees who have poured into here from other points is proving a problem, and an appeal for food was sent out last night. Gov. Dunne immediately ordered 10,000 rations shipped here at once.

So many persons have left the city that it was decided not to open the schools. No services were held in the churches last night.

Columbus, O., March 31.—Secretary of War Garrison and Major Gen. Wood, chief of staff, are in Columbus today to confer with Gov. Cox and Gen. John C. Speaks, of the Ohio National Guard, over the arrangements to be made for the caring of the flood refugees. The plans would involve the consolidation of the National Red Cross work, the Federal commissary and the local civic organizations in the different cities in the stricken areas.

Gov. Cox feels that the great problem confronting the relief work is the providing of food. It is expected that for the next two weeks or more thousands of refugees will have to be fed and clothed until a return to something resembling normal conditions has been reached. Within the next few days the food problem threatens to be a serious one. While food supplies are being rushed here from many points, it is feared that the supply will not nearly equal the demand.

Dayton, O., March 31.—"Clean up!" is the order in Dayton today. Every effort of the men in charge of the city is being directed now to this end so that a possible epidemic can be headed off. So far, the city has

MORGAN IS DEAD AT ROME, ITALY

Great American Financier's End Caused by Pujo Committee Excitement,

A REMARKABLE CAREER

Famous Art Connisseur and Collector, Philanthropist and Churchman—No Change in the House of Morgan.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

Rome, Italy, March 31.—John Pierpont Morgan, known for years as the greatest power in New York financial circles, and one of the wealthiest men in the world, died at 12:05 this afternoon after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Morgan sailed from New York for Egypt on January 6, in quest of a spot where his health would improve. At Alexandria, where he remained for a few weeks, his condition changed for the worse, and he was removed to this city, being joined a few days ago by Herbert Satterlee, his son-in-law.

The last bulletin on Mr. Morgan's condition sent out by the physicians in attendance at the bedside was issued shortly before noon. At that time they said his death was a question of hours. One of the American physicians called into consultation at Mr. Morgan's bedside attributed his breakdown and death to emotion caused by the investigation of the Pujo committee at Washington into the operations of the alleged money trust.

Mr. Morgan, who probably became the most influential man this country has ever known, and a greater power in Wall street than any financier ever before in the history of the country, was born in Hartford, Conn., on April 17, 1837. His father was Junius Spencer Morgan, and his mother prior to her marriage was

HIGH SCHOOL GRADS HOLD ANNUAL DANCE

Eighth Yearly Event Proves to Be an Enjoyable One.

Plainfield High School graduates to the number of 150 attended the eighth annual dance and reception conducted by the Alumni Association in the school auditorium Saturday night and enjoyed the fine program of dancing and music arranged by the committee in charge, consisting of Dr. Sidney R. Titsworth, chairman; F. K. Anderson and Roy E. Titsworth. Members of classes graduated from the school during the last twenty years were in attendance, some traveling many miles to be present. A number of former students took advantage of the spring recesses of the college they are attending and prolonged their vacations over the week-end for this event. The auditorium was appropriately decorated for the occasion with palms and cut flowers and music was furnished for the dancing by Van Eps Brothers' orchestra, of this city. The social committee furnished dainty refreshments and those who did not dance found entertainment furnished for their benefit in other lines.

The patronesses of the dance were Mrs. William D. Murray, Mrs. Champlain L. Riley, Mrs. Edward J. Patterson, Mrs. Lindsey Best, Mrs. Albert B. Meredith, Mrs. Edgar Williams, Mrs. George L. Bacock, Miss Julia J. Ketcham and Miss Agnes H. Morton. The officers of the association follow: President, F. K. Anderson, '05; vice president, Dr. Sidney R. Titsworth, '97; secretary and treasurer, Miss Margaret Leggett, '10.

CO. K. DOINGS.

The regular march business meeting of Company K will be held at the close of the drill session in the armory tonight. It is expected that the various committees for the ensuing year will be appointed by Captain Peterson at this meeting. Following the business session Lieut. A. R. Phillips will deliver the second lecture in the school of musketry.

FUNERAL OF MRS. FRANK DROLL

The funeral service of Mrs. Frank Droll was held at the late home, 1022 West Front street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. There were many beautiful floral tributes. Rev. Frederic L. Greene, of Hope chapel, officiated, assisted by Rev. Fred B. Newman, of Tunkhannock, Pa. The burial was in Hillside cemetery.

—Neuman Bros. will have for tomorrow's trade a large and choice assortment of fruit and fresh vegetables. ***

RELIABILITY.

"CAN A BUSINESS MAN BE HONEST AND SUCCESSFUL?"

This was the subject of a most interesting sermon by the Rev. C. L. Goodrich yesterday morning. Every business man in Plainfield should have heard his eloquent discourse.

Today a business man MUST be honest to be successful—for what is business, but human service, based on confidence and co-operation—and Mr. Arthur F. Sheldon says "He who serves best, profits most."

A barber who had been convicted of murder in the first degree on being asked if he had any request to make before the sentence of the court should be carried out, replied that before he died he would like to shave the Prosecuting Attorney.

The world will never be civilized until we get rid of the desire to "shave" our supposed enemies.

In trading it was formerly thought that the buyer was an "enemy" and "to shave" him was quite the proper thing. But today the store that "shaves" a customer cuts its own throat of prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hopkings, of New York, have moved to Spring Valley.

Mrs. William L. Apaugh and Miss Clara B. Trimmer, of Califon, spent Thursday in New York and Brooklyn.

Ezra Hoffman, of Califon, is recovering from the grip.

An entertainment under the auspices of the Califon Baseball Club will be held in Apgar's Hall, April 17.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ort and Miss Laura Van Ness, of High Bridge, have returned home after visiting the family of Charles Miller, at Glen Gardner.

Mrs. Rebecca Bowlby will move from Glen Gardner to High Bridge.

An invitation reception, concert and dance was held Saturday night in Rialto Hall, High Bridge, under the auspices of the engineering department of the Taylor-Wharton Steel and Iron Company.

Voorhees Seal, of New Castle, Del., was a recent visitor of his sister, Mrs. Parton Jolin, at High Bridge.

JUDGE VISITS JAMESBURG.

Jamesburg, March 31.—In order to personally inspect the State Home for Boys, to which he has been compelled to commit many juvenile offenders, Judge J. P. Connelly, of the Court of Common Pleas, made a tour of that institution Saturday, guided by Superintendent J. C. Kalleen. With Judge Connelly were Prosecutor M. P. O'Connor and Probation Officer Major Irwin, of the Union County Court. All were pleased by the system in vogue at the home.

TEST OF WEBB LAW.

Frankfort, Ky., March 31.—The local agent of one of the express companies was arraigned in the circuit court for trial today on charges of delivering liquor in violation of the Webb law, the new Federal statute which prohibits the shipment of liquor for sale in prohibition territory. This is the first case to be filed in Kentucky and it probably will be used to test the law in the supreme court.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Hayden, of Orange place, spent yesterday with out of town friends.

Miss Louisa McCormick, a teacher in the Lambertville schools, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McCormick, of John street.

THESE POPULAR PRICED SUITS ARE REMARKABLE VALUES

For the woman who desires a suit at a lesser price we can thoroughly recommend these suits as being garments that will give entire satisfaction; we were very careful in our buying and secured some of the best suit values we've ever offered you.

AT 9.75—You have the choice of several styles in a fine quality all wool serge. Colors are navy, black, brown and tan, and the regular sizes are here. A really splendid suit, cheap in price only.

AT 12.50—This price includes several smart styles; a pretty Norfolk model for juniors being a feature. All wool serge is the fabric they are made of and the colors are navy, tan, black, grey and Copenhagen. A big value at this price.

AT 16.50—In this group you have shadow stripe serge, diagonals, Bedford cords, and fancy basket weaves; styles are mostly plain tailored; there's one model, however, in the Russian blouse effect and very smart it is. The tailoring is superb and taking everything under consideration we are certain that you cannot do better anywhere else at this price.

THE BEST SHOWING OF SPRING DRESS GOODS and SILKS

Ours is undoubtedly the best and most assorted showing of the Dress Goods you will want this season. We have most of the new weaves and colors, and are always particular as to the quality, and prices are never more than elsewhere, generally lower.

CREAM FABRICS — Include Serges, Bedford Cords, Diagonals, Batistes, Whipcords, Mohairs, Poplins, etc., ranging in widths from 36 inches to 50 inches. The prices are most moderate, considering quality and will suit all purses; 50c up to $1 & $1.25 yd.

NEW SILKS—Our showing of the new Spring Silks includes all the popular and stylish weaves and ideas. The new shades of messalines are very pretty, while the Bulgarian effects in the several fabrics are very handsome; prices range from 39c a yard up to charmeuse at ....$1.98 yard

EPONGE—This fabric is one of the biggest favorites this season. It is considered the ultra stylish cloth, and certainly looks very handsome. We have it in brown, navy and Royal blue, taupe and black; 56 inches wide, at only .....$1.98 a yard

FRENCH RAMIE LINEN.

We have just received another consignment of this favored spring and summer material. It's 47 inches wide, is an all pure linen, French finish, and comes in the best colors; priced at 50c yd.

You have also a selection of washable bandings to select from that match these linens finely.

The Most Popular and Successful Millinery Dept.

Simply because you can find most anything you want here, whether it is a ready trimmed hat, or just the shape with the fancies and accessories which you want created along ideas of your own. Another great factor in the popularity of this department is the low prices—nothing that can be called exorbitant.

Styles are new and different from anything else, while being perfectly fashionable and smart.

If you are still a stranger to our Millinery Department come and visit us in its new quarters.

CIVIL SERVICE HEARINGS.

Trenton, March 31.—A public hearing will be given by the Civil Service Commission tomorrow at the State House upon the exemption of the position of expert on insurance rates for the banking and insurance department. This position is provided for in a recently enacted law. The commission will also give another hearing on the same day upon the exemption of court stenographers who officiate in several counties and are paid jointly by different counties or by several counties and the State. Announcement was made by the commission of the candidates who successfully passed the examinations—physical, medical and written—for the position of fireman in the Paterson fire department. In order of merit they are as follows: Gustave Vineis, Frederick Haycock, William H. Walsh, Frank A. Dowdall, William J. Dale, Richard Hickerson, John J. Lawless and Henry J. Westphal, all of Paterson.

MAYOR & PETITIONERS DIFFER.

Elizabeth, March 31.—"They see the moat in their neighbor's eye, but can't see the beam in their own," was the scriptural comment Mayor Mravlag made on reading a communication from Harry F. Brewer, secretary of the executive commission of the Elizabeth Society of Christian Endeavor and Epworth League. The communication set forth that it was the sense of the committee that the branch of the Federated churches of Union county took the right stand when its representatives asked the Mayor to close all stores on Sunday and prevent baseball and other outdoor games. The Mayor declined to comply with the demand, and a lively discussion resulted. The petitioners say that they favor Sunday concerts in place of other amusements. The Mayor announced that the communication had been "pigeonholed."

CHANGES OF JUDGES UNCERTAIN

Jersey City, March 31.—Just when Judge George G. Tennant will succeed Judge Robert Carey in the Court of Common Pleas seems to be uncertain. Judge Carey has declined to say when he will leave the bench. Judge Tennant said merely that it would not be seemly in him to discuss the matter. Judge Carey was appointed judge May 6, 1908. The term of county judges is for five years. The constitution provides that commissions for such appointments shall bear date and take effect on April 1. Judge Tennant's commission bears that date. It is known that the printed court calendar is to bear the name of Judge Carey, because the county clerk's office was informed by him that his term does not expire until May 6. Judge Mark A. Sullivan will succeed Judge John A. Blair next Tuesday.

MANY SEEK OFFICE IN DULUTH.

Duluth, Minn., March 31.—Duluth's first election under the commission plan of government will be held tomorrow and public interest in the contests is unusually keen. A mayor and four commissioners are to be chosen. For the five places to be filled there are more than sixty candidates on the ticket, including ten candidates for mayor, nine for the long-term commissionerships and forty-five for the short-term commissionerships. A peculiar feature of the contest is that few regular officeseekers are in the race, nearly all of those who are running never having held public office.

DALLAS PLANS PLAYGROUNDS.

Dallas, Texas, March 31.—Dallas citizens will vote tomorrow on a proposal to issue bonds to the amount of half a million dollars to be used in extending and systemitizing the city's playgrounds.

The Girls' Mission Club of the Congregational church will hold a cake sale at J. A. Smith & Bros.' grocery on Saturday.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Rev. E. C. Conover, of the Temple Baptist church, at the morning service, yesterday, baptized Esther Taggard, Blanche Taggard, Mary Conway, Alice Simon and Clarence Carson.

The Judson Junior Templars of the First Baptist church will meet this afternoon and elect officers.

The Women's Foreign Mission Society of the First Baptist church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. DeWitt Brokaw will present the subject of "Medical Work." A special meeting of the home society will be held afterward.

The Bible school will have charge of the mid-week prayer meeting at the First Baptist church, Wednesday night.

Dr. Norman H. Probasco's Bible class of the First Baptist church is rehearsing for a play to be given in April at the Park Club.

The Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church will give an entertainment at the church tomorrow evening entitled "Ye Dress Rehearsal of Ye Olde Folks Concert." Edmund Young as leader, and Miss Helen Woolley, reciter, will assist. Refreshments will be served afterward.

Dr. C. Stanley Mylrea, of Arabia, will give an illustrated lecture at Trinity Reformed church, Wednesday night, on "Missions."

The home department of Trinity Reformed church will hold its semi-annual social Thursday evening, April 10.

The Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church will meet at the home of Mrs. H. C. Vanderburgh, 331 East Second street, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This will be the annual meeting with election of officers.

The Plainfield Christian Endeavor Local Union will hold a rally meeting Thursday night at the Temple Baptist church, and not Hope chapel, as announced. Rev. L. Y. Graham, Jr., of Rahway, will be the speaker.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Hope chapel will meet Thursday afternoon for the election of officers.

The annual meeting of Hope chapel will be held Wednesday night.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. church will hold an all-day sewing meeting in Vincent chapel on Thursday.

The Woman's Association of the Congregational church will hold a sewing and business meeting tomorrow afternoon.

Captain George Benn, of the Mission Yacht Association of New York, will give an illustrated lecture at the Congregational church Wednesday night, at 8 o'clock. Several Plainfield churches and individuals are helping to support this work among the sailors.

"Missions among the Mormons," will be the subject to be considered by the mission class of the First M. E. church at its meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Atwood, 815 First place, tonight. James R. Joy and Mrs. C. M. Anderson will take part in the program.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First M. E. church will hold its regular meeting tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in Vincent chapel.

An election for three trustees will be held tonight at the First M. E. church, to succeed John Cory, James C. Peck and George M. Rittenhouse, whose terms of office expire at that time.

THE FORUM.

THE SMALL BOARD.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

I notice in your issue of the 19th inst. an item from Trenton to the effect that Mr. Griffin, of Union, has introduced a bill in the Assembly to meet the condition caused by the recent decision that the small Board of Freeholders chosen at the last election is illegal. At the election when the question was submitted to the voters of Union whether they would adopt the small board act, I voted against it, not feeling convinced that a small board chosen at large would so well serve the interests of all the different divisions of the county as would the larger board composed of members from each division. The result of the Republican primary last Fall showed the danger to Plainfield linking in the act, as not a single candidate was nominated from here. Elizabeth was very prominent in both the Republican and the Democratic tickets. Plainfield's interests should not be placed in the hands of Elizabeth freeholders. In fact the interests of Elizabeth are not identical with those of any other division of the county. It seems to me therefore that any statute providing for a small board of freeholders should limit the number of members that may be nominated from any one division.

In the case of a county of less than 50,000 inhabitants the bill introduced by Mr. Griffin provides for three freeholders; in such case no party should place in nomination more than one candidate from any one division. Where the number of inhabitants calls for a greater number of freeholders not more than two candidates should be nominated from any one division by any party. I note that this act is to be compulsory upon all counties of more than 50,000 inhabitants. Why? It would seem that either it should be compulsory on all or optional with all. It is to be hoped that the whole subject will be thoroughly thrashed out, and some definite conclusion arrived at between the relative advantages and disadvantages of a large board and a small board, for there is certainly room for discussion, and there should be a large amount of data available for study, the small board system having been in operation for some time in several counties.

But without some such limitation upon nomination as I have indicated which will prevent a majority and perhaps the entirety of the board being chosen from one division, it does not seem to me that a small board will be as fair to all the county as a large board. We should not allow ourselves to be deceived by a fancied analogy between the so-called commission form of government as applied to cities, homogenous in their needs, and as applied to a county embracing cities and rural districts whose wants are very diverse.

I hope the public will take an interest in this matter and give Mr. Griffin the benefit of their views.

MORGAN AND OTHERS.

It did not remain for his death to come to pass for the world to honor him and because of that fact the name of J. P. Morgan goes down in history in sharp contrast to those of other great captains of finance. It is easy to bring to one's mind the names of men richer than he in the financial and industrial world, who in comparison make this truly great man shine as an example of honesty, integrity and philanthrophy. Others have given more than he, but they have done it ostentatiously and the gifts have been the fruits of watered stocks, raising the price of a commodity in their control or some other equally immoral, if not illegal, doings. Morgan, on the other hand, by his dealings with his fellow men earned the reputation of being the soul of honor and what he gave to the benefit of mankind were the proceeds of honest gain. The great metropolitan newspapers are pretty good judges of men, they learn to know them intimately and by their deeds they pass their verdicts. How they have held the best known millionaires up to ridicule and scorn need not be recited, but it is proper to recall at this time that J. P. Morgan escaped such treatment and the reason why is plain. He was an honest man. Only very recently he appeared before the Pujo committee, though a sick man, and his frankness, directness and his evident honesty of purpose won for him the ecomiums and admiration of friend and foe alike. He left the witness stand a greater man than ever. Yes, he was an honest man. The world needs more J. P. Morgans.

RELIEF FUND.

Since last Thursday morning, the Daily Press has received $483.50 for the relief of the stricken people of the Ohio valley. On Saturday, as a first installment, $300 was wired to Col. Wilson, who is officially in charge of the relief bureau with headquarters at Columbus and tomorrow more money will be wired.

While the loss of life was not so great as at first reported, thousands have been made destitute by the flood and fire. Two thousand homes must be razed and ten thousand repaired. In addition to this some forty or fifty thousand victims must be fed and clothed. This gives some idea of the need for funds. The question is, will Plainfield do its share as it always has in the past when called upon in the name of humanity?

When San Francisco was destroyed by an earthquake, Plainfield contributed through this paper $1,827.51 for relief work, and when Messina was wiped off the map of Italy by a similar catastrophe in like manner Plainfield sent through this paper $1,016.80 for the survivors. What, then will Plainfield do for the people near their own home; what will they do for the thousands made destitute in the Ohio Valley?

Any contributions sent to the Daily Press will be acknowledged in these columns and will be transmitted promptly to the proper authorities on the scene of the disaster. "He who gives quickly, gives twice."

A donation party was given at the home of Joel Codington, in Warrenville, last night, for the Rev. Willis S. MacRorie, the suspended Methodist preacher who recently figured in a trial before th econference at Newark. It is understood that MacRorie has also been elected president of the Warrenville Christian Endeavor Society.—News Item.

In the words of his counsel, "Count" Van Ness "Pretty boy, pretty boy" to be the head of a Christian Endeavor Society.

Governor Sulzer has got one in on Governor Fielder, having signed today the "full crew" bill passed by the New York Legislature. A similar measure enacted by the New Jersey Legislature awaits the signature of New Jersey's executive.

New Brunswick's business men have taken hold of the commission government campaign in the right spirit. A strong organization has been effected and there is an enthusiasm about the whole thing that speaks well for that community.

Do not get the mistaken idea that any considerable amount is expected as your contribution to the flood fund. A dollar bill is most acceptable. It is not what you give, it is the spirit in which you give it.

LUNACY COMMISSION FOR MISS G. W. CATLIN

Percy W. Crane, of Newark, solicitor for Gertrude W. Moran, first cousin of Gertrude Wendell Catlin, of this city, has filed a petition in the Court of Chancery at Trenton for a lunacy commission to inquire into the sanity of Mrs. Catlin, who it is alleged is now being cared for in the household of John C. McCarthy, of 17 De Kalb avenue, this city.

The action is brought on the ground that for the last two years Mrs. Catlin has been unable to understand legal papers submitted to her concerning her estate or to transact any business. It is declared by the petitioner that even Mrs. Catlin's clothing has to be purchased for her by the people with whom she is living. The estate is scheduled at $11,000, mostly in bonds.

TROLLEY CONDUCTOR GETS A PENSION FROM P. S. C.

In recognition of his twenty-seven years of faithful service, Charles L. Ryder, Sr., of West Fourth street, has been granted a pension by the Public Service Corporation. He is the first man to be retired in this division of the P. S. C., under the pension system and although he is not the oldest in the employ of the corporation his years of endeavor were fully recognized by his employers. He is now seventy-one years of age and was one of the first conductors on the Main Line trolley when that line was originally established between here and Elizabeth.

Before coming to Plainfield, Mr. Ryder served ten years in the employ of the Street Transit Company, of Orange, and because of the consolidation of the Orange and other companies when the formation of the Public Service Corporation was effected his record when in Orange was also taken into consideration in awarding him the pension. He came to this city in 1886, taking a position as a conductor for the Plainfield Street Railway Company and remained in that organization's employ after it consolidated under the P. S. C. title.

He was a familiar figure on the Main Line trolley until two months ago, when he was transferred to the Arlington avenue line.

WILL MEET IN JUNE.

The Plainfield branch of the McAll Auxiliary will not hold its regular meeting this week, as planned, and the meetings for April and May will also be omitted. The next meeting will be in June, when the reports from the annual meeting of the American McAll Association meeting in Pittsfield, Mass., will be read.

ARTHUR A. ANDERSON.

Arthur A. Anderson, aged 25 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Anderson, of 318 McDowell street, died last night, after a lingering illness. He was employed in this city as a machinist. Beside his parents, there survives a wife. The notice of the funeral will be given later. The young man attended Hope chapel.

The degree team of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., will hold the class of initiation for the Plainfield Council Wednesday night. Following the initiation which will be the first for the Plainfield Council in their rooms, a social time will be held. The Franklin Council degree team will hold the regular class of initiation for its lodge on Thursday night.

LITTLE MORE FIGHT AS NEED OF CHURCH

Rev. Dr. Strong's Instructive Discourse at the First Baptist Church.

That there is more or less of the "fight" in every one, is the belief of Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, as expressed in his discourse at the First Baptist church, yesterday morning, on the text, "The leaders took the lead in Israel and the people offered themselves willingly." "Fight need not manifest itself in a carnal warfare," continued the preacher. "We are born, everyone of us, on a spiritual battle-ground, and the church on earth must ever be the church militant. There must be leadership in all aggressive warfare, and all the world will follow the proper kind of leadership.

"There are leaders of various kinds in the church of Christ, some leaders by virtue of their office, some because naturally endowed to be leaders. In some respect every member of the church is a leader and knowing that he will be followed, it is his business to lead worthily.

"But leadership, be it ever so efficient, would avail nothing without loyal support on the part of the constituency. The people mentioned in the text gave willingly, not only their gifts, but what is vastly better, themselves. Indeed, if one gives one's self, all one has goes with it. They gave themselves cheerfully, enthusiastically, which meant vastly more in results accomplished than if they had given themselves in a half-hearted way. The church of Christ needs more enthusiasm, more of the spirit that prevails in athletic associations and college fraternities, of boundless enthusiasm and an earnestness which knows no defeat. Spurgeon said: 'One grand, blundering, hammering, thundering, whole-hearted Boanorges is worth a dozen prim, reverend gentlemen, as weak as milk and water and as soft as boiled parsnips.'

"When the church, its leaders taking the lead and its members giving themselves willingly, determine a thing must be done, it will be done, for the hosts of heaven will fight for its accomplishment, that Jehovah may be praised through His people's loyalty and zeal." At the close of the service, Dr. Strong baptized Miss Helen Roseberry, Miss Bessie Griffin and Master Harold Griffin.

MOTHER'S PLEA HEARD.

While in an intoxicated condition this morning, George Curtis, 22 years old, of 823 St. Mary's avenue, became involved in a fist fight with Tony Marro, also of St. Mary's avenue, which resulted in his appearance before City Judge De Meza on a charge of disorderly conduct. Following a pathetic appeal from the prisoner's mother, who asked the court to make her son live a more respectful life, Judge De Meza administered a severe reprimand and allowed Curtis to go under a suspended sentence. He was arrested by Roundsman Charles Flynn.

F. OSCAR PETERSEN.

F. Oscar Petersen, aged 68 years, died yesterday at his home on Forster avenue, following a lingering illness. Mr. Petersen was born in Sweden, and had been employed in this city as a machinist for many years. He was an active member of the Park Avenue Baptist church, and a regular attendant at the services. He leaves a wife and one daughter, Miss Ida Petersen. The funeral will be held tomorrow night at the late home, Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire officiating, and the burial will be in Samptown, Wednesday morning.

GIFT FOR CLERIC.

As a token of their esteem, the members of Grace Episcopal Church Colored Mission last night at the close of the evening service presented a handsome ebony cane, gold mounted and suitably inscribed, to Rev. J. G. Currier, whose resignation as curate of the church took effect then. The presentation speech was made by William Douglass.

BURGLARS.

George V. Disborough, of 119 Crescent avenue, reported to the police last night that another attempt had been made to burglarize his home. He said that a screen had been removed from a cellar window and that two strange men had been seen watching his home early in the afternoon. Mr. Disborough had made similar reports to the police several times.

A SONG RECITAL.

A song recital will be given under the direction of Mrs. McNeil Hopcraft in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium next Friday evening and she will be assisted by a number of talented artists, among whom will be Miss May Jackson, Miss Frances Betz, Miss Florence Cary, Mrs. Frank J. Hubach and Mrs. ida Randolph-Smalley.

ON PANAMA CANAL.

Prof. A. S. Herr extends an invitation to the public to attend the lecture on the "Panama Canal" to be given by William L. Saunders in the assembly room of the Plainfield Business College tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Gertrude R. Conover, of Duer street, the borough, has returned home after spending a year in Allanstand and Asheville, North Carolina.

FOR BABY'S SAKE BUY A "BLOCH" PULLMAN CARRIAGE

What wouldn't a mother do for the sake of her baby? And yet there are any number of young mothers who unconsciously do their little ones harm in their efforts to really help them. They want their babies to get the benefit of the fresh air, and they hasten to buy a go-cart or baby-carriage.

They wouldn't for the world give baby anything that would harm it, and still they unknowingly do the little one actual harm by not getting a perfectly comfortable go-cart—one that is constructed on scientific principles.

ALL GO-CARTS ARE NOT ALIKE.

You probably didn't know there was any difference in go-carts. Simply took it for granted that one make of go-cart was as good as another, when such is not the case.

Did you ever stop to think why some babies who are ordinarily good, are fretful and restless when taken out in a go-cart?

Did it ever occur to you that probably the go-cart was at fault?

When baby is fretful and restless you can depend upon it that something isn't altogether right.

It isn't natural that a baby should turn and twist around and get out of sorts any more than we grown-ups, without some reason for it. And the unscientific design of the go-cart is usually the cause of it all.

MORGAN DEAD AT ROME

Juliet Pierpont. Mr. Morgan, after passing through the elementary schools, entered the English High School at Boston, and later was a student at the University of Gottingen, being given a degree of LL. D. by Yale in 1908. Mr. Morgan was married twice, the first time to Amelia Sturgis, who died in 1862, one year after her marriage. In 1865 he again married Frances Louise Tracy, and they had four children, one son and three daughters.

First entering business by accepting a position in the bank of Duncan, Sherman and Company, in 1867, his rise in the financial world was rapid. In 1860 Mr. Morgan became the American representative for George Peabody and Co., of London, in which firm his father was a member, and from 1864 to 1871 he was a member of the firm of Dabney, Morgan and Co., dealers in investment securities. In the latter year he joined the firm of Drexel Morgan and Co., which later became J. P. Morgan and Co., who have occupied the position of leading private bankers in the United States for many years. The London firm was known as J. S. Morgan and Co.

Mr. Morgan was principally known because of his interest as a financier in the reorganization and consolidation of great railroad and industrial interests of the country. He floated a United States bond issue of $62,000,000 during Cleveland's administration, organized and floated the securities of the United States Steel Corporation, with a capital of $1,100,000,000 in 1901; secured American subscriptions to the British War loan of April, 1901; organized the existing agreement between the anthracite coal operators of Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania; controlled over 50,000 miles of railways and large American and British steamship lines, as well as English traction railways.

Mr. Morgan performed many charitable acts during his life. One of these was a gift of buildings, site and funds to the New York lying-in hospital, amounting to $1,500,000, and he also contributed largely to the New York Trade Schools, the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, the American Museum of Natural History, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, of which he was president, and the New York Public Library.

The dead financier was a great patron of art and owned the finest private collection of pictures in this country today. He also had a wonderful collection of books, manuscripts, curios, etc.

Mr. Morgan was very fond of yachting, having been at one time the commodore of the New York Yacht Club. He built the Columbia, which defeated the Shamrock for the American cup in 1899 and 1901. He was a member of many societies and clubs both in this country and abroad. His home was at 219 Madison avenue, and his office at 23 Wall street, New York.

New York, March 31.—President Habon of the Stock Exchange, said this morning that the Exchange would not be closed as a result of Mr. Morgan's death, but that a meeting of the Governors would be held some time during the day to determine what action would be taken by that body. In most circles it was doubted that the death of Mr. Morgan would seriously affect the market. For five or ten years it has been assumed by many brokers that this event, lamentable as it is, would be taken with calmness, and the knowledge that Mr. Morgan's affairs were in absolutely perfect shape and that he has for some time been delegating to others what he formerly did himself, gave little cause for a slump in the market.

From London the reports indicated that the death of the financier had not affected the market there, either.

The offices of the firm in this city are closed for business today. H. P. Davidson was the first member to arrive there, coming shortly before 10 o'clock. He said that the firm had no statement to make at that time regarding Mr. Morgan's death. He was followed about a quarter of an hour later by former Judge E. H. Gray, who also declined to make any comment.

In answer to many inquiries received J. P. Morgan and Co. stated that Mr. Morgan's death will occasion no change in the firm as his interest will remain and the business be conducted as heretofore.

ANNUAL Y. W. C. A. GYM EXHIBIT FRIDAY NIGHT

Following the custom of past years, the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium class will conduct its annual exhibition and basketball game in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium under the supervision of the physical director Friday evening. A complete program of calisthenics, folk dancing and recreative indoor games has been arranged and the exhibition will be one of the largest ever held by the association. It is planned to have a basketball game governed by feminine rules after the gym exhibit, and the rival teams will be composed of members who took part in the recent membership campaign known as the Yellows and the Blues. The teams will be selected tomorrow night at the weekly class session and will be given an opportunity to get in trim for the main contest.

Washington, March 31.—Walter H. Page, of Garden City, Long Island, editor of World's Work and a member of the firm of Doubleday Page & Company, publishers, today accepted President Wilson's offer of the post of Ambassador to Great Britain.

Walter Hines Page was born at Cary, N. C., August 1, 1855. He is a graduate of the Randolph-Macon Colleges, Virginia, and was a fellow at Johns Hopkins University for two years. In turn he has been editor of The Forum, literary advisor for Houghton, Mifflin & Company, editor of the Atlantic Monthly and since 1900 has been editor of World's Work.

HOME

The average man spends half his life at Home. That takes into account the nights at the club, at lodge, at the theatre, or sitting up with a sick friend. It also takes into account the fellow who sees home often enough only to establish a voting residence. He is balanced off in averaging up by the man who spends a good deal more than half his life at Home. The Newark Sunday Call has figured this all out and says that the statement that more than half of life is spent at Home cannot be disputed. If there is any doubt about it, keep a time schedule for a week or so. The Average Women? Bless you, three-quarters of her life is spent at Home! And that includes the working woman, too, the real NEW WOMAN.

Home shapes up as a pretty big proposition, considering all that. The world realizes it, too, for most of the world's efforts go toward providing homes. Right down at the bottom of things, you come up against that great big reason for it all—"Home."

There was a poet who said that Home was not merely four square walls. That was the absolute truth. Home is what you make it, whether you call it palace, villa, flat, cottage or hut. Some people can make a hall bed-room more homey than others can with a $300,000 marble mansion. It is wholly up to the individual. But as half a life time is to be spent at Home, it is worth trying to make it a success. A real homey Home is life's biggest success.

The poet's four square walls idea, however, should not be taken wholly at its face value. Most truths should not. There is always that little exception to the rule lurking in the background. Accept the truth, but also dig out that little exception and digest its meaning. Then you will get the full value out of the truth. Four square walls do not make a Home. But they help. The better those same walls are the better chance of making a successful Home. Be careful in choosing a setting for the jewel—the home jewel. Remember that you must use that setting half your life. Pick some thing that will wear. See that it is good. That means be careful in choosing your abode. Whether it be a house, a flat or a room, choose it carefully. Whether you buy or rent, remember you are selecting a setting for the biggest thing in life—Home.

The Plainfield Daily Press

thinks a lot about Home. That is natural, for Homes form its destination when it leaves the presses ready for distribution among its thousands of readers. The Daily Press likes to take part in home making and it does all it can to further that end in what it prints. It can aid you in selecting your setting for your Home—the dwelling, whatever form it may take.

The owner of a house who wishes to sell or rent the house goes to an agent—if he be wise and wants results. The agent gives publicity to the owner's desire, attends to the troublesome incidental business, and accomplishes the desired results.

The agent has the assistance of another agent—a very powerful agent for this sort of work. This other agent is the RELIABLE NEWSPAPER, the newspaper that reaches the kind of people the owner would want to sell or rent to. The DAILY PRESS is such an agent. It reaches this desirable clientage and is used by responsible agents. Look at the names of the agents who advertise real estate for sale or to let and note the high character of these advertisers. their agent because it reaches the kind of people They, in turn, have chosen the DAILY PRESS as they want for clients.

Choose your home setting carefully. Study the For Sale and To Let advertisements in the DAILY PRESS. Make notes of what appeals to you, write to the agent or the owner, and inspect the property. You are dealing with established business concerns who can aid you in this big work of Home-Making. They, the agents, are seeking your patronage because you are the kind they want dealings with—the kind who can be reached through the DAILY PRESS.

Copy for These Classified Advertisements is received until 1:30 each afternoon. Minimum charge is 10c.

COLD STORAGE EGGS THE BEST

Experts Condemn Method of Farmers.

FRESH KILLED CHICKEN BAD

Committee at St. Louis Is Told That Dressed Poultry Is Best After Nine Months In Cold Storage—Fowl Should Be Starved Twenty-four Hours Before Being Killed.

Is the freshness of an egg a question of psychology?

Is a chicken better food when it has been kept a year or two after being killed and dressed than when it is freshly killed?

Both these questions were answered absolutely in the affirmative by experts testifying recently before the joint committee of the council and the house of delegates that is investigating the cost of living at St. Louis.

Royall H. Switzler, St. Louis food expert, put under oath, as were all witnesses, told that the question of the freshness of an egg was largely a matter of psychology and that the greatest expert living could not tell the difference between an egg in cold storage nine months and one of the kind commonly denominated fresh which reach the retail market almost directly from the farmer.

Fresh Chicken Dangerous.

Miss N. E. Pennington, chief of the food research laboratory of the United States department of agriculture at Philadelphia, testified that a chicken which had been killed the day before was dangerous to eat. She said she would absolutely refuse to eat a freshly killed bird. The ideal chicken, she said, was one that had been held in storage nine months or a year. When one had been kept two years in storage, she said, it began to lose its flavor.

Miss Pennington was on the witness stand nearly two hours. She had stopped in St. Louis to address a convention of shippers and was persuaded to appear before the cost of living investigators.

"One of the chief elements in the high cost of living problem," began Miss Pennington, "is the frightful amount of waste. The money value of eggs in the United States each year is $500,000,000. Of this 10 per cent. or $50,000,000, is dead loss because of waste in marketing the eggs. Somewhere between the hen and the consumer $50,000,000 worth of eggs have gone to nothing.

"The poultry products of the country amount each year to $250,000,000, and again there is a 10 per cent loss, or one amounting to $25,000,000."

Not Enough Cold Storage.

"So," interrupted Delegate Scully, "we save 90 per cent in spite of cold storage?"

"In spite of it it? Why, my dear sir, we haven't nearly enough of it. The waste commences, and by far the greater part of it develops on the farm," retorted Miss Pennington.

"The farmer doesn't gather his eggs quickly enough. He lets them prosper in the incubator of the summer sun. Then they go to the storekeeper, where they are held for a time in a warm room. Afterward a great quantity of our eggs is shipped in nonrefrigerated box cars that are excellent incubators. In the course of three or four weeks this alleged 'fresh egg' reaches the city market.

"It is the good cold storage eggs and poultry that Missouri and adjoining states send out to east and west coasts. The poor fresh product you keep at home. And maybe one reason there is so much complaint here is because you get so little of the cold storage food.

"To get a fresh egg or a good chicken out of cold storage it must have been a fresh egg or a good chicken when it went into storage.

How to Kill Chickens.

"To begin with, there are few who kill their chickens in the right way. Here is the proper way to commence. Starve the chicken for twenty-four hours, so that the intestines will have collapsed and it will be easy to get the blood out. Don't cut off the chicken's head, but stun it, and sever the jugular vein.

"If you cut off the chicken's head you cut other arteries and veins besides the jugular one, and the chicken cannot bleed properly. Pick the feathers dry. Keep the chicken in a temperature of 32 degrees for ten days and ship it to market in a refrigerated car."

"How long," asked Dr. Randall, "can a chicken be kept in cold storage and be good?"

"Well, nine months or a year is a good period," answered Miss Pennington. "But I should say that a chicken two years old in storage would begin to lose flavor."

Women Are More Manlike.

W. A. Haseldon, one of the few humorists in the ranks of the British caricaturists, believes the suffrage movement is evolving a new type of femininity much disliked by mere man. He says: "Women are becoming more manlike in figure, face and brain every day. The pretty, tender face will soon be the face of the past, but as it gets scarcer and scarcer men will admire and value it more than ever."

CHAMELEON PERFUME USED.

Parisians Discover Formula Giving Different Odor to Each.

The craze of the moment in Paris is a new perfume, which gives out a different odor on every person using it.

When in a bottle the scent has the smell of fresh flowers, although it is impossible to say of what particular kind. It is rather a synthesis of the scents of all natural flowers. As soon as a few drops touch the skin, however, it alters completely its character, according to the color and temperament of the user.

Thus on a brunette it has a scent resembling that of the rose or pink, although still remaining undefined. On a blond it comes nearer the violet or lilac.

In every case in which it is tried the result is different. It even changes on the skin of the same person from time to time. It is stated to be distinctly affected by strong emotions in the wearer.

Several leading chemical analysts are trying to solve the secret of this perfume, but so far without success.

Its composition, however, is so simple that any one can prepare it himself at home. It consists of twenty grams of extract of petalia flowers, eighty-five grams of alcohol at 90 per cent strength, three grams of tincture of benzoin scented with vanilla and ten grams of rosewater.

NO HAIR CUT FOR 8 YEARS.

Englishman Won't Visit Barber Till Tories Win.

E. F. Boxwell, the Democrat in the United States who had his hair cut on March 4 for the first time in sixteen years, has a rival in Fred Wilkins, landlord of Trow Tree inn, at Burghill, three miles from Hereford, England, who made a vow when the Liberals were elected in 1905 that he would not have his hair cut or his face shaved until the Tories were returned to power.

Wilkins' beard now hangs to his waist, and his hair reaches to the middle of his back. When he goes to Hereford market, which is not often he fastens his hair with combs under a wide Trilby hat. He is a stanch Tory, but he remarked recently, "I think my hair and government will both stay where they are for a long time yet."

OXYGEN HELMETS FOR NAVY.

Department Orders Devices to Safeguard Men Near Oil Tanks.

The navy department has ordered a small number of oxygen helmets to be supplied to the submarines and to all of the battleships which use crude oil as fuel. In the case of the submarines it is believed the helmet may be efficacious when poison gases are accidentally generated within the hulls, as happened to one of the submarines two years ago with disastrous results.

The great oil tanks in the battleships have been found to contain deadly oil fumes after they have been emptied of their contents, and it is intended that the helmets shall serve as protection to the mechanics who are obliged to enter these tanks and compartments. Their use also is contemplated in the rescue of firemen or boiler tenders overcome by bursting steam pipes.

TO PRESERVE INDIAN MUSIC.

Secretary Lane Appoints Instructor In Department.

To preserve and develop the wonderful music of the American Indian, now fast disappearing with the passing of the race, Secretary of the Interior Lane has appointed Geoffrey O'Hara, a composer, as an instructor in music under the bureau of Indian affairs.

Mr. O'Hara's duty will be to record native Indian music and arrange it for the Indian schools. He is to live on the reservations with the Indians and obtain a record of the music and, with this as a basis, cultivate the use of the Indian songs in the schools.

FLOOD WORSE NOW

escaped an outbreak of disease and it is hoped that the prompt measures taken will prevent the city from being visited by such a calamity, which under present circumstances might prove worse than the flood or fire.

The sanitary department yesterday began the removal of dead animals and practically every quarter of the city has been visited. Already 2,800 carcasses of horses and cattle have been taken to fertilizing works east of the city.

The main sanitary sewer has been placed in operation again, although many of the laterals leading from houses are clogged with mud or backed with water. Some time today it is hoped to get the big flood sewers in operation again, and this will aid the cleanup work. The waterworks pumping station is now operating fairly well, although numerous breaks keep the flow of water feeble. This, however, is improving as the leaks are checked.

It is estimated that 40,000 people must be cared for by the relief committee for a week or more. To do this plenty of food and clothing are needed.

New York, March 31.—Announcement was made at the office of the Erie Railroad today that all lines of that company are now in operation through the flood affected districts with the exception of the thirty-mile stretch between Urbana and Dayton, Ohio, which is still largely under water.

WE GIVE AND REDEEM SURETY COUPONS

Our Annual Sale of Famous E. C. Burt Shoes
For Women's Wear
Standard $5 Grade to Go for Only $3.25

1,600 Pairs of the well known dependable and much-liked Edwin C. Burt Shoes for women go in this sale which we begin Monday morning and continue thruout the week, or while the lot lasts.

The constant rise in the cost of leather and labor, and the desire to keep up the standard of the shoes, has necessitated the establishment of $5 as the regular selling price of the Burt Shoe. It is a fine shoe, a shapely shoe, a comfortable shoe, a long-wearing shoe. And these are all new and perfect, shoes that women will be glad to get at $3.25.

The lot includes Shoes of Patent Leather, with cloth tops, Cuban heels, in the new New York model, which is so successful and so satisfactory, and the staple Vici Kid Welt Boots, such as hundreds of our patrons have worn regularly, and Gunmetal Calf Boots with black cloth tops in the up-to-date New York model—any of them in practically any size, to be sold at only

SECRETARY OF WAR TAKES FULL CHARGE OF RELIEF AND RESCUE WORK AT DAYTON, OHIO

LINDLEY M. GARRISON.

Mr. Lindley M. Garrison, Secretary of War, and his staff have assumed direct command of the relief and rescue work at Dayton, Ohio

Pittsburgh, March 31.—Reports reaching here today indicate that the steel plants at Youngstown and other points affected by high water resumed operations this morning.

Washington, Mar. 31.—Reports received at the weather bureau today show that the outlook for flood conditions below Cairo is grave and officials of the bureau fear that much damage will be done in that region. At Cincinnati the Ohio river is 19 feet above flood stage; at Louisville 5 7-10 feet above; at Cairo 7 feet above; at Memphis at flood stage with the river rising. The Ohio river is stationary at Huntington, West Va., and falling at Pittsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Strouse, of Central avenue, returned today from a sojourn at Atlantic City.

BALKAN PEACE IN SIGHT.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.)

New York, Mar. 31.—A despatch to a local broker's office from Berlin says that Turkey has accepted the proposals of the powers and peace is expected immediately.

Belgrade, Servia, Mar. 31.—The demobilization of the Servian Army began today.

HARRINGTON GETS WORD.

Frederic Harrington, of Central avenue, received a telegram and letter from Mrs. Harrington, today, in which she states that she is all right. The telegram, which was sent from Brookville, Ohio, says: "We are high and dry. Conditions all over town awful. No mail sent nor delivered." Miss Helen Harrington, the daughter, who is in Indianapolis, is now believed to be all right.

FOR UNITARIANS.

Rev. Edgar S. Wiers, pastor of the Montclair Unitarian church, and Mr. Harrisone, of the trustees, will tell how their church has been unusually prosperous by the methods pursued at a meeting to be held at All Souls' Unitarian church tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Alliance. A social hour will follow.

FUNERAL OF MISS HARPER.

The funeral service of Miss Anna Harper will be held at the late home, 112 Madison avenue, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The burial will be in the Friends cemetery.

Halstead C. Compton, who has been sojourning in the south, is expected home today.

BOY SCOUTS AT ORANGE.

In preparation for the mammoth Boy Scout exhibition at East Orange next Saturday afternoon, the Boy Scout Patrol, of Bethel chapel, conducted a final hike and drill Saturday afternoon. The scouts were put through their various drills and stunts which they will have to demonstrate at Orange this week. The smoothness with which everything went off assures the local youngsters of a good showing in the big tournament in which they are entered and Plainfield will probably garner a share of the honors. The boys will meet at Bethel chapel next Saturday afternoon and then march to Mayor Stewart's house on West Seventh street, where they will go through several salutes and will then journey to Orange.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT.

A chorus of twenty-five voices, under the direction of William N. Runyon, will be the leading feature at the concert of the Athalia Glee Club which will be conducted in the auditorium of the Park Avenue Baptist church next Thursday evening, and the club will be assisted in entertaining by the best soloists and instrumentalists in the city. All of the participants will be Plainfielders with the exception of two well-known singers from New York city, Victor Sinclair Hogg, baritone, and Louis Marc Klebba, baritone-tenor.

Mrs. P. H. Moore, of East Third street, who has been detained at her home for the past two weeks by a severe illness, is again able to be around.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

FASHION HINT

By JUDIC CHOLLET

The illustration shows a practical apron for the woman who does her own work. The waist and skirt are cut separately and joined at the waist line by means of a belt. The waist portion is becomingly full, and the neck and armhole edges are finished with bias bands. The back edges of the apron meet at the center back, and the closing is made with buttons and buttonholes.

Butcher's linen and chambray, are good materials to use. The half sleeves are a practical feature.

For the medium size the apron will require four and three-quarters yards of material twenty-seven inches wide.

This Judic Hamilton pattern is cut in three sizes—small 34 or 36, medium 38 or 40 and large 42 or 44 inches bust measure. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7772, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage. When ordering use coupon.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

FOODS SERVED AU GRATIN.

FOODS cooked au gratin are usually served in a baking dish covered with cracker crumbs and butter and then browned in the oven.

The process generally consists of mixing a cup of cracker crumbs with a quarter or a third of a cup of melted butter. This combination is spread over the food, which is ordinarily a cooked one mixed with sauce. The baking dish is then set in the oven until the crumbs are browned.

Baked Eggs.

Eggs au Gratin.—Take some hard boiled eggs, slice them, well butter a fireproof dish, put in a layer of slices of eggs, then a dust of pepper and salt, next a thin layer of grated cheese and lastly one or two spoonfuls of any white sauce. Put in another layer of eggs and so on till the dish is full, ending with a layer of cheese. Put the dish in the oven till its contents are hot through and the surface is a nice brown.

With Shellfish.

Oysters au Gratin.—Take the oysters out of the shells in their liquor and trim them carefully. Use the larger shell of each oyster and wash them well in boiling water. Wipe them with a clean cloth and arrange them on a dish large enough to hold them all placed side by side. Keep the plate and the shells in a warm place, put the oysters back on the half shells and when serving cover the oysters with breadcrumbs fried in butter and seasoned with a little red pepper. Serve very hot.

Crabs au Gratin.—Canned crab meat may be used for this if the fresh crabs are not available. Take out the firm white flesh and mince it fine. Moisten the meat with a little sweet cream. Butter a baking dish, put in a layer of stale breadcrumbs, then a layer of minced crab meat, sprinkle with salt and pepper and then again with breadcrumbs. When the pan is filled pour over it a white sauce made of milk and flour and put in the oven to brown. Serve hot.

Salt Fish Au Gratin.

Codfish au Gratin.—Take a pound of salt codfish and soak it overnight in warm water, boil it gently for two hours, putting it over the fire in tepid water. Let it get cold and mince it fine. Make a cup of drawn butter by cooking together a tablespoonful each of butter and flour and stirring into them a cup of boiling water until the sauce is thick and smooth, stir the fish into this and pepper to taste. Mix with it two tablespoonfuls of grated cheese, turn into a baking dish, strew with crumbs and a bit of butter and a little more grated cheese and brown in the oven.

SOME STRAY TOPICS FROM GOTHAM TOWN

Varied Stories of New York Town of Timely Interest.

New York, March 29.—Burglars, highwaymen and other criminals are evidently perfectly satisfied with the police conditions in this city at the present time. They find New York an ideal place for their profession and are making the most profitable use of their opportunities. The police authorities of the city are too busy with raiding poolrooms, gambling houses, disorderly houses and places where the liquor laws are violated to give much attention to safe robbers, automobile bandits, burglars and black handers. There is no doubt that the police graft investigation has completely demoralized the police department owing to the uneasiness among the numerous members of the grafting fraternity.

The citizens are becoming somewhat tired of the existing state of affairs and are complaining of the lack of protection against depredations by criminals. In the meanwhile the investigation still continues and the end is not yet in sight. District Attorney Whitman deserves a great deal of credit for his relentless work in cleaning up the Augean stable of graft in the police department. The better classes among the citizens are in full sympathy with the efforts of the district attorney, yet few of them are optimistic enough to believe that the elimination and punishment of a score or so of grafters in the police force will put an end to grafting in the department. One set of grafters may be removed, but after the excitement has blown over, there will probably be another set of grafters to take the places of the men discharged. The system seems to be wrong and the temptation too great.

A well dressed woman, accompanied by her daughter, a girl of seventeen years, and a man of about twenty-five years, whose legs are so badly crippled that he can only get around on his hands and knees, made an early morning call at the house of the town clerk of Riverhead, L. I., the other day to obtain a license for the marriage of her daughter to the cripple. When the clerk learned that the girl was under age and had been taken away from her mother and placed in an institution by the authorities because she had been reared in an improper environment, he refused to issue the license without the consent of the probation officer who was appointed the girl's legal guardian. The trio departed in an automobile and tried to obtain a license from the town clerk at Patchogue. The license was refused and the party crossed the river to New Jersey, evidently determined to obtain a license. The probation officer in whose charge the girl is supposed to be was notified and is making efforts to locate the trio and to find out whether the girl and the cripple were married. If the marriage was performed the probation officer intends to prosecute the cripple and the mother of the girl. It has been learned that on coming of age the girl will come into possession of about $20,000 left to her by her father.

The "Academy of Misapplied Arts" held its first annual varnishing day reception in the auditorium in the new "Lighthouse for the Blind" in East Fifty-ninth street. The academy is composed of all the leading artists and sculptors of New York and the Futurists, Post-Impressionists and others of that ilk, who recently held an exhibition in the Sixty-ninth Regiment Armory. The "Academy" exhibition was a howling success. About two hundred pictures and works of sculpture were exhibited in which the artists tried to "out-cube the Cubists and put the Futurists into the middle of the past tense."

John Tanfield, a clerk, died under peculiar circumstances the other day. He came to the Prospect Heights Hospital, Brooklyn, to visit his wife who is a patient there. While waiting in the reception room for admission to his wife's room Tanfield suffered an apoplectic stroke and when the nurse came into the reception room to inform him that his wife was ready to receive him, she found the man dead.

Russell Sage Raphael, a Wall street broker, living in Bayonne, N. J., has refused an offer by Mrs. Russell Sage of $20,000 for a portrait of the late Russell Sage which he has in his possession. Raphael's father was a friend and business associate of Russell Sage. When young Raphael was baptized Mr. Sage was his godfather. The financier took a great liking to the boy and presented him as a baby with the only portrait for which he ever sat. As there is no other portrait of the deceased financier in existence, Mrs. Russell Sage was very anxious to obtain possession of the picture owned by Mr. Raphael, but he refuses to sell at any price and has stated that he would not part with it even if he were penniless.

An Indian camp on the roof of a fashionable hotel in the center of the city, about twenty-five stories above Broadway, is somewhat of a curiosity. The camp of two tepees is on the roof of the Hotel McAlpin and the campers are a party of ten Blackfeet Indians consisting of seven braves, two squaws and a child who came to New York as the guests of Louis W. Hill to take part in the Travel and Vacation Show at the Grand Central Palace. A suite of rooms had been reserved for the Indians, but when they arrived after their long and wearisome trans-continental journey, they absolutely refused to be cooped up in the luxurious rooms. They preferred to pitch their tepees upon the roof of the hotel and there they established in true Indian fashion, far above the din and turmoil of the city and its maddening crowd.

The old question whether the whale really swallowed Jonah intruded itself surreptitiously into a meeting of Methodist clergymen in the Methodist Building the other day and for a few minutes the ancient query proved that it still had vitality enough to provoke a lively row. The conference, which was attended by more than two hundred clergymen became at once divided into hostile and rival camps of pro-Jonah and anti-Jonah men. There was an extremely lively debate upon the subject and the speakers were not always particularly charitable in their expressions concerning those who did not agree with their views. Some of the ministers became so thoroughly disgusted with the bitterness of the polemic that they left the meeting.

ELECTION IN ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis, Mo., March 31.—A spirited campaign closed in St. Louis today, preliminary to the election tomorrow, when a mayor, is to be named for four years and a municipal assembly chosen. For the first time in the history of this city the candidates were named by the direct primary method. The Progressives and Socialists as well as the Democrats and Republicans have placed tickets in the field, but the contest is believed to lie wholly between the candidates of the two older parties. Dr. John H. Simon and Henry W. Kiel are the mayoralty candidates on the Democratic and Republican tickets, respectively.

FRIENDS PAY FOR FUNERAL.

Asbury Park, March 31.—The intercession of friends of Mrs. M. E. Blodgett, who died here without funds Wednesday, saved her body from burial in Potter's field Saturday. Mrs. Blodgett was formerly the principal of a public school in Kansas City, and she came here two years ago expecting to receive a legacy in the estate of Colonel W. E. Bly, who owned the Plaza Hotel. In this she was disappointed. She had since lived through charity.

100 Per Cent Heating Efficiency

Square Pot Furnaces consume to fine ash every pound of combustible fuel fed to them. They deliver to the hot-air flues for transmission about the house, every available heat unit in the fuel. They regulate with certainty for either mild or severe weather. They need little care—never clog with burned-out cinders, and give as good results on a minimum amount of fuel as others do fired to capacity.

For economical heating, install a Square Pot Furnace.

WRESTLER ROLLER CONFIDENT.

Dr. B. F. Roller, the Seattle physician, who has agreed to meet Wladdek Zbyszko in a finish wrestling match, to take place at the Colosseum April 8, is brimful of confidence in his ability to defeat the powerful young Pole, who recently vanquished Paul Samson. The appearance of Dr. Roller, who is a graduate of the Johns Hopkins Institute and was formerly a famous football player, against Young Zbyszko will test the strength and skill of the latter to the fullest limit, as a strenuous struggle for supremacy is sure to result. Roller is acceded to be one of America's foremost heavyweight mat artists, whose long experience has gained for him an enviable reputation.

$500 PER ROUND.

Announcement was made today that Bobby McAllister, former Olympic Club champion, has been matched for his second professional fight. The date is given as April 25, before a club in San Francisco, but the name of his opponent is withheld. The announcement states, however, that McAllister is to get $2,000, "win, lose or draw," for four rounds. This is the highest sum ever paid on the Pacific Coast for so short a bout.

THORPE'S CASE UP AGAIN.

The case of James Thorpe, the Carlisle Indian athlete who confessed to professionalism after winning prizes at the Olympic games, will be considered by a special international jury at the Olympic Congress to be held in May at Lausanne, Switzerland. It is understood that the Amateur Athletic Association will make a supplementary statement and that Thorpe's prizes will be handed over to the Swedish delegates. The proceedings, it is announced, will be private.

NEW JERSEY HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

An announcement coming from the officials conducting the Union County High School Athletic League's cross-country run next Friday afternoon, states that Plainfield High School will be one of the entrants. This has not been confirmed locally, however, but it is doubtful whether or not Plainfield would enter a meet of this nature.

The fact that P. H. S. has never entered the league makes the report still more incredulous.

With the reopening of school at Plainfield High today, Captain Good will get his baseball candidates going at a lively clip in an effort to make up for the setback necessitated by the cold and rainy weather of last week.

Manager Newton Spencer, of North Plainfield High School, had a baseball game booked with Montclair High School for Saturday afternoon, but cancelled the date.

The following Plainfield High School basketball players will be awarded the medals won in the interscholastic basketball league this season at the assembly exercises tomorrow morning: Captain Woodruff, Buckle, Brynairski, Peacock, Heron, Good and Grisley.

East Orange High School's first baseball game is set for Saturday with Morris High School at Ashton Field, East Orange.

A meeting of the New Jersey Interscholastic League will take place tomorrow afternoon at Barringer High School.

Montclair High School was disappointed Saturday, when word was received from North Plainfield that the High School nine of that place would not appear for the game on baseball scheduled. The Blue and White ball tossers spent the morning by putting in a snappy workout. The infield scooped them up like feagues and the throwing was of the mid-season form.

The Union County High School Athletic League cross-country run will take place Friday afternoon. The course will be between the Roselle Park High School building and the Rahway Y. M. C. A. The following Union County High Schools will enter the competition: Westfield, Roselle, Roselle Park, Battin, Cranford and Rahway. A banner will be awarded to the school attaining first place, while individual medals are up for the various individual honors.

Fifty Central lads, under the leadership of Physical Instructor Anderson, carried off the stellar honors at the exhibition given by the High Schools of Newark at the Armory, Friday afternoon. The work consisted of exercises on the ropes, long horse and side horse.

The Bloomfield High School will play its first baseball game of the season at Passaic next Saturday. Captain Dale believes he has a team that will make a great showing this season in the Interscholastic series.

Plans are on foot at Barringer High School to interest a larger number of boys in baseball by starting an inter-class league of eight teams. Members of the faculty are in back of the scheme and they have already donated a sum of money to buy individual medals for members of the winning team.

The Barringer football management have arranged for football games with the Pennington Seminary for the next three years, and will probably book games with that school in all the other sports for the same length of time.

Barringer lost a valuable athlete last week when Dick Talbot, former captain of the football team, left school. Talbot confined his athletic activities to the gridiron, and in this sport he was a tower of strength to the team. He was president of the Barringer Athletic Association last year.

Elmer Haux, who was the cleverest player on the Barringer hockey team last winter, has been chosen to ad the sextet next season.

Manager Read, of the Pingry track team, has completed the schedule for the coming outdoor track season, which opens with the New York University meet April 19. The schedule includes interscholastic meets at Princeton, Yale, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Rutgers, Columbia and Wesleyan. Owing to the loss by graduation of Weber and E. Smith it was decided not to enter a team in the Penn relays this season, but a team will be sent to the Middle State "champs" that take place at Philadelphia, May 10.

Battin has entered a team in the University of Pennsylvania relays and, as this is the first time that the Red and White has been represented in this meet, Captain Van Arsdale is anxious to make a good showing and is working hard with his charges.

Battin's baseball team opens the season against Cranford High School Thursday at Cranford.

WITH THE BOXERS

Gilbert Gallant and Johnny Dohan of New York, will clash in Lowell, Mass., April 4.

Bill Papke will be out of the game for several months on account of an injury to one of his hands.

Looks as if Tom Jones had "done gone loose" when he tries to induce Jim Jeffries to re-enter the ring.

Preston Brown, the 124-pound colored boxer of Philadelphia, showed the real goods recently when he met six men in succession, for one round each, and won over all of them.

THIRTY CANDIDATES OUT.

William Conger, of the Young Men's Association baseball team, has thirty candidates out for practise on the Centre street diamond Saturday afternoon and is greatly encouraged over the showing made to date. Among the pitchers he has at hand just at present are Russell Stewart, last year's Temple Baptist mainstay; Ira Vail, formerly of the Holy Cross and Trinity baseball teams, and Frank Parrott, who played with Temple Baptist last season. Francis Conger, a brother of the manager, and Thorn, of Roselle High School, will be used by the local pilot in case of emergency but he will favor local talent as far as possible.

MEETING OF NEW LEAGUE.

Mayor Rosslyn M. Cox, of Middletown, president of the New York and New Jersey Baseball League, has issued a call for a meeting of the directors of the League for April 1, at the Palatine Hotel, Newburg. At this time a schedule will be adopted, and probably Danbury and New Rochelle taken into the league, making it an eight club affair. At this meeting the franchise of the Kingston Club will be transferred from John Grimm to W. H. Pfau.

HIGHEST HONOR TO P. H. S. GRADUATE

Russell Miller Elected President of Intercollegiate Gymnastic Assn.

Russell Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley S. Miller, of Union street, was elected president of the Intercollegiate Amateur Association of gymnastic athletics, at the annual meeting for the election of officers conducted at Princeton University Saturday night. Miller represented the University of Pennsylvania in every one of that college's gymnastic meets during the past season, performing on the flying rings. Not only did the Plainfield High School graduate go through the entire season without encountering a single defeat, but he topped off his year's work by annexing the intercollegiate championship on the flying rings at the all-college meet held at Princeton last Friday night.

Miller has been a stellar performer all season, winning the highest laurels at every meet and the honor conferred upon him Saturday is the highest pinnacle to which a gymnast aspires. The Plainfield youngster was elected because of his popularity and gymnastic ability over a score of other candidates and as this is only his second year in Penn he has a bright future staring him in the face. W. H. Maynard, captain of the New York University team, was elected vice president; W. H. Dixon, of Princeton, was chosen secretary, and J. T. Gates, of Harvard, is the treasurer of the association.

This organization, of which Miller is the head, conducts all of the college gymnastic activities having supervision of the intercollegiate meets and championship and regulates the competition. The colleges represented at the meeting Saturday were Haverford, Harvard, Pennsylvania and New York University. The resignation from the league of the University of Illinois was received and accepted and the declination for Brown University was also accepted.

HAROLD SCHENCK PLAYING RIGHT FIELD FOR RUTGERS

Harold Schenck, son of Rev. Dr Cornelius Shenck, of West Front street, and a Plainfield High School graduate, played right field for the Rutgers College baseball team Saturday afternoon, when the Brunswick collegians were defeated by a score of 9 to 3 by Princeton. The selection of Schenck for the garden berth Saturday afternoon means that he has landed a regular job in the college outfield, as Coach Steve Brodie selected his nine regulars for the Tiger struggle. While he failed to get his usual hit the Plainfielder made a grandstand catch in deep right field that displayed his ability as an outfield guardian.

Princeton won the game by virtue of Pendleton's great playing, both in the field and at the bat. Out of three trips to the rubber, he laced out three hits, one a three-bagger, brought home five of the nine runs, stole three bases, and had four put-outs and a trio of assists to his credit.

GERMANY'S GYMNASTS.

The German Union of Gymnasts comprises 1,250,000 members, which is far in excess of any other sport in the German Empire. The German Football League has 160,000 members, the Amateur Athletic Union 120,000, the Cyclists' League 50,000, and the Lawn Tennis League 30,000. The whole contingent of German gymnasts and athletes represented by the German Olympic Committee is estimated at about 2,500,000.

FIRST OUT OF TOWN TEAM TO BEAT HOPE

Invincible Chapelites Treated to a Defeat at Perth Amboy Saturday Night.

For the first time this season the Hope chapel basketball team was forced to succumb to an out of town rival, the Bayviews turning the trick Saturday night by the count of 29 to 24. The Bayviews, in chalking up the victory, did something that no other combination, with the exception of the Y. M. C. A. Ajax, of this city, has accomplished this season. The chapelites finished their home season with a clean record of victories on their home court and up to Saturday night had encountered but two reverses, both of which came on the Ajax's court.

Saturday night's contest was played on a small court in Perth Amboy, and the position of the baskets and general layout of the court made it well night impossible for the Hope contingents to show to its best advantage. While the game was close, this feature induced a large amount of rough play in which both sides indulged, and this part of the game considerably handicapped the visitors who were left in the rear after the rough-house antics became prevalent.

Allen Snyder, the speedy Hope guard, was out of the lineup and his place was filled by Mulford Darling, a second team recruit, and Wardrop, another second string man. The leading scorer for the visiting quintet was Jim Doig, the lanky center, who totaled up eleven all by himself. His opponent, Bull (some name for a basketball player but a very appropriate one), took the leading role in chalking up points for the victors, getting twelve, and he was closely seconded by Browning with eleven.

The score:

N. P. H. S. LAID OFF.

Manager Newton Spencer, of the North Plainfield High School baseball team, cancelled the game he had scheduled with Montclair High School for last Saturday afternoon. This was to have been the first game for both schools and the respective bands of followers were much disappointed over the postponed. Although it is not known for certain, it is generally conceded that the borough manager will book another game with the Montclair aggregation which is one of the fastest in the State. The first N. P. H. S. game will be played at Hyde Oval next Saturday afternoon with New Brunswick High School.

'PLAINS BASEBALL PRACTICE.

W. A. Batterson, director of the Scotch Plains Parish House, had his first squad of baseball candidates out for a drill Saturday afternoon, getting a line on the material he has to choose a nine from. Although the quantity was somewhat limited the quality was excellent, and Mr. Batterson has the assurance of the appearance of a great many more players at the next practice.

LIDGATE MAY LAND PERMANENT BERTH

Local Player is Making Good With the Baltimore Orioles on Training Trip.

Reports from the Baltimore camp state that Eugene Lidgate, the former Plainfield High School baseball player, is making good as a backstop on the Oriole team of the International League and has practically cinched this position for the coming season. "Liddy" left his home in Scotch Plains last month, after signing a contract with the International Leaguers and has been used consistently behind the bat during the training season.

Yesterday afternoon in a game with the Philadelphia Nationals, he caught the curves of Rickers, Shawkey and Roth and although the Baltimore team was defeated by a score of 6 to 0, the Plainfield youngster upheld his end of the deal to perfection. Reports have it that Lidgate is practically certain of catching the opening league game for the Orioles and will probably be one a permanent fixture. Should Lidgate make the team he will have done something that not many young men do, namely, stops doing that of breaking into the company at the initial attempt. This is his first try at professional baseball and he will have to put up a wonderful game in order to stick with the last Baltimore aggregation.

RACES AT JAMESTOWN.

Norfolk, Va., March 31.—The season of racing in the East was inaugurated here today, when the gates at the Jamestown Jockey Club's track were opened for the annual spring meeting. The meeting will continue until April 17. The stables are filled with some of the best thoroughbreds in the country and a successful meet is predicted.

GOLF AT PINEHURST.

Pinehurst, N. C., March 31.—The thirteenth annual United North and South Amateur Championship tournament, the crowning event of the winter golf season at the Pinehurst Country Club, opened today and will continue through the remainder of the week. The entries are numerous and of a quality that assures close spirited competitions.

PONCE DE LEON CELEBRATION.

St. Augustine, Fla., March 31.—Augustine is dressed in gala attire and filled with visitors for the Ponce de Leon carnival and celebration. The celebration is to mark the 499th anniversary of the landing of Ponce de Leon in Florida. The festivities will continue an entire week and will include a wide variety of attractions. An especially notable feature of the program will be the championship motor boat races.

DUNELLEN CANCELLED.

No basketball game was played by the Scotch Plains Parish House first team Saturday night because of the fact that the Dunellen Baraca class five sent in a cancellation Friday. Director Batterson could not secure a game at this late notice and as a result the first team players took a night off.

SECOND TEAM WON.

Although they were the sole attraction on the Scotch Plains Parish House basketball bill Saturday night, the Parish House seconds managed to take pretty good care of the crowd that turned out by beating the W. F. A. to the tune of 27 to 21. The game was close and interesting throughout, both teams shooting and passing in a creditable way.

BASEBALL NOTES

Harold Janvrin, the youngster with the Boston Red Sox, is being groomed for the utility infield position.

Connie Mack's Athletics left San Antonio, Tex., with the intention of winning every game played on their way home.

Abundance of sunshine and big gate receipts have made the White Sox's trip to California a great success.

The schedule adopted by the Union Association calls for the opening games on April 22 and the closing contests September 17.

Pitcher Paddy Green, the Connecticut League star of 1912, is showing plenty of speed with the New Yorks, but is wild enough to be tied.

The Pittsburgh Club has shipped George Capron, the former University of Minnesota football and baseball star, to Charlie Dooin's Phillies.

The Chicago Cubs have a pair of game cocks as mascots, the birds having been presented to Manager Evers while the team was at Tampa.

The Cotton States League will worry along with four clubs this season. The circuit is composed of Jackson, Meridian, Columbus, Miss., and Selma, Ala.

In Krause, Krapp, Higbe, Carson and Hagerman, the Pacific Coast League will have a staff composed wholly of big league veterans.

Winona, Minn., has been added to the new Northern League. The circuit now constituted includes: Hastings, St. Paul, Duluth, Superior, Grand Forks, Winnipeg, Virginia and Winona.

Several St. Louis baseball scribes on the training trip with the Browns were jailed in a Western town for playing poker. Our glorious country must be prosperous when baseball scribes have some real money to stake on their luck at draw.

Joe Kelly's great batting with the Jersey City Skeeters may earn him a chance in fast company. Although he has been with four major league clubs Jack is still a young man and looks to be capable of "coming back."

On April 19 Honus Wagner will start his 17th season with the Pittsburgh Pirates and his 17th season in the major leagues. Honus made his debut in fast company with the Louisville team, then in the National League, in 1897.

A CHALLENGE.

The Benedict baseball team of Newark, playing Saturday afternoons and holidays, would like to hear from baseball nines in Plainfield, Morristown, Rahway, Bound Brook, Westfield and other points between here and Newark. Address all communications to Charles Glutting, 58 Barbara street, Newark, N. J.

GIRL ATHLETES IN CHARGE.

The members of the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium class will be in charge of the vesper services conducted in the association rooms next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. William D. Murray, president of the Y. M. C. A., will be the speaker on that occasion and the association glee club will sing.

It is extremely difficult for one to conceive of the ghastly results that naturally follow a flood such as has caused so much devastation and loss of life during the last two weeks. Unless present at the scene of the disaster one is not likely to think of the horrible and tragic ending so many of the flood victims suffered. Those who have survived can best appreciate the great joy experienced when the rescuers, through their heroic efforts, saved them from a terrible and grewsome death.

MISS KARR' PUPILS ENTERTAIN AT RECITAL

The pupils of Miss Grace Powell Karr gave a charming recital of piano music in her studio in the Babcock building, Saturday afternoon, in which they showed their increasing skill, knowledge and interpretation of music. Those who took part were the Misses Mildred Clark, Helen Crane, Valentina Coombs, Alice Simons, Madeline Hughes, Marjorie Burtis, Frances Avery, Gertrude Rittenhouse, Dorothy Deakin, Adelaide Ricketts, Charlotte Fowler, Mary Roth, Helen Almy, Eleanor Manning, Ruth Hammond, Elsie Clark, Marian Rose, Beatrice DeCamp, Edith Shotwell, Katherine Endress, Margaret Martin, Josephine Hanlon, Grace Gillahan, Caroline Paoli and Masters Herbert Hooker, Howard Hile and Kenneth Burtis.

One of the most pleasing numbers was the duo, "Lohengrin," by Wagner, an arrangement for two pianos, four hands, loaned by the Public Library. This was the last of the series of small recitals and the next one, the last of the season will be a little more elaborate. The date for the musicale will be announced later by Miss Karr.

FIREMEN'S FAIR ENDS.

The annual two-day fair and dance of the New Market firemen, which ended Saturday night, proved to be successful, both financially and socially. The attendance on Friday and Saturday evenings was large and many sales were made. Refreshments were served and concerts rendered by the orchestra furnished entertainment for the lovers of music as well as for the dancers. The pleasing decorations were also the object of considerable comment.

LOCAL SCHOOLS REOPEN.

Plainfield public schools resumed operations today, after the ten days' spring vacation. The time from now until June will be devoted to final examination preparation.

William Hartpence, of Washington street, who has been laid up for the past three weeks' with an affliction of the arm, is improving slowly.
